

Office: BURKE BUILDING. Carbondale Department. Phone: NEW, 286 OLD, 0423.

VISITS HOME OF LONG AGO.

Ex-Senator Severance, of Minnesota, and Daughter in Carbondale Enjoying Scenes of Earlier Days.

Among the guests at the American House last week were Hon. E. S. Severance, of St. Paul, former state senator from Minnesota, and his daughter, Miss Carrie A. Severance, of New York city, whose visit will interest many Carbondale residents.

Mr. Severance left Carbondale a half century ago, when there was no industry when this city had about passed its first birthday. He was employed at the time in the general store of E. B. Watt, and a fellow clerk was F. W. White.

A SUDDEN DEATH.

Charles K. O'Malley, of Scranton, Well-Known Here, Expired Saturday.

Quite a shock was caused on Saturday afternoon to the many friends of Charles K. O'Malley, of Scranton, who was very well known here, by the announcement of his death. Mr. O'Malley was superintendent of the traction department of the Scranton Traction Co. He resided at 162 Gibson street, that city.

Mr. O'Malley had been suffering from a severe cold for about six weeks and on Friday and Saturday his condition was rapidly deteriorating. He was a brother of Martin T. O'Malley who has been in charge of the Carbondale department of the Traction Co. for the past few days.

THE NEW STREET LAMPS.

The First Exhibition of the Sample Gas Lights a Success.

The six Welsbach street lamps that have been erected by the Carbondale Gas company at points in the city to demonstrate before the council and the citizens generally their efficiency for street lighting purposes, got their initial test on Saturday evening.

TOLD IN SCRANTON.

It's the Evidence of Scranton People Published in Scranton Papers That Has Made Such a Reputation for Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills.

Standing clear and distinct, marking the difference, the superior merit, the adaptability to present-day ailments is the volume of local testimony for Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. It's so different to the ordinary remedies referring to cures made at distant points which it is hard to verify. There is a reason for this. Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills commanding home evidence wherever they are known. It is their wonderful influence in bringing up the standard of nerve force.

Meetings Tonight.

Select council. School board. Olive Leaf lodge, No. 156, I. O. O. F. Federal union, No. 1201, Branch 168, N. A. L. Young Men's Institute. Merchants' association. Patriotic Order Sons of America. Journeymen's Barbers' union.

At the Opera House.

Saturday—"Way Down East."

A Missionary from China.

Mrs. Alice Maudsley, a missionary from northern China, gave an address at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning. She was in Tien-Tsin during the Boxer uprising and her description of the three weeks of imminent peril was thrilling.

Improvements at the Depot.

A number of improvements are being carried out in front of the depot of the Delaware and Hudson. A gang of men are hard at work digging up the soil between the platform and the tracks, for the purpose of raising the ground level. New rails are to be laid, replacing the present ones, and when the job is completed the long stop from the cars to the ground will be materially shortened.

Contemplating Improvements.

The Maplewood Cemetery association is endeavoring to secure land to enlarge their burying grounds. It is said they have received an option on the estate lying immediately to the north of the cemetery, but that for certain reasons it will be impossible to transfer the deeds for several months. Other improvements are contemplated which will improve the grounds.

Have Commenced Audit.

The poor board auditors, Messrs. H. B. Jadin, C. H. Horton and John E. Wheeler, have commenced the work of auditing the accounts of the board for the twelve months preceding April 1, 1901. It is scarcely probable that the auditors will have so many difficulties to contend with this year as they did with the expenditures of the old board.

A Sermon for the Knights.

In accordance with their usual custom, Pastoral commandery, No. 14, Knights Templar, will attend church in a body on the evening of May 16, (Ascension Day) Holy Thursday. The Knights will be attending in their full dress uniforms. The First congregational church, Rev. M. C. Elliott, pastor will be the scene of their devotions this year.

A Grand Ball.

