IMPORTANT CHANGES.

Have Been Made by the Eric Since It Took Charge of the Penn-sylvania Coal Company.

Important changes consequent upon he absorption of the Pennsylvania Coal company by the Erie, are taking place every day. Among the most important changes that have thus far taken place are the transfer of the purchasing, shipping and auditing departments to New York, and the aolition of the department of engineer-

C. P. Savage, who was at the head of the purchasing department, has been transferred to New York, temporarily, at least. Wilson D. Decker, who was shipping agent, is relieved, and William Forsyth, who was chief of the mechanical engineering department of the mines, finds his occupation gone by the consolidation.

W. A. May, general manager of the combined coal companies, has taken up his headquarters in the Dunmore offices. Frank H. Coughlin who, for a number of years, has been a clerk in the Hillside Coul and Iron company's offices, has been chosen by General Manager May as his chief clerk. The Hillside offices will soon be transferred from the Board of Trade building to Dunmore. The thirty-four collieries of the Pennsylvania-Hillside company, gether with the Fernwood and Butler, which recently came under the Hillside company's control, and the independent collieries contributing to the Erie, mined during the month of March over half a million tons of coal. If the output was continued for twelve months, it would make the Erie's annual traffle in coal 7,000,000 tons, or as much as was mined last year by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Delaware and Hudson com-

CLOSE OF INSTITUTE.

Teachers Adopt Resolution Asking for Pay for Twelve Months Instead of Ten as at Present.

This year's teachers' institute was brought to a close yesterday morning with a session which lasted from ! o'clock till just precisely noon. An able address was delivered by Professor W. W. Grant, principal of the high school, who pleaded for recognition for the individual scholar by the teacher. The bright pupil should be singled out, he said, and advanced Instead of holding him in check by keeping him in the same class with pupits less bright and more sluggish

Civil Engineer A. B. Dunning, of this city, gave an interesting talk explaining in an easy, understandable way how surveyors and engineers do a great many things. He explained how the height of hills and mountains is obtained and how points on the surface are located in the mines. He told something about the construction of bridges and of the workings of the telephone and illustrated many of his points by diagrams on a blackboard. Professor T. C. Mendenhall gave a delightful little ten-minute talk in un entirely different vein from anything he had said before. He told the true story of the origin of the immortal poem, "Mary Had a Little Lamb." There was a little lamb, he said, who followed Mary to school and both of them lived in New England.

Resolutions were unanimously passed requesting the school board to consider a school year as twelve months instead of ten months as at present and to pay the present monthly salary for that period. The resolutions also contained a clause expressing gratification at the re-appointment of Dr. Nathan Schaeffer as state superintendent of schools.

It is probable that Superintendent of Schools Howell will go to Brooklyn in the near future to investigate personally the "Rational" system of teaching reading explained during the institute by Miss Eginton, with a view of recommending its adoption in this

VERDICT FOR THE COMPANY

FEDERAL JURY WENT AGAINST WALSH'S $10,000 CLAIM.

Comely Young Lady Who Was Deputy Postmaster at Muhlenberg Tried for Detaining Letters to Her scene Letter Writer Goes Free. Four Months in the County Jail. Martha D. Kaester Is Let Off with the Payment of a $100 Fine-Ob-

The jury in the case of M. F. Walsh. executor, against the Royal Mutual In-Surance company, came in yesterday morning in the United States Circuit court and reported that they had agreed on a verdict for the defendant This saves the company from paying $10,000 on the insurance policy and about $3,000 in interest and costs. At the last trial of the case the verdict was for the plaintiff. The company was represented in the present trial by City Solicitor George M. Watson, and Nathaniel Hubble, of Chicago, Judge Buffington was engaged most of yesterday in the trial of the case of the United States against Miss May Benscotter, of Muhlenberg, Luzerne county, who was charged with detaining a letter belonging to her sister-inaw, Mrs. Leona E. Benscotter, of Roosevelt, Luzerne county.

The defendant is a comely young girl and apparently of more than ordinary intelligence and refinement. Her father s postmaster at Muhlenberg, and a eader in local politics. She was deputy postmaster, and did most of the postoffice work. Leona E. Benscotter is the widow of the defendant's brother, who died in the United States army service during the Spanish war.

