Strange Discovery Made by the Publisher of the Great Bend Plaindealer.

THE LATEST PIPE DREAM

Queer Adventure of Jacob Secrit, of China-A Few Paragraphs in a Lighter Vein-Random Observa-Thoughts.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, Feb. 1 .- While blasting dirt, with dynamite, in his garden, to obtain horse radish, Editor Psamuel More, of the Great Bend Plain-Dealer s few mornings agounearthed a human skull, supposed to be that of Man-Afraid-of-His-Wife, a noted Indian chief, whose tribe at one time had their stamping grounds at Red Rock and Great Bend. Editor More, as soon as his find is authenticated, will present it to the Susquehanna County Historical society.

About the middle of the seventeenth century the Iroquois and Delaware tribes of Indians fought each other all over this section. Great Bend and Athens were debatable grounds, neither nation occupying it permanently through fear of the other. When General Sullivan came down the Susque hanna with a division of his army, in 1778, he destroyed an Indian village at Great Bend, which was then called Ingaren. Since that time it has been no unusual thing to discover Indian curios completed the baby garments that are to clothe the little form. But she is not all ready for baby's coming, unless she has done something more for the baby than merely to prepare his clothes. Many a young mother who goes through hours of pain and suffering wonders why it was not possible to prepare in some year for not possible to prepare in some way for the baby's advent, and to avoid the agony that seemed almost unendurable. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the one medicine for women which prepares them perfectly, both for the burdens and pleasures of maternity. It prevents the morning sickness from which so many women suffer. It strengthens the whole body, so that there is no nervousness nor anxiety. It promotes a healthy appetite and causes refreshing sleep. It gives the mother strength for her trial and makes the baby's advent practically painless. Healthy mothers have healthy children, and it is the general testimony of those who have used Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as a preparative for mother-hood, that the children were healthier and happier than those born after months of mental misery and physical anguish on the part of the prospective

A PIPE DREAM. Susquehanna Transcript has heard somewhere that the Bingham-

Sick and ailing women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter absolutely without fee or charge. As chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and rgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. V. Pierce, assisted by his staff of nearly a score of physicians, has in the past thirty years and over treated and cured more than half a million sick and suffering women. The testimonials of these cured women are on record. large number of them were cured when doctors had pronounced a cure impossible and after enduring years of useless

Let no sick women hesitate to take advantage of Dr. Pierce's offer, but write at once and so secure the professional counsel of a specialist in the diseases of women, entirely free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confi-dential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buf-

Hoped for Death.

"For the sake of poor suffering women, I feel it my duty to inform you of the great beneat your medicine has given me," writes Mrs. Callie Bewles, of Watts, Iredell Co., N. C. "I was in a most miserable condition when I wrote to you. I had uterine disease so bad I could scarcely waik and suffered such dreadful misery I hoped to be relieved by death. You wrote to me to take your "Favorite Prescription" and I have taken eleven bottles of it, and two of your Pleasant Fellets. I am entirely well and feel like a sew woman. I feel thankful to God and to Br. Pierce for the blessings I now enjoy. I have a fine big hoy, two months old and never got along as well in my life. I can't praise your medicines enough."

Very Thankful.

"I will be very glad to say a few words for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Mrs. P. B. Douglas. of Mansouville, Brome Co., Quebec. "During the first four mouths when I looked forward to becoming a mother I suffered very much from nausea and vomiting and I felt so terrible sick I could scarcely eat of drink anything. I hated all kinds of food. At this time I wrote to Dr. Pierce and he told me to get his "Favorite Prescription" and a bottle of Golden Medical Discovery." I got a bottle of each and when I had taken them a few days, I felt much better, and when I had taken hardly three parts of each bottle I felt well and could eat as well as any ons, and could do my work without any trouble, (I could not do any thing before). I felt very thankful to Dr. Pierce for his medicine and I tell all who tell me they are sick to get these medicines or write to Dr. Pierce for his medicines and I tell all who tell me they are sick to get these medicines or write to Dr. Pierce."

Jacob Secriat, a young man residing at China, a small hamlet near Deposit, met with a queer adventure, a few days since. While visiting an aunt, near Red Rock, he made an effort to unload a gun and was shot through the hand. The shock and pain crazed him, and he wandered away. Several days later he called at a farm house and Serious Wayside near Deposit and asked if his father lived there, all of the time singing and beating time. In turning to go he gaw his father's team on the opposite side of the river. In going towards the team he fell into the river several times, but was rescued by his father who took him to Deposit and had his wounds dressed. The young man is now gradually recovering Interesting Services Held at the Factoryville M. E. Church. special to the Scranton Tribune.

Pactoryville, Feb. 2.-The fourth reunion and roll call of the Methodist Episcopal church, of this place, was held last Friday and was decided to be one of the most successful ones that they have ever held.

The morning services were opened by Rev. Cooper, of Dalton, after which Rev. W. M. Hiller, pastor of the church, introduced Rev. Dr. O. L. Severson, of Pittson, as the speaker of the day, who delivered a soul stir-ring and eloquent sermon. At 12 30 who wished, by the ladies of the

The afternoon session was begun at 2.30, at which time the roll call was commenced, and to which a large number answered to their names. Supper was served at 5.30, of which many partook.

