The Council Divided on the Hose House Appropriation-A New Ordinance Taxing Poles.

Select council met in regular session dast night with all the members present. The minutes of the last meeting

The report of the building committee was called for and Mr. Mannion brought the long delayed and much agitated cottage hose house ordinance before the council. He and Mr. Battle ubmitted a majority report recommending the printing of the ordinance. Mr. Fletcher submitted a minority report asking that the ordinance be laid on the table indefinitely. He gay eight reasons for his opposition to th erection of the house, briefly as follows: The distance to that section of the city from the present hose house is too short to make another building necessary, and the houses in the Fourth ward are so scattered that the dange of a conflagration is very slight.

The sight selected is such that onl a small district would get any benefit whatever. The district east of the Delaware and Hudson tracks as prac tically inaccessible.

It is not customary in cities of this size to have fire houses on its out-

To build the house would be an ex pensive precedent as then the other districts of the city could justly cry for like protection.

The city cannot afford it at this time there is no appropriation for it. The damage suit decided against the city and other claims on the treasury demand the greatest economy in every Retrenchment in all branches of city government is imperative. The last election resulted in an emphatic demand for more care in spending the

The building of a new hose house would be only the beginning of a large drain on the city as the expense of equipping it would be considerable, and the current expenses would enlarge each year.

The property to be protected should govern the location of the hose houses, and the Fourth ward is the lowest in valuation in the city, while the houses are the most isolated.

Mr. Mannion then spoke in favor of the ordinance. He said over 300 residents of that section of the city had petitioned for the building and the company would turn over to the city for one dollar its deed of the property valued at $300. He asked why this ordinance should not be passed, even if there were no appropriation, when the Racket Brook bridge ordinance was carried without one.

Chairman Thompson took the floor and arrayed himself against the ordinance as did Mr. Davis. Mr. Fletcher moved for the adopilm of the minority report. Battle, motion. Mannion moved for the adoption of majority report, and Fletcher, Irayls and Thompson voted negatively,

A number of minor matters from common council were received and concurred in by the selectmen. The February requisition of the Columbias was received and granted. Davis moved for the raising of a number of arc lights at the expense of the electric company. The resolution was carried. The request of T. Theophilus to con-pect with the Spring street sewer was referred to the street committee. Chairman Thompson introducd the following ordinance:

An ordinance providing for the levy and cellection of a license tax on all firms and corpor ations maintaining poles and wires on the put Section 1. Be it ordained by the select coun-cil of the city of Carbondale, the common council concurring, and it is hereby ordained by the or corporatons using the streets of the city of tarbondole for the purpose of erecting and maintaining poles and wires upon the said streets shall, on or before the first day of July, 1901, and the first day of July of each succeed-ing year take cut a license from the office of the city treasurer of said city for the poles and wires already erected and which may be erected; and said firms shall pay to the city treasurer for the use of said city the sum of fifty (50) cents for each pole that said corporation has erected or may erect or maintain in said city, provided, that all poles that are being used for the fire slarm system shall be exempt from the shove license tax.

Sec. 2.—In case any firm or corporation main taining poles and wires in the streets as afore-said shall full to take out the license and pay the tax mentioned in section I on or before the first day of July, 190t, and each succeeding year as aforesaid, said firm or corporation so failing shall pay to the city of Carbondale as the sum of one dollars ($1) per pole for every pole that raid firm or corporation in de-isult maintains in the streets of said city of Carbondale and said penalty shall be collected by said city in the manner prescribed by law.

Sec. 3.—The city engineer shall, on or before the first day of July, 1901, ascertain the number of coles that each firm or corporation maintains in the atrects of the city of Carbondale and shall furnish the treasurer of said city with a schedule showing the number and owners of said poles liable to said license tax.

The matter was referred to the street committee, with instructions to report forthwith, which it did, favorably, and the ordinance was ordered printed.