There was some back pay due the lead soldier, and some correspondence was going on between the widow and the Federal authorities regarding this and a pension, for which application had been made. The widow was also in correspondence with a young man at Wilkes-Barre, who was a nurse in the hospital in which her husband died.

GORMAN ON THE TRAIL.

The widow complained to the postoffice authorities that letters addressed to her were being detained and that not a few of them bore evidence of having been opened. Inspector Hugh P. Gorman was put on the case, and upon learning of the connection between the widow and the family of the Muhlenberg postmaster, and that all mail for Roosevelt passed through the Muhlenberg postoffice, he suspected that it was someone at the Muhlenberg postoffice who was detaining the widow's letters.

He fixed up a decoy letter in a hous of representatives envelope and had it postmarked Washington, D. C. In the letter proper he enclosed a gray hair This was placed in the pouch for Muhlenberg, addressed to Mrs. Benscotter at Roosevelt. The pouch from Muhlenberg to Roosevelt, in which the decoy letter should have been forwarded, was examined as soon as it arrived at Roosevelt, but the letter was missing. The next day the inspector went to Muhlenberg and made inquiries for the letter. After some fussing, Miss Benscotter took it out of the drawer i which registered letters are kept and turned it over to the inspector. It bore evidence of having been opened and re-sealed, and when the interior was examined the gray hair was found to be missing. Miss Benscotter claimed that the letter must have accidentally gotten into the drawer with the registered letters. and denied emphatically that she had detained this or any other letter. Another decoy letter, similarly addressed, was sent into the Muhlenberg postoffice, with small bits of marked paper enclosed. This, however, was never found, and court ruled it out of the Assistant United States Attorney Miller conducted the prosecution. The defendant's attorneys were John T. Lenahan and Michael Cannon, of Wilkes-Barre.

FOUND HER GUILTY.

The jury was out for two hours before it could agree to return Miss Benscotter guilty. It accompanied its finding with a recommendation for extreme mercy. Judge Buffington heeded the recommendation to the extent of suspending sentence.

Frank H. Jones, accused of detaing and opening letters while a clerk the Scranton postoffice plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of six ents and spend four months in the county jail. His attorneys, H. L. Taylor and A. J. Colborn, presented a lengthy petition signed by many of the most prominent men of the city asking the court to suspend sentence, and ex-Postmaster Frank M. Vandling made a personal appeal to the same

Judge Buffington, in passing sen-tence, said that as a man he could not nelp but be moved to the exercise of the greatest elemency by the appeals that had been made to him and by the knowledge that had come to him of the suffering the young man and his family had endured, and in his capacty as judge he had a duty to perform and mainly for the deterring effect which it would have on others who are daily subjected to the temptation that proved too strong for young Jones, would have to impose a penalty. When the judge pronounced the young man to ill, the gray-haired fother of the lad. the had worked so hard to save him from going to jail, collapsed in his seat just outside the railing and sobbed aloud and piteously. JUDGE WAS MOVED.

Judge Buffington was so moved by the pathetic sight that he had the father brought to him in the clerk's room, and there talked to him for half an hour, offering him such consolation as he could. The judge volunteered to write to the attorney general and see what could be done about the case.

Martha D. Kaester, the Scranton woman charged with being "The Turkish Drug company," which used the mails for the distribution of matter intended to be used for immoral purposes, plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100, which she promptly did. David Ridler and John Balton, two large and constantly increasing majority of the American people are catarrh sufferers. This is not entirely result of our changeable climate, but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases known by other names, are really catarrh. Formerly the name catarrh was applied almost exclusively to the common nasal catarrh, but the throat stomach, liver, bladder, kidneys and intestines are subject to catarrhal discases as well as the nasal passages. Dr. Ainslee, in speaking of the new caturrh cure, says: "I have tried the new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, upon thirty or forty patients with remarkable satisfactory results. They clear the head and throat more effectually and lastingly than any douche or inhaler that I have ever seen and although they are what is called a patent medicine and sold by druggists, I do not hesitate to recommend them, as I know them to be free from cocaine and opiates, and that even a little child may use them with entire

OUTBREAK AT DICKSON.

When Girls Working in Bliss Mill Left for Their Homes They Were Yelled at and Followed.

For the first time in some weeks an outbreak of violence on the part of the striking silk mill girls took place yesterday. It occurred at Dickson City, where so many of the disturbances have taken place during the strike. When the few girls working in the Bliss mill left for their homes about 6 o'clock, they were greeted with angry cries of "scab" and "blackleg," and were followed for some distance by a number of girls and small boys, some of whom added violence to their verbal abuse. No one was, however, injured.

