The next organ recital at the Trinity Episcopal church will be held on Tuesday evening, March 12, and it promises to be as good, if not better, artistically, than the one it will be given by Prof. J. I. Alexander, bandmaster of the Ninth regiment, N. G. P., and organist of the First Presbyterian church, Wilkes-Barre. Prof. Alexander will be assisted by Mr. Henry Thomsen, leader of the Albany Symphony orchestra of Albany, N. Y., and Mrs. Edson G. Worden, soprano, of Scranton, who has been heard here a number of times and is a pronounced local favorite.

ICE AND SNOW MUST GO.
The City Authorities Will Enforce the Law to Clean Sidewalks.
Now that the winter is nearly over the authorities in charge of the city's streets and sidewalks are beginning to awake to the fact that there is a city ordinance, carrying a fine of $25 for its non-observance, provided for any one who fails to keep his sidewalk in a safe condition, and that this means the future to remove snow and ice. Many complaints have reached the city officials during the past few weeks of persons failing to properly clean their sidewalks of snow and ice. Several notices have been mailed, or handed out from falling upon those places, and the street department has been kept in a turmoil making safe city walks and the roadways on which ice has accumulated through the negligence of the sidewalkers of nearby residents.

Pythians Attend Theater.
The Knights Were the Guests of Manager Shipman Last Night.
Wednesday night was the regular meeting night of Carbondale lodge, No. 230, Knights of Pythias, but there wasn't much routine business transacted, if any. Manager R. W. Shipman, who has long been an active member of the order, sent an invitation to the lodge to attend the performance of the play, "In Sight of St. Paul's." The lodge met, received the invitation, passed suitable resolutions of thanks to Manager Shipman, accepted the invitation and attended in a body, choice seats in the body of the house being reserved for them. The Pythians fully enjoyed the performance of "In Sight of St. Paul's," one of Sutton Van's best productions. It was in four acts and eleven scenes. There were nineteen speaking characters in the cast, which makes it a play that few repertoire companies carry enough people to produce. The play depicts upper life in sight of St. Paul's cathedral, London. Miss Shipman took the part of a heartless, scheming adventuress and portrayed the role in a very realistic manner. A number of clever specialties between the acts outlined the waltz.

A Candy Pull.
A party of merry young folks assembled at the home of Miss Eunice Davis upon her invitation on Tuesday evening to have an old-fashioned candy pull. Besides hauling, tugging, dragging and drawing the waxen masses into firmness and weaving it into fantastic shapes the hours were successfully beguiled by music, and Miss Alice Lindsay and Charles Evans sang a duet to the pleasure of the company. Those who partook of the evening's enjoyment were Misses Sadie Watkins, May Bates, Helen Harvey, Virginia Stephens, Alice Lindsay, Cloy Carter, Emma Pedrick, Bessie Tiffany, Anna Watkins, Emma Davis, Katie Davis, Alice Hedges, Grace Harvey and Messrs. Charles Hammett, Charles Porter, Wallace Bell, Charles Evans, Tom Bates, Ed. Carter, Joseph Utley, Roy Hollenbeck, Matthew Dolph, Ed. Stephens, R. Oliver, I. Stoddard.

A Sleeping Stranger.
About 10 o'clock yesterday morning James Decker, noted wood to the municipal building that an intoxicated man was making himself obnoxious on River street. No police officers were in the building at the time, so Sanitary Officer Moffitt volunteered to place the man under arrest. He found the fellow stretched at full length on the walk in front of the home of Mrs. James Davis. Michael Stone's transfer wagon bowled along about this time and the "chief" pressed into service for patrol purposes. The man was hustled into a bang wagon and carted to the city hospital. He remained in a stupor all day, so could not be given a hearing. He will be brought before Mayor Kilpatrick today. None of the officers could identify the fellow.

Barbers to Dance.
If some of the patrons of the local "tonorial parlors" notice during the next few weeks unworldly sprightliness and activity on the part of the wielder of the razor, and the said wielder executes a few fancy steps, sliding along on the toe of his shoe and coming down on the heel with a bang which resounds on the hydrant with a cup of fresh lather, he need not be startled nor have fears for his safety. In all probability it will only be that the shaver is practicing the glide waltz or two-step in anticipation of the ball that will soon be given by the Barbours union. Burke's hall has already been secured for the event, which will take place soon after Easter. A committee composed of L. F. Gray, Thomas Gallagher, Michael Langan and Fred Brunner have the affair in charge.

