WEDDING BELLS RING FOR JOY

FIVE COUPLES MADE HAPPY BY LOCAL CLERGYMEN.

Morgan-Andrews Nuptials on Sixth Street—Jenkins-Williams Wedding on Rock Street—Three Parsonage Brides—The Funeral of Thomas Wright—Remains of Unfortunate Woman Not Yet Interred—Lecture by Rev. William Davies—Shorter Paragraphs of Interest.

A quiet home wedding occurred at 1 o'clock last evening at the residence of x-Alderman Moses Andrews, 433 Sixth street, when Thita, the only daughter of the well known magistrate, was united in marriage to William H. Morgan, of 115 Luzerne street. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hugh Davies, pastor of the South Main Avenue Methodist church, in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends of the young couple.

The bride was unattended and was becomingly gowned in a dress of plum-colored material, trimmed with gold braid and white satin. She is a very beautiful young woman with a host of admirers and the announcement of her marriage will come as a surprise to many of her most intimate acquaintances.

The groom is one of West Scranton's most stable young men, who by perseverance and hard work, has risen to a position of much responsibility with the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company. Recently Mr. Morgan was promoted to an important position in the counting department at the Bribbin mine, where hundreds of tons of coal are prepared for shipment every day.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will dispense with a bridal tour and establish their permanent residence with the bride's father on Sixth street, where the family has resided many years.

Christopher H. Jenkins, of 218 Tenth street, an employe at the Cliff works of the Dickson Manufacturing company, and Miss Mary E. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Williams, of 1129 Rock street, were married at 8:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride by Rev. Hugh Davies.

The bride was attended by Miss

Both ladies were becomingly attired in coster-colored gowns, with white liberty satin trimmings. The flower girl was dressed in white silk.

Following the congratulatory reception a collation was served, in which many relatives of the bride and groom participated, together with the following out-of-town guests: John W. Jones and family; Jeremiah, Mr. and Mrs. James Croft, Misses Loretta Cook and Margaret Storer, Berwick.

The young couple will dispense with a wedding trip and for the present will reside with the bride's parents. They were the recipients of many useful and costly wedding gifts.

Who Will Bury Her?

Unless the poor board arranges for the burial of the late Mary Gorman, who died Monday night in a house in Nealis court, the body will probably remain at the Van Dyke house indefinitely.

Several of the deceased's companions are soliciting funds yesterday to defray the funeral expenses, but up to 2

THE LOOTING IN CHINA.

Resolution of Inquiry Laid on the Table in the House.
By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.
Washington, Jan. 16.—In the house today Mr. Hull (Iowa), chairman of the committee on military affairs, reported back the De Armond resolution calling on the war department for all information relative to the alleged action of General Chaffee in protesting against the looting of China, which he recommended that it lie on the table.

Accompanying the report Mr. Hull submitted a letter to the secretary of war, already published, explaining the difficulty in obtaining the required information and pointing out that it could not be procured until after the expiration of the present congress.

Mr. DeArmond (Mo.), the author of the resolution, stated that he had been moved to introduce it by a paragraph in the newspapers which was very creditable to General Chaffee, in which it was stated that he had rebuked or protested against the conduct of an officer of a foreign government in regard to the looting in China. The paragraph indicated that neither the American commander nor the American soldiers were responsible for the barbarity and dishonesty which had taken place in that unhappy country.

He had desired only to procure official confirmation of the reports, but the reasons given by the secretary of war for not pressing the resolution were entirely satisfactory to him.

The resolution was then laid upon the table and the house went into consideration of the whole and resumed the consideration of the river and harbor bill.

LYNCHERS FOILED.

Jailer in Charge of Charles Letcher Refused to Give Up Prisoner.
By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.
Leavenworth, Kan., Jan. 16.—It was learned this morning that the city jail was visited late last night by a body of masked men on horseback who ordered the jailer to deliver Charles Letcher, a negro, whom they declared was with Alexander in the assault and murder of Pearl Forbes. Letcher had been arrested for assaulting several women and sentenced to serve three months in jail. Jailer Glynnon refused to give up the prisoner and the timely appearance of other officers prevented his being overpowered.

The city jail is situated some distance from the county jail and the excitement around the latter place over Alexander caused the affair at the city jail to pass off almost unnoticed. No further trouble is anticipated.

SCRANTON IN SECOND CLASS

be a fight, however, about the election of the three big heads of departments, the director of public safety, the director of public works and the director of public charities. The law as it stands at present provides that council shall elect these officers. There is also a Supreme court opinion which says that the old councils can elect them. There is likewise an exceedingly well-defined rumor that the Democratic members of councils will take advantage of the fact that the city's legislative bodies are now just evenly divided politically and make an effort to elect these officers before April 1.

