A MOTHER WHO IS A DOCTOR

Tells How Her Beautiful Daughter Was Saved from the Grave.

Dr. Anna Wells and her daughter, Ethelyn Leslie Huston, both of Chicago.

Anna Wells, M. D., writes from the Park Gate Hotel, Chicago, Ill., the following letter to Dr. Hartman concerning his world-famous remedy, Peruna:

Park Gate Hotel, Chicago, Ill.
The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:
Gentlemen—"I thank you most heartily for the sample bottle of Peruna. I prescribed it for my daughter (Miss E. L. Huston), who sadly needed it, at it had proved. I was utterly hopeless and discouraged. Nothing we gave her would give her an appetite. A nervous shock received two years ago prostrated her. All the consultations and advice of brother physicians had done no good, until your Peruna was advised. "She can now eat heartily of solid foods—she has been, not living, but dying on liquids; sleeps good; was troubled with indigestion; menstruation, easy and comfortable; had suffered from dysmenorrhoea and ovaritis. She is now on the third bottle.

"I wish this letter could reach the whole world for the sake of brother physicians, their patients, and the discouraged class who are nobody's patients. "With all my heart I thank you. Your wonderful medicine has saved my daughter from the grave. I am prescribing it right along for my patients, and find that it soon begins to give relief."—Anna Wells, M.D.

Dr. Wells' daughter, Ethelyn Leslie Huston, was late associate editor of Brann's Iconoclast, and is now on the editorial staff of the Chicago Chronicle. She says: "I have used Peruna for nerve exhaustion and lack of appetite. I find it invaluable."—Ethelyn Leslie Huston.

NERVOUS PEOPLE.

Read the Following Extract from One of Dr. Hartman's Lectures.
Dr. Hartman, president of the Hartman Sanitarium, in a recent lecture, stated the following:
"The first difficulty I met with in the proper treatment of nervous prostration is to get my patients rid of many nervous stimulants and sedatives to which they have usually become accustomed before consulting me. It would be difficult to over-estimate the damage these drugs do in such cases. Bromides, valerianates, chloral, opium in every form, caffeine, cocaine, and many others are all alike of great injury and of no possible good.
"To get all these and many other similar remedies from the patient and Peruna in their stead is the first thing to be accomplished. Shortly after Peruna is begun the appetite becomes regular, the sleep natural, and every disagreeable symptom improved. Peruna is a perfect specific for these cases and is absolutely invincible. There are no failures where these directions are faithfully followed. This improvement comes promptly. The patient can rest assured that a perfect cure will follow a persistent use of it. "Peruna contains no phosphorus, strychnine, or quinine to temporarily excite the nervous system, but acts permanently by restoring the normal conditions. It contains no narcotic or sedative, and it contains no element of the action of any bodily function during its use."
Mrs. A. E. Howe, Worthy Matron of the Chicago Chapter, No. 141, of the Order of the Eastern Star, writes from 239 Rush street, Chicago, as follows: "Peruna is a remedy of the highest value. It has built them up, and never as so many nerve tonics do, creating disaster by over stimulation and excitement."
"There is no medicine I know of that is so perfect a healer for all cases of nervous catarrh. I have often used it myself, and I have induced a number of my friends to take it. It is indeed a friend to women, alleviating the peculiarities to the sex, and restoring them to strength and health."—Mrs. A. E. Howe.
Insist upon having Peruna. There are no substitutes. Peruna cures by removing the cause. Nature does the rest.
If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

MANY SLEIGHING PARTIES.

Young Folks and Old Ones Enjoy Themselves—Delightful Day.

The air was filled with joyous shouts of happy parties of sleighers all yesterday afternoon and last evening. Big loads of youngsters from out of town invaded the thoroughfares and nearly split their throats with cheers as they were whirled smoothly along, while envious small boys on the sidewalks gave vent to their ill-suppressed jealousy by jeering and shouting. Parties of older boys and girls—some of them being "grownups"—also enjoyed the splendid going and took trips out of town and into it. The streets last evening were filled with joyous parties of this nature, with festive jingling a merry tune and the crisp, still air imparting a cheerful hue to all countenances.

A Sleighing Accident.

Mrs. Helen Manville, Mrs. R. A. Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Manville were enjoying the sleighing on Thursday and had gone from out toward Honesdale. Something seemed to be the matter with the brake and the horses were stopped. Mr. Manville got out to examine the attachment and his wife and Mrs. Sawyer also alighted. Suddenly the horses took fright at some object and lurched back. Mrs. Helen Manville, fearing disastrous consequences, threw herself from the sleigh.

Mrs. Bassett and the guests of honor received in the parlors, which were beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The mantel decorated with especially fine, blooming plants and cut flowers being used to excellent advantage. All of the rooms were given the same holiday air by the liberal use of flowers and plants and with the rich colors of the ladies, it was a memorably beautiful affair.

St. Valentine's Day.

The annual decoration of the stationery store windows in honor of the good old friend of the young, St. Valentine, is now in full fervor. The alleged "comic" pictures are as ugly as ever, while the more elaborate and tasteful designs in cut paper and pictured couplets and sentimental lines have grown prettier and cheaper. Dealers report a good sale already in the paper novelties in anticipation of the holiday next Thursday. The origin of this observance dates from a number of centuries ago, when, on the eve of St. Valentine, number of young folks, maids and bachelors, would assemble and inscribe upon billets the names of an equal number of maids and bachelors of their acquaintance, throw the whole into a receptacle of some sort and then draw them lotterywise, care being taken of course that each should draw one of the opposite sex. The person thus drawn became one's valentine. Out of that custom grew the one still in vogue of sending through the mails, or otherwise, tokens of love or friendship on St. Valentine's day.

A Large Euchre Party.

Mrs. James Walker entertained a large number of young people last evening at an Euchre party held in her home on South Church street, in honor of her niece, Miss Elizabeth Wade. The following is the list of those who attended the event:

"Bob" Jumper Injured.

One of the favorite sports of the boys since there has been sleighing is jumping on bob sleighs. As the swiftly moving sleighs of the merchants, farmers, draymen, etc., speed along, the boys jump on the back runners and enjoy a free ride until they see some more enticing vehicle or the driver puts them off. Yesterday a little fellow was enjoying this sport on Main street. He attempted to board a sleigh which was going at a high rate of speed, but instead of his foot striking on the runner, it got under it. The boy cried loudly from the pain and the driver at once stopped, but not before the boy's foot was badly lacerated. He was taken to surgeon, who dressed the wound. The little fellow was able to hobble home, and it will be some time before he indulges in this pastime again.

A Fine Programme.

Tomorrow evening the choir of the First Congregational church will render the following music, under the direction of Mrs. Naylor: 6. Anthem, "Kipling's Recessional."
