Last fall the charter was amended, with permission of court, so as to enlarge the directorate to twelve members, James P. Dickson, E. L. Fuller, Rev. J. A. O'Reilly, Hon. Alfred Hand, J. George Eisle and J. F. Snyder are the hold-over members. Colonel E. H. Ripple, Hon. William Connell, Conrad Schroeder and Thomas F. Sprague were chosen for three years; O. S. #### NO CHANGE IN SITUATION

Number of Conferences Held, but No Change in the D., L. and W. Strikes,

Yesterday was May 10, the day fixed by the council of affiliated employes upon which answers were to be received from the employers presented with the nine-hour day petition. No replies were had, however, except the answer of the Dickson people on Thursday, which was so stated in yesterday's Tribune. At a recent meeting between the employes of the Finch Manufacturing company and its employes, the latter were informed that the firm would follow the lead of the big manufacturers in the matter, and if the latter granted the nine-hour day they would duplicate their action. Rumors of a like stand taken by McClave, Brooks & Co. are reported by the council authorities, but nothing has been heard from the Dunmore Iron and Steel com-

A meeting was held Thursday afternoon at the Hotel Jermyn of manufacturers, owners or superintendents of the largest concerns in this part of Pennsylvania, at which the machinists' demands were discussed and plans laid for future sessions to consider a joint course of action to be pursued. Thursday's meeting was an assembly of members of the Manufacturers of Mining Machinery association. The only local representatives present were Superintendent M. N. McLaren, of the Dickson Manufacturing company's Penn avenue shops, and President I. H. Finch, of the Finch Manufacturing

Others of those in attendance were: President Jones and Secretary Nicholson, of the Vulcan Iron Works comwhich has plants at South Wilkes-Barre, West Pittston and Tamauqua: Mr. Legrande, secretary of the Exeter Machine works, and the wo Messrs. Touhill, owners of the Touhill Iron works at West Pittston. The session was devoted entirely to discussion of the nine-hour demand, but no definite course of action was mapped out.

There was no change yesterday in he situation at the Lackawanna shops. The local officials of the counil are in communication with the hops along the line and have received elegrams from the Jersey City, Hoboken and other locals in answer to the messages sent from here. The Jersey 'ity telegram made known the fact that a meeting was held Thursday night and the Scranton strike brought efore the union, while the Hoboken dispatch says that the local troubles will be discussed at a meeting to be held Monday night. National President O'Connell has telegraphed headquarters to act conservatively and his counsel to all the branch union is of the same character. Electric City lodge of the Machinists' union met last night in Hulbert's hall and instructed its delegates to the council of affiliated employes to take final action on the nine hour day question at tomorrow's meeung.

The situation at the car shops also emains the same. Yesterday afteroon a special committee waited upon Master Car Builder L. T. Canfield and asked his answer on the nine-hour day matter. The grievances, including the dismissal of Hicks, were not brought up for discussion. At the end meeting the committee stated that Mr. Canfield refused to talk about the nine hour day. Master Car Builder Canfield was in conference last night with General Superintendent T. E. Clarke and other Lackawanna officials at the Scranton club, but refused to make any statement of what transpired, either at this meeting or during the time he was closeted with the strikers.

CONTROLLER IS SILENT.

Council's Resolution. Controller Howell would not say yes terday whether or not he will heed the resolution passed by the select council on Thursday night and which will pass the common council on next Thursday night, directing him not to countersign any warrants for bills not approved by the auditing committee The general impression prevails, however, that, acting upon the rule laid down by City Solicitor Watson, will ignore the resolution and will justify his contention by the conten tion that councils have no right to abridge his powers in that manner, If he does ignore the resolution, just now council can compel him to obey it is a little bit of a mystery, with the city solicitor and the whole administration with him.

THE TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY

RAILROAD Y. M. C. A. IS TWEN-TY YEARS OLD.

A Celebration Was Held Last Night in the Association Rooms-Secretary Adair Reported the Wonderful Progress Made During the Past Year and an Address Was Made by General Secretary Warburton, of New York-Prizes Awarded Winners in Membership Contest.

The local branch of the Railroad Young Men's Christian association has had a phenomenal growth and has prospered wonderfully during the past year under the management of its secretary, W. W. Adair. This fact was forcibly impressed last night upon the large audience which gathered in the association hall to attend the exercises in connection with the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the ganization of the Scranton branch, The hall had been prettily and taste fully decorated for the occasion and a selected orchestra, under the leader-ship of Professor R. J. Bauer, was seated in front of the stage, the front of which was banked with palms. A number of the leading officials of the Lackawanna road had been invited to attend, but the disagrecable weather undoubtedly kept them away. Ex-General Manager W. F. Hallstead. lowever, was present and occupied a prominent place on the platform.

SECRETARY'S REPORT. After a stirring rendition of that plendid old hymn, "Onward, Chrisian Soldiers," by the audience, and a fervont prayer by Rev. James Ben-ninger, paster of the Hampton Street Methodist Episcopal church, Secretary Adair was introduced by Frank P. Bryant, who was presiding, and in an informal way presented his annual re-

He told of the great and unparallelled increase in membership and in the amount of dues rectived during the year, but said that this did not tell all that had been done. "The best result," said he, "is in the men themselves, who came in touch with the work, bringing new life and encouragement into the organization." He spoke in the kindliest terms of the manner in which the Lackawanna company has encouraged and fostered the work in every possible way.