The Men's Mission Conference.
The conference in the Presbyterian church here last night with a lecture on "The Missionary and Civilization." Dr. Dunlap, the speaker, is one of the most widely known missionaries in the Presbyterian church, his field being Siam. Dr. Dunlap is a pleasing appearing man, with a clear, distinct voice, and talks with the ease and grace of a practical speaker. He prefaced his talks with a definition of civilization. "Civilization," he said, "is an improved condition of man and means the advancement, refinement, art and progress in general; it is the lifting up of man morally and physically. To civilize is to give law and culture, to humanize and elevate; and we shall not be that missionaries have great influence in civilizing, humanizing and elevating men." To civilize is to work gradually, the doctor declared, and cannot be accomplished by artificial means. It is the work of the missionary to publish the truth.

A Clerk Accused.
Constable H. H. Pierce appeared at G. A. Pyle's Carbondale cash store yesterday morning with a warrant for the arrest of James Callahan, one of the clerks, on a charge of embezzlement. The warrant was issued by Alderman Baker, on complaint of the proprietor, who said that Callahan had collected money which he had failed to turn in. Callahan at first denied the charge in toto, but when he was shown the warrant and admitted that his accounts were incorrect, but promised to settle up with them. Mr. Pyle discharged him from his employ, but the warrant will not be served unless he fails to make good his promises.

Father Dixon's First Sermon.
A large congregation assembled at the Lenten devotions held in St. Rose church on Wednesday evening. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Dixon and was his first since leaving the hospital, where he was treated for appendicitis. He spoke on the text, "If thou enter into light," said Christ, "keep my commandments." The sermon was a powerful one. He exhorted his hearers to be true to their teachings and to be as honest in their dealings with their fellow men as with God. The reverend speaker held the close attention of his hearers.

AVOCA.
The Ladies' Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Nelson yesterday and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. D. T. Smythe; secretary, Mrs. J. H. Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. William Laird; first vice-president, Mrs. Thomas Botwick; second vice-president, Mrs. Dantes; committee, Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. William Laird. Miss Mary E. Wilson and John Smith were married Wednesday evening by Rev. T. E. Wilson at the home of the bride's parents on Miller Hill. The bride and her sister, Miss Sarah, were charmingly attired in steel gray gowns with satin and braided trimmings. The groom was waited upon by James Lavin. After the ceremony the guests partook of a substantial wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will reside on the West Side.

A Picture of No. 1 Plane.
A copy of the Coal Trade Journal for March has just come to hand and is a particularly interesting number to residents of the vicinity. It is called the "Keystone Number" and is devoted to the coal industry. It is profusely illustrated with pictures of the interior and exterior of coal breakers and other scenes about the mines, which is particularly interesting to Carbondaleans is a handsome picture of the foot of old No. 1 plane in this city, with the adjoining Delaware and Hudson blacksmith shop.

ROYAL ARCANUMITES FEAST.
Carbondale council, No. 924, Royal Arcanum, held its annual banquet last evening at the Hotel American. Every arrangement was made for the past elaborate time in the history of the society. Supper was served at 9 o'clock, after which there were a number of after-dinner speeches.

THE GRIP CURE THAT DOES CURE.
Laxative Bromo-Quinine removes the cause.
JESSUP.
The miners at the Moosic mountain mines struck yesterday, owing to the presence of a number of miners who do not belong to their union. The United Mine Workers of America rejected every colliery to have a local for themselves, and every man working at the colliery to be in that local. The Ancient Order of Hibernians of this place are making great preparations for their social, which will take place St. Patrick's night at St. James hall.

TAYLOR.
The Catholic church fair at Wyke's rink continues to draw large attendances. Among the many features is the painting presented by Artist A. E. Biele, which is being started off at 10 cents. The chance on the lot, provided for our townsmen, John H. Jones, and John P. Thomas, is being sought after. The low price of Wednesday evening, a beautiful ring was won by Miss Sabie Morley, No. 292. The program reported last evening included the audience present. Refreshments of all kinds were served throughout the evening. The exhibition will continue tonight and tomorrow evening.
