

Royal Baking Powder never disappoints; never makes sour, soggy or husky food; never spoils good materials; never leaves lumps of alkali in the biscuit or cake; always is to be depended upon.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable to the use of the cook who makes the finest food.

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Not only will they spoil the cake, but alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

PROGRESS OF THE WORK OF UNIONIZING HEREABOUTS.

Workmen of Lackawanna and Wyoming Valleys Now Thoroughly Organized-D., L. and W. Board for Today-Rolling Stock of the Lackawanna Is to Be Increased in Preparation for the Exposition Trade-Yard Space in This City Is Not Enough to Accommodate D. L. and W. Business.

A review of the work done in the vay of organization of labor in the Wyoming and Lackawanna Valleys since the close of the great miners strike shows that the beneficial effeets of that great struggle have been felt not only by the miners' union, but by all other trades. As for the United Mine Workers, at the beginning of the anthracite strike in September there were but 8,000 union men in the three districts. Today the union has a mighty army of 119,000 men in its ranks. Other trades have also benefited and relations between capital and labor have been greatly improved. The brewery combine of the Wyoming and Lackawanna Valleys, which had been unable to come to an agreement with its employes, bus, through the influence of Fred Dilcher, national organ izer of the miners, and B Fleig, of the United Brewery Workmen, made a settlement satisfactory to the men The theatrical employes have been organized through the efforts of miners' union officers, and have reached at agreement with their employers, Organizer R. M. Couriright, of the Miners' Union, and Organizer C. W. Eax ter, of the American Federation of Labor, have oranized the enineers firemen and fire bosses at the mines that region. The retail clerks of Scranton have a new organization, as also have the bartenuers. The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joinors has been greatly strengthened of late, and business men throughout the whole district have agreed to employ none but union men on new or repair work. Through the efforts of Mr. Dilcher the war between the carpenters and the Scranton Builders' Exchange will likely be ended soon.

The street car men throughout the two valleys, from Carbondale to Nanticoke, have been solidly organized within the past three months, and the barbers, draymen, silk mill operatives, garment workers, brass workers and other trades have also been unionized. As a result of this general organization, the Wyoming and Lackawanna Valleys are now hotbeds of trades unionism, whereas five years ago union men were very scarce and could hardly be persurded to declare themselves.

Scranton will prepare to give the twenty-first convention of the American Federation of Labor a rousing re-ception next December. It is expected that long before that time every calling in the city will be thoroughly in line with the trade union movement. Philadelphia Times.

The fire at the Delaware, Pine Ridge and Laurel Run mines, near Miner's Mills, is still raging with not much impression being made upon it by the couple of hundred men engaged in fighting it. The gas and fire damp prevent the men from getting near enough to make their work effective. The belief is gaining strength that the area covered by the fire will have to be sealed and flooded.

The membership canvass will be con-tinued by the Railroad Young Men's Christian association until January 1, 1901. Since the canvass began, 320 new members have been added, representing all departments of railroad service The present membership is 627. The privileges offered are the reading room, game room, educational classes, baths rest room, members' course, religious meetings, correspondence Cable, wash room, circulating library and other conveniences. Shop and office men may join at any time, paying dues ir four consecutive months.

TODAY'S GRIDIRON BATTLE.

Well Known Players Who Will Oppose Each Other.

Athletic park this afternoon a game of foot ball will be played between the Thirteenth regiment team and a team picked from the college players and the members of the Scranton Bleycle club champions of '95, Among the players will be Charles Gelbert and Otto Wagonhurst, Pennsylvania, '97; Layton Schoch, the Cornell centre during '95, '96 and '97; "Dicky" Gendall, Syracuse, '98, and several others.

It is understood that the team playing under the name of Scranton will line up stronger than any team which has played in this city since the day when the Scranton Bicycle club swept everything before it, and ended a bril-liant season by playing a tie game with the 'Varsity team from old Penn. The Thirteenth regiment team will line up with the same players it has had during the present season. Scran-ton will line up as follows: Charles Gelbert, left end; Wagonhurst, left tackle: Connery, left guard; Cleveland, centre: Zang, right guard: Coggins, right tackle; Owens, left end; Walsh, quarterback; halfbacks, Gelbert, Posner, and fullback, Fred Gelbert. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

Both teams have practiced assiduously for this match with the object of not only winning, but beating the other team as decisively as possible. The Thirteenth regiment team will be strengthened by the following players of the St. Thomas' college team: Thomas and Langan, guards; Kelliher and Haggerty, tackles; McAndrew halfback; O'Hora, fullback, making a team equally as strong as the Scranton team. Langan and Thomas agains Connery and Zang will be a battle
