papers, and by his direction the satchel was returned to the closet from which it had been taken. It remained there with the dead inside of it until Mrs. Gray took it out, a few hours after the old man's death. She delivered it to her son, and he had it recorded.

The plaintiffs want court to nullify the deed on the grounds that the transfer was effected by undue influence and that there was never any legal delivery of the instrument. The defense is that there was no undue influence and that it is not required that there should be a physical delivery of the deed to make it valid. The defense also claims that Mrs. Scully was directed to give the deed to Mrs. Gray to give to her son, but Mrs. Scully denies this.

W. Lathrop, H. C. Butler and Thomas J. Davies of Montrose, represent the plaintiff. The defendant's attorneys are Vosburg & Dawson and W. W. Baylor.

The case of Davies against the First Welsh Baptist church is one that is now quite familiar. Davies made some offensive allegations against three members of a committee of the church which was appointed to secure a new pastor. He was excluded from the church and his appeal from the decision of the elders was in turn dismissed by a committee of four members of neighboring churches and by the annual district conference. He claims he has complied with the disciplinary mandate of the court which first tried him, and that he should have been received back into the fellowship of the church. He wants court to rule so.

E. C. Newcomb represents the plaintiff, and ex-Judge E. N. Willard, the defendant.

Doesn't Want the Glory.

Constable John O'Donnell, of the Seventh ward, was the only one of the county's sleuths to report illegal selling, and he only did it after making an explanation that savored somewhat of the apologetic. He told the court he had no personal knowledge of the offenses alleged in his report; that Patrolman Thomas Potter informed him of them, and that when Patrolman Potter was told he would be made the principal witness, he in turn said he had no personal knowledge of the offenses, but learned of them from some other people. Judge Kelly directed that the report be referred to the district attorney.

The parties charged in the report are: Mary Hearn, Kate Malloy, Thomas Fadden and Mrs. Prendegast.

Mitchell Gives His Testimony.

John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, appeared before the grand jury yesterday morning, to give his testimony in the case of libel which he has preferred against Editor Richard Little, of the Scrantonian.

The grand jury was charged by Judge Kelly. He appointed as foreman Victor Burschell, of Dunmore, one of the keepers at the county jail.

The petition for the annexation to Taylor borough of the contiguous portions of Lackawanna township was presented again and ordered submitted to the grand jury tomorrow morning.

The usual exceptions were also filed.

Howell Will Make Answer.

In the equity case brought by Mrs. Jennie Dean, to compel her brother, Franklin Howell, to render an accounting of her estate, Judge Kelly yesterday granted a rule on the plaintiff to show cause why the judgment taken pro confesso, last Thursday, should not be opened.

The plaintiff's attorneys, H. M. Hanan, agreed to the rule being made absolute forthwith upon the defendant's counsel, Joseph O'Brien promising that an answer to the bill will be filed within fifteen days.

It appears that an accounting was tendered, but it proved unsatisfactory. The defendant supposed it was satisfactory and paid no heed to the bill.

DIRECTOR ROCHE'S SYSTEM.
He Has Perfected a Complete System for the Ordering of Material.

Director of Public Works John E. Roche has just perfected a system for use in his department in the ordering of various materials and supplies. Five different blank forms are used, and it would seem to be almost perfect.

The first blank form is filled out by the foreman or other subordinate official who may desire to have something purchased. This he files with the superintendent of the bureau, who makes out a copy which he sends to Director Roche, after approving it. He himself retains the foreman's original requisition.

Director Roche, after satisfying himself that the goods are required, fills out a third blank form ordering them, which form is sent to the person from whom the purchase is to be made. A duplicate copy is furnished to the bureau, that the person receiving the goods or material may verify them that they have been delivered.

The duplicate copy of the order is furnished the city controller, so that he may compare it with the bill when the latter comes to him. By comparing all these blanks, Director Roche believes that there will be a check upon each employee interested in the whole transaction.

Will Flush the Mine.

The fire in the Pine Ridge mine of the Delaware and Hudson, which has been burning for the past five months, is still raging and the company is about to adopt other methods in an effort to extinguish it.

The company is now arranging to flush the workings with culm, which is to be carried upon the fire by a steady stream of water.

A large pump has been erected above Miner's Mills and a pipe line two miles long has been laid. Through this the culm will be forced to a cave-hole in the vicinity of Scotch Hill and then down into the mine. The operations will commence in a couple of weeks.—Wilkes-Barre Record.

WALTER L. MAIN CIRCUS.

It Will Exhibit Here on Monday, May 20.

As the Walter L. Main New Fashion Plate Shows are announced to appear in this city on Monday, May 20, it is now in order for Uncle Fred to begin inviting his numerous relatives to be on hand that day to help take his little nephew Tommy to see the elephants. This plan has been in vogue for years and years, yet it is successfully worked to the present day, at least many grown folks go under that pretense and imagine themselves safe in their deceit.

Why not be candid and acknowledge that the glitter of the parade, the sight of the white tents, the inspiring music that only circus bands play, and the crush of the good-natured crowd has awakened memories of your childhood that could not be resisted.

The circus, with its myriad of flags and streamers, is always and always will be a magnet to all lovers of clean and wholesome amusement, so it's up to somebody to originate an excuse for gratifying their own inclinations.
