MATTIE HUGHES BROWN.

A Former Carbondale Lady to Whom New York Newspapers Devote Much Space.

For the past few days readers of the New York newspapers have been regaled with accounts of an action brought by Mrs. Martha H. Brown against Michael Angelo Salvatore Mario Valeri, "Count Di Verschetti, House of Savoy, Swiss Italy," but otherwise Angelo Valeri, an artist, who was arrested on Wednesday night on her complaint for the larceny of a solitaire diamond ring, valued at $185. The "count" refused to discuss the case in court when arraigned before Magistrate Olmstead in the West Side police court Thursday morning.

It now transpires that the lady who is alleged to have lost the ring is Mrs. Mattie Hughes Frown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reese Hughes, of Salem avenue, this city. She is very well known here, having lived here with her parents since childhood. The fol-lowing narrative of Mrs. Brown's troubles with the count is taken from the New York Sun:

on the blotter of the West Ferry seventh street police station he is Angelo Valeri, of years old, artist, address retused. According to the estimation of the complainant segment him, Mrs. Martha H. Brown, he culls himself Michelantede Salvatore Mario Valeri, Count Di Verschetti, house of Savoy, Swisstebleman, artist, author and playwright, Brown charges him with grand largeay in that he stole a diamond ring from her and attempted to blackmail in writing letters to her, threatening to expose our real character if she didn't give him $1,000.

didn't give him $1,000.

Mrs. Brown is a widow and lives at 200 West.

Pitty sixth street. She is about 3D years old, and is a musicion, song writer, singer, playwright and poetess. She is the author, she says. of "Jesus, the Light of the World," a religious song, and "When Tall Wild Roses Bloom," which is said to be some years after they have been tamed. Another work which she has in manuscript, she says, is a short story catified "Four Months' Acquaintance with an Hairan Count," Mrs. Brown says that the count has been a

The troublethat led up to her having the count arrested were described to a Sun reporter last night by

Mrs. Brown as follows:
"I first met him last October at a musicale given at the Walderf-Astoria. The count was a guest and I sang and recited. I was introduced to him and he asked permission to call on me. I gave him permission and he called at my house several times. On one occasion he suggested that he would give me lessons in French conversation if I would teach him music. ### WALKING WAS POOR.

But Fell Township Citizens Had to Come Horseless.

Ex-Treasurer Corby and Christmas Davis, of Fell township, took a trip out to Crystal lake on Thursday afternoon behind a horse owned by other parties and in a cutter. After enjoying the spectacle of the fast horses be ing "tried out" on the ice, they started for home. It was very cold on the homeward trip and when they reached the cozy hotel of Joe Scheck they decided to get out of the cutter and lim-

SPECIAL CONVOCATION.

Degrees to Be Conferred on Knights of Malta at Scranton.

A special convocation of the Grand Commandery of Pennsylvania, Ancient Knights of Malta, will be held in the ouncil chamber at the Knights of Malta temple, Scranton, this evening for the purpose of conferring the past ommanders' degree on a number of candidates, Grand Commander J. Liebensberger, of Hazleton, will conduct the impressive services.

Past Commanders F. B. Hiller and Oscar Morgan, of Temple commandery, No. 288, of this city, will be in attendance and receive the honors.

Pleasant Affair.

The young people of the High School Literary society were addressed last evening by Hon. J. J. O'Neill on 'Alexander Hamilton from an Orator's Standpoint." The meeting was open to the public and quite a number of people not members of the society were present. They were amply repaid, as the address, although short, was an exceedingly interesting one. Ex-Mayor O'Neill is one of the most accomplished writers in the county and without question the best speaker. He held the close attention of his hearers from the start, and the members of the society received much valuable information on the life and character of Hamilton. A number of selections were given by members of the society and all were greatly appreclated.

Nominated Officers.

Lackawanna encampment, No. *16. Improved Order of Odd Fellows, met last night and nominated officers, As a nomination is equivalent to an election, except in the case of scribe, the following will fill the chairs of the order during the forthcoming term: Chief patriarch, Frank Love; high priest, E. H. Stone; senior warden, George Batey; junior warden, Charles Whitelock: scribe, Harry J. Hall and G. W. Hughes. On March 1 the election will be held and on March 15 a grand public installation.

The present scribe, John R. Price, has held the office fifteen years, but declined another re-nomination.
