THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE-THURSDAY, JANUARY 31, 1901.

the last preceding state national election shall nominate at such primaries and in no other way, except that the party committees may supply vacancies. The name of no person shall be printed upon the official ballot of the general election unless he has been duly nominated in this manner, except when running upon nomination papers, but the bill contains no provision showing how nomination papers shall be prepared. Nor does it provide any means whereby a candidate of one party-for instance, a candidate for judge-can be indorsed for nomination by the voters of another party. Compared with the Minnesota primary law, a summary of which appears elsewhere on this page, the Flina bill is weak and watery. The latter, however, should not be taken too seriously. U Filmn thought it stood any show of passing he would be the first politician in the state to pull it in.

The association of the four miscreants sentenced at Paterson for the murder of Jennie Rossehieter, that they have been the "victims of unreasoning outside opinion," shows that Judge Dixon had a proper idea of the case when he infimated that they deserved hanging. ----

Military Instruction in School. N INTERESTING legislative proposition comes from School Controller Lattimer of Allegheny, who wants every school to have a drill room and a paid military instructor, to teach to the boys in the public schools all the military factics which their big brothers would learn in the National Guard, Whenever 100 boys come together for drill in one school Mr. Lattimer's idea is to have them regularly organized into a military company with a captain to be appointed by the soverner, and a full quota of subordipate officers. The captain is to be the instructor and is to receive $5 for each lesson of 2 or more hours in length, nt least one lesson and drill to be provided each week. During drill the boys are to be under military discipline precisely as is the volunteer membership of the National Guard. Enrolment for military instruction is, of course, optional, and the drilling is to be outside of school hours.

Nothing like this proposed arrangement exists in any state but the idea has the hearty sanction of the United States commissioner of education, who intends to bring it to the attention of school authorities generally, and its merit is obvious. All healthy boys relish exercise of this kind and all need the discipline it affords. It would combine useful instruction with healthful and wholesome pleasure and in competent hands would constitute a good nursery of practical patriotism. In view of the fact that the United States must always rely largely upor its volunteer soldiery in cases of serious emergency the advantage in having a steady means of training the young men in the requirements of military service needs no explanation. Even those who oppose "militarism" as

It is the experience of people versed in criminal procedure that it is imple from doing wrong acts if it is possible to do them. The only way to prevent it is to make it impossible for them to be committed. So it is with the direct primary law, as op-
