HORSE THIEF CAPTURED.

Constable Pierce Arrests Man for Whom Two Rewards Are Offered.

Constable Henry Pierce yesterday morning got hold of the man for whom he has been looking for nearly two weeks. He was arrested on a warrant charging him with the theft of a sorrel mare from L. R. Benjamin, of Slino, Wayne county. Several times Mr. Pierce has almost had his hand on the alleged thief, but each time, up to yesterday, he has disappeared in the nick of time. But Mr. Pierce was game and bided his time, following the mare to the farm of George H. and James Paul, of the county, where he was arrested. The reward of $250 by the county commissioners.

Constable Pierce captured his man, whose name is Spangenberg, in the vicinity of Green Ridge. He at once took him to South Canaan, where a warrant had been issued for him and given to Pierce to serve.

Considerable controversy has arisen over the capture of this thief. It is claimed that the stolen horse to this city and disposed of to Mrs. L. H. Snyder, of the latter took it away and put it in another stable. Constable Pierce got a search warrant and recovered the horse, but the owner got it. Constable Neary brought suit before Alderman Jones for the reward offered by Benjamin for the return of the horse. This suit was heard last Saturday and Alderman Jones is to give his verdict today. The capture of the thief may still further complicate matters.

IMPROVEMENTS BEGUN.

This Summer Promises to Be a Busy One for Outside Work.

The first of the outside work which will be done in this city this summer was begun yesterday morning when the Carbondale Gas company started to extend the Eighth avenue main. This beginning, but foreshadows extensive additions which they will make to their pipe line.

The summer promises to be a fairly active one for outside work. This Hospital and Fallbrook streets sewer will be started shortly and the work at the junction of Canaan and North Church streets is also expected to come on. There will be the finishing up of the work on Seventh avenue and probably on Ninth avenue, as Councilman Davis is making a hard fight for the appropriation of $200 for that purpose.

It is quite likely that there will be a great deal of improvement work done on other streets throughout the city also. With the work to be done by the water companies and the construction work on the railroad there promises to be lots of outside employment.

Machinists' Hoped.

The locked out machinists at Watts' mill were greatly cheered yesterday by the announcement in the New York papers that the committee which they had sent to Albany to secure an order for securing an audience with the governor of the state, a consequence of which was that Superintendent of Motions over Slack was despatched for.

Mr. Slack has made the offer to the men of wages and overtime for all work performed on Sunday and overtime. Although nothing will be given out by the machinists, other reliable sources of information state that matters are now being speedily adjusted, and it would not be surprising if all matters of dispute are decided by Saturday evening in time for the men to resume work at their usual jobs on Monday morning.

A statement was yesterday made that the offer of overtime will not be accepted, as the men have other grievances. It is also said that an out-of-pocket man has offered to hire all the locked-out men, but as they are property owners, with all their interests here, it is hardly likely they will accept such an offer, except as a last resort. The statement that the men have other grievances beside not getting extra pay is probably true, but there is not much question but that if the company conceded this, the men's troubles could be adjusted. The Delaware and Hudson company has always been liberal to its men and they appreciate this fact so strongly that they only and all deplore the idea that they are trying to get the road trouble. From the beginning of the strike they have wished it distinctly stated that they do not want to cause trouble to the road in any way, but only wished to get what they considered their due. It is believed that the men and the company could be adjusted.

Will Preach to Odd Fellows.

Rev. H. J. Whalen, D. D., pastor of the Berean Baptist church, will deliver a sermon to the various orders of Odd Fellows in this city at that church on Sunday, April 21. Last year Rev. Dr. Whalen preached to this fraternity and his sermon was given such approbation that he was the unanimous choice of the lodges this year. At the meeting of the Patriarchs' Militant last evening steps were taken looking toward making arrangements for this service. This will be the seventy-eighth anniversary of the order.

Just Escaped Being Crushed.

The firm of T. Walker & Company have just purchased a large safe and it is now installed in their new store on South Main street. It was put in late Wednesday. While it was being unloaded there came near being a tragedy. Peter Rivenburg and Lafayette Kilmer drove down to the store with the

SAFE IN THE WAGON.

Rivenburg jumped out and went into the store to inform the proprietors of the arrival of the strong box, and Kilmer proceeded to drive down the little alley-way at the side of the store. As he drove over the curbstone in front of the wagon, of course, it rose in the air, and a boy named Charley Munson and Rivenburg ran to the wagon and gave the curbstone a shove to get it over the curb. The safe by this time had gained speed and, as the fallboard was down, it rolled right out of the wagon. Munson was almost under it as it left the wagon, but by some unexplained circumstance the safe did not hit him, grazing his head and body only as it fell. It struck a heavy plank, which tipped into the face of a spectator, but did not touch him, the end coming within an inch of his eyes. The safe was not damaged by its fall and was put in the store all right.

