LINEMAN WAS UP AGAINST IT

POWERS' MIND UNBALANCED BY HUNGER AND EXPOSURE.

Thee Days on the Road Was Too Much for Him and When Found He Was Waiting to Be Executed-Farewell Party to Rev. Frank J. Milman-Funerals Today and Tomorrow-Miss Wilcox Presented with a Watch-Other Notes and Personal Paragraphs of Interest.

P. J. Powers, of Chicopee Falls, small town hear Springfield, Mass., at the Jackson street station house, suffering from a temporary aberration of the mind. In company with Sidney Dix, who has disappeared. Powers arrived in the city early yesterday morning via the Keyser Valley railroad, coming from New York to Pittston over the Lehigh Valley railroad, and was switched off somewhere on the back road.

The men had been working in Long Island City for the New York and Queen's County Electric Light company as linemen, and upon learning that the Lackawanna Telephone company were wiring this city, decided to come here and seek employment. They left New York on a freight train or Tuesday, and during the interim between their departure from the me tropolis and arrival here, found food and whelter as best they could.

The staff of life was limited, and in consequence both suffered from hunger. In a drenching rain on Wednesthe two linemen rode abourd freight trains and were drenched to the skin. When they reached the extreme western end of the city, both were hungry, tired, footsore and more or less discouraged.

These conditions tended to unbalance Powers' mind, and when found on the railroad crossing at the end of Jackson. street, he was doing a walking stunt n a set space of ground about 100 feet

Patrolman Thomas Jones was notified of Powers' strange actions, and when questioned as to what he was doing there, said he was there to be bung and that the men working on the new spike mill grounds were building the scaffold to bang him on.

He was taken to the station house furnished food and made as comfortable as possible, and during the evening became quite rational. In his cambling talk he expressed the belief

"next room" to him in the station house, and that any publicity given his escapade would kill his father, who is seventy-four years of age. He will be given a hearing this morning, and indergo a medical examination.
