Annual Reception at Presbyterian terday morning. Church Last Night-Revival Services-Other News Notes.

The reception tendered by the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyteriaa church, in the church parlors last evening, to the members of the congregation, was a very pleasing event to the large number of visitors and reflects much credit on the committee charge, consisting of Mrs. Cordy, Mrs. Chamberlain, Mrs. Wardell, Mrs. Nye, Mrs. Decker and Mrs. Knight. The musical part of the programme consisted of solos delightfully dered by Miss Anna Boyd and Miss Ruby Yosi, and charming playing on the mandelin by Lester Yost. The au- and Campbell seemed to keep their dience showed their great appreciation of Mr. Yost's playing by calling more and more. After the feast music came a feast of rereshments that pleased every body.

They were served by a committee of young men, composed of Howard ling off with a comparatively light Chamberlain, Harold Dayls, Edwin Heal, William Moffat, Andrew Brydén Kenneth Ramsey.

The reception committee was as follows: Mrs. A. D. Blackinton, Mrs. L. R. Fowler, Mrs. A. L. Bryden, Mrs. John Paimer, Mrs. G. W. B. Allen, Mrs. J. Edward Close and the church elders, A. D. Blackinton, S. B. Butkley, Dr. G. J. Chamberlain, George W. Allen and A. L. Bryden.

This is an annual event of much interest to Presbyterians and this year was no exception. Much regret was expressed that sickness in the family of the pastor, Rev. W. F. Gibbons, prevented bim from being present.
