ST. DAVID'S DAY.

Although No Formal Observance of It Was Held Here, Welshmen Remembered It.

There were no formal observances of St. David's or Dewis Day held here yesterday. Welshmen throughout the city generally remembered the day of their patron saint and gave each other greeting in the time-honored ways of their native land.

St. Dewi, the patron saint of Wales, was, according to tradition, the son of the Prince of Ceretica (Cardiganshire) and was born about the end of the fifth or beginning of the sixth century. Having resolved on a religious life, he spent, as was customary in those days, a probationary period in solitude, after which he commenced preaching to his countrymen. He built a chapel at Glastonbury and founded twelve monasteries, the chief of which was at Minevia, in the vale of Ross. At the synod of Brevy, in Cardiganshire, held in 519, St. David showed himself a strong opponent of the Pelagian heresy. Subsequently he became Archbishop of Caercon-upon-Usk, but transferred his see to Menevia, now called St. David's, where he died about 601. St. David was celebrated for his learning and success in conversion. Several works have been ascribed to him, but these are no longer extant. His life was written by Ricemarch, bishop of St. David's, who died about the year 1096. The "Historia S. Davidis," by Giraldus Cambrensis, written about 1115, and published in Wharton's "Angla Sacra," is little more than an abridgement of Ricemarch's work.

A Pleasant Gathering.

A pleasant gathering was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Bate, on Cemetery street. It was in the nature of a surprise party given in honor of Mrs. Fannie Bate, past president of the Woman's Relief corps. The affair was a complete surprise to the recipient of the honors, and as she entered the house "to assist" Mrs. William Bate for a short time, astonishment was written over her face. Mrs. Eva Lowden, in behalf of her companions, presented Mrs. Bate with a handsome gold pin and an elegant rocker and foot rest. Mrs. Bate responded, expressing her heartfelt thanks. A bounteous luncheon was spread. OBITUARY.

John Barrett.

John Barrett, of 40 Scott street, died late on Thursday night at his residence, of nephritis, aged 56 years. He was born in Ireland and when a boy spent a number of years in Scotland. He had lived in this city about twenty years. Mr. Barrett is survived by his widow and seven children: Mrs. Edward Kelly, Mary, Thomas, James, Bernard Barrett, of Carbondale; Mrs. John McAndrew, Vandling, and Mrs. Martin Fallen, Forest City.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon, the procession leaving the house at 2 o'clock. After services in St. Rose church interment will be made in St. Rose cemetery.

Marcella McAndrew.

Marcella, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. McAndrew, of 86 Powderly road, died on Thursday night at 9 o'clock, aged 18 months. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock, interment being made in St. Rose cemetery.

A Serious Wreck.

Quite a serious wreck occurred in the Delaware and Hudson yard yesterday morning. A trip of loaded coal cars had just been pushed up into the pocket. At the bottom of the long, steep incline stood a trip of empty cars. The trip at the head of the plane in some manner got loose and ran down the incline. By the time it reached the bottom it had gained terrible momentum and it crashed into the empty cars full force. Instantly four cars were but a mass of splintered, broken timbers, and coal was scattered around promiscuously. The force of the collision was terrific and the noise could be heard far away. Fortunately no one was hurt.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

The Martin "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company played in this city yesterday twice to crowded houses and gave a meritorious performance of the unabridged text of the famous ante-bellum drama. The acts were interspersed with specialties of singing, dancing and cake walking by the colored contingent. The Marshall family did a clever turn called "In Society," in which a little pickaninny juggled a baton and danced in a comical way. The schools must have been depleted sadly, in spite of Prof. Bryden's warning, for at the afternoon performance it seemed as if every child of school age in the city was in the opera house. A giant "coon" more than seven feet high was one of the actors.

Prohibition Inaugural.

Scranton has been booming her expected inaugural address by the Hon. John C. Woolley, the recent Prohibition candidate for president, but Carbondale does not propose to be behind her neighbor. The address will be read in Temperance hall in the Murrin building, on Salem avenue, on Monday evening, March 4. It will not cost Carbondale people seventy-five cents to hear it, though, the prevailing rates in Scranton, but will be given free by the John G. Woolley club and all ladies and gentlemen are going to be made welcome.

A Contrast.

Yesterday afternoon a pair of strangers attracted considerable attention on Main street, owing to the disparity in their attire. One of them was a farmer from over Crystal lake way, and he had on a huge bearskin overcoat and fur hat and gloves. The other was a prominent business man of Forest City and he had on a new spring suit, with a light derby hat, and was minus overcoat and gloves, but had on a pair of light tan shoes. Each of them seemed to be comfortable in his outfit and did not look envious of the other fellow as they met and passed.

Myers-Winfield.

George H. Myers and Miss Christine Winfield, both of Jermyn, were married on Thursday afternoon by the Rev. W. B. Grow, at the residence of Hon. E. E. Hendrick, of Lincoln avenue. The bride is a young woman of attractive personality, and was becomingly attired for the occasion. The minister is one of the oldest Baptist clergymen in this section of the state.

Preached at Trinity.

