His leg was examined by the X-ray machine, but failed to reveal any more foreign substance. Reilly was standing about six feet from the tracks when the torpedoes exploded.

THE BEAUTIFUL SNOW.

FIVE AND THREE-TENTHS INCHES FELL YESTERDAY. First Snow Storm of the Winter Swept Over the City—Effects on Traffic.

For the first time this winter the snow king yesterday had his innings. During the greater part of the day the atmosphere was full of bits of wet, congealed moisture, which stuck to garments with bulldog tenacity, and gave the city streets the whitened appearance which one usually associates with an ideal Christmas day.

During the day there was a total fall of 5 3/10 inches, which is about as much of "the beautiful" as fell during the entire winter prior to Sunday. For the first time the merry clink of the sleigh bell was heard, and fast little cutters dashed along the streets all day.

The weather proved a God-send to the small boy, Little Tommies and Willie seemed to spring from out the inmost depths of the earth, and armed with shovels made generous offers to "clean your walks. Only ten cents, ma'am."

Not only these industrious youths but also their more malevolently inclined brethren were made happy, for the snow was good to "pack" and all day long the weary pedestrians were forced to grin and bear it as numerous snow-balls whizzed through the air.

During the morning the snow interfered considerably with traffic on the Scranton Railway company's lines, and it was found necessary to reduce the service on several of the lines during the day, owing to the fact that the cars could not be run on the regular schedule.

The Green Ridge and Dunmore Suburban and South Side lines were the only ones affected, and those only during the violent storm in the morning. Traffic on the railroad lines was not delayed to any visible extent.

Train 28 from the Buffalo division, which usually reaches the Lackawanna station at 8 o'clock, was delayed thirty minutes last night.

POCALOTSKY RELEASED.

'SQUIRE PICKERELL SAW NO REASON TO HOLD HIM. Coroner's Jury a Short Time Later Decided That Novetsky Died at the Hands of Pocalotsky.

Coroner J. J. Roberts last night conducted an inquest in 'Squire Pickerell's office at Austin Heights, in the case of Alexander Novetsky, who came to his death Sunday, Feb. 3, from injuries received Saturday. The coroner's jury, which was made up of John K. Lewis, James B. Scott, John F. McAndrew, John Rohend, William Lewis and Bennett E. Johnson, after hearing several witnesses, brought in a verdict to the effect that Novetsky died from injuries received from a blunt instrument in the hands of John Pocalotsky.

Pocalotsky was given a hearing before 'Squire Pickerell before the inquest and was acquitted of any complicity in Novetsky's death. He was liberated by Coroner Roberts declares that he will be re-arrested. One witness testified to seeing the two men leave a saloon together Saturday, and a short while later, hearing a scream, ran out and found Novetsky lying on his back five feet from the steps. Pocalotsky then returned to the saloon and finished his glass of beer, which he had deserted when he left in Novetsky's company.

TO LIMIT THE NEW FRANCHISE

THAT'S WHAT COUNCILMAN CHITTENDEN PROPOSES.

He Will Introduce an Amendment to the Franchise Ordinance of the Central Rapid Transit Company Giving the City Power to Acquire the Whole System of the Concern at the End of Twenty Years to Either Operate or Sell—His Views Upon the Plan.

Select Councilman Charles E. Chittenden is going to introduce an amendment to the ordinance granting a franchise to the Central Rapid Transit company, when that measure comes up for first and second reading on Thursday night, and it's safe to assume that its provisions will form the subject of much discussion and argument.

The amendment which the gentleman from the Ninth proposes, provides that upon the expiration of twenty years from the date of the granting of the franchise, the city shall have the right, if it so desires, to apply to court for the appointment of a board of appraisers, who shall appraise the value of the company's franchise and also the value of its entire equipment, including rails, poles, wire, power house and rolling stock.

The amendment further provides that the city may then have the absolute right to purchase the franchise and equipment from the company for this appraised valuation.

Mr. Chittenden, in outlining his ideas to a Tribune man last night, stated that he believes the adoption of such an amendment would mean a boon to the Scranton of twenty years hence.

WHAT IT COULD DO. "When the city had acquired the franchise," said he, "it could do one of two things. Local conditions might have improved to such an extent as to render the operation of the system by the city feasible. That would not be possible just now, but who knows what changes twenty years may bring to pass.

"If the city didn't care to operate the system itself, it could ask for bids for the sale of the franchise and equipment, and I feel sure that they could both be sold at a great profit. The same plan was recently tried in Cleveland. The city, after a number of years, secured control of the street railway company, and when bids were asked for, the capitalists fell over themselves to get possession.

