PERKINS TOMORROW NIGHT.—The two lectures to be given at the high school tomorrow evening by Eli Perkins are the best of his three great talks, "Pan and East in Japan and China" is semi-geographical and does not bring out so strongly the personal wit of the author. Those who hear "Heroes Round the Globe" and "Philosophy of Wit and Humor" will listen to philosophical talk with all the amusing features of a humorous lecture. Mr. Perkins is generally considered a humorist, but this goes a little way only in describing him. His lecture is a most instructive entertainment, making laughter irresistible and giving enlightened ideas embodied in pointed and witty arguments. His moral thought is grand and inspiring and he never stops in the commonplace humor. Having been an intimate of all the great humorists his reminiscences are intensely interesting. He illustrates and proves the difference between wit and humor and also that we enjoy paths as

THE CHINESE QUESTION

Able Paper Read Last Night by Dr. D. A. Webb.

At a meeting of the Catholic Historical Society and Newman Magazine club, held last night in the Knights of Columbus rooms, a remarkably able paper on "The Chinese Question" was read by Dr. Daniel A. Webb.

He summarized at length the traits of the Chinese race and the causes leading to the recent Boxer uprising. He pointed out the great influence which the missionaries had on the outbreak, and paid a high tribute to the heroism and bravery of the Catholic missionaries, an account of whose heroic actions, he said, "the public press, with its customary unfairness, has by a studied silence refrained from giving to the world."

"In the interests of humanity," said he, in conclusion, "it is not in the seemingly more important concerns of trade and commerce, let us hope that from the past a lesson may be learned of honesty, fair play and charity in the world's relations with the Chinese empire."

Miss Margaret Cox, of Parsons, recited "Bob" Taylor's "The Old Violin" in an exceedingly clever manner, and for an encore gave "The Turkey Supper."

A business meeting of the officers and patronesses is called for 8 o'clock on Friday evening at the club house.

BABYLON BREAKER DESTROYED BY FIRE

Temple Iron Company Sustains the Loss of a $120,000 Property.

700 Men Thrown Idle.

The Babylon breaker of the Temple Iron company, situated between Durvya and Campbell's Lodge, was totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. The loss is about $120,000, a major part of which is covered by insurance.

The flames started beneath the screen room, in a fire through which the duct is formed from the breaker, and it is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. The fire broke out at 10.20, while the breaker was in full operation, but as it burned slowly at first the employees were not unduly concerned. Though the breaker is a foot from the shaft, it was deemed advisable to warn the men to come out, and they did so hurriedly.

Efforts were made to control the flames with the aid of the breaker hose but they proved in vain. A fire company from Pittston and one from West Pittston made a quick response to a call for assistance and succeeded in saving the other colliery buildings.

The breaker prepared the coal from a shaft and two drifts. Seven hundred men are thrown idle. The breaker was rebuilt three years ago. It was a double breaker, supplied with the most modern apparatus, and had a capacity of 1,000 tons a day. It will be rebuilt.

CLOSE OF THE ARCHDEACONRY

BUSINESS SESSION HELD IN PARISH HOUSE.

Sermon at the Morning Service Delivered by Rev. Charles W. Root, of Christ Church, Susquehanna.

Number of Important Topics Introduced at the Afternoon Meeting—Woman's Auxiliary Also Held a Meeting in the Afternoon. Impressive Service in the Evening.

The closing sessions of the Scranton archdeaconry were held yesterday at St. Luke's church and were very interesting.

The second session of the archdeaconry opened yesterday morning at 7.30 with holy communion. A brief business session in the parish house preceded the morning prayer at 10 o'clock. The principal service of the day, holy communion, was celebrated at 11 o'clock, Bishop Talbot being celebrant, assisted by Archdeacon Cox and Rev. Dr. Jones, of Wilkes-Barre.

Dr. Israel was the preacher. It was an impressive and beautiful service, the clergy occupying the choir and appearing in full vestments.

The sermon, from the text, "What is man that thou art mindful of him?" was delivered by the Rev. Charles W. Root, of Christ church, Susquehanna. It was a remarkably fine discourse and deeply interested the listeners. This clergyman has but recently come into the diocese, having previously been an English army officer. He has just passed his final examination for admission to holy orders. Mr. Root is recognized as a man of exceptionally brilliant intellectual powers.

BUSINESS MEETING. At the business meeting in the afternoon a number of important topics were introduced. Among these was that of the mission to the deaf. Such a mission has had its center for some time in St. Luke's church, with Rev. M. Koehler as the leader. The work has increased so extensively, however, that it has been thought necessary to appoint a special missionary, who will be given charge of this branch. Mr. Koehler will continue to assist, but his field lies far outside the confines of the Scranton archdeaconry, the social needs can thus be met with more completeness.

