

ADVANTAGE OF THE CONTEST

A $1,000 SCHOLARSHIP FOR SOME BOY OR GIRL.

It is Quite Likely to Go to Somebody Outside of Scranton—Where Last Year's Winners Resided—Only a Small Proportion in the Central City—A Full Description of the Plan Will Be Ready in a Few Days. Letters of Inquiry Will Be Answered Promptly.

The Tribune's second Educational Contest offers a $1,000 scholarship for a boy or girl who has completed the first year of high school in the city of Scranton. The contest is open to all who have completed the first year of high school in the city of Scranton. The contest is open to all who have completed the first year of high school in the city of Scranton.

To Young Folks Outside of the City. Any young man or woman in the boroughs and townships outside of the city of Scranton will have an equal opportunity with those in the city in this second Educational Contest. The contest is open to all who have completed the first year of high school in the city of Scranton.

Out-of-Town Advantages. The territory out-of-town contest may reside in will offer as good an opportunity as in the immediate center of Electric City, for this reason: Although there are fewer residents in their locality, yet there will also be fewer participants in the contest. Their circle of friends and acquaintances will be proportionately as large. Besides the fact that they will have a chance to solicit their friends in the suburban towns, there will be no restrictions placed on the contest. All participants will be free to go where they are pleased to convene. No one will have exclusive rights to any territory, and residents of the city may go out into the country or residents of the country may come into the city to work. The contest is open to all who have completed the first year of high school in the city of Scranton.

Factors for Presentation. Out-of-town contestants can find much of value to point out to their friends in the columns of The Tribune. Among the special features of the newspaper are the full news service of the Associated Press. Its splendid local news service, its large circulation department, and its local correspondence from more than half a hundred towns in Northeastern Pennsylvania. No town or village within a radius of fifty miles of Scranton is overlooked. Nearly all residents of outside towns have friends and relatives in surrounding villages in Scranton, and if their attention is called to the fact that The Tribune has a regular correspondent in the place where these friends reside, and that frequent letters are published from there, their interest will be once secured and probably their subscription, if the contest, in addition, presents his personal interest in the contest.

Written Inquiries. All letters of inquiry must be addressed to Editor Educational Contest, Scranton Tribune, Scranton, Pa. The Tribune will be pleased to answer any inquiries for additional information and urges those interested to write if in doubt upon any point.

MONROSE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Mrs. E. K. Thomas, pastor of the Baptist church, was taken suddenly and severely ill yesterday morning and in consequence there was no preaching in that church. Pastor Thomas' illness was at first thought to be appendicitis, but such is not now thought to be the trouble, and an early recovery is anticipated by the attending physicians.

Postmaster: R. A. Barber and Druggist L. E. Thibault, of Haledale, were in town today, to witness the Great Band-Montrose base ball game. A. W. Lyons and family are visiting relatives at Auburn, Pa. S. B. McLean, the well known merchant of Rush, N. Y., spent Sunday in the last of the week. Mr. McLean is very enthusiastic over the proposed Binghamton and Williamsport railroad, which will run through Rush and give that locality a great boom. Montrose is now the railroad and business center for Rush and surrounding territory, and the people of this town see nothing in the new railroad project to entice away. It has been proposed by some long-headed business men of Montrose, that a stock company be organized and an electric car line be built from this place to connect with the new railroad. Such a road would, it is believed, counteract any adverse influence which the new road might exert upon business interests here. The situation will carefully be viewed from various standpoints, and when it is ascertained just what is best to do, it is probable that Montrose people will act in the premises with promptness and vigor.

Thomas Houlihan, of Susquehanna, succeeded Joseph Coyle, of Montrose, as agent in this place for the Metropolitan Insurance company. Mrs. Mary Baldwin has returned from a visit with relatives in Binghamton. Mrs. E. T. Sweet, of Scranton, has been spending several days in town, at the guest of her sister, Mrs. W. E. Mulford.

Fine new awnings have just been placed upon the stores of F. B. Smith, Jeweler, and Billings & Ryan, hardware. They are the product of the awning factory of W. H. Dennis & Son. Miss Jessie J. Mink returned on Saturday from Binghamton, where she visited relatives. The graduation exercises of the Montrose High school by the Rev. Haskell B. Benedict, at the Presbyterian church last evening. The church was crowded with interested people, chairs in the aisles being re-occupied to seat so large a congregation. The principal orator was very handsomely decorated with potted plants and flowers. As Mrs. N. H. Shafer, the organist, played an inspiring march, the graduates, numbering sixteen, equally divided as to sex, passed up the center aisle, alternating pairs of ladies and gentlemen. Dr. Benton, pastor of the church, announced as the opening hymn, "Go Labor On." Rev. E. A. Warriner, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, read the opening lesson, the fourth chapter of Proverbs. The hymn commencing "Workmen of God" was sung, and Rev. Mr. Benedict announced as his text Prov. iv. 26, "Fonder the path of thy feet, and let all thy ways be established." His theme was "Character Making." His discourse, which followed was scholarly, practical and eloquent. In closing, the speaker touchingly alluded to the death of one of the class (Harry Roach, who died in January, 1900) and as he did so the class arose and remained standing for a moment, thus paying a fitting tribute to the memory of their departed fellow student. At the close of the discourse, Mr. Benedict offered prayer, the hymn "Forward Be Our Watchword" was sung, and Rev. E. A. Warriner pronounced the benediction.

