GAVE UP HIS LIFE FOR HIS COUNTRY

Carbon-dale Boy Killed in an Engagement in the Philippines—Letter from a Mayfield Boy.

The following extract from a letter from Thomas Gilligan, formerly of Mayfield, but now with the regular army gives some further details of a battle in which at least one Carbon-dale boy lost his life:

Patall, P. I., Oct. 5, 1900. We arrived at Manila September 4 and went to Malate, and were quartered in some dilapidated bamboo shacks. We weren't rightly settled in the shacks when the heaviest storm that has visited here in years came up.

We boarded small boats on Saturday, September 15, and started on the Pasig river, preceded by a gunboat. About 2 o'clock Sunday morning, while laying around the boat, we received a volley from the shore. Then more volleys in rapid succession. The gunboat opened fire on the insurgents and silenced them.

Two of our men were wounded. Sunday morning about 7 o'clock we arrived at our destination. Our boat had some trouble in landing. The insurgents attempted to prevent our landing, but a few volleys from us dispersed them. Each company was sent to garrison a different town. L company was sent to Simloun. Sunday night we were attacked about 12 o'clock. We were quick to get into an old church in the base of some mountains, and the insurgents poured volley after volley into us.

Monday morning, September 17, is a day I will always remember. About 5.30 we heard heavy firing in the direction of Simloun, where Company L was stationed. Our captain fell in and leaving twenty men behind to hold the town we were in, we proceeded to Simloun to reinforce Company L. We walked the distance of two miles in water up to our chests. We had some trouble in landing. The insurgents were strongly entrenched in the hills and pouring deadly volleys into us. Men were falling on all sides. We kept advancing, but it was very slow as the water was up to our waists. We returned their fire, but they continued pouring volley after volley into us.

They had the advantage of us as they were entrenched, and we shined an excellent target for them, as we were in the open and they could perceive the damage they were inflicting on us. All we could see to fire at was a gun once in a while that would make its appearance over the trenches. We advanced to within about three hundred yards of their trenches, and our ammunition was getting low, and about one-half of our forces were killed and wounded, and we were nearly exhausted when we were ordered to retreat.

The volleys kept pouring into us, and we got out of range; even when we were carrying our wounded and dead from the field they fired on us. After the engagement was over we found our loss to be thirty-three killed and fifty-seven wounded. It was a heartrending sight to see thirty dead men laid out on the ground, and to see the fellows that you had chummed with for nearly two years, and the groans of the wounded. I will never forget it. Some boys from around Carbon-dale and Scranton were killed and wounded. A young man named Brink from Carbon-dale, was killed. Polley and Perry, from that place, were wounded.

A lad named Duggan, from Olyphant, was shot three times in the leg and has to get it amputated. Two lads named Carney and Kelley, from Providence, were seriously wounded. Tuesday morning, September 19, we were reinforced by the Eleventh cavalry and Thirty-seventh United States volunteers. We proceeded around the mountains and took the trenches from behind. The cavalry attacked them in front. And we drove them to the Philippines. We gave them from the trenches in quick order.

Thomas Gilligan, Company L, Fifteenth Infantry. A Change of Situation. Barry Rawlson, who for some years has been connected with the Simpson & Watkins store, has severed his connection with that firm and taken a position with F. H. Woodworth & Co., the Salem avenue grocers.

One to New York. Quite a number of persons from this city took advantage of the cheap excursion on the Erie yesterday morning and went to New York to witness the great demonstration in the metropolis the birth of the new century.

Is Convalescent. Elliott Skeels, the veteran Delaware Hudson conductor, who has been at his home for some time, was seen on the streets Saturday. It is hoped that he will soon be able to resume his duties.

Death of an Old Resident. Mary McDonald, an aged resident of Hospital street, expired yesterday morning at about 8.30 in her daughter's home, which she had just moved to that of the old lady. She entered her child's residence, thinking, "I'm going to die!" and expressed a desire to lie down.

