PITTSTON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

Pittston, April 23.—Thomas Maughan, for the past four year chef at the Britigan Dining Room, has accepted a similar position with E. L. Van Valkenberg.

The nuptial sensation of the season here was the marriage of James B. Gilboy, justice of the peace at Duryea, to Miss Agnes Glennon, sister of Joseph Glennnon, of the Central Brewing company. The wedding took place this morning at 5.30 o'clock in St. John's Roman Catholic church, this city, Rev. Father Quinnan officiating. The wedding was an exceedingly quiet affair being in opposition to the wishes of the members of the bride's family. The bride's costume was a blue traveling suit of Empress cloth, tailor made, and her maid, her neice Miss Louise Gibbons, wore a gown of blue broadcloth. Mr. Gilboy, a nephew of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony, the bridal party was driven to Scranton, where they took breakfast at Hotel Jermyn, in company with Dr. and Mrs. Kearney, of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Gilboy are enjoyig a bridal tour in the municipalities of the east, and upon their return, two weeks hence, will be at home in Duryea.

The Hillside Coal and Iron company has commenced to lay bare the upper coal seams at the Chapman colliery of the old Butler Coal company, preparatory to mining the coal by the "stripping" process.

John Mullen, of Market street, was run down by a cab on Broad street, Cork Lane, Sunday night, about 10 o'clock. Although rendered unconscious for a time, his injuries are not considered serious.

By the will of the late Mrs. Mary A. Bevan, of West Pittsten, admitted to probate Saturday, $5,000 is placed in the hands of I. L. Hand, in trust for William Bevan. The balance of the estate is divided among the remaining children. The estate is valued at $7,300. Dr. Benjamin Bevan has been appointed administrator for William Bevan.

The capacity of the Luzerne Avenue Baptist church, West Pittston, was insufficient to accommodate the large number of people who gathered to attend the memorial services for the late Theodorus Hart, Sunday evening. The service was of a very impressive nature, and the characteristics which had won for the deceased the high esteem of a wide acquaintanceship were extoled in a touching manner by those intimate with him in various walks of life. The life of Mr. Hart was viewed from four standpoints, as follows: As an employer, by Hon. E. A. Coray; as a citizen, by C. C. Bowman; as a friend, by Rev. D. M. George; and by Rev. S. J. Arthur, as his pastor.

County Recorder L. P. Holcomb's little five-months-old son had a narrow escape from death a few days ago in a peculiar manner. The infant was lying in a crib, when a sister playfully put an iron "jack" in his mouth, and the child attempted to swallow it. The jack became lodged in the little one's throat and was removed after twenty minutes of hard work. The child was in a critical condition for a few days afterward, but was much improved today.

A horse owned by Liveryman James Fitzpatrick pushed a dumping cart over the river bank yesterday morning and was dragged with it into the water and drowned.

In the case of L. E. and Maude Girton vs. Lehigh Valley Railroad company, an appeal from a judgment of the court of common pleas of Wyoming county, entered on a verdict for the plaintiff, the Supreme court on Monday handed down an opinion sustaining the judgment of the court below. This will be remembered as the case resulting from the accidental killing of the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Girton at the defendant company's station at Ransom, about two years ago, while attempting to cross the company's tracks, after being landed from a north-bound train, in company with his mother. They were struck by the Black Diamond express, the little boy cruelly mangled and the mother seriously injured. Another case for injuries to the mother is pending in the Superior court. The railroad company insisted that the plaintiffs were trespassers, in attempting to cross where they did, because they were discharged passengers when they were landed on the platform on the east side of the tracks.

Lyman G. Miner, of Eatonville, was severely and dangerously injured on Monday while driving down Lane Hill, near this town. His horses took fright at something, and Mr. Miner was thrown from the wagon. He became entangled in the wheel, and it was some time before he could be extricated. He was unconscious for a long time. He is now much improved and will recover.

TODAY'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—"The Heart of Maryland." Night.
ACADEMY—Tommy Shearer company. Matinee and night.
GAIETY—Little Egypt Burlesque company. Matinee and night.

"The Heart of Maryland."

With every recurrent dramatic season, in the succession of attractions offered, there are always one or two, or perhaps three or four, which, by their story, their characters, abiding heart interest and scenic attractions, have attained a permanent hold upon popular favor and the stage. Season after season they return again only to be the more welcomed and impress their many events and characters the more indelibly upon the memory of their audiences.

Foremost among these is David Belasco's "The Heart of Maryland," which, it is announced, will be presented here at the Lyceum tonight. The cast will include a capable company specially engaged for this season by the author to interpret the many strongly individual characters that have as their mission the narration and development of the story to its effectively brilliant finale. There is every promise that the repetition of its performances here will arouse among our play goers the same quality of enthusiasm which its first production here obtained.