Carbondale council, No. 329, Knights of Columbus, will celebrate the third anniversary of the council by a grand ball, which is to be given in the Burke building on Wednesday evening, May 8, Frank Clifford is grand knight. It is said that the affair will be the finest affair of its kind given in Carbondale this season.

A Position in Scranton.

M. O. Sabin has accepted a position in the clothing department of Samter Brothers' store in Scranton. He left for the Electric City on Saturday. Mr. Sabin's friends will be pleased to learn that he has recovered his health so as to be able to resume his business career.

Will Celebrate Anniversary.

The anniversary of the Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church will occur next Sunday. To commemorate it, special exercises will be held at the church that evening. Prof. Gray, of Hartford, will deliver an address, and there will be other interesting features.

Birthday Party.

Trinity Sunday school held a birthday party on Friday night, in the parish house. Each one paid as many cents as he or she was years old, to gain admission. Games and other amusements were provided, ice cream and cake were served.

Have Changed Lodge Room.

Fidelity lodge, No. 129, Improved order of Heptasophs, have changed their place of meeting from Cambrian hall to the J. E. Watt hall, corner of Second and Main streets, which they will occupy for the first time on next Wednesday evening.

A Growing Organization.

The Carbondale Cycle club has eight applications for membership on its bulletin board, on which action will be taken a week from tomorrow night. The organization is growing with rapidity.

Changed Their Quarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Lobshire, who have been boarding at the home of Mrs. Webb, on Lincoln avenue, have taken quarters in the Anthracite, and are located there now.

Home from College.

Dr. Ernest Dowton is home from the McLeod-Chirurgical college at Philadelphia. He expects to spend the summer months in Carbondale.

A Belated Attack of Grip.

Patrick P. Fox, the always genial clerk at the postoffice, was compelled to lay off from work on Saturday, on account of a severe attack of grip.

To Be a Drug Clerk.

Bogd Oliver has resigned his position with E. H. Stone, and accepted a position with A. W. Reynolds, the druggist.

Sung Vespers.

Yesterday being the first Sunday in the month, vespers were sung at St. Rose church at 7 p. m.

"An Aged Folks' Meeting."

At the First Congregational church yesterday morning the services took the form of an "aged folks' meeting," and were conducted as in the days of yore. The theme of the sermon was,

"A Ripe Life." A number of time-honored, old-fashioned hymns were sung by the congregation, while the choir rendered some special selections.

Is in Scranton. Martin T. O'Malley in Scranton, called there by the death of his brother, Charles K. O'Malley.

Born.

To Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibbs, of Park street, a son.

The Passing Throng.

Mrs. E. Polley and daughter, Flossie, have returned to their home in Seelyville after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Abbey, of this city.

At the Opera House.

Saturday—"Way Down East."

A Missionary from China.

Mrs. Alice Maudsley, a missionary from northern China, gave an address at the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning. She was in Tien-Tsin during the Boxer uprising and her description of the three weeks of imminent peril was thrilling.

Improvements at the Depot.

A number of improvements are being carried out in front of the depot of the Delaware and Hudson. A gang of men are hard at work digging up the soil between the platform and the tracks, for the purpose of raising the ground level. New rails are to be laid, replacing the present ones, and when the job is completed the long stop from the cars to the ground will be materially shortened.

Contemplating Improvements.

The Maplewood Cemetery association is endeavoring to secure land to enlarge their burying grounds. It is said they have received an option on the estate lying immediately to the north of the cemetery, but that for certain reasons it will be impossible to transfer the deeds for several months. Other improvements are contemplated which will improve the grounds.

Have Commenced Audit.

The poor board auditors, Messrs. H. B. Jadin, C. H. Horton and John E. Wheeler, have commenced the work of auditing the accounts of the board for the twelve months preceding April 1, 1901. It is scarcely probable that the auditors will have so many difficulties to contend with this year as they did with the expenditures of the old board.

A Sermon for the Knights.

In accordance with their usual custom, Pastoral commandery, No. 14, Knights Templar, will attend church in a body on the evening of May 16, (Ascension Day) Holy Thursday. The Knights will be attending in their full dress uniforms. The First congregational church, Rev. M. C. Elliott, pastor will be the scene of their devotions this year.

