

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

PITTSSTON.

Pittston, April 18.—Edward Snyder, of Montgomery street, West Pittston, machinist, employed at the Excelsior Machine works, West Casteo Richards, a former resident of Delaware Avenue, West Pittston, was united in marriage this evening at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. William McCarty, in Hyde Park, West Scranton.

Five men caused a strike among the one hundred or more inside employees at the Stevens shaft, at West Pittston, this morning. The men were in the same gangway as last evening, given an increase from seventy-five cents to $1 per yard on an unusually hard piece of rock work.

Michael Tighe, aged sixteen years, of Clapp street, Upper Pittston, met with a serious accident while at work in the Seneca breaker yesterday. His coat sleeve caught in a large revolving screen and he was drawn between the screen and a large timber. Before the machinery could be stopped his shoulder had been dislocated and the thigh suffered a compound fracture.

Steve Notaro, a laborer in the Mt. Lookout colliery at Wyoming, received severe burns about the face and arms last night from a small gas explosion. A subscription dance will be held in the Keystone hall, Thursday evening, May 2, in charge of the following committee of prominent West Side gentlemen: E. H. Anthon, E. H. Hughes, E. G. Mercer, Frank J. Howell, C. H. Phillips and C. K. Trumbower.

James H. Hart, Jr., a former resident of this city but who has resided in New York city for the past six months, having removed to that city after a six years' residence in San Francisco, is a pleasant caller among friends here.

The funeral of Patrick Loftus, of Market street, late father of the late John Loftus, of Scranton, who died Monday, took place this morning and was very largely attended.

Mrs. Katherine Mier, aged seventy-five years, died yesterday at her home on Rock street, Hughes town borough. Her son, John, of Scranton, was officiating at the funeral which will be held this morning at 2 p. m.

Mrs. and Mr. Alexander McMillan, of Vine street, have instituted proceedings in a suit for damages against the Lehigh Valley Railroad company, for the death of their son Robert, who was killed by the explosion of a locomotive boiler at Mud Run, March 12. They claim the boiler of the engine was old, unsafe and defective, and that the officials of the company were aware of the fact.

At a regular meeting of select council this evening, Chairman Langan presented the following list of standing committees: Auditing, Messrs. Thompson, Keating, Kelly, Foster, Murphy, Munley, Gavin, McAndrew, Hanley, Hines, Buss, McAndrew, estimates, Buss, Munley, Murphy, Kelly, Thompson, Foster; public buildings, Keating, Hines, Gavin, Kelly, Keating, Keating, Thompson; printing, Foster, Munley, Kelly, Foster, Thompson, McAndrew, Gavin, Foster; streets and bridges, Munley, Murphy, Kelly; light and water, Murphy, Keating, McAndrew; railways, McAndrew, Gavin, Thompson, Kelly, Keating, Kelly, Thompson, Kelly, Foster, Hines, Buss; sanitary, Murphy, Hines, Buss; accounts, Thompson, Buss, Foster; treasurer's accounts, Murphy, Munley, Buss; manufacturing, Murphy, Buss; paving, Foster, Murphy, Hines.

TOLD IN SCRANTON.

It's the Evidence of Scranton People Published in Scranton Papers That Has Made Such a Reputation for Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

DURYEA.

Duryea, April 18.—Dennis Brady, one of the oldest and most highly respected residents of this place, died at his home on York avenue, after a short illness. The deceased was the proprietor of Hotel Brady, one of the most orderly hotels in town. He will be missed by the old residents of this place and by two sisters, residents of Scranton, Patrick, Mrs. Peter O'Rourke and Mrs. Patrick O'Donnell. Funeral will take place this afternoon, interment in St. Mary's cemetery, Avoca.

The Pittston Electric Illuminating company is busy putting wires on Hall street and East street. The work will extend up as far as the county line.

The same old troubles announced in The Tribune some time ago, are again annoying our township commissioners. The Tribune noted a few months ago that the commissioners had appointed a committee to determine the location of the residence of Anthony Hennigan, president of commissioners. They reported that he lived in Marcy township. But some weeks ago another committee was sent to investigate by the township commissioners. They reported that Mr. Hennigan's home was one inch more in Pittston than in Marcy township. A meeting was held in the high school the other evening and Isaiah Kresge came before the commissioners and claimed that he was the father of the "honorable body." As proof, he showed a document from the authorities at Wilkes-Barre proclaiming him president. Mr. Hennigan, who still claims he is president, had the meeting adjourned to Monday evening. At this meeting nothing was done. Another meeting was held this afternoon and both Kresge and Hennigan claimed the chair. A water ordinance was passed, allowing $20 per plug to Spring Brook Water company. Hennigan still holds the chair.

The funeral of the late John Barber, who met death by being run down by a trolley car at Wyoming, took place Tuesday afternoon. Interment was made in the Polish cemetery.

Miss Alice Brown, who has been ill with typhoid fever for some days, still remains in a serious condition. George Annummer visited in Avoca Wednesday.