The remains of the late Mrs. James Strong, of Elk Lake, were taken to New York on Monday for interment in Calvary Catholic cemetery. Mrs. Strong was formerly a resident of Franklin and died of a disease caused by paralysis superinduced by the grip. Her age was 70 years.

An interesting event this afternoon was the initial ball game of the season in this place. Great Bend's crack team came over to try conclusions with Montrose, and the sides were evenly matched. The game was witnessed by a large number of spectators, and there were "rooters" aplenty for both sides. The game is still in progress at this hour, but the present score tells of a victory for Great Bend. Most of the visitors will remain in town until late tonight, in order to attend the benefit hop, to be given under the auspices of the Montrose nine.

PITSTON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Pitston, May 6.—Joseph Walkunski, the little 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Walkunski, of West Pittston, was terribly scalded about the head, face and arms this morning about 8 o'clock. Mrs. Walkunski had prepared a tub of water in which to scald the clothes, and just as she turned to the faucet to get cold water with which to dilute it, when the child walked to the tub and fell head foremost into the scalding water. Joseph Walkunski was arrested this morning on warrants sworn out by William Getz, a member of the committee appointed by the Butchers' union to investigate who were breaking the Sabbath observance law. Heineiman's place was kept under surveillance yesterday and he was detected selling meat, one of the purchasers being a city constable. He was held under bail for a hearing Wednesday morning.

The suit brought against Pitston Mayor Thomas Maloney and Alderman Jordan for damages in the sum of $25,000, with two Scranton peddlars as the prosecutors, was set down for trial in the Luzerne court for this week, but has been postponed until

What Makes the Home?

Not the house, however fine it may be; not its furniture, pictures and appointments; not the wife who makes the home, and to speak of going home means to go back into the shelter of the mother's love and care. And when womanly lips sap the mother's strength, the home-life suffers. The food is not cooked as she cooks it. Everywhere the lack of wife's supervision and motherly thoughtful attentions is apparent. What a change, then, when this wife and mother comes back to take her old place in the family. Thousands of women who, because of womanly illness, had been shut out of home life and home happiness, have been enabled to once more take their place in the family after being cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularities, cleanses, drains, heals inflammation and ulcers, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation and its almost countless consequences. They do not react on the system nor begot the pill habit.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review. New York, May 6.—The interrupted speculative advance was renewed with great violence, the speculative holders of stocks apparently having been entirely reassured by the check to the market which was added Saturday. Apparently the speculative public was convinced that Friday's sharp reaction, including a decline of one point in the closing, was a mere hiccup, and to avoid great railroad operations, and to continue their buying for a further advance and at less expense. The effect of the intervening market to gain time, and a result there was a heavy congestion of urgent selling orders to be executed on the opening. Large amounts of stock orders found their way eagerly bidding each other when the market opened. The market opened with a change. The market opened with a change. The market opened with a change.

DURVEA. Durvea, May 6.—A valuable horse owned by James Rolles was injured by falling in the stable the other evening. The horse has been in family care for 21 years and all endeavors are being made to save it. Mrs. Ammerman visited in Pittston Saturday.

The Spring Fever. It is a malady which no one can escape at this season of the year. The vitality is usually overtaken during the winter months, and spring finds the system all run down. The blood is thinned and impure. The kidneys and liver are inactive—resulting in a loss of energy and appetite. The derangement of the nerves. Liberty's Cerebrum Compound will purify your blood, tone up your nerves, and leave you feeling fresh and energetic. Sold by Matthews Bros.

THEATRICAL.

ATTRACTIONS TODAY. LYCEUM—Viola Allen, "In the Palace of the King." Matinee and night. ACADEMY—Macaulay-Pattin Company. Matinee and night. "A Stranger in a Strange Land." Sidney Wilmer and Walter Winant are the authors of "A Stranger in a Strange Land," which was presented at the Lyceum last night before an audience that was somewhat sparse as to numbers. It is a comedy built on the familiar line of mistaken identity, but treats the proposition in a manner that is novel.

Macaulay-Pattin Company.

Large crowds greeted the Macaulay-Pattin company at the Academy Music last evening where that company opened a week's engagement, presenting as their attraction Mr. Patton's own play, "A Stranger in a Strange Land." The play was handsomely staged, and the acting company was far superior to the usual companies playing throughout the country at cheap prices. Mr. Patton himself, in the title role, did an excellent work. The specialties introduced between the acts were especially clever and entertaining. This afternoon "The King" will be played, and tonight, "A Wasted Life" will be the offering.