A Grand Ball.

Carbondale council, No. 329, Knights of Columbus, will celebrate the third anniversary of the council by a grand ball, which is to be given in the Burke building on Wednesday evening, May 8, Frank Clifford is grand knight. It is said that the affair will be the finest affair of its kind given in Carbondale this season.

A Position in Scranton.

M. O. Sabin has accepted a position in the clothing department of Samter Brothers' store in Scranton. He left for the Electric City on Saturday. Mr. Sabin's friends will be pleased to learn that he has recovered his health so as to be able to resume his business career.

Will Celebrate Anniversary.

The anniversary of the Epworth League of the First Methodist Episcopal church will occur next Sunday. To commemorate it, special exercises will be held at the church that evening. Prof. Gray, of Hartford, will deliver an address, and there will be other interesting features.

Birthday Party.

Trinity Sunday school held a birthday party on Friday night, in the parish house. Each one paid as many cents as he or she was years old, to gain admission. Games and other amusements were provided, ice cream and cake were served.

Have Changed Lodge Room.

Fidelity lodge, No. 129, Improved order of Heptasophs, have changed their place of meeting from Cambrian hall to the J. E. Watt hall, corner of Second and Main streets, which they will occupy for the first time on next Wednesday evening.

A Growing Organization.

The Carbondale Cycle club has eight applications for membership on its bulletin board, on which action will be taken a week from tomorrow night. The organization is growing with rapidity.

Changed Their Quarters.

Mr. and Mrs. Lobshire, who have been boarding at the home of Mrs. Webb, on Lincoln avenue, have taken quarters in the Anthracite, and are located there now.

Home from College.

Dr. Ernest Dowton is home from the McLeod-Chirurgical college at Philadelphia. He expects to spend the summer months in Carbondale.

A Belated Attack of Grip.

Patrick P. Fox, the always genial clerk at the postoffice, was compelled to lay off from work on Saturday, on account of a severe attack of grip.

To Be a Drug Clerk.

Bogd Oliver has resigned his position with E. H. Stone, and accepted a position with A. W. Reynolds, the druggist.

Sung Vespers.

Yesterday being the first Sunday in the month, vespers were sung at St. Rose church at 7 p. m.

"An Aged Folks' Meeting."

At the First Congregational church yesterday morning the services took the form of an "aged folks' meeting," and were conducted as in the days of yore. The theme of the sermon was,

TEETH. We extract teeth, fill teeth, and apply gold crowns and bridge work, with the least pain, by a method patented and used by us only. Note Our Prices for Perfect, Painless Dentistry. Full Set Teeth (that fit) $5.00. Gold Fillings $1.00. Silver Fillings .50. Gold Crowns $3.00 to $5.00. Teeth Without Plates $5.00. Cleaning Teeth 50c. FREE NO CHARGE FOR PAINLESS EXTRACT-FREE NO PAIN. The White Dental Parlors. WE MAKE A SPECIALTY OF Gold Crown and Bridge Work. This is a system for inserting artificial teeth where one or more are missing without the use of a plate.

return to Niagara Falls, where they have secured employment.

There will be a regular meeting of the borough council this evening. Kizer's pond in Wayne county is the mecca for fishermen hereabouts. On Saturday Messrs. Dwight, Boardley, Walter, Lloyd, William Vandervoort and Gilbert Pierce drove to that popular fishing resort and with all kinds of bait and fishing tackle tried to drain the pond of fish. The result of the expedition consisted of eighteen suckers, four bluegills and the South Scranton men are very confident of winning and scoring for the disgrace of their recent defeats on the Backus alleys.

JESSUP.

Owing to some misunderstanding, the contests which were to be decided last Wednesday were postponed until next Thursday evening. Rev. E. J. Lafferty requests every contestant to be in readiness by Thursday evening, as all the contests will close that evening. A first-class entertainment is being prepared for that night and the good time is in store for those who attend. Admission only 10 cents.

