THE "SUSPECTS" EXAMINED.

Two of Them Appear Before Alderman Jones—One Sent to Hospital.

Two of the men arrested on suspicion of having committed the burglary on Tuesday night when John Mohr's store was broken into were arraigned before Alderman Jones yesterday afternoon. The hearing excited great interest as it is seldom that men are before courts in this city on such a serious charge.

The two men were brought in about 2:15 o'clock. They were the gray-suited man and the red-haired one described by yesterday's Tribune. The red-haired one is a dangerously sick man and could scarcely stand he is so weak. He had a temperature of 104, and when he stood up to be identified he nearly fell over.

The man in gray said that his name was Henry Williams and that he had lived in Forest City for eleven years. He did not know any one in this city excepting Henry Box.

Chief McAndrew detailed how he had arrested Williams on Tuesday morning for intoxication and afterward let him go to give him a chance to sober up. He had arrested him again on Thursday morning as he answered the description of one of the burglars given by A. W. Reynolds, who saw the burglars run away from Mohr's store.

Avery W. Reynolds testified that the only description he could give as to the two burglars was in regard to their height and dress, as he did not see their faces. The two prisoners' apparel tallied with the clothes worn by the men who fled at his approach and their appearance with their backs turned there the two stood up). Mr. Reynolds was not able to make any positive identification. He told of seeing Williams several times on Wednesday night, once about twenty minutes before the burglary was committed.

Harry Wells, a special officer, said that he had seen Williams before on Monday night. The last time he saw him was about half-past eleven. He appeared to be very drunk. He saw him again on Tuesday night at about the same time at the depot. When the officer saw him he was with two other men and on their being approached the two men separated and ran and eluded him and Officer Carden. He was not able to make any more positive identification than Mr. Reynolds.

Officer Carden said that he saw Williams on Tuesday night, as related by Mr. Wells. He also would not swear positively that the prisoner was one of the men who tried to get away on the railroad tracks as the light was in his eyes.

William Mainwaring said that he saw Williams on Monday night talking with Harry Wells. He also identified the red-haired man as being with Williams on that night. He saw them again Thursday morning chasing through the freight yard. It was about half-past four o'clock. Williams was then taken back to the city jail by Chief McAndrew and the examination of the other man begun.

He said that he was James Brennan, and that he used to live in Scranton, that he was 24 years of age, that his parents were dead. Brennan was a most disreputable-looking man. His stock of red hair was grimy and matted through long disuse of a comb, his face and hands were black with dirt and he evinced not the slightest interest in his surroundings. He had a temperature of 104 and was badly broken up with sickness. He said his last place of residence was at Geneva, N. Y., where he worked for a farmer named James Briarhead. He claimed to have come to Carbondale about a week ago and that he had been sick in the shanty where he was captured ever since his arrival. He said he had come down town for the first time on Monday night, when he went to Dr. Niles to have medical treatment, and from the doctor's office he had gone to the city jail for lodging and spent the night here. Jailer Killeen corroborated this statement. He said he had never seen Williams before he met him in jail.

At the conclusion of his examination it was deemed best to take Brennan to the Emergency hospital, as it was easily perceived that he was in great need of treatment. On his arrival at the institution he showed more signs of life than he had before and he made a vigorous fight against being compelled to take a bath. His scruples against cleanliness were overcome. At the hospital it was said that he is threatened with pneumonia.

Williams was brought before Alderman Jones again and had a second examination. He claimed to have spent Tuesday night (the night of the burglary) in Scranton and he gave a list of places he had been in. He was taken back to the jail and at 7 o'clock last evening Chief McAndrew went to Scranton to hunt up the truth of his story.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Alderman Morrison Had One That Might Have "Stumped" Solomon.

In Alderman Morrison's court Thursday night there was an excited crowd of Italians and charges and countercharges were preferred and withdrawn and preferred again with startling informality. A little 15-year-old Italian girl acted as interpreter and although she could not always be depended upon to give her translations in regard to the exact language used, she was especially apt in changing the Italian "cuss words" into their English meaning.

The trouble arose over the visit of two Americans ("white men," as the Italians called them) to the Italian colony. While the visitors were talking to Ralph Angolta two little brown-faced lads at play kicked up some dirt that settled on the "white men's" trousers. For this Angolta chased and cuffed little Tony Watkier and Tony's gfolks got him to go to the alderman and lay an information. When the case was called on Thursday night Angolta sprang a surprise. He said that Tony and Tommy Watkier had assaulted him and that they were aided by Sam Perrine and Nick Foletti. He swore out a warrant against the four and it was this that caused the mixup.

While one Italian was being asked questions by the alderman, through the interpreter, about one assault he would give answer in relations to the others and to make the confusion worse when the girlish interpreter would give her translation the whole roomful of Italians would upbraid her as being too literal or too partial or something else. It was evident that the Italians possessed better knowledge of the English language than they pretended to, but everything was in a state of chaos. The alderman showed wonderful powers of endurance, but after a lot of wasted time he discharged the two boys and held Angolta in $300 bail and Perrine and Folletti in $200 each. Angolta furnished bail, but the other two could not and were taken to Scranton by Constable Pierce on the 10 o'clock train that night.

Withdrew Charges.