That's where the fight will come in. Before they can be elected there must, of course, be ordinances passed creating these offices, outlining their duties more fully and exhaustively than does the act of assembly and fixing salaries. Such an ordinance might be passed through both branches of council, but there is no question but that it would be vetoed by Mayor Moir. It would take fourteen votes in each branch then to pass it over his head and it would be mighty hard and practically hopeless job for the Democrats to secure that number.

If these heads of departments are not elected before April 1, or before the appropriation ordinance for the coming fiscal year is passed, they cannot take office even, if they are elected by the new councils, until April 1, 1902, for the simple reason that there would be no money appropriated to pay their salaries.

MAYOR IS CONFIDENT.

Mayor Moir is exceedingly confident that the amendatory act prepared by City Solicitor Vosburg, taking the elective power out of the hands of council and making these three officials appointed by the mayor, will be passed by both branches of the legislature before April 1. He returned home yesterday, after spending several days in Harrisburg, and said he had every reason to believe that the act could be easily passed.

He has positive assurances, he says, that it meets with the hearty approval of Senator Quay, and that his supporters will vote for it to a man. If this act could be passed before April 1, the mayor could then proceed to appoint the heads of departments, with, of course, the consent of select council.

If the mayor vetoes the ordinances which will be introduced, outlining the duties of these officials, it is within the realms of possibility that he may have trouble in securing a confirmation of his appointments, in case he is given the power by the legislature of making them.

A great deal of discussion has arisen as to whether this city when it enters the second class will entirely repudiate its third class charter or not. City Solicitor Vosburg contends that where there is no express provision in the second class charter covering a certain point that the city will continue under the third class city law governing that point.

For illustration: The present second class charter contains no provision giving the city the right to tax the street railway companies, in the absence of such a provision he contends that the city can continue to operate under the third class city provision, which gives the city power to tax such companies $100 per car.

QUOTES A DECISION.
In defense of this contention he points to the decision of Judge Paxton, of the supreme court, in the Wyman case, in which that jurist stated that the transition from one class to the other should be made in its government except such as were made necessary by the new charter.

The present second class city charter is not at all complete. It contains a number of omissions which do not affect Pittsburg and Allegheny, because they are filled by amendments applicable to those cities only. There is, for instance, no term fixed for the mayor in the general second class city act.

A number of the leading attorneys of Pittsburg and Allegheny, including George Elphinstone and George Guthrie, both recognized authorities on municipal law, hold that when a city enters the second class it drops everything that is expressly third class. They contend that to permit such a city to hold any of its third class city laws would be permitting it to enjoy special legislation.

In order to remove all doubt as to this point Mr. Vosburg has under consideration an amendment to be added to the amendatory act providing that second class cities may retain third class laws in the absence of second class city laws covering any particular point under consideration.

PREPARING FOR THE FIGHT.

The Ruhl-Jeffries Affair Is to Be Puled Off on Time.
By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.
Cincinnati, Jan. 16.—There were rumors here tonight that the contest between Jeffries and Ruhl in Saengerfest hall, February 15, would be called off by the Saengerfest board within twenty-four hours. This, however, has been denied by Chairman Witte, the attorney for the board, and Manager E. G. Cook, the representative of William Brady, and others. The fight promoters tonight state that the work of remodeling the building will begin on Friday next, and according to Manager Cook, tickets for the contest will be on sale next Wednesday, January 23.

William Madden, Ruhl's manager, said that training quarters had been secured at Newport, Ky., and that Ruhl would begin training at the end of the present week. Jeffries will probably train in this city.

Flagman Killed.

Harrisburg, Jan. 16.—William Griffe, aged 35 years, a flagman, was killed early this morning in a freight wreck on the Philadelphia and Reading railroad near Harrisburg. CAN'T DISPUTE THIS Because It Is a Local Transaction and the Citizen is on the Spot to Confirm It.

The reader of this must concede two important points, first, what follows having taken place in Scranton can easily be investigated and proved to be true; second, there is a vast difference between opinions publicly expressed by a resident of Scranton in Scranton local papers and the opinions daily met with in the same papers' columns, which were originally drafted in Maine or Montana. Reading the following and acknowledge both points:

Mrs. Sarah Farrell, of 1919 Price street, Hyde Park, says: "I honestly believe if I had not been for Doan's Kidney Pills I would now be in my grave. Six years ago my kidneys commenced to trouble me. At first I did not pay much attention to it, but it kept getting worse and other symptoms appeared. I tried many medicines, but without obtaining any permanent relief. I was so bad that I had to pass from me; my back ached so I could not get up or down; I was short of breath, and finally had to take to my bed. I was growing weaker and my suffering became more intense, and the doctor said he was doing all he could for me. I often wished and prayed for death, for I had given up all hope of getting relief. My mother had Doan's Kidney Pills brought to her notice, and got a box from Matthews Brothers' drug store. I took them and the first box did me so much good I got more. After the fourth box I thanked God that I had found a remedy which had given me a new lease on life."
