MESSRS. RICHARDS & WIRTH, Scranton, Pa.

Gentlemen:—It affords us great pleasure to make it known to the Union men of your vicinity of the efforts put forth by our firm in behalf of Union-Made Clothing, and for which you certainly deserve the favorable consideration of all friends of the cause, and that part of the public which desires to help in suppressing the obnoxious sweating system. Sincerely yours,

> Henry White General Secretary.

Damaged By Water and Smoke....

Mostly smoke, is all that the buyer can object to. On exposure to the air the odor of smoke will quickly pass off; and then the absurdly low prices--less than manufacturer's c st---are making the goods move quickly.

We will not quote any prices, but assure you that you will buy if you look over the stock.

Hundreds of Bargains Still Remain, but Don't Wait Too Long. Some of Our Best Goods Are Yet to Be Had, but They Are Going Fast and It Behooves You to Come Quickly.

"A Royal Rogue."

Jefferson De Angelis and his company made their appearance last night at the Lyccum in the operatic comedy, "A Royal Rogue," in which the versatile comedian is creating laughter this neason. There is less opera and more of De Angelis in "A Royal Rogue" than anything he has attempted up to date, but this in no wise is sened the enjoyment of the great audience that thronged the Lye um last right.

The story is of the usual improbable comic if not always intensely musical. But there is plenty of De Angelis and while he was on the stage mirth reigned in an open, Joyous way. In spreading himself out over neach territory De Angelis has perforce laid his humor on in strokes somewhat bolder and more audacious than is his went, but he never failed to get a good rousing laugh from his audience, His songs were encored again and again. De Angelis is the only star in the cast this season. The leading woman is Miss Sanda! Milli-

"A Young Wife."

One of the latest New York successes is the dramatic play, "A Young Wife," which will be seen here, matined and night, today. It had a long run last season at the Fourteenth street theater, New York, and will be presented here with a great east, including Frank Tannelull, jr. The first act shows the library of Judon Douglass, the New York banker, where a rebhery is committed by his son, Hubert, who, years before, had been discarded by his father. In the effort of the son to escape with his booty he kills his father.

The murder is discovered by Ethel, the young wife of Clarence thouglass, an adopted son, Evidence points to the young wife as the murderess. The second act shows a den of thieves in the slums of the neighborhood of the Bawery, where Hubert and his associates are having a debanch. Through a trick Ethel is induced to enter the den, but escapes very clevely. The field act fakes place in the benglas married. Here there is an exciting seens between a detective who believes Ethel is guilty the hard band and his coung wife, in the fourth and last act, the young wife proves he induced to the real murderer is discovered and everything ends happily.