The statistical report, which was printed on the programmes, showed that the membership had been increased during the past year from 312 to $27. The receipts for the year were $5,115.65, as compared with $3,807.84 for the previous year. The total attendance at the building during the year was 223,830. The total attendance at entertainments during the year was 1.776, as compared with 622 during the year before, showing the increase in interest in the social work. The number of beds used during the fiscal year 1899-1900 was 928, as compared with 4,536 during the year just passed.

PRIZES PRESENTED.

When Mr. Adair had finished, the chairman presented the first and third prizes won in the membership contest to the successful contestants. The first prize, a gold watch, was won by A. O. Leonard, and the third prize, a dress suit case, was won by S. S. Lonne. The mer of the second prize, a $10 gold piece, was J. Gilligan, who was unable to be present. The address of the evening was made by George A. Warburton, general secretary of the New York city railroad association and an association worker of much renown. Three elements combined, he said, to make the Railroad Young Men's Chrisian association the successful and helpful organization that it is today The first of these, he said, was the fact that it originated among the men themselves. It was not something which the companies got the men to adopt, but rather something which the nen started and in which the men themselves insisted the companies should co-operate.

The second element of strength, he thought, was the fact that the companies contribute to the welfare of the organization, and at the same time to the welfare of their employes.

The third element of strength, he said, was the strength contributed by the parent organization, the Young Men's Christian association. The Young Men's Christian association, he said. contributed strong and manly men to carry on the railroad work and not only men, but methods.

He said that he believed it would not be very long before there would be a new Railroad Young Men's Christian association building in Scranton. railroad company, he said, could not go back on the work already done and if it wanted that work continued a new building was absolutely necessary. The exercises were brought to a close with the singing of "My Country, 'tis of Thee."

This miniature menagerie was first introduced in the tented field by Mr. Wallace last year, and it was so universally appreciated that he concluded to increas it this season, and this year he will have in parade one hundred and two ponies. Since the circus and menagerie proper have been increased, the addi-tion of the miniature dog and pony show is equivalent to a free miniature circus to all patrons of the Great Wal-

In the menagerie will be seen nine lion cubs and a baby kangaroo. When it is remembered that twenty-four funny clowns are employed with the Wallace shows, it must be acknowledged that the offerings of the Great Wallace Shows this year are unusually satisfactory to the children and younger friends of the circus.

The Great Wallace Shows will visit Scranton Friday, May 24, and will ex-hibit on the Ash street lot.

TEST OF WATER ORDINANCE.

City Solicitor Favors Placing the Company on the Offensive.

There are several plans under consideration for the bringing of a test case to establish the legality of the ordinance fixing water rates for this city, but the plan that City Solicitor Watson is known to favor is the placing of the company in the position of relator, rather than in that of respondent.

This could be done by getting one or more consumers of water to refuse to pay the present rate when requested to do so by the company, and to insist upon paying no more than the price fixed in the ordinance. This would force the company into bringing suit to recover the full amount of the present rate and would make the consumer, backed, of course, by the city, the defendant in the case. There seems to be no doubt in the mind of any person who has considered the matter but that the legality of the ordinance will be attacked by the company and as it is generally presumed that they will take the case up to the United States Supreme court, in case they lose in the state courts, it is deemed advisable to have the matter brought up as quickly as possible, as such a course of procedure would take. at the most conservative estimate, at least two years.

THEY WERE RE-ARRESTED.

Edward Padden and Thomas Barry, who were arrested about a month ago, on the charge of attempting to criminally assault thirteen-year-old Edna Hunt, in a Lackawanna box car, and who were held in bail on that charge, were re-arrested yesterday at the instance of District Attorney W. R. Lewis, on the specific charge of criminal assault.

They were arraigned before Magistrate Howe in police court yesterday morning and were committed to the county jail without bail, to await the action of the grand jury. The district attorney was moved to cause the rearrest of the men after having carefully gone over the testimony adduced ut the first hearing.

Yesterday afternoon the grand jury heard the case in which General Man-ager Frank Silliman, of the Scranton Railway company, is charged by Will llam Repp with having bribed councilmen of Old Forge borough.

Among the witnesses examined were William Repp, the prosecutor; William Gallagher, who was an agent of the defendant at the time of the alleged bribery; Patrick Coyne, Robert Staff, Thomas Kilcoyne, Antoni Bian-cardi, Thomas Stevens, William F Munroe and Patrick Gallagher. were in the councils, and B. Five of the seven council-men, Kilcoyne, Biancardi, Stevens, Munroe and Gallagher, it was admitted received pass books from the trolley company and were paid $10 apiece by the trolley company for expenses for attending the hearing, although they had been subpoensed by the oth er side.

It is also possible that other testimony bearing on the transaction was adduced from P. W. Gallagher, who was prominent in the negotiations be tween the company and the council men, and who, since that time has been dismissed from the company's

Among the other cases heard yester. day were those in which the Munici-pal league charges bribery against J. J. McAndrew and P. F. McCann; perjury against Anthony Dunleavy, and obstructing justice against S. E. Wayland. In the last named case the rule to quash the original indictment was made absolute by agreement, and the district attorney was later directed by court, at the instance of the Municipal league, to prepare and submit a new bill of indictment upon the old tran-script, without further preliminary hearing. This is for the purpose of curing the defects in the original indictment. A return will be made by the grand jury today, it is expected.

One of the thirteen men from up-thenickel slot machine on his premises was M. J. be amputated. He was engaged in wheeling ashes from the Dickson company's shops across the tracks to a dump, where the accident occurred. It is alleged the Dickson company was negligent in requiring him to follow a dangerous passageway, and that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company was negligent in not exercising the care that would have prevented the accident.