John Rafter, of South Main street, through his attorney, H. C. Butler, submitted to councils a written statement, of the damages alleged by him to have been caused to his property by the changing of the grade of that thoroughfare. The matter was reforred to the street committee, city sollcitor and city engineer.

Nellie, a wolf hound, belonging to the Carner stock company, which is performing at the Grand this week, is the proud mother of an interesting family. She occupies one of the dressing rooms under the stage and clustered about her in her moments of family care are nine bright little puppies about two weeks of age, ranging in color from a pure white to a black. An approach to her temporary apartments is welcomed by a flerce growl, while the little ones bask about her in various attitudes of contentment.

A similar action was ordered in the case of the bill from the Electric Light company, which had been returned to the company for correction.

A communication was read from C. Spencer, cashier, notifying the board to draw $600 interest on the issue of $24,000 of five per cent, bonds held by J. J. Simpson. Another communication from the state treasurer in regard to the school appropriation as also read. An echo of the Bryden case was heard by Attorney Butler recommending that the school board pay the costs in the case and dispose of it now and finally. The costs were $33.78, of which $39.41 goes to Scranton and $3.37 to Alderman Morrison, of this city. After a moment's hesitation, during which the members looked at one anthe amzzically. Director Kirwin moved that an order be drawn on the treasurer for the amount. This was adopted unanimously.

Treasurer Moon reported that school axes to the amount of $6,000 had been turned in last month, of which Collecter Watt had handed over $5,000 and Collector Clifford $1,000. So far Watt bus paid $12,000 and Clifford $5,500 this

Mr. Alexander is one of the most enthusiastic and energetic members of the Grand Army of the Republic in the country and his continued appointments to state and national offices is a just recognition of the prominent part he has taken in the affairs of the organization in this section. He has been commander of William H. Davles' post in this city for four years, aide de-camp of Department Commander Gobin in 1886, held the same position on the staff of National Commander A. G. Weissert, and now serves his third-term as a national grand officer.

A NEW CLOTHING HOUSE.

McCann Brothers Will Open a Modern Store When Alterations Are Completed.

Carbondale is soon to have a new It will be in the Anthracite building, and if the plans of its promoters are carried out it will be the finest store of its kind in the city. Patrick F. and Charles McCann will be the proprietors, and the firm name will be McCann Brothers.

Extensive alterations are to be made in the ground floor of the Anthracite building. Partitions will be removed. large plate-glass show windows will be put in on the Sixth avenue side, a new large double entrance will replace the curved window at the corner of Sixth avenue and Main street, and other necessary improvements will be made.

The new firm will conduct a clothing and haberdashery store, and they say they will make it strictly up-to-date. Patrick F. McCann is well-known in this city as a highly enterprising young man. His brother Charles has been associated with Henry J. Collins, a Scranton clothier, for a long time. The new store is to be fitted with the counters. shelves and show cases that belonged to the firm of Bell & Skinner, the Jermyn hotel furnishers in Scranton, and they will be in line with the superior decorations of the store when it is finished. The location of the new firm is undoubtedly one of the very best in the city. It will be several weeks be fore the alterations are completed.

Milton Kinney Again.

Milton Kinney, a well-known, or a east widely known, resident of what is known as Greenfield, is again in the toils. Kinney is one of the old rounders and within a month's time was before Mayor Kilpatrick, but on promising to reform and to stay away from Carbondale for a year he was permitted to go on his way rejoicing. Yesterday, however, he got feeling so exuberant that Jermyn wouldn't hold him, so he again invaded this town. He got some South Main street cold dispeller and got so hot that he began to roll around the streets. A patrolman happened along and landed him in jail, and if he doesn't take a trip down the river at the county's expense it will be a wonder.

Tonight's Smoker.

Carbondale conclave, No. 392, will have an installation of officers this evening and will also initiate three candidates. After the business session a smoker will be held, at which a programme rendered by the Lackawanna Symphony club and others will be pre sented.
