

ILLUSTRIOUS WAS VICTORIA

BEAUTIFUL TRIBUTE OF REV. F. S. BALLENTINE.

At the Memorial Service in Christ Church Sunday Night He Delivered an Address in Which He Dwelt at Some Length on the Many Qualities Which Made Her Notable Among the Rulers of the World.

At the memorial service in Christ Episcopal church last Sunday night the pastor, Rev. F. S. Ballentine, delivered a beautiful address on the late queen Victoria. He took for the text of his discourse Proverbs 21:30.

Mr. Ballentine's address was as follows:

Lord Salisbury is reported as having said of Queen Victoria that she was "the most illustrious sovereign that ever adorned the throne of England."

There is the secret at once of her humility and at the same time of her greatness. Here is the secret also of her marvelous intuition. Here likewise is the secret of her practical wisdom and the source of her exquisite sympathy.

At last it was suggested that a zephyr came just outside the royal enclosure. It might be well to search it. The search there consequently was at once begun, and, lo, the queen, sitting on a soap box beside a kneeling boy on which a poor dying zephyr was being led in her hand was the Bible.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

HABIT OF PRAYER.

The queen's habit of prayer and reading God's Word reminds us of the two greater characters in our own remarkable history. I refer to Washington and Lincoln.

kneels in prayer in the cold and bleak woods of Valley Forge. Look at Lincoln as he pours over his Bible and calls into his counsel the best and noblest leaders of religious thought in the country.

Because of these special tokens of favor to us as a nation, because of these special tokens of favor to many of the noblest of our kind as individuals—why should we not do Victoria honor; why should we not rise up at such a time as this and call this great and good woman blessed?

A DIFFERENT THING.

How may it be to express a wish in any other order it is "almost intuition." But Victoria, if she was possessed of any great faculty of foresight, it was in general, that divine and subtle faculty of "intuition."

There is the secret at once of her humility and at the same time of her greatness. Here is the secret also of her marvelous intuition. Here likewise is the secret of her practical wisdom and the source of her exquisite sympathy.

At last it was suggested that a zephyr came just outside the royal enclosure. It might be well to search it. The search there consequently was at once begun, and, lo, the queen, sitting on a soap box beside a kneeling boy on which a poor dying zephyr was being led in her hand was the Bible.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

FOUNDATION OF TRUE LAW.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

fection to be seen everywhere among her subjects. And many are the ways in which it has been displayed, sometimes in one way, some times in another, but always in a genuine and most thoroughly well-voiced way.

But look at the queen as a mother. She was the queen of mothers. Here is where I am inclined to say her noble German blood and her noble German alliance most effectively.

AS A MOTHER.

But look at the queen as a mother. She was the queen of mothers. Here is where I am inclined to say her noble German blood and her noble German alliance most effectively.

There is the secret at once of her humility and at the same time of her greatness. Here is the secret also of her marvelous intuition. Here likewise is the secret of her practical wisdom and the source of her exquisite sympathy.

At last it was suggested that a zephyr came just outside the royal enclosure. It might be well to search it. The search there consequently was at once begun, and, lo, the queen, sitting on a soap box beside a kneeling boy on which a poor dying zephyr was being led in her hand was the Bible.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

FOUNDATION OF TRUE LAW.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Trouble.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery, nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue.

There is the secret at once of her humility and at the same time of her greatness. Here is the secret also of her marvelous intuition. Here likewise is the secret of her practical wisdom and the source of her exquisite sympathy.

At last it was suggested that a zephyr came just outside the royal enclosure. It might be well to search it. The search there consequently was at once begun, and, lo, the queen, sitting on a soap box beside a kneeling boy on which a poor dying zephyr was being led in her hand was the Bible.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

FOUNDATION OF TRUE LAW.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

THE ONLY CURE FOR NERVOUS DISEASES

Such an argument ad hominem was entirely conclusive. Fortunately for myself, however, it was exactly the style of thought I had long since applied to the subject, and I, for one, had been inclined to accept the Pharisaic account of his highness.

And we have personally been persuaded for some years that the Prince would measure up to the responsibilities of life awaiting him when they were actually put on his shoulders as they now have been.

There is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue.

There is the secret at once of her humility and at the same time of her greatness. Here is the secret also of her marvelous intuition. Here likewise is the secret of her practical wisdom and the source of her exquisite sympathy.

At last it was suggested that a zephyr came just outside the royal enclosure. It might be well to search it. The search there consequently was at once begun, and, lo, the queen, sitting on a soap box beside a kneeling boy on which a poor dying zephyr was being led in her hand was the Bible.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

FOUNDATION OF TRUE LAW.

Whether this story is literally true or not of Victoria, it yet pointedly and graphically and dramatically gives expression to one of the great secrets of her great and noble life.

THE ONLY CURE FOR NERVOUS DISEASES

There is one and only one specific known to medicine for diseases arising from impure blood and a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's celery compound.

It is the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. It is not a patent medicine. It is not foisted upon public attention by smart advertisement writers.

Advertisement for M. J. Moran's clothing sale. Includes text: 'And It's Blow, Blow, Blow Lucky for you that while the wind is cutting up we should be cutting prices. Wind Proof Overcoats, $4 Up', 'SALE BEGINS TODAY. M. J. MORAN 316-318 Lackawanna Ave.', 'We Have Been Busy Since Saturday Re-Marking and Adjusting Stock to be Prepared to Meet the Rush Today.', 'Fancy Worsteds Suits', 'Men's Pants', 'Young Men's Clothing', 'Youth's Overcoats', 'CHILDREN'S WEARABLES'.