

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

SPRING SALAD BY WHITNEY

STORY OF THE MINISTER WHO TOLD OF DEATH OF ANANIAS.

Signs of Spring—A Few News Notes. Personal and Other Driftwood. Concerning the Erie Boilermakers. A Consistent Starruccan.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Susquehanna, April 6.—A few Sundays ago a Montrose minister preached a sermon on the evils of mendacity, to a large congregation. In the course of his remarks he alluded to the tragic death of Ananias. At the close of the sermon an old deacon took the minister aside and informed the reverend gentleman that he had made a mistake in regard to Ananias.

NEWS CURRENT.

It is probable that the striking Erie boilermakers and their helpers will resume work next Monday.

James Mack, of Hartford, Conn., manager of the Hartford Post, has been named publisher, to run his paper up against "any middleweight in New England."

"Good Friday" services were today held in the local Catholic and Episcopal churches and largely attended.

The "Old Arkansaw" company will appear in the Hogan opera house, April 12.

The Canawana Water Supply company will probably add several large springs to its plant during the summer.

JUST BETWEEN US.

The good that some men do may be interred with their bones, but the coffins of some men are not crowded.

A female lecturer on woman's rights says the women have "strong hands." Perhaps that explains their weakness for cochen.

By a premature explosion near Forest City a miner was fatally injured. The local papers that a "similar accident" happened to a man some years ago.

The difference between a washerwoman and a ballet girl is the former gets her living with her arms.

After the man has finished putting up the stove-pipe in the parlour he is to be kept out of the room when the minister calls.

It is a singular phase of human nature that when a man gives his wife a dime to buy a paper of hair pins or a gum ring for the baby it looks about twice as big as when he plants it down for a dime.

A CONSISTENT STARRUCAN. The venerable and astute Starruccan correspondent of the Forest City News begins his batch of news with this: "The late General Harrison and Mr. Whitney, the correspondent, have used considerable space in the newspapers on account of their lying in bed."

Mr. Whitney may not be "laid" in the state Mr. Harrison did, but it is safe to say that he has led in all the states he was ever in, and when the time comes to "lie in state" he will probably be able to make himself believe it is nothing but a fashionable "place."

"Uncle Dan" Weigher used to be a crack shot. Often he killed a deer at such a distance that he was compelled to miss it with his ammunition to preserve the animal for the "sporting club."

ON THE WING. The "wing" engineers do not expect that they will be compelled to pay for the Chicago history of the Erie engineers. A whole raft of Chicago publishers appear to be engaged in skin games nowadays.

Colonel Charles C. Pratt and family, who have spent the winter in Brighton, are returning home to New Milford.

William J. Pike, of Hallstead, Congressman Gow's able and popular secretary, has nearly regained his health, which, for a time, has been precarious.

The Erie will, during the spring and summer, make great improvements all along the line.

The Delaware and Hudson is still improving its Nesquehanna branch. The WATCH DOGS.

Ever on the Alert—Alive to Every Form of Oppression—Kept on Edge—Burdened Beyond Endurance—Nerves Give Out.

The machinery of a mill that grinds day and night has to shut down now and then for repairs. It is the same way with your nerves. Overwork, close application, our ways of living bring about nerve waste that sets up symptoms of various kinds. It may be falling strength, weakness, languor, headache, sleeplessness, etc. Whatever it is, nerve force is lacking and the means of restoring rests with Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. A great many people in Scranton vouch for this.

Among them is Mrs. Joseph Mitchell, of No. 91 Linden street, West Scranton, Pa., who says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are fine. I was all out of order, nervous, and could not sleep, weak and miserable. The kidneys were sluggish and the back lame. Nothing seemed to help me until I got a box of the nerve pills at Matthews Bros' drug store, temporary headquarters corner Washington and Lackawanna. Since I took them I sleep well, don't jerk and talk. My nerves are steady. I feel strong, and the kidneys are working well again. I am more than pleased, and glad to recommend the medicine."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50c a box at dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

great work has continued for a year, night and day.

SOME DRIFTWOOD.

This kind of weather would give a frog rheumatism. Let us hope that the early robin has not shed his flannels.

One hand in the dough is worth two in the dance. Don't hit a man when he is down, unless you are sure that he will never get up.

If lovely woman wants to make home attractive to her husband, she ought to study the free lunch lay-out in a first-class saloon.

When asking a man to "have something," the interrogation point is a superfluous.

