

WEST SCRANTON

VACCINATION WILL BE FREE

WEST SIDE HOSPITAL DOORS TO BE OPEN TO ALL.

Commencing at Noon Today All Children Who Apply Will Be Inoculated Absolutely Free of Charge. Bear Roaming Around the West Mountain Is Doing Much Damage. St. Brendan's Fair Closed—Three Funerals—Special Religious Services—News Notes.

The directors of the West Side hospital have decided that all children who apply at the institution daily, between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock noon and 4 and 5 p. m. until further notice, will be vaccinated absolutely free of charge. The work will be done gratuitously by the hospital physicians, and children whose parents are unable to pay for vaccination are particularly invited to take advantage of this offer.

The work will begin promptly at 12 o'clock today, first come first served, and it is requested that the youngsters line up in an orderly manner in order that the work can be performed expeditiously. It is essential that all school children be vaccinated before the first of February, and in view of the haste in this matter, particularly because it involves an expenditure, the netting of the hospital directors is both timely and commendable.

There need be no fear for the safety of the children, as the same methods will be used as is customary in the regular house visits now being made by the physicians. The hospital staff includes Dr. W. A. Payne, Dr. M. J. Williams, Dr. E. G. Beddoe, Dr. W. E. Allen, Dr. J. J. Roberts, Dr. George B. Reynolds, Dr. J. J. Carroll, Dr. J. W. Houser, and others who are competent in every way to fulfill this important public service.

The teachers of the public schools and parents are requested to inform the children that they can be vaccinated at the hospital free of charge, and The Tribune is authorized to make this formal announcement to the people of West Scranton. The result will be recorded from day to day, and it will doubtless be a record-breaker, as

The pall-bearers were Patrick Ruane, Frank Mangan, Michael O'Malley, Patrick Lyons, Patrick O'Malley, Patrick Conway.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Gable, who died Friday night at her home, 228 North Main avenue, occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. General News Notes.

A recital by the pupils of Prof. G. A. Walkinshaw was given in the Auditorium last Saturday night in the presence of a large audience. The music rendered was very delightful, and altogether praiseworthy to Mr. Walkinshaw, showing the painstaking and skillful manner in which he must have trained his pupils.

The opening piece, "Baby's Prayer," a waltz, rendered by the orchestra, was received with applause. A fine piano duet, "Fairy Queen," was well played by Misses Ely and McLain. A Scotch air, "Vivie-Sweet Afton," four violins, was rendered with exquisite taste by Misses Hill, Melen, McCracken and Cousin. A piano solo, waltz, by Miss A. Summers, was executed with such taste as to cause applause. Joshua John, a favorite in the musical circles in the North End, very tastefully sang "Marguerita," by Gould, and "Flight of Angels," by Stephen Adams, which were received with applause, the enthusiasm being so great that he had to make his appearance twice.

"Romance of Athlone," well rendered by the orchestra, was received with great enthusiasm. The rendition of a piano solo, "Silly Song," by Miss Jessie Hill, was received with much applause. A recitation given by Miss Young, "The Cook," caused roars of laughter, to which she had to respond. A violin solo, "Dancia," rendered by Miss Marion Hill, with piano-forte accompaniment by Miss Walkinshaw, was most exquisitely rendered, and she had to appear twice in response to the applause of the audience.

The closing piece, a march, "When Bleibt Wein," by the orchestra, was most skillfully rendered. Prof. Walkinshaw closed the evening by playing the masterly way in which he conducted the music. The evening was so delightful that there are numerous requests for a repetition, which Prof. Walkinshaw promises in the near future.

Miss Jackson acted as accompanist. Her pleasing manner and musical talent are well known. The audience was delighted with her.

DUNMORE DOINGS

WILL PREACH HIS FAREWELL SERMON TONIGHT.

Rev. W. H. Williams to Close His Series of Meetings in the M. E. Church—Fire Damages the House Owned by William McCarthy.