"They made offers of three cent fares and handsome premiums and the city was the gainer in every way. I haven't the exact figures regarding that sale at hand just now, but I expect to have them soon.

"The granting of perpetual franchises is an abomination and the idea is being discouraged in every progressive city in this country. An illustration of what this city has to expect if plan is to be seen in the water company's franchise. That corporation's capital stock has increased from a few thousands to several millions of dollars since its original franchise was granted, and the city hasn't got a cent out of it.

WORTH OF FRANCHISES. "An illustration of the worth of street railway franchises in this city is to be found in the price paid by the Scranton Traction company for the Valley Passenger railway franchise out Washington avenue. One hundred thousand cold American dollars were paid for it, after it had been obtained from the city free, or almost free of charge.

"I held them off for three nights on the granting of the franchise and offered it for it was put up for sale to guarantee that at least $5,000 would be paid for it, but I had only a few members with me, and they rushed it through. The people of this city have realized what they have lost in giving away our streets for nothing and I think public sentiment will be strongly against a repetition of the process.

"The franchise is at present of unknown value and I believe that for the first twenty years it should be granted to the company free, providing, however, that it receive an amount which I will also introduce, is adopted. This provides that in lieu of all other taxes the company shall pay annually to the city a tax of five per cent on its gross receipts.

"This proposal, as you see it, is a fair one. The city gives the franchise free for twenty years and demands that the company pay only a fair share of taxes in return. At the end of twenty years it reserves the right to buy back at a fair figure and gives the company a chance to again buy it back. I shall make a vigorous fight for the adoption of my amendments."

WETTEST HOURS OF THE DAY. From the London Leisure Hour. Dr. R. H. Scott, who was until recently chief of the meteorological office, has made a detailed examination of the records of the fall of rain in each of the twenty-four hours of the day, in order to find out which are the driest and the wettest hours. The results show that in the west the heaviest rains occur in the early morning hours, and the least rain in the early afternoon. In the east, and also at inland places, the heaviest rains occur in the afternoon. The records as a whole show that everywhere in our islands the hours from about 10 o'clock in the morning to noon are drier than the rest of the day.

SEELY HAS QUIT WORK.

Street Car Company Will Look After His Interests.

The case of Frank Seely, the street car employe who has been the bone of contention between the union and the street railway company ever since the close of the strike, has now been effectually settled and Sunday Seely quit work.

As will be remembered, Seely and Charles Keller were the only men who worked during the strike. Keller was never a member of the union, but Seely continued to man a car, despite the fact that he had joined the association. The final treaty between President Clarke and the car employes contained a stipulation that Keller be taken care of by the men and Seely by the company.

Keller has been admitted to the union and Seely will probably be taken to Philadelphia where there given employment by the company.

NEW TELEPHONE COMPANY. Directors and Officers Were Chosen Yesterday.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Lackawanna Telephone company, held yesterday, the old board of directors was re-elected. They are as follows: R. G. Brooks, W. L. Connell, A. P. Bedford, T. J. Foster, Charles Robinson, E. J. Robinson and W. J. Lewis. The board met and re-elected the following officers: President, W. J. Lewis; vice-president, A. P. Bedford; secretary-treasurer, W. L. Connell; general manager, F. E. Wayland.

President Lewis stated to a Tribune man that the company's switchboard was now almost completely installed, and that a portion of the system in the central part of the city would be in operation by the end of the present week.

NEED MORE PATROLMEN. CHIEF ROBLING WILL ASK FOR TEN MORE MEN. Says Present Force of Officers Is Inadequate to Cope with the Conditions That Now Exist Here.

Chief of Police Frank Robling, Jr., in his estimate of the expenses of his department for the coming year, asks for sufficient money to pay the salaries of ten extra policemen and two additional detectives. He's going to make a strong fight for the adoption of these items.

The chief believes that the forty-five patrolmen who comprise the present force and utterly and entirely inadequate to cope with conditions in this city, with its population of 102,000 and its sixteen square miles of territory. He believes that instead of forty-five men there should be one hundred in the force, but he has only asked for ten, the same number he asked for last year and the same number which the estimates committee at that time eradicated with neatness and dispatch.

