THE HOSPITAL BENEFIT.

The Grand Opera House Filled with

Delighted Music Lovers. The concert for the benefit of the Emergency hospital, given at the Grand Opera House last evening, was a success from every view point. The audience was very large and all present were delighted with the fine programme and its artistic rendition. Van Den Hende's wonderful cello playing created a furore of enthusiasm, and she was compelled to respond to several encores. She played a number of selections with fine execution and the beautiful depth of tone and the brilliant, rippling notes thrilled her auditors alike.

Mrs. Simpson-Brady's solos, in her sweet, clear voice, with its perfect enunciation, capitvated the audience. Her first song, "Charmant Oisean, abounding in difficult yet graceful passages, was so well received that she compelled to respond with "Kathleen," a sad, tuneful little morsel by Lange. Her closing number, "The Angel's Serenade," was exquisitely sung.

M. Vanderveken played with his accustomed brilliancy and execution, a number of selections, Mr. Alfred Wooler also received well-merited applause from his hearers. Charles H. Doersam, the planist of the evening, contributed greatly to the success of the concert.

There were no reserved seats, but the large audience was looked after with cars and each one made comfortable by a picked quartette of ushers, composed of Philip O. Felts, Elmer Brokenshire, Albert G. Rutherford and Emmons Peck. The Emergency hospital will net a substantial sum from the benefit concert. The use of the opera house was donated by Manager Byrne. stage settlings were rich and the platform was lavishly decorated with flowers. The programme follows:

Ever on the Alert-Alive to Every Form of Oppression - Kept on Edge-Burdened Beyond Endurance--Nerves Give Out.

The machinery of a mill that grinds day and night has to shut down now and then for repairs. It is the same with your nerves. Overwork, close application, our ways of fiving bring about nerve waste that sets up symptoms of various kinds. It may be failing strength, weakness, languor, headauhe, sleeplessness, etc. Whatever it is, nerve force is lacking and the means of restoring rests with Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. A great many people in Scranton vouch for this. Nerve Pills are fine. I was all out of

REBUTTAL EVIDENCE.

Chief of Police McAndrew Still Working on the Mohrs Case.

On Monday evening Chief McAndrew appeared before Alderman Jones and offered testimony in rebuttal against Harry Williams, who was charged last week with having been implicated in the attempted burglary on John Mohr's store. Williams was also present, and presented a much better appearance than he did when arraigned ast Thursday, having recovered from his debauch and cleaned up to a spickand-span condition.

At the hearing held last week, Williams presented an alibi, saving he had registered in a hotel in Scranton on the night of the burglary. McAndrew went down to Scranton and saw the entry made by Williams, but to his mind it was suspicious, and he so reported it. Williams was allowed to go to his home in Forest City, how-

On Monday night the chief produced witness who testified that on the night in question Williams was in Frank Brown's restaurant and left half an hour or so before the police were notified of the burglary by A. W. Reynolds. By this testimony the chief hoped to show that Williams had a motive in arranging an alibi. Williams claimed that if his companion of that night in Scranton could be found he could prove his alibi, and the alderman held him under $300 bonds to appear again on Friday.

TWO NEW DRIFTS.

Delaware and Hudson Company to

Tap Top Vein on South Side. The Delaware and Hudson company is opening up two new drifts on the south side, which give promise of employment to a number of men. One of the drifts begins near the property of Henry McLaughlin, and the other one at what is known as the swamp, near No. 1 mine. These drifts are being driven to reach the top vein of coal and an outcropping of what is known as the fourteen-foot vein. These veins are not over five feet in depth, and owing to the stony nature of the ground above the work will be very

In some places there is little or no on rock and in others it is of a very shaly naturé, making extra close propping and more than usual care neces sary. One of the drifts has already been run over 300 feet through the gravel and no coal has yet been found, but it is thought it will soon be discovered. The coal from both these nev drifts, with that from the Laurel Hill vein, will be taken to the new breaker at No. 1. Tracks will be laid as soon as the coal is struck. "A POOR RELATION."

Sol. Smith Russell's Play at the Grand Tonight.