A BRAVE WOMAN.

Mrs. Outram's Courage in the Fire at Cincinnati.

This week's Dramatic Mirror, the leading theatrical paper of the country, contains mention of some interesting cases in the life of the late Mrs. Leonard Outram, formerly of this city and sister of George H. and James Paul, of the miners' and mechanics' bank. We give the notice below:

"Mrs. Leonard Outram, professionally known as Anna Ripley, died at Albany, N. Y., March 30, after having undergone a surgical operation at the Albany hospital. Her maiden name was Emma Ripley Paul. She was born in Albany in December, 1829, and married Mr. Leonard Outram, of Boston. Her professional engagements had been with Ward and Volkes, Gus Hill's companies, and this season with her husband and Virginia Harwood in 'Hamlet.' On the occasion of the burning of the Grand opera house in Cincinnati, last winter, Mrs. Outram stood by the side of Mr. and Mrs. Southern, in the heart of danger, and assisted the audience to escape over the footlights. She continued with the company until six weeks ago, when her illness, that she had borne with extraordinary grit, compelled her retirement. She was loved by all who knew her for her brightness and sweetness of disposition. Her remains were interred in her family plot in the Albany Rural cemetery."

REV. MR. FITCH HEARD FROM.

The Missionary in China Writes That He Has Received the Box Sent Him.

The "Pastors' Call" of the First Presbyterian church contains this note the following interesting extract from a letter from Rev. J. A. Fitch, missionary in China:

A box was put among my things by the people of the Presbyterian Mission Press in Shanghai, as I came through in November. Nothing was said as to what it was, and indeed they would not know. It remained among my boxes until I finally got settled in my new quarters. When I found it was the long expected box from Carbondale. And allow me to thank the ladies for all their kind thoughtfulness to me in sending out that box. As it turned out, it was fortunately delayed, for had it come when it should have, it would have been among the other things destined to make a boxer of me. All the things were in good condition except the box of candy for the boys, which was completely melted by all that it had had to go through with this summer."

THE BRIDGE ARRIVES.

Work on the Racket Brook Improvements Now to Be Rushed.

The steel girders and framework for the new steel bridge over Racket Brook has at last arrived in town, after nearly a month's trip from the mill at Salisbury. Inquiries have been sent all over the country for the two missing box cars in which they were shipped, but no trace of them could be found until Engineer Kupp was informed that they were in the yard waiting their pleasure.

The work of getting them out of the box cars will require considerable diplomacy on the part of Contractor Thompson, as most of them are very heavy pieces, all of the girders being twenty-seven feet long, while the one that will span the bottom, will measure forty-seven feet in length.

A large force of men were started in to work yesterday to get things in shape to replace the present structure with the new steel bridge. From now on things will be busy on that part of Church street.

Improving Sidewalks.

The sidewalk around James J. Gorman's general store on South Main street is being taken up. Mr. Gorman contemplates raising and grading the sidewalk, making a number of improvements on the seventh street side, with the object of enhancing the value of his property. It is too bad that a number of others cannot see their way clear to do likewise, as there are lots of opportunities for it around town.

Four Feet of Water.

No. 3 mine is reported to be drowned out. There is now four feet of water in the mine and the overflow is running through into the Powderly mine. Pumps are being run to keep even with the streams. Some of these pumps are now submerged, but they are chattering away just as steadily as ever.

Getting in Shape at No. 3.

The building operations at No. 3 shaft are getting along nicely. The new engine room is now complete, as is also the new tower and the general remodeling that has been in progress since the fire destroyed the buildings is now almost done.

Three Weeks of Idleness.

After tomorrow the workers at No. 1 mine will have enforced vacation of about three weeks. This is deemed necessary by the company in order to connect the new breaker and to put up the new plant.

Pay Days These Days.

The Delaware and Hudson company paid at No. 1, No. 2 and Powderly mines, today the miners of the upper side will get their envelopes.

EUCRE BY THE WHOLESALE.

A Progressive Party of Great Dimensions Last Evening.

Over 500 eucres players enjoyed their favorite game last evening at the Burke building. The Young Ladies' Communion Table association of St. Rose church held their second progressive eucres party of the season and every one of the 100 tables set up in long rows was occupied, while many late-comers could not be accommodated.