The chief is going to explain to the members of the committee this year a little something about the amount of territory which some of the patrolmen in the districts have to cover every night. He's going to show by means of a map just where the man on the northerly beat in West Scranton has to go. This is one of the longest beats in the city, being bounded by Jackson street, Keyser avenue, the main line of the Lackawanna railroad and North Main avenue. This is a beat which could easily occupy the whole time and attention of at least six policemen, instead of one lone man.

Chief Robling believes that if the "Hill" district were properly patrolled; that is, if there were half a dozen, instead of only two men assigned to it, that the burglaries which have recently been of such frequent occurrence in that part of the city would become a thing of the past.

Mayor Moir is with him in his endeavor to secure extra policemen and both officials are hopeful of success.

ANOTHER VISIT TODAY. The committee will wait upon the Sauquoit, Harveys, Bliss, Simpson and Petersburg mill authorities and present to them the scale, later reporting upon the matter to the union. The offer made by Superintendent Davis is, really one which would be granted by all the mills, as Superintendent Joseph Harvey has already announced his acquiescence, and the Klots people are quoted as having expressed their willingness to pay the same wages as go into effect at the Sauquoit. The offer yesterday made to the Simpson hands was practically the same as that which Superintendent Davis made.

Yesterday afternoon the striking employes of Harvey Bros' mill met in the Central Park hall, in South Scranton, and there were discussed into a local scale. The work of organization was conducted by J. F. Hammes, of the Stonecutters' union, and Miss Matthews and Miss Jordan, of the Hand Silk Workers' union.

In Carpenters' hall the soft silk workers of the Sauquoit silk mill were organized by President Flaherty, of the Central Labor union. Miss Matthews, president of the hard silk workers, had been at the head of both departments up to yesterday's meeting.

The strikers' executive committee declares that in their demands they will insist, above all else, on the abolishment of the practice of firing, and this and the establishing of a $2 a week wage for beginners will be two of the things upon which no compromise will be made.

ANOTHER MILL NOW CLOSED

THREE HUNDRED AND FIFTY HANDS IDLE AT MINOOKA.

The Simpson Silk Company Voluntarily Closed Down Yesterday Noon—Today Marks a Crisis in Strike as the Wage Scale Committee Will Present the Results of Its Deliberations to Mill Owners—Superintendent Davis of the Sauquoit Delivered an Ultimatum.

The Simpson silk mill at Minooka was voluntarily closed yesterday by the management and the forces of the striking textile workers were thereby augmented by about three hundred and fifty recruits. Ever since the beginning of the strike movement there has been a great deal of "strike talk" among the hands, and much dissatisfaction expressed.

The proprietors therefore decided to close the mill until the present agitation is over, and this determination was yesterday morning announced to the girls. In answer to their demands, Superintendent Butler announced that the Simpson people would be willing to pay the same wages as those offered the Sauquoit workers by Superintendent Davis, in the notices posted last week, offering a general eight per cent. increase.

"Of the larger establishments the only two now running are the Cambria Silk company's mill, in Dunmore, and the Petersburg Silk Manufacturing company's plant. Valentine Bliss controls the former, and Reiling, David & Schoen the latter. The Petersburg girls have given the proprietors notice that they will continue work until the uniform wage scale is formulated by the union's committee. This scale will be presented to Reiling, David & Schoen, together with the other mill owners, today, and in case the Petersburg proprietors do not accept the scale, the hands threaten to join the other strikers.

SCALE PRESENTED. Superintendent Davis of the Sauquoit silk mill, was waited upon by the strikers' scale committee yesterday and a wage scale presented, establishing rates to be paid the mill employes. Superintendent Davis returned this and made a counter offer.

He declared that the company's voluntary offer made last week, offering an average increase of eight per cent., still held good, and this was supplemented by an additional offer to the weavers, for whom no provision was made in the notices which were last week posted. They are paid according to the amount of work done, and the fitness of the material upon which they are employed. In some cases the increase offered amounts to one-half cent a yard.

The weavers demanded an average increase of twenty-six per cent., in some instances a raise of one and one-half cents on the yard. Mr. Davis' offer is considerably smaller than their demand, and accompanying his approval the Sauquoit superintendent gave out his ultimatum. He said: "If our company today to the weavers is not accepted by tomorrow noon, everything will be called off. The company will withdraw the entire scale offered."

Yesterday afternoon the strikers' committee was busily engaged in working on another scale, the demands of which will be less peremptory. In establishing the uniform wage scale the committee strikes an average between the highest and intermediate wages now paid, and uses this as a basis upon which to operate. The scale will be completed this morning, and will be put before the various mill owners this afternoon.
