SELECT COUNCIL MEETS.

Pole Tax Ordinance Amended—Joint Meeting of Council Follows.

Select council met in regular session last night with Chairman Thompson, Barrett, Davis, Manman and Fletcher in their seats. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, and the reports of committees were then called for.

The resolution authorizing the city engineer to issue a permit to Thomas Theophilus to connect with the Seventh avenue sewer was reported on favorably and adopted.

The resolution for the transfer to other appropriations of certain sums of money was passed and the following bills were submitted for payment by the finance committee:

Table with 2 columns: Name and Amount. Includes Mitchell Bros company, William Briggs, Carbonade Gas company, etc.

The police committee reported on the policeman's request for an advance favorably and suggested that the chief be given $5 per month, a raise of $5, and the patrolmen $60 a month, a raise of $2.66.

The city engineer complained of people in various sections of the city leaving water run from outside hydrants, thus allowing ice to form on the streets, to the danger of pedestrians and horses.

The pole tax ordinance was brought up and passed first reading. It was so amended as to give the city engineer authority to enforce the penalty on all years succeeding the first year, as stated in the original ordinance.

The Klutz Brothers, throwing company, asked the city to extend the fire alarm system to their mill, the company agreeing to pay all expense necessarily incurred.

The February resolution of the Mitchell Bros company was granted and the building committee authorized to have necessary repairs made to the hose house stalls.

On the lower side of the house there were present Messrs. Thompson, Kennedy, Evans, Masters and Nealon. This was not a quorum, but the city solicitor stated that it would answer the purpose, as the business was but of a non-official nature.

It was concerning the pavement assessment dispute. He explained the difficulties which had arisen over the illegality of the transactions concerning the paving of Park place, Sixth avenue, South Main street and Eighth avenue.

The abutting property holders had refused to pay their portions because some slight technicalities in the business had given them a loophole to crawl out. In order to overcome this, he thought the most expedient way was to have the legislature validate the ordinance.

He prepared such a resolution, and Representative Philbin had introduced it in the assembly, where it passed first and second readings. Since then, however, opposition has sprung up and Mr. Stuart, in order to assure the representative of the councilmen's standing on the matter, suggested the passage of the resolution whose text is given below:

Whereas, the city solicitor has prepared and the Hon. P. A. Bull has introduced in the legislature a bill providing for the validation and validating of certain ordinances authorizing and directing the paving of certain streets in the city of Carbondale, so that certain assessments for costs of said paving may be collected, and Whereas, it appears that certain property owners who are interested in avoiding the payment of the assessments provided for in said ordinance have taken steps to prevent the passage of said bill. Be it

Resolved, By the select and common councils, approved in joint session, for the purpose of abrogating the resolution, that the Hon. P. A. Bull, members of the house, and Hon. J. C. Vaughan, member of the senate, be requested and urged to use all their legitimate efforts to secure the passage of the above bill without any delay in the interests of the taxpayers of the city of Carbondale. And be it further

Resolved, That any attempt to thwart the passage of above bill by any means, stipulated by sordid motives and no consideration it due them as against the public interest of the city.

The resolution was passed and Mr. Manman suggested that the city solicitor be sent to Harrisburg to look after the city's interests. This met the approval of the councilmen and action giving him the necessary authority will probably be taken.

BUMPED BY A TROLLEY CAR.

A Little Accident Causes a Large Amount of Excitement. Morris Levy, well known about town, was struck by a south-bound trolley car Sunday night, near Simpson. He was picked up, placed in a comfortable position on the seat, and the car made a record run to Dr. David Bailey's office on Church street.

The spectacle of a man being carried or helped into the doctor's office from the car at the time the churches were being emptied of their congregations drew a large crowd of curious persons, who thronged in front of the office and asked all manner of questions. Some way in the front of the gathering, on being asked what was the trouble, solemnly answered that "Steve Gilby has shot a man," and immediately he was overhauled by an avalanche of queries. While comments of awe and indignation were excitedly buzzed by the wondering onlookers which would have made the constable's ears burn.