The funeral of Pearl, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett, took place Thursday afternoon. Interment was made in Marcy cemetery.

Wille, the 2-year-old son of Mr. Wigo, of Foote street, died Wednesday of diphtheria. Funeral will take place Friday afternoon, interment in Marcy cemetery.

James H. Hart, Jr., a former resident of this city but who has resided in New York city for the past six months, having removed to that city after a six years' residence in San Francisco, is a pleasant caller among friends here.

The funeral of Patrick Loftus, of Market street, late father of the late John Loftus, of Scranton, who died Monday, took place this morning and was very largely attended.

About the general anthracite coal situation the April letter of the Anthracite Coal Operators' association says:

The temporary settlement of the question of a strike has taken from the market an element of strength, and has given rise to a feeling of confidence among the operators, who are engaged with either a manufacturing or whole sale establishment or large department store. No ready buyers are to be had, and the price for promotion refused. Correspondence should be addressed to B. W. Berwick, P. O.

THEATRICAL.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC—The Corse Payton Stock company. Matinee and night.

GATBY and Follies Burlesque show. Matinee and night.

"Carl Carlson" at the Lyceum.

As Swedish comedies go, "Carl Carlson" in which Arthur Donaldson starred at the Lyceum last night, is a very entertaining theatrical. Besides being an excellent actor, Mr. Donaldson sings well a number of songs, among them the now familiar "Hail to the Land of Our Birth."

The piece is epochal by the customary character costume in the first act, cutting into in the second and evening dress in the third, but is saved from being conventionally perfect, by a real, live water and a prodigious fire.

Miss Annie Mack-Berlin, a wealthy Irish widow, and Bessie Harris, a child actress, comprise Mr. Donaldson's main support.

"The New Dominion," as presented by Mr. Colburn, excites anything but a kindly feeling that has ever been seen on the stage, and the beauty of the character of Holstenau, its dialect, its remoteness, its perfection, it is impossible to convey.

This play will be given at the Lyceum Saturday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the International Correspondence School's Social, Educational and Beneficial society.

Fads and Follies Company. Bissell's Fads and Follies Burlesques, who will be at the Gaiety the balance of the week, gave pleasing performances yesterday afternoon and evening. The Fads and Follies company contains some very funny people, including James F. Leonard, Frank Ogerty, (the Blotto), Barry Thompson and others. In the old bright numbers were given by Lottie Martin, who sings negro melodies; Barry Thompson and Miss Carter, and Otto Shattuck and Minnie Bernard, who gave a sample of the "legit." Frank Ogerty, parodied a great bit with his local references set to music of popular songs, and the audience devoted to the Strantonians were received with hilarious applause. Bennett and Rich also received recognition in their rendition of illustrated songs.

The performance closed with an up-to-date travesty entitled "A Night on the Boulevard," which was characterized by bright music, handsome costumes and brilliant fun. The "Fads and Follies Burlesques" will be seen at the Gaiety tomorrow and evenings for the balance of the week.

Diagram for Marine Band. This morning the diagram for the Washington Marine Band concert will open at Powell's music store. The band will appear in Wilkes-Barre by special permission of the president, the secretary of the navy and the commandant of the Marine corps.

The amount of effort necessary to bring this organization can scarcely be realized by the ordinary citizen not familiar with the red tape requirements of the government. Doubtless the army will be filled to its utmost capacity.

DR. DANA CREMATED.

His Body Found in the Ruins of the Keeler House Barn.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Tunkhannock, Pa., April 18.—A search today of the ruins of the Keeler house barn, in which six horses were burned yesterday, revealed the body of Dr. Charles M. Dana. He had evidently come into the barn to assist in saving the horse and was overcome with heat and smoke.

Dr. Dana was forty-five years of age. He was a son of Dr. C. H. Dana, an elderly and well-known physician, who died in Florida two weeks ago.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, April 18.—The movement of prices of stocks today was exceedingly irregular and profit-taking was on a very heavy scale. The movement of speculation was not so active as yesterday, and the market was characterized by a fair degree of stability. While they were developing new points of strength they were prostrated by the recently exploited stocks. The profits in the recently exploited stocks were in many instances of a nature to announce the terms of the Burlington.

The Erie stocks, Burlington, Northern Pacific, and the managers generally were affected by the considerations early in the day. The active trading in Amalgamated Copper and silver was also influenced on the side of profit-taking. A complete recovery of its loss in the late dealing. The most effective leaders of the market were Lehigh and Union Pacific. The dealings in both were on a very heavy scale and a professional campaign for a rise was clearly being conducted in both. The goop to afford the rise was that Union was to be placed on a 4 per cent dividend basis and that Southern interests were to be represented in the directors as the result of alleged acquisition of a large interest by Pennsylvania in the company. In Union Pacific it was said that the Southern Pacific collaterals were to be redeemed, thus releasing the Central Pacific company. Amalgamated Copper was advanced 2 1/2% as a result of these rumors, and Union Pacific was lifted 2 1/2%. There were other advances among the Southwestern and Southern