Mr. James P. Loftus was the general manager of the event. The games were started at 8:30 and twelve games were played. A number of handsome prizes were incentives to bring out the best skill of the players. The following gentlemen assisted by the following: Mark Campbell, John T. Loftus, C. H. Norton, Michael Brennan, Anthony J. Padden, Michael McDonald, James Burke, John Belmont, P. F. Conner, P. F. Clifford and P. F. Carroll.

SURPRISE BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Miss Myrtle Pengelly's Anniversary Remembered by Friends.

In honor of the anniversary of her birth a number of friends of Miss Myrtle Pengelly tendered her a surprise party at her home on Birkett street Wednesday evening. The surprise was a complete one but Miss Pengelly gave all a most cordial welcome and by her unbounded hospitality made the evening a very pleasant one indeed. Social diversions usual to such occasions were indulged in until 2 o'clock, when refreshments were served. Miss Pengelly received several pretty remembrances.

A SPLENDID PLAY.

None Should Miss Seeing "When We Were Twenty-one."

"When We Were Twenty-one," which will be presented at the Grand on Saturday evening, is admitted by competent judges to be the best play produced in years. Henry Miller, the actor, even goes further and says, "It's the best play I have ever seen," and Mr. Miller's position and experience make his opinion of value.

Miss Florence Wickliffe, who takes the leading part, Phyllis, is a Southern girl of beauty and talent. Her appearance on the stage was in "On and Off," under Charles Frohman's management, but that astute discoverer of ability soon advanced the young actress to Miss Julia Marlowe's company, which she left to join the Grand, where she became the understudy for Miss Maxine Elliott as "Phyllis."

Mr. Chaffee's absence at conference, the Rev. Dr. Whalen will probably conduct the services. Interment will be made at Maplewood cemetery.

A Unique Parade.

"The Two Merry Tramps" company struck town yesterday for their appearance last night at the Grand Opera House. In the afternoon a street parade was given, consisting of eight musicians with blood-colored uniforms with yellow trimmings. Their neither garments consisted of light-colored boots. A tattered and frayed individual headed the band. He was accompanied by a bicycle. It would hardly be correct to state that he rode it, as this individual was seen to have the parade lasted was to stand on his head on the saddle, twist all over the wheel and perform a multitude of astonishing tricks on the bike. A crowd of worshipping small boys followed in his wake, and the parade and the parade had an unanimous sigh of regret when it was all through. The trick rider's name is Lee Fevre. This parade was a novelty, indeed.

Will Remodel Office.

JERMYN AND MAYFIELD.

An interesting case was recently heard by Squire Keifer, in which Richard Cole, of Mayfield, was called upon to answer a charge preferred by Andrew Gavin, of Jermyn. Attorney H. D. Carey represented the plaintiff, and E. E. Timin defended the case. According to Gavin's statement Cole had taken some stone and several fence posts from his (Gavin's) property at Mayfield, and it was to recover the value of the property taken that the action was brought. The defendant admitted taking the fence posts and stone, which he had purchased from Mrs. Murray, the agent of the Mullally estate, which adjoins Gavin's lot, and who claims half of the dividing line and fence. The whole case finally resolved itself into a question of title, and the justice of the peace will render a decision in the matter at 8 o'clock next Monday evening.

The Mayfield institute will be held on Saturday afternoon and evening, April 13. The following programme has been prepared: Afternoon session—Opening song; paper, "Reformed Spelling," Miss Amy Williams; discourse, "How to Secure Better Attendance," Prof. M. J. ### OLYPHANT.

With the exception of Messrs. Holleran and Williams, all members were present at Wednesday night's session of the school board. The first matter considered was the report of the finance committee, with reference to the exonerated list of ex-Tax Collector Hoban. The committee recommended that the list be sent back for revision and a motion to that effect was passed. A number of bills were passed for payment, as follows: W. J. McManis, $1.86; John Dempsey, $50; Olyphant Light department, $8; P. H. McCann, $3.50; Father Mathew society, $15. A bill from the Olyphant Water company for the month's water rent, amounting to $51, was also considered, and the supply committee directed to ask the water company to place a meter in the Central school building. A communication was read from the board of trustees, James J. O'Malley, which stated that the case of the board versus Casey & Kelly had been referred to a referee, and that a hearing would be held in the near future. The secretary and treasurer were given authority to make arrangements with the Merchants' and Mechanics' bank of Scranton for the payment of warrants now held by the teachers.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Kibbey, of Green Ridge, was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The burial services were conducted by Rev. John Ruddy at St. Patrick's church. In conclusion the remains were taken to the Catholic cemetery and interred.

Miss Sadie Raymond and her excellent company appeared at the Father and Mother Opera house last evening in "Old Arkansas," before a large and well pleased audience.