After Dr. Bailey had finished the examination he recommended that Mr. Levy be taken to Emergency hospital. There it was found that he had suffered several bruises on his back, but no serious injuries were apparent. He will probably have a lame back for some time.

When the car struck the victim it was going at the usual record-breaking gait which prevails in that part of the town, and the wonder of it all is that Mr. Levy was so fortunate to escape as well as he did. The perpetrator of the so-called joke upon Constable Gilby got away before his identity could be learned.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Jean Maxwell. Mrs. Jean Maxwell, widow of Robert Maxwell, died in this city yesterday morning, shortly after 1 o'clock, aged more than 98 years. Mrs. Maxwell has been steadily failing in health for a long time, and for a number of months she has been unable to leave her bed. A week ago it was thought that she was dying, and although life was almost extinct she rallied and lingered until yesterday. For several weeks she has had but little nourishment, her wonderful constitution alone seeming to keep her alive.

Mrs. Maxwell was one of the oldest residents of this section. She was the second and last surviving member of a family of nine children of Mr. and Mrs. James Douglass, of Paisley, Scotland. She was born on Aug. 10, 1808. Her parents emigrated to this country in 1824, going to a farm near Elk Hill. On Oct. 14, 1856, she was married to Robert Maxwell, by Justice Dillon Yarrington in Dundaff.

Since her marriage of nearly sixty-five years ago, Mrs. Maxwell had lived happily. She was a member of a family noted for longevity. Her father, employed for years as a weighmaster for the Delaware and Hudson, was nearly 101 years old when he died and her husband lived 82 years. She was a staunch member of the Presbyterian sect.

Mrs. Maxwell is survived by five children of a former marriage. They are: Mrs. James McMillan, Mrs. J. B. Vannan, Mrs. T. B. Vannan, Mrs. John R. Shepherd, all of Carbonade, and Mrs. J. W. Meredith, of Harrisburg. Twenty-five grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren also survive.

The funeral will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Vannan, on Salem avenue, where Mrs. Maxwell had lived for a number of years. The body will be placed at rest in a simple casket by the side of her husband, who died thirteen years ago. Friends who wish to view the body may do so tomorrow between the hours of 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

Mrs. Ann Moran. Mrs. Ann Moran died at her home on Woodlawn avenue at 2 o'clock yesterday morning of gastric fever, succeeding an attack of the grip. She was born in Carbonade and had always lived here. Her husband died about twenty-two years ago of pneumonia, leaving her with five little ones to support. She has done her duty well, and for twenty years conducted a small general store on the west side to maintain herself and them. Four of the children have died and but one son remains, John J. Moran, of Denver, Col. She was an active member of St. Rose parish and belonged to a number of the societies. Four sisters and two brothers survive here: Mrs. J. C. McAndrews and J. J. O'Boyle, of Scranton; Mrs. J. Burke, and Misses Bridget and Libbie O'Boyle and James F. O'Boyle, of this city.

Mrs. Ann Cawley. Mrs. Ann Cawley, of Clinton, Wayne county, died on Sunday evening at 9 o'clock, at the advanced age of 90 years. She had resided in Clinton for half a century. She was born in Ireland. Mrs. Cawley is survived by eight children, five boys and three girls: Patrick, Anthony, Michael, Thomas, William, Mary and Anna, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Eliza, of Passaic, N. J.

The funeral will be held at St. Rose church at 1 o'clock today, and interment will be made in St. Rose cemetery.

Miss Johnson has been cashier for several years in the Johnson & Co. Transfer and Coal company, resigning her position as cashier recently. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left in a private car in the afternoon train for Wailua, where a short honeymoon will be spent. Mr. Lewis and his bride will be home to their friends after February 1st."

James McMillan, the candidate for poor director from the First ward, is one of the best known citizens of Carbonade. MOSCOW.

The second local teachers' institute of the school year was held here Saturday, February 16, at 10:30 a. m. The institute was opened with prayer by Rev. G. H. Proutie. As there were only a few persons present it was considered best to wait until afternoon before taking up the regular institute work. However, Prof. M. M. Cummings, of Olyphant and D. H. Krise, of Mayfield, talked for a few minutes on our subject of compulsory education and its relation to the state appropriation. In the
