FUNERAL OF MRS. CAWLEY

Solemn Requiem Mass in St. Mary's Church, Dunmore - Monsignor Garvey the Celebrant.

It is not often that a person is laid in their grave with such general and unmistakable evidences of sorrow as were evident yesterday morning at the funeral of Mrs. Matthew P. Cawley. whose death Saturday night was such sad intelligence to her hundreds of admiring friends in this city and throughout this part of the state.

The residence at 219 North Main avenue was thronged yesterday morning with the friends who came to pay their final tribute of respect. In a casket, which was surrounded by beautiful flowers, lay the remains robed in the beautiful bridal gown in which less than a year ago she was raised to the dignity of a wife. Tears were copiously shed as the sad line of friends passed through the room and for the ast time gazed on the lovely features of the dead.

At 9.30 the funeral procession moved to St. Mary's church at Dunmore, where a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Monsignor E. A. Garvey, of Pittston, uncle of the de-ceased. Rev. M. F. Crane, of Avoca, was deacon Rev. M. E. Loftus, of Green Ridge, sub-deacon, and Rev. P. E. Lavelle, master of ceremonies.

At the offertory Miss Cordelia Freeman sang the "Ave Marie," accompanied on the violin by Miss Julia C. Allen. The church choir sang Peter's requiem mass, and as the remains were being removed from the church Miss Sallie Gilligan rendered a solo. The final absolution was given by Monsignor Garvey. Present in the sanctuary during the mass were Fathers O'Malley. Kingston: Dunn. Wilkes Gaegel, Wilkes-Barre; Gerrity, Ralston: Shields, Bentley Creek; Quinnan, Pittston: Jordan, Old Forge; Goslin, Old Forge; Feeley, Nicholson; Burke, Wilkes-Barre: McDonnell, Bellevue; Ruddy, Hyde Park: O'Reilly and Griffin, eathedral; Dixon, Carbondale; O'Toole and McManus, Providence: Lodro, Hyde Park: Melley, South Side Donlin and Millane, Dunmore.

At the conclusion of the mass the re mains were borne to the cemetery in the rear of the church, where interment was made in the family plot. The pallbearers were Dr. F. L. McGraw, Dr. Walter Reedy, Dr. John McGrath, W F. Shean, Edward Horan, of this city and Daniel Lynch, of New York. Ush. ers at the church were John A. Horan and Paul J. Corey.

Many of the business places of Dunmore were closed yesterday morning because of the funeral.

Among the out-of-town people who attended the funeral were the following from Williamsport: Mrs. Cather-Curtin and daughters, Catherine and Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Sheehan and Walter H. McEvilla.

Col-vin, John McCabe and Phil Coyne, Mr. Nash has just added, by the kindness of Conrad Schroeder, the Aldine, of twenty large rooms, and Mr. Schroeder is putting them in good repair by plastering, papering and painting the same, which will be in good order by the 1st of May, and will make sixty good and pleasant rooms, and the two will be run as one. The present clerk is Mr. Gus Bank, a pleasant and agreeable gentleman. The steward is Mr. Rupert H. Thomas: the cook is Miss Sabina McHugh. The dining room is run by girls who thoroughly understand their line of business. The new addition to The Nash will be furnished with new carpets and new furniture.

The prices are moderate and well calculated for transient guests and family boarders.

Four of the fourteen couples were Scranton parties who got married in Binghamton.

A RECORD-BREAKER

One of the cases is pretty much of n record breaker in the matter of rushing things. William Morris, of Olyphant, came home drunk Feb. 13, 1901, and beat his wife. The next day she had Atttorney J. J. O'Malley apply for a divorce for her. Yesterday she received her divorce decree,

L. Belle De Sylvia, of Duncannon Perry county, was married to Henry G. De Svlvia, Nov. 5, 1892, at Altoona. They lived in Philadelphia for a time and then she was deserted. She came to Scranton in January, 1900, and proceeded to get a divorce. Through Attorneys Nosburg & Dawson she made application on Feb. 7, 1901. Now she s divorced. She is attending the Scranton business college. Her husband is now in Buffalo.

Mary S. Weed and George E. Weed were married at Binghamton, July 24. 1893, by Rev. A. D. Alexander. They were both residents of the city and after their marriage went to board at Mrs. Kreiss' house, in Kressler court They could not get along well and after a year separated. A little time passed and they made up again. Three years ago they separated again and since then he has contribtued nothing to her suppport. Cruel and barbarous treatment is alleged as the ground for Weed is a coaheman. Mrs. Weed is living with her mother, Mrs. Barbara Hartmann, of 856 Capous avenue. John H. Bonner was her at Laura Hansen married Ferdinand Hansen, of Archbald, eight years ago in Binghamton. He deserted her three years ago in Baltimore. She came here and applied for a divorce, through Attorney C. A. Battenberg, on Dec 22, 1900.

Jan. 7, 1895, Frank Hunt and Elizabeth Vetty ran up from Brown Hollow to Windsor, near Binghamton, and were married. April 19, 1899, she told him she had been seen in the company of another man and never could stay about there and hear the neighbors talking about her misconduct. She decamped with the other man. W. S. Hulslander was Hunt's attorney.

Martin Bliss, of 428 North Eighth treet, was married to Elva E. Bliss, Oct. 10, 1878, by Rev. S. F. Wright, at Pleasant Mount. They came to live in this city and got along fairly well to gether nutil 1893, when the wife tired of housework and took the road as an agent for patent medicines. The husband protested and she quit him altogether. L. P. Weedman helped the husband secure his divorce.

