In the estate of Phileas Reynolds, auditor's report filed and confirmed nisi.

In the estate of Hannah M. Hettishelmer, auditor's report filed and confirmed nisi.

The only case in sessions ready for trial was that of Earl Barber, charged with larceny. Defendant came into court without counsel and court assigned Henry Harding to defend him. Case tried and verdict of not guilty rendered.

In the matter of the petition of certain citizens of Mehoopany and Washington townships for the entering upon and taking of the river bridge at Mehoopany, the county and the making of it a free bridge, petition filed with the court and ordered by the court to be laid before the present grand jury.

NEW MILFORD.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. New Milford, Jan. 22.—The Women's Christian Temperance union will meet at the home of Mrs. Amos Kent on Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There were no services at the Presbyterian church last Sunday, on account of the illness of the pastor, Rev. B. X. Seymour, who is suffering with typhoid fever, is a little better at this writing.

Mrs. Jane Harrison is quite ill. Dr. D. C. Ainey is attending her.

New Milford's latest excitement was in the form of a prize fight. One of our popular young business men, being a noted dickerer, trading banjos, guitars, mouth organs, etc., for various articles, at the beginning of the new century found himself in possession of a fine game fowl, which he christened "Cyclone."

This long-headed fellow, thinking his fowl was a relative of Fitzsimmons, planned a match with another feather-weight. The bout came off sometime between Jan. 4 and 7. Only a few besides those who were interested were present, so we cannot give an account of the affair by rounds, but it has been definitely stated that the champion's master and principal hacker, brought him home in a bransack, with a toe and both eyes gone.

For three days "Cyclone" was fed milk and pepper from a spoon, and butter and salt applied to his wounded head; in fact, his friends did all that could be done, but in spite of it all, the hero laid down his spurs and yielded up the ghost.

Mrs. David Davidson will visit friends in Binghamton the latter part of this week.

A number of the friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Peck gathered at their pleasant home, on Church street, on Thursday evening, Jan. 17, and assisted them in celebrating their seventeenth wedding anniversary. During the evening, one of the company proposed that Mr. and Mrs. Peck be married a second time, in consequence of which, Mrs. Peck was again attired in bridal array, consisting of a silk shawl, bonnet, etc., of ancient descent, and Mr. Peck in white vest and silk hat, made a very charming appearance. A company gathered on the front porch and re-deed such music as would remind the bridal couple of seventeen years ago, and at the same time bringing forth much merriment. Music and games were indulged in until a late hour, when refreshments were served, after which, all feeling they had spent a most enjoyable evening and wishing Mr. and Mrs. Peck many happy returns of the occasion, departed for their respective homes. Many presents and a purse of money were left as tokens of esteem. Those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Stiles, of Gibson; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. West, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Case, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Conrad, Mrs. Annie Very, of Alford; Mrs. Verno, of Scranton, and Miss Hattie Barnes, of Gibson.

SUSQUEHANNA.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Susquehanna, Jan. 22.—It now appears from the middle of the road that the Republicans of this borough ought to have more voters and fewer statements.

The Erie is gathering ice from Lake Erie, near Narrowsburg.

The funeral of the late Mrs. May Cresson, of Gulf Summit, took place this morning from St. John's Catholic church. Requiem high mass was celebrated, and the remains were interred in Laurel Hill cemetery.

Rev. James Pagan, of Great Bend, was a caller on Monday at St. John's parochial residence.

There will never be real peace in this borough until there are fewer office-seekers or more offices to fill.

Engineer George Lowm, of the Oakland side, is recovering from a severe illness.

Conductor Charles C. Moore, of the Oakland side, is recovering from a severe attack of grip.

It is now thought that a stock company will sewer the streets of this borough.

Brush & Sons will remodel the hall in their Grand street block into dwelling rooms.

The Crescent club had an enjoyable hop this evening at the Starucca House. Music by Prof. Pierce, of Hinghamton.