The modern devil in full dress suit may be no better than the fellow in fall and hoots, but he's a mighty sight prettier to look at.

Few of us ever discover bigots among those who agree with us in our own religious convictions.

POT-POURRI. Work upon the new Congregational church in Oakland has been resumed.

The striking Erie boiler makers and their helpers held an important meeting last evening.

The Crescent club will hold a social hop at the Starrucca House on Monday evening, April 15.

Today, being a legal holiday, the banks are closed.

The common council is taking action in the matter of holding a special election to vote on the proposition to build a fire hall.

Detectives are hot-footed after the burglars who broke into the postoffice at Bramant on Friday evening last.

Signs of Spring. "The signs of spring most often seen about the close of Lent.

Are father, black and white, but green. And read: "This Flat to Rent."

Joe Murphy purchased a new wheelbarrow one day last week.—Crawfordsville Inquirer.

Pedestrians were obliged to go on horseback for a time at least.—Clinton Banner.

Dave Dawson has had his sugar bush on tap for over a week, and the sap runs every warm day. Who says spring isn't coming?—West Union Gazette.

Talk of a fat preacher: "Rev. Platt filled the pulpit of the Congregational church at Atwood last Sunday.—Milledale News.

In Starrucca, a preacher asked: "What is it, my hearers, that drives me to drink?" A voice from the back seat replied: "Salt mackerel."

The esteemed editor of the Forest City News asks: "If women are really angels, why don't they fly over the fence, instead of making such a fearful awkward job of climbing?"

And "Winter lingers in the lap of spring." Winter has no shame.

MEXICO'S BIG VOLCANO.

The Name of It Is Often Mis-Printed in the Books. From the New York Sun.

For many years our school geographies have given the supposed pronunciation of the name Popocatepetl as the name of the famous volcano of Mexico has been spelled. Children have been taught that the last syllable was "petl" and they have pronounced the whole name with the accent on the "petl." According to F. P. Hoeck & Co. of the City of Mexico, who have written to the Board on Geographic Names, Washington, in reference to the pronunciation of the name, the old usage encouraged by the geographies is incorrect.

The name consists of two words. The first word, Popoca, is accented on the second syllable. The second word, tepetl, is accented on the first syllable and is pronounced as though it were spelled "tappetl." The name of the volcano is thus pronounced very differently from the common usage in this country. In the report of the Board of Geographical Names, the spelling Popocatepetl has been authorized.

Attendance at drills is being rapidly enforced by the various company commanders on account of the annual inspection, which begins on May 1. It is felt that every effort should be made to put the regiment back in its old place at the head of the guard, where it stood for so many years, and Colonel Watres has instructed his captains to bend every energy to attain this result.

All hope of conducting the inspections in the new money has now been practically given up.

DIRE DISTRESS.

It Is Near at Hand for Many Scranton Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is the kidneys crying for help. Neglect hurrying to their aid. Means that urinary troubles follow quickly.

Dire disaster, diabetes, Bright's Disease. Profit by a citizen's experience.

Mr. Bryan Flynn, of 228 Grant avenue, Hyde Park, employed at Briggs' breaker, says: "There was a dull, gnawing pain just over my kidneys for two years. If I took cold it always settled in my back and made me lame and sore for days. I read much about Doan's Kidney Pills in our papers and heard others speak of them so highly that I decided to try them and got a box at Matthews Brothers' drug store. They straightened my back and completely relieved the other weakness. I have taken lots of medicine and doctored, but I never had anything do me so much good as Doan's Kidney Pills. I have had one or two slight returns of the pain in my back, but a dose of Doan's Kidney Pills never failed to quickly banish it."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-McIlhenny Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Military Gossip.

It is planned to devote a portion of the money which will be realized from the sale of tickets for the coming military ball to the purchase of a complete and up-to-date equipment for the large and splendid room in the basement of the new armory, which is intended to be used as a gymnasium. While the room is not quite as large as the proposed gymnasium in the new Young Men's Christian association building, it is being planned to equip it just as thoroughly. Its use, of course, will be strictly limited to the members of the regiment, as will the use of all the other features which will make the basement of the new armory the most grand and complete in the city.

These include the large swimming pool, 75x20 feet in size, which is now being constructed and which will be ready for use as soon as the armory is opened. In conjunction with this there will be a series of shower baths. The one hundred yard rifle range, ranging in a tunnel underneath the whole length of the drill hall, will be another attractive feature. It was originally intended to combine the rifle range and the two bowling alleys which are to be constructed, but the idea has been abandoned in favor of a separate frame building adjoining the armory on the northerly side. This will probably be carried out, as it is not considered feasible to combine the two.