and in a few moments after her request was granted she was dead. Undertaker William Morrison was notified and he in turn sent word to corner Roberts. Mrs. McDonald was born in Ireland and came to this country many years ago. Some of her neighbors say she has lived here over half a century. She is survived by three daughters and two sons, who are: Mrs. Michael Martin, of Providence, Mrs. Michael Nallen, Mrs. John Connelly, Alexander McDonald and Peter McDonald, of this city. The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A Letter from the Strikers. The silk mill strikers held a meeting Friday evening in their hall, and the report of the committee showed that there were only a few hands working in the mill at present. They will have to join our union or the miners will put their fathers out of the United Mine Workers and also throw them out of work. At the meeting held last Sunday of the officers of the different locals from Forest City to Olyphant, our case was laid before them and they said they would give us their sympathy and do all in their power to help us, for we are as brothers and sisters to them. The Simpson miners refuse to work with any man who has a daughter or son in the mill, because they are true union men and not like some of the union men of our city, who are union men only in outward appearance and that is all. They send their children to work in our places while we are on strike for what is just. And we would like to know how we are going to win while they will join when our union is so strong enough. What we want is to have them join our union and make it strong. If those working would only come out peacefully and join our union, it would be but a short time before this company would accede to our demands. They can not afford to lose these two mills stand idle and especially not now, with all the silk on hand that is piled in the packing room. One of the committee reported last night that a girl working there told her that there was only about twenty-five girls working at present. Shame on the girl or boy who will work in the mill, and it's a shame and disgrace to the parents who send their children there while the smallest, and those in most need of the money, are out for their rights.

We have worked quietly enough and stood it long enough, but we will stand for no longer. But we will bring those people with the name that they will find hard to get away from and one they will carry for life. They say they will arrest us. Let them arrest us and throw the case into court, and when the time comes we will get up and strike them, and to not let it be known in Scranton that there was a strike throughout the country, and those who work in it are deserving of the name we brand upon them. We heard this morning that Manager Freider told one of the reporters not to put anything in the papers that we could give him, and to not let it be known in Scranton that there was a strike in the mill here. But we won't leave it to the reporters. We send all our news right to the office of the paper. It will be known in Scranton, and not only in Scranton but in all the cities in the country. Mr. Freider cannot fool those on strike. We know that we ask for no more than what is just, and by our word we will stand. We hear also that the speed of the frames has been cut down, so if the factory inspector should come around they could say that they are running at the right rate of speed, but they are too late now, for we can prove that three of the frames of the first time spinners were running at the rate of 25,000 revolutions. That is 7,000 revolutions higher than the average speed, and that they cut them down to sixteen and four-hundred thousand revolutions. We can tell a lot more of the quiet work that is going on up there, but we will put that in the paper later on. (Signed) Press Committee.

Foresters Choose Officers. Court Golden Eagle, No. 14, Foresters of America, met on Saturday evening and elected the following officers: Past chief ranger, Fred Wagner; chief ranger, C. W. Bailey; sub chief ranger, W. J. Masters; financial secretary, T. Bottomley; recording secretary, R. Taylor; senior woodward, E. Cole; junior woodward, H. Proctor; senior beadle, J. Emmett; junior beadle, J. Collins; doctor, M. E. Maluan.

The City Is Fifty Years Old. Although the semi-centennial celebration of Carbon-dale will not be observed until some months from now, yet the city is actually fifty years old this morning. On January 1, 1851, P. C. Critman located the city boundaries. Although Carbon-dale did not have an official celebration last night like Wilkes-Barre and Philadelphia and Harrisburg, yet the Pioneer City had really greater reason to have a fitting commemoration, for the old town is just fifty years old this morning.

New Sabbath School Officers. The First Congregational Sunday school held their annual election of officers on Sunday, resulting as follows: Superintendent, W. Gray Jones; assistant superintendent, John A. Stater; secretary, Voodoo Knapp; financial secretary, Miss Jennie Hughes; treasurer, Miss Edith Willis; organist, George Davis.

A Promising Young Singer. Miss Blodwin Davis, a daughter of the late David Davis, who is about 15 years of age, is a recent acquisition to the choir of the First Congregational church. On Sunday morning Miss Davis sang a solo, which was highly praised by the pleased hearers. She undoubtedly possesses great talent for one so young.

Will Soon Be Making Money. Hon. M. T. Burke, of Pike street, left for Philadelphia on Sunday to resume his position at the mint, after a visit here of two weeks.

CHURCHES WELCOME THE NEW CENTURY.

Impressive Services Held at Several of the Local Ones. Last night at midnight the public services in the Roman Catholic church of St. Rose deLina began by the exposition of the Blessed sacrament, after which high mass was celebrated. Very Rev. Thomas P. Coffey, V. G., officiated. After the mass there was a repetition of the blessed sacrament with solemn benediction. Today the blessed sacrament will again be placed in exposition at 7 o'clock and remain for adoration until noon, so that all who wish to make the "Holy Hour" can do so on New Year's Day from 7 o'clock until noon. There will also be special services at 7 and 9 o'clock this morning.