Rev. Charles E. Fessenden, rector of St. James Episcopal church, Jermyn, preached at the afternoon service in Trinity church yesterday. His sermon was on the moral necessity for a strict observance of the Lenten obligations. Miss Mina Frank rendered a beautiful solo during the services.

Council met last night in an adjourned session in order to transact all unfinished business previous to the reorganization on Monday night. A number of important matters were considered. An opinion was read from the borough solicitor regarding the rights of the borough in fixing the water rates. He stated that the question was now pending in Scranton, and as the borough has the same rights as the city, the decision should be awaited. An ordinance revoking the franchise of the "Olyphant Suburban Traction Company," on all streets of the borough, except Dunmore street, was passed. This action was taken because the railway company has neglected to live up to the requirements of the franchise by removing its tracks from all of the streets in the central portion of the town and refusing to operate the same. Secretary O'Malley was directed to notify the tax collector and ex-treasurer to have a report in at Monday night's meeting.

Harry Lathrop, of Scranton, was a caller in town yesterday.

THE DANGER OF WINTER IS CATARRH

Three Public Men Tell How Pe-ru-na Has Promptly Eradicated Catarrh.

YOU HAVE chronic catarrh, have you? You have had it some time? And you could not find a cure? Well, there are thousands more like you in this country. If the slightest vestige of the catarrh remains over from the warmer season it will make itself felt now. If you want to really get cured do as the following people did:

Chronic Catarrh.

S. I. Nance, of Robeson Fork, Tenn., writes as follows:

"I will state that I am entirely well of that dreadful disease, catarrh. I was afflicted with it for fifteen years, and it was a very aggravated case for the last five years. No one can possibly realize the value of Peruna until he tries it for himself. It will certainly cure the worst case of chronic catarrh. I had as bad a case as I ever saw. I have taken seven bottles of Peruna and every one was worth $100 to me. I haven't the language to express my gratefulness to you for your kindness to me and the interest you have taken in my case."—S. I. Nance.

Some cases take longer than others. Perhaps the average length of time it takes to cure a genuine case of catarrh is three months. Some get cured much sooner than this. Stubborn cases may require longer treatment. Time or trouble ought to be no barrier to one afflicted with this dreadful disease.

Read the following words of three prominent Chicago gentlemen:

A Letter from Hon. John Streit.

Hon. John Streit, a member of the Twenty-eight General Assembly of the State of Illinois, writes from 233 North Clark street, Chicago, Ill., the following letter.

"As an article of real merit I gladly endorse Peruna. I have used it several times in the past five years, and found it a first class tonic, a medicine to stop coughing, and especially valuable in cases of winter catarrh, from which almost every man in Chicago suffers more or less.

"If every one knew the value of Peruna as I do by actual experience no home would be without it, especially during the inclement weather."—John Streit.

Alderman Mueller Endorses Peruna.

Frank M. Mueller, alderman of the Fifty-sixth ward, writes from 1218 Seminary Place, Chicago, Ill., to The Peruna Medicine Co., as follows:

"I believe that Peruna stands today at the head of all medicines prescribed for catarrh. I have used it myself and have known of its use dozens of times for colds and catarrh, and I have to hear anything but praise from its use. I heartily endorse it, especially as preventing the numerous afflictions which follow in the wake of cold and damp weather. It is an ideal winter medicine."—Frank M. Mueller.

Hon. J. Nelter's Letter.

Hon. J. Nelter, a member of the Illinois State Legislature, writes from 1325 Wrightwood avenue, Chicago, Ill., as follows:

"Conspicuous among the great remedies of the day stands Peruna. I believe it has well earned the reputation it has today as the best remedy for catarrh known to the medical profession. Honest doctors will admit this, as does every one else who has tried it. I know of nothing better to keep the system in a healthy condition."—J. Nelter.

CATARRH SYMPTOMS.

As Described by Dr. Hartman in a Recent Lecture.

The symptoms vary according to the place where the catarrh is located. Catarrh in the head: nose stopped up, pain in forehead, scabs in nose, bad breath, snoring, sneezing, watery eyes. Catarrh of the throat: voice husky or hoarse, tickling in the throat, hawking, spitting, sore throat and enlarged tonsils. Catarrh of the bronchial tubes: cough, pain in chest. This form of catarrh will soon end in consumption if not cured.

Dr. Hartman used Peruna in over thirty thousand cases before it was introduced to the general public as a catarrh remedy. Peruna as a remedy for coughs, colds, acute or chronic catarrh, has become known all over the civilized portions of North America.

The reasons for which Peruna has taken the lead of all other catarrh remedies are: First, it never fails to cure when properly used; second, it premanently cures instead of giving temporary relief; third, it cures catarrh wherever located, and fourth, it is composed entirely of vegetable products and is perfectly harmless. The personal advice of Dr. Hartman in any case of chronic catarrh can be had free of charge by letter by any one taking Peruna.

Thousands of people who know of Peruna as a catarrh cure, get it and begin treatment. Some of these people write to Dr. Hartman. Hundreds of these are received by the doctor every day. These letters are all promptly answered free. The cures are numerous. These testimonials are not solicited, and never published except by the wish of the ones writing them.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be plensed to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of the Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