Among the ministers present were Rev. W. M. Hiller, paster of the church; Rev. Cooper, of Dalton; Rev. A. T. Brundage, of Harford; Rev. Ruckman, of this place; Rev. G. R. Smith, of the Baptist church; Rev. P. R. Tower, of Thompson, and Rev Dr. O. L. Soverson, of Pittston. The last two named were former pastors of the church. Rev. P. R. Then listen! Mortals, listen! On this glad Reunion More. To the chorus that's been sung. Since our Christ on earth was born

Yes, we may hear the echo As the heaven's high arches ring. With the anthons o the ransomed And their praises to our King.

At 7.30 o'clock the entertainment and closing of the day's programme commenced. The entertainment was one of the best ever held in the church.

Miss Julia E. Cruser, of Montrose, who took the leading part of the programme, made her first appearance before a Factoryville audience, and it is needless to say that she completely captivated them in her first effort. She is thoroughly in touch with her work, has much ability and renders her selections in a charming manner.

Miss Grace Camp, also of Montrose, by request, sang a solo, which was much appreciated by the audience. Miss Camp has a sweet voice, of which she has good control. The following programme was rendered at the entertainment: Voluntary, Mrs. M. H. Foster; anthem, choir; reading, "Night Wind" (Eugene Field), Miss Cruser; soprano and tenor duet, Miss Carrie Watkins and Ira B. Miller; reading, "How Salvator Won" (Ella Wheeler Wilcox), Miss Cruser; solo, Mrs. F. M. Osterhout; reading, "A Besetting Sin" (Edmund Cooke), Miss Cruser; male quartette, Messrs. Miller, Case. #### DURYEA.

For some time past Edsail & Clausen, retail dealers at this place, have been missing dry goods, and, naturally, have had their suspicion on a woman who was in the habit of calling at the store to find out the cost of certain goods. Their suspicion proved correct Saturday morning, for at that time the lady once more put in her appearance at the store. The clerks were ousy cleaning the store for the day's work and therefore did not notice her when she quietly slipped a piece of outing flannel from the shelf under her shawl. After she had left the store a neighbor came in and told them that the lady was running away with some unwrapped goods. She gave her name as Gluchnic, which proved to be false, Her name is Mechanics. Her husband was notified of the circumstances, but he refused to help her, because, as he stated, she had stolen different things from the house and had traded them for liquor. The constable was instructed to commit the prisoner to jail, but shortly after Mr. Edsall had left the 'squire's office he was informed that the lady had escaped from the constable. The prisoner has not yet been captured, but Edsall & Clausen are determined to capture her. An attempt was made to enter Rev. Green's house a few evenings ago, but the attempt failed. Friday morning some of the employes of the William A. colliery tried to break a hoisting engine drum into pieces so as to be able to remove it to a different station. To do this they placed several sticks of dynamite in it and when it exploded there was a deafening noise which startled every employ and resident of this town, followed quickly by a shower of iron which rained through the roofs of the different buildings near the breaker. People ran to places of safety. Several of the buildings were damaged, windows being broken and also a considerable portion of the fan house blown away. Damage will amount to about

"A Free Lance."

The Scrapton admirers of Robert B. Mantull day last. They thronged the Lyceum almost to overflowing at two performances and in or-der to gratify their desire to see the distinguished Robert, they were obliged to sit through a thoroughly bad play and what was even worse, were compelled to see this play interpreted by company not equal to the occasion.

Surely Mr. Mantell should give something ere than his own zering, scenes laid in Northern Germany in the year 1450. Probably Mr. Mantell decided to accept it because there is either a five or an eight minute speech for him in each of the six acencs. He assumes the role of a bold, brave knight, supposedly of low origin but who proves in the at act to be a prince with the bluest of blue bod flowing in his veins. There is a beautiul princess, a scheming edventuress; a villain-ons son who poisons his father, the chancellor of the principality, and a few other of the stock characters of romantic drama.

But the play is clumsily put together and there is little or no dramatic interest. The characters come on in pairs and talk and go characters come on in pairs and talk and go off again. It is all talk and nothing doing the nest of the time.

Mr. Mantell gave a most virile and vigorous mpersonation of the hero, Sir Rudolph ays his colors on with bold flourishes. He makes ais romantic heroes bold and cutspoken men. He has a splendid robust voice, an absolutely perfect enunciation, not a single word escaping rom bad to worse. His leading lady, Miss Marie Booth Russell, is artificial. The worst offender among the men was David R. Yeung, as Otto, the jester. Mr. Young gave the most remark-able exhibition of scenery chewing ever seen in this city. The other members of the cist, with the exception of John Sutherland, gave small mer, and founded on Schiller's classic "Love and Intrigue." The scene is laid in an Austrian province at the end of the eighteenth century Miss Holland in the leading role portrays Aria, the daughter of a court musician, who is beloved by Baron Ronald. The play abounds with thrilling situations, powerul acenes and strong iramatic climaxes, legitimately brought about and is mounted with the most elaborate section production ever given a romantic drama. Everything necessary to produce beautiful and historically correct pictures is earried by the company, including the furniture, which was modeled and built from correct drawings.

To Continue Another Week.

For the first time this season the Academy Music has a repertoire company booked for the theater for two solid weeks. Only a company of good standing could expect to hold the crowds as does Jack Hoefder's clever company of players. The plays presented by this company are well staged with excellent scenery and a great deal of attention is paid to the details, which shows "good stage management. The vaudeville end is presented by really good acts which have been seen in the big city theaters as head-liners. The juggling not of De Hollis and Valora, Cliff Farrell, Paul Brady and Agnutt and Richardson return engagement of "All on Account of Eman at the Lycoum tonight.
