New Engines for L. V. R. R. James McCafferty, traveling engineer for the Baldwin Locomotive works, Philadelphia, is in Pittston superintending the erection of several new engines for the Lehigh Valley railroad at Coxtown. The company has received twenty new engines, ten of which will be used for passenger service and the balance for freight, to be used on the Wyoming division. Four of the new engines are now in section and are said to be fully up to the standard for the work they are required to do. The Valley's order for new engines calls for forty-two in all and they will be numbered from 1201 up.—Wilkes-Barre Record.