Annie Humphreys and Alfred Humphreys were married in Providence. Oct. 16, 1895, by Rev. Newman Matthews. In 1896 they went to Wales and there he deserted her. AUDIT. OR NO AUDIT.

Difference of Opinion as to How Bills of the City Will Be Passed in the Future.

The question as to whether or not bills and other claims against the city shall in the future as in the past be approved before payment by a joint auditing committee of councils is just now being widely discussed in and cround city hall.

Those who contend that the auditng committee of councils is dispensed with in cities of the second class point o Pittsburg and Allegheny, where the signature of the head of the department who contracted the bill is all that is required on a bill before a warrant is drawn for the amount. Those who contend that the auditing ommittee holds over point to the resdution passed by councils a number of years ago creating the committee and say that before the committee can be dispensed with this resolution will have to be repealed. They, of course, assume that ex-City Solicitor Vosburg is correct in contending that all ordinances and resolutions passed while Scranton was a third class city remain in force and are binding where they do not conflict with the "ripper" bill. A resolution will be offered in select equincil on Thursday night asking him length and declares that he can not for a written opinion on this question for the purpose of settling the status of the auditing committee. It would appear that while before Scranton entered the second class It was the opinion of the framers of the reorganization ordinance that it would be wise to dispense with the auditing committee, there is now apparent a reversal of sentiment on this point on the part of these same gentlemen. One of them stated yesterday that after consulting with several of the leading councilmen he felt convinced that it would be very unwise to do away with the auditing committee. "It gives the members of council." said he, "a chance to get an insight into just how the city's money is being expended that it would be impossiole to obtain otherwise, and that's a most valuable thing. Then again the prices for the various things which the ity buys have got to be pretty nearly right before they can pass the careful scrutiny of a dozen or more council men, all engaged in different lines of business and possessing a composite knowledge of market prices which no one city official could ever expect to

ASK FOR AN

TAXPAYERS OF LACKAWANNA TOWNSHIP OBJECT.

Do Not Want the Present Mincoka School Building Removed and a More Costly Structure Erected in Its Place-Judge Albright Refuses to Strike Off the Non-Suit in the Sears Case Against City-Cases That Were Dealt with in Argu-

Hon. John P. Quinnan, representing Cornelius Dolan and Patrick J. Diskin, who claim to represent many of their fellow-taxpayers of Lackawana township, petitioned court yesterday for an injunction to prevent the proposed taking away of the present Minooka school building and the raising in its place of a new and costly structure.

The petitioners claim that the new school is not immediately necessary; that it is not to be centrally located; that the board has no title to the lot on which it is to be built; that the contract was improperly awarded, and that the expense of the new building will increase the township debt beyond the two per cent. limit.

It is alleged that the bid of Taylor & Tubbs for erecting the superstructure was $1,350 less than that of Mulherin & Judge, who were awarded the contract, and that there was no reason why the lower bid should not have been accepted.

The superstructure is to cost $12,500; the foundation, $3,100, and the plumbing, $3,984. When the building is complete it will cost, so the petitioners state, $25,000. The township has a floating debt of $2,000, and bonded debt of $14,000, which with the cost of the new school make a total indebtedness of $41,000. There is only $13,000 in the treasury, and $4,000 of this must be used during the year for salaries and other current expenses.

The assessed valuation is $751,000 Two per cent. of this is $15,020. The difference between this and the $32,000. the amount of the proposed deficit, can not be incurred as a debt, the petitioners claim, without the consent of the electors, and this consent has never been given. In view of all this, and the fact that a special levy must be made to meet the $40,000 municipal debt of the township, the petitioners ask the court to put a stop to the building of the new school. A rule to show cause why an injunction should not issue was made returnable next Monday morning at 9 o'clock. It is directed to the school district of Lackawanna township, School Directors Thomas King, Thomas F. Coyne, John Fitzhenry, John Joyce, James Durkin and Thomas Sullivan. Contractors Mulherin & Judge, O'Boyle and Donahoe, Michael Eagan and G. F. Barker.

Will Not Reverse Himself. Judge Edwin Albright, of Lehigh

county, yesterday transmitted to Prothonotary Copeland an opinion in the case of C. H. Sears against the city of Scranton, in which he refuses strike off the non-suit granted at the original trial of the case.

Sears was driving along West Mar ket street, towards his home in Clark's Summit, June 17, 1898. A gang of city workmen were employed in repairing the road and were making use of the stam road roller. When Sears' team came within six hundred yards of the road roller, they became frightened and reared on their hind feet. They were quieted after a time, and as Sears started them up the road roller was brought to a stop. Where the roller was brought to a stop there was a wagon unloading stone. Sears did not wait for this wagon to be gotten out of the way, but attempted to get by on the opposite side, where the road was rough and uneven. Just as his team was abreast of the roller, it automatically let off steam, through the safety valve, and the loud hissing sound caused the Sears team to suddenly swerve. The carriage was overturned and Sears was thrown out and hadly injured. He sued for $19,000 damages. Judge Albright granted a non-suit on the ground that Sears was guilty of centributory negligence, and that the city employes were in no wise negligent. A rule to strike off the non-suif was allowed, and at a recent term of argument court was argued at length before Judge Albright. In the opinion filed yesterday, he revelews the case at bring himself to see that he did not do right in granting the non-suit,