The Democrats and Republicans will hold caucuses this evening, to nominate borough officers. The election will take place in Sunday, Feb. 19.

John F. McDonald, of Carbondale, was in town on Monday.

Rev. Edward Ellsworth Reilly, of Mansfield, Pa., will, on Sunday next, occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian church. He will assume the pastorate in the near future.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hennessy, a son.

There is continual improvement in the condition of Common Councilman George T. Hill.

L. C. Benson, who sustained a broken leg a few weeks since, is able to sit up in bed.

Mrs. Adam Stegner, of Rendham, was the guest of her parents, Foreman and Mrs. G. S. Decker, of Providence, on Sunday.

James James, of Pittston, visited relatives in this borough yesterday.

W. G. Howells, of Main street, is convalescing from his recent illness.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over FIFTY YEARS by MILLIONS of MOTHERS for their CHILDREN'S TEETHING SUFFERING. It SOOTHES THE CHILD, SOFTENS THE GUMS, ALWAYS ALLEYS PAIN; CURES WIND COLIC, and is the best remedy for DIARRHOEA. Sold by DRUGGISTS in every part of the world. Be sure and take no other kind. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

DECKVILLE.

A crowded house greeted Warren and James at their initial entertainment given under the auspices of classes Nos. 8 and 9 of the Baptist church at Ledgard's hall on Monday evening. Messrs. Warren and James are representative citizens of West Peckville. They recently purchased a new graphophone and a new moving picture machine of the latest improved make. The entertainment was first class from start to finish. Mr. James, who is an adept in the art of ventriloquism delighted the audience with his work and was repeatedly recalled upon the stage.

The Hamrick Sisters gave several recitations, which met with great applause. Mr. Warren in his manipulation of the moving picture machine showed that he understood his business. The pictures were clear and distinct. There were war scenes and comic scenes. It was the best exhibition of its kind ever given in this section.

The Women's Christian Temperance union will meet on Thursday afternoon at 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. J. W. Beck, Main street, instead of at the home of Mrs. Miller, as previously announced.

All candidates for office in the First ward of Blakely must register with Chairman W. H. Walker to insure their names being printed on the official ballot. "The registration closes on Thursday night."

Blakely borough council met in special session on Monday evening to consider the proposition of the Postal Telegraph company concerning the pole tax. Attorney Gilroy recently began suit against the company, by order of council, and they offered to compromise for $2250. This in no way changes the ordinance and does not bind future councils in any action they may take. This agreement is a good one for the borough, and the wisdom of the council in accepting it is evident to all. Burgess Harris presented the name of W. J. Davis as chief of police to fill the unexpired term of R. S. Terwilliger and council unanimously confirmed the nomination.

There was a social at the Presbyterian parsonage this evening. KENNET L. BOVARD, Concert Pianist—Class lessons given, using the New England Conservatory of Music System for the Pianoforte. Already great interest is being manifested in preparing for the event. The residents of that vicinity are assisting enthusiastically in return for the gratuity services rendered by the firemen. Authorized committees are from out soliciting ing for the festival, and a great array of valuable articles will be exhibited when the fair opens.

BANQUET AT ARCHBALD.

Tenth Anniversary of the Young Men's Literary Club Celebrated with Pleasing Exercises.

The tenth anniversary of the Archibald Young Men's Literary and Social club was observed with a banquet and social Monday evening that was a very enjoyable affair. The members of the club, with friends, assembled at the club rooms early in the evening and proceeded to Father Mathew Opera House, where they danced until 11:30 o'clock. The hall was very elaborately decorated. The banquet was held at Moyle's hall and the menu provided was excellent. The decorations in the hall were very well conceived and were arranged with singular taste. Everything connected with the banquet was well arranged.

Charles A. Burke presided very creditably as toastmaster. After telling the purpose of the gathering, he called on Mr. T. C. Cummings, president of the club, to respond to the toast, "Our Club."

