A NEW ORGANIST.

Dissensions in Choir of Trinity Church Result in Prof. Doersam's

Engagement. Prof. Charles Doersam, of Scranton, vesterday entered upon his new duties is organist and chorister of Trinity Episcopal church, and gave excellent satisfaction to the congregations. His appointment to the position was enered upon suddenly and the change was not known to the general public until announced in Saturday morning's

T. Griffin Smith and Mrs. N. L. Moon have previously been chorister and organist of Trinity, and their many friends have been wondering why they have been displaced on such short notice. A prominent member of the church yesterday afternoon gave the reasons to a Tribune man. Trouble has been browing in the choir for some time. Mr. Smith has been accused of partiality in assigning solo parts to the female singers and with being arbitrary. A number of times, it is said, he has assigned solo parts to some one singer and when the singer has thoroughly learned the part has taken it away and given it to another, thus causing hard feelings. A short time ago, it is said, sixteen of the lady members of the choir went to Rev. It. A. Sawyer, the rector, and told him that unless Mr. Smith was removed as horister they would refuse to sing any longer. The rector tried hard to dissuade them from their purpose, but to no avail. Then, it is alleged, he told them that he would remove Mr. Smith. but if he went, Mrs. Moon, the organwould have to go also. This did not suit the ladies, as Mrs. Moon is very popular with them and has ever her connection with the choir worked very hard, giving up much of her time to acquiring familiarity with large organ which has been installed lately. It is thought the rector's purpose in threatening to remove Mrs. Moon was simply to prevent the choir from acting rashly, as there was not the slightest complaint against her. and it was thought that she was to be used as a band to cement friendly feelings in the choir. Be this as it may, the sixteen ladies were insistent on Mr. Smith being forced to tender his resignation. None of the male singers in the choir took part in the demand for his removal. True to his promise, on seeing that the ladies meant what they said in regard to their not singing unless Mr. Smith resigned, the rector asked for the resignation of Mrs. Moon also. The two resignations were received and the rector engaged Mr. Doersam, who is a capable organist. It will be remembered that Mr. Doersam gave a recital in Trinity church in February. Eight of the young ladies in the choir have come back, but was said vesterday by the reporter's informant that eight are still obdurate because they feel that an injustice has been done to Mrs

Mrs. Moon, as organist, received $100 a year for her services; Mr. Smith, as chorister, received $100 a year, making a total of $200. Mr. Doersam has been ngaged at a salary of $25 a month and expenses. These expenses will consist of three trips a week from Scranton to 'arbondale, with incidentals, making in outlay of at least $400 a year, inluding both salary and expenses, thus doubling the amount that has been

It is to be regretted that a dissen sion of this nature has arisen, as just now Trinity church has a great work on hand and needs the assistance of every member of its large parish to carry it to a successful completion.

Not Expected to Live.

Word was received from Harford on Saturday that little Gerald Hammond, W. B. Hammond, and nephew of Mrs. W. J. Lowry, of this city, is steadily growing weaker and all hope of recovery is past. On last Monday Dr. Lowry performed a preliminary operation, in which he was assisted by of Scranton, and clooven and Johnson, of Harford, when it was seen that the lad was beyond help.

They Attended the Berean Baptist Church Last Night-The Sermon

Appropriate. The various orders of Odd Fellows of this city and vicinity commemorated the seventy-eighth anniversary of the institution of the society by attending divine services last evening at the Berean Baptist church. Among the lodges which attended Carbondale canton, No. 40, Patriarchs' Militant, attracted attention by their handsome uniforms Rev. H. J. Whalen, D. D., delivered sermon. The same minister preached the annual sermon last year Last evening Dr. Whalen based his remarks on two passages of scripture, first taking for the foundation of the address "The Great Commission," as recorded in Matthew xxviii: 16-20 and the parable of the Good Samaritan, recorded in Luke x: 25-37. In his address he defined the relative places of the church and the lodge in the redemption of humanity. and said that to the church, first, has been specially committed the special work and care of organized charity incidental to the spiritual work. The lodge as a natural outgrowth of our Christian civilization is the handmaiden of the church, carrying forward that work taught in the parable of the Good Samaritan. The church and the lodge are not rivals, but both are engaged in the work of bettering humanity, the one being necessary to the other. The lodge exists only under the caves of the church. church prospers best where she has

The ladies having in charge the ospital benefit concert which will take place tomorrow evening, have found that a sufficient number of tickets have already been disposed of to necessitate giving the affair in the opera house, instead of at the Burke building, as first announced. Mr. Byrne has kindly offered the use of the opera house free of charge. Mr. Burke was warm-ly thanked for his tender of the use if his hall, though it will not be used. W. Fulkerson has offered the use of any plane in his ware rooms. A committee has been appointed to attend to the floral decorations and other arrangements of the stage. The affair will be a success from every standwork will be done without stopping [point, and much credit is due the ladies for their tireless work in its behalf.

Although the concert will be held in the opera house there will be no reserved seats sold. Ushers have been selected who will see that all who attend are properly cared for.

The Base Ball Outlook.

It begins to look as though the base ball question was settled in this city in the negative, at least for this season. Unless more interest is speedily shown the project to have a semiprofessional team here will go by the board. A number of young men have been earnestly working to have a good team here and for a while it seemed as if their efforts would be crowned with success, as subscriptions to the amount of $125 were procured. A meeting of the subscribers was called for Eriday night and such a meagre numper attended the meeting that the promoters have grown discouraged and have about decided to abandon the

It is to be hoped that some one will take it upon himself to bring to a atisfactory shape the work that has seen laid down by the original committee. WHEELING DEAD

The City Shut Off from Outside Com munication - Angry Citizens Shoot at Big Steamboats.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Wheeling, W. Va., April 21.-The river tonight was forty-one feet four inches and rising two inches an hour. The top notch is expected in an hour or two, with less than forty-two feet. This stage shuts Wheeling entirely out of outside communication by rail and only the big Cincinnati liners are able to run now, and trate residents along the rivers banks are firing frequently at the boats, because the swell from them is washing the foundations away from their houses. In Wheeling, Bellaire, Bridgeport, Benwood and Martin's Ferry about 500 houses have been entered by the water, most of the families moving to the upper floors. Nearly every manufacturing establishment in the Wheeling district is shut down and cannot resume until Tuesday. At Martin's Ferry the water destroyed 500,000 brick at the Belmont Brick company, entailing 💉 loss of $29,000 to $30,000. There are smaller losses at other plants, aggregating probably $40,000. Taking the loss to business, railroad landslides and industrial losses the aggregate cost of the flood in this district is at least $100,000, probably more. Above Martin's Ferry, James Ford, a miner, discovered the Cleveland and Pittsburg track washed out. Knowing n north-bound passenger train was due in thirty thinutes, he returned a short distance and succeeded in stopping the train from certain destruction.

The Onio River railroad has a number of landslides and considerable washed out track below Wheeling, involving a big loss and suspension of traffic for several days. On the Bal timere and Ohio's Wheeling-Pittsburg division there is a landslide at Claysville, preventing through traffic between the two elties. much distress in the district, most of the losers by the flood being the poor or class. United States Senator N. B. Scott wires the Intelligencer from Washington, contributing $500 for relief. Much timber has been lest in the Little Kanawha river