OLYPHANT.

The ladies of the initial society of the Blackly Baptist church will serve supper in the social rooms of the church next Thursday evening from 6 o'clock to 9 o'clock, for the small sum of 25 cents. Ice cream will also be sold. W. W. Adair, general secretary of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association of Scranton, addressed a very large and attentive congregation at the Presbyterian church last evening. Joseph Glennen, of Carbondale, was a visitor in town yesterday. Mr. Thomas Williamson, of Hyde Park, spent yesterday with relatives here.

BASE BALL.

American League.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. At Milwaukee..... R. H. E. Milwaukee..... 0 1 0 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 25 1 Chicago..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 Batteries—Hustings, Rely and Conroy; Peterson and Sullivan. Umpire—Conroy. Attendance—8,000.

Two Interesting Contests in the Armory Saturday Night.

Two interesting basket ball games were played at the armory Saturday night, where Tigie's gymnasium team defeated the North Scranton Stars by the score of 85 to 45. The Orientals bested the Park Hill Stars to the tune of 7-8. The first match, between the Stars and gymnasiums, was characterized by a deal of lively, energetic playing.

BOWLING NOTES.

DETRICK STILL IN JAIL.

Slayer of Chester Staples Not Admitted to Bail.

Depue Detrick, of Spragueville, has not yet been admitted to bail. The man is charged with the shooting of Chester Staples, at Spragueville, some weeks ago. His attorneys, Eilenberger & Huffman, gave notice to District Attorney Gearhart that an application would be made on Monday afternoon to allow Detrick to bail, but the case did not come up until his morning.

not yet been admitted to bail.

The man is charged with the shooting of Chester Staples, at Spragueville, some weeks ago. His attorneys, Eilenberger & Huffman, gave notice to District Attorney Gearhart that an application would be made on Monday afternoon to allow Detrick to bail, but the case did not come up until his morning.

CALENDAR OF THE COURTS.

Today Will Be a Busy One About the Court House.

The grand jury will meet today, constables will make returns, a session of equity court will begin and probably a large number of opinions will be handed down by the judges. Among the cases to come before the grand jury are those in which ex-Sheriff Councilman McAndrew and McCann are prosecuted by the Municipal league, and the libel case brought against the Scrantonian by President John Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers.

JENNINGS' INTENTIONS.

He Has Not Yet Signed with the American League.

Hughie Jennings was in town Friday with the Cornell Cobbers team, whose coach he is. Jennings was recently offered $3,000 to finish the season with the Philadelphia American League club. He has also an offer from McGraw to join the Baltimore club. Asked what his intentions are, Jennings said: "Considering the offers I received from the American league people and the good showing they have made so far, financially, they have the call with me. No contract has been signed in my case as yet, but I am at liberty to act until about June 15, when my term with Cornell ends. It would be foolish for me to tie myself down and then have to wait for more than a month before beginning my work."—New York World.

TO PRESENT MEDALS.

The presentation of medals to the crack members of the Electric City Rifle club will take place tonight at Blatter's shooting gallery.

Ask for Kelly's union crackers. **

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

PECKVILLE.

Mr. A. M. Kestell, of Niagara Falls, is visiting relatives in town.

BUY THE GENUINE SYRUP OF FIGS.

MANUFACTURED BY CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. NOTE THE NAME.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in a large measure, "office work," and it was his opportunity for becoming "chummy" with the other members of the bar were restricted. On this account, as might naturally be expected, there were possibly some who were not ready to say enthusiastically that the new judge would fill every requirement of the position, that in this country has been so blunderingly filled. If there were such, it is safe to say they do not now exist.

MENTION OF MEN OF THE HOUR.

Judge J. W. Carpenter was never referred to as "one of the best known men at the bar." He went on the bench with the intimate acquaintance of comparatively few of his fellow lawyers. He was not a recluse, or unsocial, but his practice was, in