The management of the mill has issued a warrant for the arrest of Lizzie Stiebler, who is accused of being one of the ringleaders, and tomorrow four more warrants will be sworn out for other alleged leaders of the attack. Mr. Bliss said last night that the girls at the Dickson City mill had decided to go back to work, but were dissuaded by "Mother" Jones, who happened along just after the decision was arrived at. He further charges that Burgess Kennedy is responsible in no small degree for the violence, because of his failure to make any effort to give the working girls protection. Mr. Bliss goes further and says that Burgess Kennedy has been guilty of calling one of the mill foremen opprobrious names. The Textile Workers' union has decided that it will be wise to send but two or three delegates to the national convention which is to be held May 6. at Holyoke, Mass., instead of having representatives from each of the locals It is likely that these delegates will be selected during the coming week. At 10 o'clock this morning the union's the Central Labor union delegates, and executive committee will meet with discuss means of increasing the strikers' exchequer and of securing a conference with Superintendent W. / H Davis, of the Sauquoit mill. Chairman Gothier, of the Labor union committee has stated that energetic efforts will be made next week to come to an agreement with the superintendent of the Sauquoit, and through him the other operators. The Sauquoit hard silk local met yesterday but transacted little business of importance.

MANY CASES

YESTERDAY A BUSY DAY IN CRIMINAL COURT.

Alfred Mickles Tried on a Charge of Suggesting the Making of a Fraudulent Marriage Certificate for Frank Compton and Carrie Heglin-Mrs. Sophia Miller Tried on a Charge of Keeping a Speak-Easy-Verdict Taken in a Number of Cases.

Criminal court practically wound up yesterday for the week. Today surety cases will be heard by the judges. Before Judge McClure in No. 2 Alfred Mickles was tried yesterday on a charge of fraudulently making a marriage certificate, which he presented to Carrie Heglin, a girl of fifteen. She believed that this was all the formality necessary to marry her to Frank Compton, and they lived together for some time as man and wife. M.ss Heg. lin's mother prosecuted Mickles for his part in the deception.

Mickles' attorney, Frank E. Boyle, raised the point that he could not be held, inasmuch as his client did not actually fill out the marriage certificate, that being done by young Comp-It was shown, however, that Mickles had dictated what Compton should write and, in fact, had suggested the whole scheme. His fate was therefore left to the jury to decide. It had not returned a verdict at adjourning hour.

Charges against Compton of forgery and of having unlawful relations with Carrie Heglin were continued until the next term. Henry Stanton was tried for having committed an aggravated assault and battery on Martin Odendahl, both men being employed at the Johnson No. 2 breaker, at Olyphant. Stanton admitted hitting one blow, but pleaded strong provocation. The jury was out at adjourning hour.

Before Judge Purly in No. 3 John Kulick was tried for criminally assaulting Mrs. John Matlock.. Both parties live in the big brick house at Scranton and Seventh streets, where it is alleged the offense occurred. Kulick says it is an effort to extort money from him and strongly denies the charge. The verdict will be returned this morning.

Mrs. Sophia Miller was charged by Constable Joseph Woelkers with keeping a speakeasy on Elm street, South Scranton. She was defended by Attorney M. J. Donahue, who asked the court to give binding instructions to the jury to acquit Mrs. Miller, on the ground that it is the theory of old ommon law that a woman acts under the direction of her husband, and that it was Miller, and not his wife, who should be held responsible for the speakeasy. The judge allowed the case to go to the jury, which will return its verdict this morning.

Mrs. Mary Motza, of Carbondale, was tried before Judge Kelly on a charge of being unfaithful to her husband. Mrs. John Rega, at whose house Mrs. Motza and her husband boarded, was the On Sept. 17, last, Mrs. prosecutor. Rega testified that she saw Mrs. Motza and a man named Joe Vulleli occupying a bed in her (Mrs. Rega's) house The defense was a general denial and an allegation that the prosecution was due to spite. The jury was out at adjourning time. George Nichols was tried on a charge of assault and battery, Petro Itoola, an 11-year-old Syrian boy, being the prosecutor. He alleged that Nichols kicked him. The latter denied the charge. A jury was out wrestling with the case at adjournment.