A service beginning at 11.45 o'clock was held in Trinity Episcopal church last night to commemorate the close of the Nineteenth Century. It was followed by the holy communion, which was celebrated during the first hour of the new century.

A watch meeting was held at the First Presbyterian church last night commencing at 10.30 o'clock. Special services appropriate to the occasion were participated in by a large congregation.

At the First Congregational church special services appropriate to the closing of the old and the coming of the new centuries were held last evening. From 9 until 10 o'clock the meeting was conducted by the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor. From 10 to 11 refreshments were served to all who were present. At 11.30 the pastor, from 11 to 12 Rev. M. C. Elliott, the pastor, was in charge of the services, and delivered an address on the subject "A Forecast of the Twentieth Century." Good music was furnished all through the services.

At the First Methodist Episcopal church, a Twentieth Century watch night service was held. It began at 9 o'clock, with the Senior Epworth League in charge. Then Robert Meaker, B. W. Dix and Prof. H. J. Hoekemeyer made addresses, appropriate to the occasion, and the new era that would soon dawn. The officers recently elected by the Epworth League were next installed. The Rev. A. F. Chaffee, the pastor, preached a New Year's sermon, and the closing hour of the year was given over to prayer, testimony and consecration. Several special musical numbers were well rendered.

A First Class Show. Manager Burke, who brings his clever vaudeville organization to this city tomorrow afternoon and evening, has succeeded in securing a remarkably strong company of entertainers for this occasion, which includes, among others, some of the best known people in both comedy, singing, dancing, acrobatic work, negro imitations and second-night seers that have been brought together in one company, and their success as laugh-makers and dispellers of that tired feeling which is so prevalent among a large number of the people of late years is assured.

In the Sick Room. Edward Yarrington is ill at his home on Yarrington hill. John Bell is confined to his home, on Spring street, by illness. William Reese is reported ill at his home on Farview street. Thomas Morgan, of Seventh avenue, who has been ill for some time with a severe attack of the grip, is convalescent.

Gone to Harrisburg. Hon. S. S. Jones and Hon. John F. Reynolds went to Harrisburg yesterday morning to witness the organization of the legislature and view the senatorial struggle. The alderman is accompanied by his daughter Eleanor, and he will introduce her to the governor of the state and his charming wife at the New Year's reception to be given today.

A Fender Smashed. The fender on a south-bound street car was smashed yesterday about noon while crossing the bridge over Racket Brook creek. A big timber lying alongside the track was responsible for the damage, for the fender hit and then crumpled up like a piece of cardboard.

New Year's Day at the Postoffice. The postoffice will be open today for general business from 4 a. m. to 12 noon and from 2.30 to 6.30 p. m. for lock-box owners tomorrow. No money order or registry business will be done.

Lathrop left yesterday for her home in Williamsport, Pa. Arthur Rutherford and Silas McMullen returned to college this morning. J. Hughes, of Dunmore, returned home yesterday after a few days' visit with friends here. Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Thompson will entertain a number of friends at a dinner party today. Hal S. Ray, travelling passenger agent of the C. R. I. and P. R. R., was in the city Saturday.

P. E. Farley, of Roselle, N. J., is spending the holidays with his parents on Canaan street. Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Mitchell, of Brooklyn, N. Y., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Mitchell, on Canaan street, their parents.

Walter Bassett, of Waterbury, Conn., is visiting his father, James Bassett, on Canaan street. Mrs. Mattie Hughes Brown, of New York city, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reese Hughes. Miss Nicol, who has been visiting with Miss Mina Frank, has returned to her home in Wilkes-Barre.

Miss Mae Morgan and John Morgan entertained a number of their young friends at a card party last evening. Richard Stark and John Vogel have returned to their home in New Jersey, after a week's visit in this city.

Miss Sarah Davis of South Terrace street, entertained her Sunday school class at her home yesterday afternoon. Benjamin Dimock, of Robinson avenue, is spending New Year's Day with his son, Gordon, who is now located at Warren, Pa.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD. Mrs. Michael Reynolds, a well-known and highly respected resident of Mayfield, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning, after a brief illness. Deceased had been visiting her daughter in Philadelphia and on her return, Thursday evening, caught cold. She was unable to get around the house on Sunday morning, but towards evening she became much worse and continued to grow weaker until her death. Deceased, who is survived by a husband and grown-up son, was a sister of Mrs. James H. Timlin, of this borough. She had some of the best known people in both number of years and was widely known and respected. Her death under such sudden circumstances has given her many friends a severe shock.