Rev. P. H. Brooks, of Wilkes-Barre, Spoke in the Presbyterian Church—Revival Services in Tripp Avenue Christian Church.

Rev. W. H. Williams, the "Drummer Evangelist," will close his series of meetings tonight in the Methodist Episcopal church with a farewell address. Up to last night twenty-eight persons had joined the church since the meetings began.

Mr. Williams spoke four times yesterday. At 10:30 a. m. he spoke in the Methodist church in Parsons on "The Work of the Anti-Saloon League." At 3 p. m. he returned to the Methodist church, Dunmore, at the close of the Sunday school. He spoke on "Habit," using a piece of rope to illustrate the talk. At 4 p. m. there was a men's meeting, subject, "The Angel of the Heartstone." At 7:30 p. m. he spoke on "Breaking Home Ties." At all these services Mr. Williams was greeted with fine congregations. Rev. Van Clett says that "The Last Romp with the Tiger" and "Breaking Home Ties" are very strong talks and should be heard in every pulpit in the city and county.

Sexton's House Damaged. The alarm of fire turned in from box 42 on Saturday night was occasioned by a slight blaze in a house near the toll-gate, occupied by John Sexton, and owned by William McCarthy. Owing to the prompt action of the bucket brigade the blaze was quickly extinguished, about $55 being the amount of damage done, which was fully covered by insurance.

The Independent and A. D. Spencer Fire companies responded, but owing to lack of a fire hydrant in that neighborhood they could have done nothing even if they had been needed. The alarm system, as usual, was out of order, one long blow being rung, which is supposed to denote simply a broken circuit.

Among the Churches. Rev. P. H. Brooks, of Wilkes-Barre, home missionary for the Lackawanna Presbytery, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church yesterday morning. A large congregation enjoyed his stirring address on the subject of "Home Missions."

A congregational meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, Tuesday evening. Two trustees will be elected and the annual renting of pews will take place at that time. After the business of the evening has been attended to the Ladies' Aid society of the church will serve light refreshments. This is a regular feature of the annual pew renting evening and it is hoped that large numbers will be present to show their appreciation of the kindness of the ladies.

The Young Ladies' Mission circle of the Presbyterian church will meet with Mrs. J. W. Chamberlain, her home on Blakely street on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will meet at Mrs. W. D. Decker's, on Cherry street, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The revival services at the Tripp Avenue Christian church were well attended last night. Extra chairs were used to accommodate the congregation

MYSTERY YET UNSOLVED. No Light Shed on the Child Found on Ash Dump. The identity of the person who deposited the body of a dead born infant on an ash heap near the Scranton Railway company's power house on Friday has not yet been revealed, and it remains for the police to solve the mystery.

Coroner Roberts held an autopsy in the case on Saturday and determined that the infant was still-born. The parties who deposited the body on the ash dump evidently were familiar with child birth, as materials and drugs used in such cases were found on the body.

Dr. Roberts did not deem an inquest necessary, but believes the police should investigate the case. The child's skull was crushed, but the coroner decided that this was caused by surgical instruments at the child's birth. "Chick" Roberts told a Tribune man last night that he was perfectly satisfied with the coroner's finding. The police do not attach much importance to the fact that the body was so carefully wrapped in a night-robe and cotton. That and some other circumstances show that the child was born into a family of some means.

KILLED ON THE RAILROAD. Resident of Dickson City Mutilated on the Ontario and Western. Charles Gordon, aged 35 years, residing with his family in Dickson City, was run down and instantly killed yesterday morning, while walking on the tracks of the Ontario and Western railroad, near the bridge, at Dickson City.

The body was mangled almost beyond recognition, the head, legs, arms and hands having been crushed in a horrible manner. For several hours no one could be found to identify the remains and they were removed to Undertaker Jones' morgue, on North Main avenue.

About noon, a brother of the deceased called at the morgue and identified Gordon, and later Mrs. Gordon appeared and recognized the mutilated body of her husband. Coroner Roberts was notified, a jury was empaneled, and an inquest will be held in a few days.