Mr. Cummings, in an entertaining way, told of the history of the organization, of the trials it had overcome, and the good it had done for the young men of the town. He was confident that its future would be even more prosperous than its past had been.

John J. Cawley wittily responded to the toast, "The Ladies." It was his first attempt at speech-making, but he covered himself with honor. He kept the audience in good humor by his well-directed sallies, and his remarks were appreciated.

James F. Kearney followed in response to the toast, "The Prospects of the club and of Archibald, and others," that they were all pretty bright and he created a great deal of fun by his humorous allusions.

John J. Dougher responded to, "Why I am a Member." Mr. Dougher gave good reasons why he is connected with the club and he thought that others would also be benefited by joining. His remarks were in a serious vein and they were well received.

E. T. Phibbin responded to the toast, "The Press," and Richard Foote also made brief and timely remarks that elicited much applause. The ladies and gentlemen then returned to the hall and resumed dancing until a reasonable hour. Several of the more talented members sang and an evening of rare pleasure was spent.

The club is composed of some of the best young men of Archibald, and it is a pleasure to know that the club is prospering.

FATAL FALL OF ROCK.

Mt. Pleasant Miner Caught Beneath Several Tons of Roof.

Martin Pillwallis, of 110 River street, was fatally injured by a fall of roof in the Mt. Pleasant mine yesterday morning.

Pillwallis was drilling a hole for a blast, when the roof suddenly caved in without any warning. Pillwallis was buried beneath the debris and badly crushed about the head and body. He was taken to the Lackawanna hospital at 11 o'clock, where he died an hour later.

THEATRICAL.

ACADEMY—Mauds Hillman company. Matinee and night.

GAIETY—"Dinking" Vagabonds Burlesque company. Matinee and night.

"The Sorrows of Satan."

A large audience saw "The Sorrows of Satan" at the Lyceum last night. It is the best comedy that has so far presented in here.

It is a dramatization of Marie Corelli's story of the same name and deals with the adventures of his Satanic majesty who does the ordinary duties of man and can outwit in this game to better perform his work of luring souls to their eternal destruction.

Charles Kent, who has been seen several times in a role of Prince Ludeo Rimona, again appeared in it last night and though suffering from a cold gave an impersonation of the human devil. Supporting Mr. Kent was a very capable company.

"Captain Jinks," Friday Night.

In staging "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines," which is coming to the Lyceum theater next Friday evening, Charles F. Foman cannot be charged with copying the business of the original Jinks, but as a matter of fact, his existence as a human being when the premier "Horse Marines" first commanded attention as a ridiculous but amusing entertainment. It is but a few days ago that he was seen in Philadelphia, Pa. Foman gave the comedy its first production on any stage. Now he presents it here at the Lyceum next Friday with the same important cast and scenery.

"The County Fair."

The reason for the big success of "The County Fair" the past two years, and which is more than duplicated this season in its big revival, is the fact that it is the original creation of Abigail F. F. in the fact that the play appeals to all classes. The intellectual theorist finds it of enough interest to speak of it to his fellow intellectuals and invites them to see it. The fashionable set in the city of the town everywhere, and it is awfully awkward, don't you know? 'Tis to have seen it when every one is talking about it. The general theory of it is because it presents a picture of life over which he or she can laugh and enjoy themselves.

The incidental love story, the quiet and true to life characterization of the New England spinner as portrayed by Nell Burgess, the beautiful scene settings, especially true to life in the last two acts, representing the barn, county fair and race track scenes, and everything else connected with the production appeal to all classes. All classes that there is no wonder at the announcement that its long established popularity is being more than verified wherever the revival has been seen. Ned Burgess and "The County Fair" will be with us next Saturday afternoon and evening. The matinee will begin at 2:15, instead of 2:30, the usual time, and the evening performance at 7 o'clock, instead of 7:30.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, it causes a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; and that is exactly what happens when you are cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.