A Hungarian laborer, employed by Edward Cuff in the Glenwood mine, was severely injured while at work yesterday. He was thrown from a log, badly crushed that it was feared amputation would have to be performed.

At the last meeting of Liberty lodge, No. 115, Knights of Pythias, the following officers were elected: Chancellor, Samuel Waters; vice-chancellor, William Williams; master of the lodge, William Williams; secretary, David Thomas; prelate, John Osborne; inside guard, Richard Hughes; outside guard, Richard Evans; trustee, David Thomas. Ben Davis will spend today with Forest City friends.

Religious services were held in several of the borough churches last evening. At Sacred Heart church mass was celebrated at midnight, at St. James Episcopal church service was held at the same hour and at the Methodist Episcopal church the usual watch-night service was conducted. The M. E. association team are to play the Throop club, on Fowler field, this afternoon.

Bert Gable, of Albany, N. Y., is visiting here. Miss Ella Griffiths, of Scranton, is spending the new year with Jermyn friends. Don't forget the excellent entertainment in the Methodist Episcopal church this evening. It will be well worth seeing.

Word was yesterday received announcing the death of Mrs. Jane Nether-ton, a well-known Jermyn lady, who was taken ill a few days ago while on a visit to her son, Rev. William Nether-ton, of Port Fort. The remains will be brought here for interment.

NOSE, THROAT, EAR, TRACHEA (or wind pipe.) BRONCHIAL TUBES AND LUNGS. THEIR CURATIVE TREATMENT by the Drouet Method.

This method of treating the above diseases was originated by the celebrated French physician, Dr. Drouet, of Paris. The treatment consists in the direct application to the mucous membranes of specific remedies, which act by gradual impregnation on the diseased tissues with remarkably successful results. A most ingeniously constructed instrument and apparatus is required to carry out this mode of treatment. By its use every portion of the Nose, Throat, Larynx, etc., are illuminated for the purpose of diagnosis and treatment. The remedies and medicines are introduced to the diseased tissues in the form of vapors and medicated air, which produces a mild and soothing effect upon the congested and inflamed membranes. A single trial of this treatment will convince any one of its beneficial effects.

This method of treatment is now introduced from Europe in the United States for the first time. Its advantages, etc., will be fully explained at the offices of the EUROPEAN MEDICAL SYSTEM, 400 Lackawanna Ave., Scranton. (Over the Park Store.) Consultation and Examinations Free. Office hours, 9 to 12, 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 o'clock. Sundays my appointment only.

TAYLOR. The Christmas musical exercises given on Sunday evening at the Calvary Baptist church was one of the most delightful feasts of music Taylor has been treated to for some time. The programme was of high order and was rendered in a manner that was most creditable. The chorus work reflected great credit on the chorister, Prof. D. E. Jones. The opening number was an organ prelude by Prof. Jones, which he executed in his usual pleasing style. The choir then rendered "Angeles Voices," and again responded in singing the hymn, "Brightest and Best." The pastor, Rev. Dr. Harris, offered prayer, followed by the united choir, which rendered the Lord's prayer. The choruses rendered by the choir, with Miss Edith Watkins rendering the solo parts, were very pleasing numbers. Misses Henrietta Harris and Oliver Howells rendered a beautiful duet, "When the Shepherd," "Noel" was the next number rendered by Miss Edith W. Watkins, who is the possessor of a sweet soprano voice. Miss Sallie Price recited "The Song of the Shepherds," assisted by invisible chorus, which was pleasing in all respects. The soprano solo, "Rejoice! Rejoice!" by Miss Henrietta Harris, was exceedingly well rendered. The duet, "Bright Star of Hope," was exceptionally well rendered by Misses Bertha Rose and Lydia Hoskins. Miss Hoskins was also heard in a solo, "O, Holy Night," a difficult selection, which she rendered in a pleasing manner.

Miss Gertrude Watkins was heard in the solo, "The Children of the King." The duet, entitled "Angeles Voices," which fell to Miss Edith Watkins and Mr. Arthur Morgans, two of Taylor's leading soloists, furnished an excellent number. The closing number was "Glory to God," by the choir, with Misses Watkins, Hoskins and Mr. St. John Owens rendering the solo parts with a trio.

The funeral of the late Miss Sarah Harris will be held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Griffiths, of Atherton street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services will be held at the house by the Rev. Dr. H. H. Harris. Interment will be made in the Forest Home cemetery.

David A. Williams is a candidate for council from the Second ward. A grand entertainment and ball will be held this evening at Weber's rink, under auspices of the Taylor Hose company, No. 1.