It was decided to hold the next meeting of the archdeaconry on the last day of August, in the parish house, Pittston. The Rev. George R. Bishop, of Grace church, Great Bend, gave the Exegesis of the session from Psalms xliii. It was a very able effort, and was received with marked pleasure by the archdeaconry.

The Women's auxiliary meeting was also held in the afternoon with a large attendance present. Bishop Talbot opened the session with remarks. He urged greater effort to increase the offerings and stated that while four or five churches were in process of erection, there should be many more.

REV. GRING'S ADDRESS. Rev. M. Gring, formerly rector at Posen, Prussia, who has succeeded the city of Japan, in 1892. The resident clergyman told him there was no use in coming, as he had been there two years and was leaving for Tokio, Mr. Gring was not discouraged that in a city of 200,000 inhabitants he could secure a foothold. Holy Trinity church in Philadelphia gave him $1,019 to build a church. He also built a St. Agnes school. The city was stirred by the enterprise and now five large buildings are up. The necessity for more money was emphasized.

Mrs. D. W. Cox, of Alden, gave the report of the annual meeting held in November in Wilkes-Barre. Miss Julia C. Emery, of New York, general secretary of the Women's Auxiliary, reported on the work of the year, in which were given many hints for enlarged work. She made suggestions regarding the united offering to be given at the triennial meeting in California in October, and urged the ladies to study mission work. Her address was followed by the reports from parish branches.

The members of the Scranton Auxiliary served a beautiful luncheon at noon to visiting delegates. Miss Marjorie acted as chairman, with Mrs. G. M. Hallstead, Mrs. P. H. Jerny, Mrs. F. H. Jerny, Mrs. L. C. LaBar and Mrs. L. S. Oakford as a committee. Others who assisted were Mrs. Everett Warren, Mrs. Frank Stillman, Mrs. T. C. Von Storch, Mrs. W. M. Dickson, Mrs. A. W. Cronse, Mrs. Kitchener, Mrs. Fred Hand, Miss Pennypacker, the Misses Derman, Gertrude Spangue, Todd, Broadbent, Bessell, Kock.

THE EVENING SERVICE. The evening service last night was most impressive. The clergyman wore most vestments, the bright-hued robes of the Bishop and Dr. Israel marking their doctor's degree, giving a picturesque effect. Bishop Talbot, in his brief opening address, spoke with feeling of the death of the good queen, and of her wonderful life and influence on the Christian home and family. Her devotion as a churchwoman and her loyalty to the right were emphasized.

Rev. A. D. Gring, recently a missionary to Japan, was heard in an excellent address, in which he gave a brief resume of the relations between America and Japan. Today the Japanese people feel toward America as toward no other nation.

They revere England; they admire her power and greatness, but they love America. Now it so happens that the mother church has united with her daughter to build up a great native church in Japan. Today we have a common school system all over Japan, with colleges and universities.

In 1890 the great constitution was adopted making Japan no longer an absolute monarchy but a constitutional monarchy, in which will always be religious liberty. Today we can buy land and build churches under the protection of the government, and the name of Jesus is loved instead of hated as today the case is with a great people, a land with between 4,000,000 and 5,000,000 inhabitants, a nation with our literature, our science and yet a heathen nation. Let the church do as well for Japan as the state and the school have done, this nation with all its greatness will amount to nothing unless founded on Christ.

RELIGIOUS ABANDONED. The old religions are abandoned. Buddhism, Confucianism and Shintuism are passed away and the young men and women will be agnostics unless we give them a new religion in place of the old. We have only to cooperate with them a few short years and then they will carry on the work for themselves. It is the Japanese who must reclaim China. They are the natural missionaries to that country.

Bishop Talbot spoke concerning the narrow spirit of parochialism and urged more generous efforts for missionary privileges. He introduced Rev. Mr. Bateman, who had been with him in the new west, and who made a brief address.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES

The early pens were so expensive that the steel penholders advertised that they would make such pens as were necessary to their pens for a short time, generally about six months. When a man damaged his pen he carried it back to the factory, and had it mended by an experienced penholder.

A new kind of pen has been invented, this time in Sweden, and England has placed orders for some samples. It is an automatic contrivance, which is said to require a revision of the whole system of office stationery. Germany has sent some gun barrels to Sweden to have the new invention fitted to them.

The normal rainfall of Los Angeles is 16.25 inches per year. For the last seven years the average was only 6.9 per cent. of this amount. Hundreds of artesian wells ceased to flow, and at San Diego water was pumped from wells 300 feet deep. The recent heavy rains have restored the balance of things.

A few months ago an old miser named Christian Young, residing near Prescott, Wis., died. The other day administrators of his estate sold some wood piles to Cornelius Meacham. Meacham discovered in the wood pile $1,000 in gold wrapped in a bundle of underwear. He turned the money over to the administrators.