Three of the companies of the regiment, D, F and L, have established officers' schools for the instruction of the thirteen non-commissioned officers attached to each. Company D and F schools are conducted on Monday night and are in charge of Captain A. H. Foote and First Lieutenant Francis Henshaw, respectively. Company L school is conducted half an hour before and half an hour after drill and is in charge of Captain William A. Raub. Instruction is given in the manual and in guard duty and in Company D and L is verbal. In Company F, Lieutenant Henshaw prepares a series of questions for each session and has every officer give written answers to them. This plan is considered the best and will probably be adopted by the other companies.

Major W. S. Miller, formerly inspector of the Third brigade, has received his commission as assistant adjutant general of the Third brigade. The commission is for a period of five years and is signed by Governor William A. Stone.

Captain D. B. Atherton, adjutant, has been ordered by Colonel Watres to conduct an election in Honedale on Thursday night, April 15, to fill the vacancy in Company E caused by the resignation of First Lieutenant Edward E. Walsh. He is instructed to fill any vacancy which may be occasioned by the election.

It is currently reported that Captain Casper, of Company M, Ninth regiment, located at West Pittston, will soon resign, and that Fremont Stokes, formerly captain of Company F, Thirtieth regiment, who has lately moved to Pittston, will be elected in his place.

Seven poorfortunates who had been absent from drill during the past two weeks without a good excuse were court-martialed Friday night by Lieutenant Colonel Stillwell and were fined various sums ranging from $2 to $10. Six of those arraigned were members of Company D.

Captain W. A. Raub, of Company L, has promoted Corporal Wilson Bailey to the rank of sergeant and has appointed Privates Stanley Miller and Garfield Williams to be corporals.

In an order issued Colonel L. A. Watres has appointed Corporal Lewis B. Carter, of Company A, regimental inspector of rifle practice.

Attendance at drills is being rapidly enforced by the various company commanders on account of the annual inspection, which begins on May 1. It is felt that every effort should be made to put the regiment back in its old place at the head of the guard, where it stood for so many years, and Colonel Watres has instructed his captains to bend every energy to attain this result.

THEATRICAL.

ACADEMY—Irene Myers company. Matinee and night.

BATTERY—Broadway Burlesques—Matinee and night.

Bauer's Band Concert.

In addition to the evening concert on Tuesday next, Bauer's band will give a matinee at the Academy at 3 p. m. for the benefit of children of parents who are unable to attend the evening performance. The inmates of several of the charitable institutions of the city have been invited to attend. Matinee free of charge. All other children under fifteen years of age will be admitted upon 15 cent tickets. Admission for adults 25 cents for all parts of the house. Box and loge seats 20 cents. Regular prices will prevail at the evening concert.

Irene Myers Company. The Irene Myers company opens a week's engagement at the Academy of Music today, presenting at the matinee the celebrated New York and London success, "Under Two Flags," with Little Irene Myers in the difficult role of "Clarette." Tonight the great sensational melodrama, "The Showaway," will be presented, every scene being imaginably a first class production of this piece is carried by the company.

The safe cracking scene, in the second act, is one of the most realistic stage effects ever produced. During the week the big productions will be presented. Little Irene appearing in each.

Broadway Burlesques. Harry Leclair, the popular and well known burlesque comedian and burlesque, is the leader this season for the Broadway burlesques, who are to play a return engagement at the new Grand theater the first half of this week. This artist is one of the best who improve with age, and who has endeared himself to the amusement loving public by his careful and conscientious work. No stipulated limit conceded or badly dressed portraits of any character are given in an audience by Mr. Leclair. This is why he retains their confidence and is always given such a hearty welcome.

The company which surrounds Mr. Leclair this season is an all-star one. They give you a great laugh and an endless chain of fun and novelty for your money. The two burlesques are "Stars and Bars," and a humorous satire on "Women and Whines." This great production was the most notable one in New York last season. The engagement begins with today's matinee.

Bowery Burlesques. Irving & Seymour's Bowery Burlesques will be at the attraction at the new Grand theater the last half of this week. The main suggests at once the unusual diversity and strength of the show, which is headed by perhaps some of the best and most favored burlesque actors.

The entire company will be seen in two new and original burlesques entitled "Top Sock" and "The Shick Slave," in which no pains or expense have been spared to make them the best burlesques ever offered.