"Janice Merdith."

Frank McKee's production of "Janice Meredith," in which he presents his new star, Mary Mannering, in the title role, is said to be one of the most sumptuously mounted dramatic productions now touring the country. It has certainly proved one of the most successful this season. It was produced in Buffalo Oct. 1 and made an electrical hit. From that time until Dec. 10 it was played in such cities as Indianapolis, Columbus, St. Louis, Baltimore, Washington and Providence.

Its popularity can be judged from the fact that Miss Mannering's box office receipts during her week in St. Louis exceeded $12,000. She made a continuous run of three months at Wallack's theatre, in New York city, and followed this engagement by a month at the Walnut Street theatre, in Philadelphia. During her entire run at wallack's theatre, in New York, her receipts exceeded $10,000 a week. This is a record made by no other theatrical attraction in New York this season. This attraction will be presented at the Lyceum tomorrow night.

"A Poor Relation."

Every indication points to a large advance sale of seats for what is the most notable event of the present season, the performance of Sol Smith Russell's delightful play, "A Poor Relation," at the Lyceum Friday night. As most play-goers know, it is full of humorous lines and situations that ingeniously and irresistibly compel alternate laughter and tears; but laughter greatly predominates.

The scene of the breakfast in the first act, the pathetic squalor of act second, with its silver lining of sad drollery, and the doings and sayings of Noah Vale, and the children, make up an exceptionally appealing and effective play.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Colonel Sawyer's great pack of genuine Siberian bloodhounds are beyond question the finest lot of canines of that strain ever found in this country. They are somewhat larger than our Rocky Mountain lions and much more strongly made, but when aroused or on a trail have all the fleetness and activity of these animals.

These famous hounds are touring with Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company this season, and will appear at the Lyceum on Saturday afternoon and night, when this great organization plays here. Watch for the big street parade.

Will Remain for the Week.

The "Little Egypt" burlesquers who are now filling an engagament at the Gaiety, have been disappointed in securing the three days commencing Thursday at Atlantic City, and as Manager Herrington had no attraction for that period, he has consented to allow the "Egypt Burlesquers" to remain the balance of the week, the company making a complete change of programme during the additional three days. "Little Egypt" will positively appear at every performance, and as an additional attraction Manager Herrington has designated Thursday night as "Amateur night," when a limited number of local acts will be presented. Local amateurs who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity can make arrangements by applying at the box office at once.

On Friday evening John Langan, of Jessup, will wrestle with a party, at present unknown, but who is strongly recommended by those who wish to arrange the match. Several contests are in preparation and efforts are being made to have Sam Hogins, who lately threw Kid Lesler, the champion lightweight, at the Gaiety theater, meet several local parties.

Mr. Langan is the wrestler who a short time ago "stayed" a considerable time with Leo Pardello, and caused that famous athlete considerable worriment before he succeeded in downing him.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, April 23.—Today's stock market presented even more variety than that of yesterday, although the high record of transactions established yesterday was not disturbed by today's business. Dealings were on a smaller scale. In fact it was not until the urgent selling movement of the last hour had gained full headway that the market presented anything like the animation which characterized it yesterday. Although the market closed at net declines throughout, extending in some cases to 3 or 4 points or even more, there was a time during the morning when the level of prices was materially higher than yesterday and the market had the appearance of a full resumption of the bull speculation. The high priced railroad stocks continued to be the principal subject on the speculation especially St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific. Atchison preferred had a strong upward movement and there were points of strength among the Southwesterns. Burlington and Northern Pacific were strong and held better than the average of stocks in the late break. Among the specialties Amalgamated Copper recovered quite vigorously from yesterday's depression and United States Steel stocks made a show of strength for the first time in several days. These were the principal centers of the early strength in the market but their influence was radiated pretty generally through the list. It would be somewhat difficult to assign causes for the early strength or the late weakness, as it seemed to depend little on news of the day. The motives of the traders were confined for the most part to fears or suspicions of what others were doing. The report that the price of steel rails was to be advanced to $28 per ton was the cause of the advance in United States Steel, although professional manipulation was much in evidence, as it was in all parts of the market. The success of the bulls in getting prices up was offset by the very heavy offerings to realize attracted by the advance. This was especially so in the United States Steel stocks. Bear selling also became very bold and extensive when the futility of the bull efforts to sustain the market began to be seen. The closing was weak at the lowest and showed such violent declines from the top level as 5½ Sugar, 4¾ in St. Paul, 4¼ in Brooklyn Transit, 4 in Consolidated Gas, 4½ in Rock Island and from 1 to over 3 points in long list of important stocks. Total sales today, 1,805,000 shares. The bond market was active and irregular. Total sales, par value, $4,950,000. United States 4s coupon declined ¼ on the last call.