Bennie Stone, a small boy, charged George Grady, of Greenfield road, with assault and battery before Alderman Atkinson on Thursday night. Stone sells papers on Sundays. Up to the time the boycott was put on the Scrantonian Grady was a patron of Stone's, but after the boycott Grady told him he wouldn't want his paper any more. Last Sunday Stone went up to Grady's house with his bundle of literature, and Grady told him to get out, as he saw in the said bundle a number of copies of the tabooed sheet. Then, according to the boy, as he did not move fast enough, Grady accelerated his movements by placing his foot with some swiftness near the skirts of the boy's coat-tail. At the hearing Grady produced a witness who testified that no assault whatever was committed on the boy; that he was told to get out by Grady, and that he got. As the boy could not produce corroborative evidence he withdrew the charge.

Need of a License Tax.

The Merchants' association members are feeling rather sore because of the failure of councils to pass the license tax ordinance intended to keep out fakirs, as the need of such a tax is very apparent just now. Three men, claiming to represent the Pure Food company, of Columbus, O., have been making a house-to-house canvass for some days, pretending to sell superior groceries at lower prices than local merchants did. True to their prudent instincts the housewives bit at the bait presented and the canvassers reaped a rich harvest. The merchants, of course, do not like that, but feel especially aggrieved because the oily-tongued agents told their best customers that the foodstuffs they were buying from local grocers were poor, adulterated, inferior goods and not fit to eat. And, strange to say, the women apparently were beguiled into buying by scandalous tales like this regarding reputable men who have lived here all their lives.

If the license tax ordinance had been passed in councils such frauds as these could not thrive on the credulity of penny-wise-pound-foolish women.

At times one of the trio, who appeared to be somewhat excited, would gesticulate wildly, and as before stated, a crowd soon gathered. Just then, your correspondent happened to be passing and, investigating matters found that the three men who had unconsciously attracted the crowd's attention were Councilmen Rawling, Wheeler and Albert Moon, who are the street and bridge committee. The councilmen were simply making a tour of inspection along the streets, to ascertain the condition and improvements needed. As such a thing was never known before it is no wonder a crowd was attracted. The wild gesticulations were made by Councilman Moon, who was trying to impress upon the other two the necessity of the crosswalks on South Main street.

The Artesian Hose company received their new uniforms from Philadelphia on Wednesday evening. The suits are of a light brown color, with dark brown braided trimming and look quite attractive. SPRING CATARRH MAKES PEOPLE WEAK AND NERVOUS

MISS ANNA BRYAN, OF WASHINGTON, D. C.

Miss Anna Bryan, a favorite cousin of William Jennings Bryan, is well known socially in Washington, D. C., where she has a host of friends. Miss Bryan recently studied music at Fairmount Seminary, of Washington, D. C. In a recent letter to The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, she says:

1459 Florida Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"At the solicitation of a friend I began some weeks ago to take your Peruna and I now feel like a new person. I take pleasure in recommending it to all who want a good tonic and a permanent cure for catarrh."—Anna Bryan.

MRS BERTHA KOCKLER, 177 Guinett street, Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Peruna and Manalin have done me very great service, and I recommend them with pleasure to all who suffer with nervous catarrh of the stomach as I did. Should such a disease ever attack me again I shall immediately take Peruna. I now feel very well and have a good appetite all the time. I have gained in weight. I recommended Peruna to an acquaintance of ours, and he is making remarkable progress. I looked so badly for a time before I began your medicine, that now when I meet some of my friends they say: 'I was very much worried about you, but now you are looking so well.' I shall always keep Peruna and Manalin in the house as family medicines."—Mrs. Bertha Kockler.

Appleton, Wis.

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.:

Gentlemen—"I find Peruna an excellent spring and summer medicine and am glad to call the attention of my friends to it. When that languid, tired feeling comes over you, and your food no longer tastes good, and small annoyances irritate you, Peruna will make you feel like another person inside of a week. I have now used it for three seasons and find it very reliable and efficacious."—Marie Coats.

Mrs. Al. Wetzel, 21 South 17th street, Terre Haute, Ind., writes:

"Peruna is the greatest medicine on earth. I feel well and that tired feeling is all gone. When I began to take your medicine I could not smell, nor hear a church bell ring. Now I can smell and hear. When I began your treatment my head was terrible, all sorts of buzzing, chirping and loud noises. Three months ago I dragged around like a snail; now I can walk as briskly as ever. I am going to go and see the doctor that said I was not long for this world, and tell him that Peruna cured me."—Mrs. Al. Wetzel.

If all the tired women and all the nervous women, and all the women that needed a tonic would read and heed the words of these three fair ladies, who have spoken right to the point, how many invalids would be prevented and how many wretched lives be made happy.

Peruna restores health in a normal way.

Peruna puts right all the mucous membranes of the body, and in this way restores the functions of every organ.

If it is the stomach that is out of order, and the digestion impaired, Peruna quickly makes things right by restoring the mucous membrane of the stomach.

If the nerves tingle, if the brain is tired, if the strength is flagging and the circulation of blood weakened by flabby mucous membranes of the digestive organs, Peruna reaches the spot at once by giving to these membranes the vitality and activity which belongs to them.

The pelvic organs are also lined with mucous membrane, which in the female sex is especially liable to derangements. Peruna is an absolute specific in these cases. The women everywhere are praising it. No other remedy has ever received such unqualified praise from such a multitude of women.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.