STAGE NOTES. Mr. Arthur Donaldson, who is meeting with such popular success in the title role of "Earl Stretton," is to appear in a fine military attire. It is his field of endeavor, appeared in a diversity of roles ranging from comic opera to comedy drama. He has had great success in the dramatic line of the Swedish characters he has found his greatest triumph. Much of this is perhaps due to the fact that Mr. Donaldson is himself a Scandinavian, and having been born in the city of Stockholm, Sweden.

Playgoers will greet with gratification the announcement that David Belasco's famous and successful play, "The Heirs of Maryland," is to be presented at the Grand theater. It is an important and cumulative feat to take the best of his heroic, Maryland Calver, to rescue her lover from the ignominious death of a spy, and her final triumph; the typical individuality of the numerous characters, the compactness of the story and the realistic and picturesque beauty of its scenic illustrations all combined, have made it a marvelous triumph of the dramatist's genius.

The remarkable success that attended E. H. Soltner and Virginia Harned in their production of "Hallelu!" at the New York Garden theater has been repeated in every city they have visited since they left New York. At the Boston theater, Boston, for the last few performances, it was found necessary to put the orchestra under the stage to give more room for the enormous audience. A revival of "Hallelu!" has not yet been announced for the present season to fill all the engagements offered for "Hallelu!" Mr. Soltner and Miss Harned will be seen here with the New York production of "Hallelu!" shortly.

The announcement of the coming of Miss Viola Allen and her great company is good news indeed. Miss Allen comes here at the close of her enormously successful season of several months at the Grand Republic, New York, where she broke all records. She has not yet made her appearance in Scranton has been arranged for early in May at the Academy. It is said that Lorimer Stoddard has exceeded expectations of a most exciting in his dramatization of Mr. Crawford's thrilling romantic love story of old Madrid. He has provided Miss Allen with a character in Dolores de Mendoza, in which she is given a splendid opportunity to display to the best advantage her exceptional powers as an emotional actress. Dolores was a loving woman, sweet and amiable; but she had a great wrong which she was determined to do right, and she will, all the power of her native, glory glory had her John Storm, but Dolores had her own John. Miss Allen's supporting company is one of the best ever assembled in this city. It includes such well known players as Eben Plimpton, William Swires, Robert T. Haines, Marcia Van Dresser, Clarence Handyside, Edgar L. Davison, Gertrude Norma, Alexander Allen, and all Miss Allen's company numbers over sixty people.

The all-star programme from the testimonial benefit to be tendered Madame Janauschek by the women of the American stage on Friday, April 12, at the Waldorf theater, will include Julia Marlowe and company in the first act of "When Knighthood was in Flower"; Blanche Bates and Campbell Gollan in "The Queen's Messenger"; Lillian Russell and the Well Hooper in the operatic drama of "Fiddler-De-Dee"; James T. Powers in an original monologue; Annie Bingham; William Collier in the second act of "On the Equator"; Joseph Weber, Lew Fields and David Wardell; J. H. Stoddard and Maudie Harrison in "One Touch of Nature"; J. E. Deaton, Annie Irish and Robert Edeson in "Richelieu's Strategem"; Annie and Annie Yeamans in a character sketch, and Viola Allen and company, including E. J. Morgan, E. L. Davison, Edward Emery, Myron Calce, Perida Huddell, Helen Power and others in the third act of "The Christian."

Many managers decline to have anything to do with the presentation of a play produced from a novel, because the signals of distress which have been shown as the result of the staging of "Manon Lescaut" and "To Have and Have Not" is that it is said that the death of new plays is to be feared. It is to be feared that upon the novelists for organized a next adjunct of their organization and call it the "Pipe Club." Among the officers who launched it are well known players, who are called "Pipe Club," "Drain Pipe," "Steam Pipe," "Lead Pipe," etc.

The Star theater, at Broadway and Tughrath street, is the next of the old play houses to give away a part of the center hall buildings up town. Workmen are already having lumbering about the old pile, which saw Wallack, Irving, Booth and Lawrence Barrett.

Philadelphia is to have a house for a German stock company. Alexander Wurster has secured the Arch street theater for that purpose.

Charles Frohman is expected to stop the performance of "Justice" at Buffalo, claiming that it was an infringement on "A Trip to Mars."

Failures of dramatizations made from novels will not interfere with the production of Maurice Hewlett's "The Forest Lovers," which is to be put on next season with Bertha Galland as the star.