Frank Keenan will appear in that horoughly good play "A Poor Relation" at the Grand Opera House tonight. Mr. Keenan has been meeting with wonderful success in this play. In selecting an actor for the part of Noah Vale in "A Poor Relation," Mr. Russell recognized sterling qualities in Mr. Keenan, with whom a long contract has been signed. Former members of Mr. Russell's own company, together with all the new original scenery, properties and stage settings from the original models will be seen in Mr. Keenan's production. The rehearsals were conducted by Mr. Russell himself.

An Artistic Clerk. The county commissioners have left he city building, having finished up their two days' session here: But few appeals were presented to them yesterday from the taxpayers of Carbondale and Fell townships, Jermyn, Mayneld and Vandling. But though the commissioners and their stuff of clerks have departed, they are not likely to be forgotten by the councilmen. The chairman's desk, in the select council com was marked in several place. with the name of one of the county commissioners and his clerk, and on all four sides of the marble gavel block some one had gotten in his artistic work as a pen and ink sketcher. A number of the members' desks were ilso badly marked. As the county officials had the free use of the room only through the courtesy of the counilmen, this bad usage of their privieges is resented by the councilmen.

An Industrious Councilman.

Thomas Murphy, member of the ommon council, from the Fourth ward. deserves credit for his attendance at Monday night's meeting of that body. Writes of Life in Those Islands. Edgar R. Jones, a Carbondale boy who has been three years in the United States army and is now at Mauban. P. I., with Company A, Fifteenth United States infantry, has sent the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Jones, of 87 Washington street, this city. The letter left Manila on March 22 and arrived here on April 22, very quick time. It is as

"Mauban, P. L. March 12, '01, "Dear Father, Mother and Brothers: received your kind and long-looked for letter and was glad to hear you were in good health, as I am at this writing. Well, folks, my time is getting a little shorter, but eight months over here is a long time. This place is something frightful; there is no excitement at all; there is no fighting in this town. We have not heard one shot since we have been here, only at the target range. The company has been out three or four times looking for the niggers, but can't find them. "I wish I was back in the United States once more. I have had enough of foreign countries. This place is on the seashore. A boat comes in every two or three months. I was very sorry to hear of Watkins' death must have been a terrible shock to his folks. I should have liked to have been there for the funeral. You were saying something about Dan Miles. He vas discharged when we were at Plattsburg for being hard of hearing. I wish you would send me the Trainmen's Journal, for I would like something to read. We have a library, but we don't get much news. You might send a few Scranton Tribunes or Leaders also.

"I should like to have got something in China to bring home to you, but I had no place to carry anything. That place was one of the worst I ever saw. Dirty was no name for it, and all of the soldiers that were there, except the American and English, were just as bad as the Chinese. And the Christians—they had ought to be all tarred and feathered. They had ought to take them and burn them at the stake. They are no good; all they are after s the money.

"There is a boat coming in the harbor now. You were asking me if I had seen Dr. Jenkins. No, I did not, but I know he was there. He was in the general hospital in Tien-Tsin, China met a young fellow by the name of Patten. He used to work in Joe Kelley's drug store. He is in the dispensary there. Will you send me that paper with Dr. Jenkins' letter in it? would like to see it. Give my best regards to Utley and Tom. Tell them am in the best of health. Do you I can get a job around there when I get back. If so, I will come back as soon as I can. Love to all.

CAR RAN AMUCK.

A Freight Car on the O. & W. Caused Considerable Damage.

A freight car that was being let down the heavy grade to the Ontario and Western freight house on Monday night got beyond control of the crew and gaining great headway crashed over the backstop and fell down the embankment to Dundaff street. The heavy stop, made of steel rails and heavy oak timbers, was completely demolished and both trucks were torn from the car. The wrecking gang was called out. but the car was not got back on the rails again until nearly 8 o'clock yesterday morning. Another car broke loose on the incline earlier on Monday. but did not cause much damage. The backstop will be at once replaced and the other damage repaired.

There was never a play produced on the American stage that has enjoyed the popularity, that is so favorably known, or that has been accorded the patronage by to large a percentage of the general public as the dramatization of Harriet Beecher Stowe's immortal story, "Uncle Tom's Cabin." and it is said that no organization presenting this beautiful drama ever contained so much real merit in so many features as Stetson's big double "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, which appears at the Grand on Friday. There is no question but that the audience will be large on that occasion.

Prominent members of the clergy are giving Peruna their unqualified endorsement.
