

MRS. M'KINLEY IN ILL HEALTH

She Has Been Taken to San Francisco for Medical Treatment and a Rest.

SHADOW ON THE PARTY

The President's Wife Very Much Fatigued by the Long Journey. Her Illness Casts Gloom Over the Remaining Members of the Party. Mrs. McKinley Suffers from a Felon.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. San Francisco, May 12.—The sudden illness of Mrs. McKinley has caused an expected change in the itinerary of President McKinley. He arrived in this city yesterday evening, several hours ahead of the time scheduled. The state of Mrs. McKinley's health was such this morning that the president had to leave Belmont and bring his wife to this city immediately to the home of Henry T. Scott, where she could have complete rest for a few days and where a specialist could be consulted if necessary. A special of two cars and a locomotive was made up from the president's special and at 12:30 o'clock the president, Mrs. McKinley, Miss Barber, the president's niece, Secretary and Mrs. Cortelyou, Dr. Rixey and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Scott left Belmont for San Francisco, leaving the remainder of the presidential party at Belmont. Only a few hundred persons greeted the president on his arrival in this city. His coming was not generally known and only those who chanced to see the bulletin board by the depot, advising that the president would reach the city at 4 p. m., awaited the train. The president, in order to avoid the crowd that was expected to assemble at the Southern Pacific depot at Third and Townsend streets, left the train with his little party at a closed carriage station in the southern part of the city. When the train, consisting of a baggage car and the president's special coach, stopped at Valencia street Mrs. McKinley was carried in a steam-chair by two colored porters from the private car to a closed carriage in waiting. She was heavily veiled and the president and Dr. Rixey followed close behind. Mrs. McKinley was gently placed in the carriage and the president and Dr. Rixey took seats in the same vehicle.

President Anxious

The president was quite pale and looked serious. The rest of the party followed in carriages. Mr. and Mrs. Scott had arrived at their residence about the president and were waiting to receive their distinguished guests. Mrs. McKinley was again lifted out of the carriage and placed in an invalid chair and carried into the house. Secretary Cortelyou, when questioned concerning Mrs. McKinley's condition, stated that there was nothing alarming in her present indisposition and that perfect quiet and rest for a few days would restore her to her usual health. It was the impression, however, of those who saw Mrs. McKinley that she is very ill and that her present state may result in an entire change of the president's program. Should his wife's health improve the president will carry on his intention to attend the celebration at San Jose tomorrow. If, however, her condition tomorrow should be no better than today, she will be taken to leave his side, but will allow the chief of police and others of his party to represent him at San Jose.

At 6 o'clock tonight Dr. Rixey made the following statement: "Mrs. McKinley stood the trip from Belmont much better than I expected. Her condition is not serious, she will stay here at least a week and, I have perfect faith, I think by that time she will be able to continue the journey. She has been gaining strength all afternoon."

A Shadow

Delmonico, Pa., May 12.—Mrs. McKinley's illness has cast a shadow on the other members of the party who remained here, and there was talk at first of abandoning the entire schedule between here and San Francisco, but Mrs. McKinley, especially, requested that the plan of the party should not be changed by her departure, and when the president left this morning the understanding was that the program originally fixed should be carried out. The president has himself said he would join the party as soon as Mrs. McKinley shall be made comfortable.

The party is scheduled to leave here at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, and after a ten-minute stop at Padua, they will go to Santa Cruz for a glimpse of the big trees. It was not the expectation of the president that he could be at either of these places, but he thought he could meet the train at San Jose, where great preparations have been made to receive him and where the program was for the party to spend tomorrow night. In that case he could enter San Francisco Tuesday afternoon, as originally contemplated, without disturbing the plans for the ovation arranged for him there. It is possible that Mrs. McKinley's condition, if it shall not improve as rapidly as hoped, may necessitate a curtailment of the program in San Francisco and for the remainder of the trip.

The day after leaving New Orleans a home fever appeared upon Mrs. McKinley's finger. Her hand became swollen and gave her considerable pain, and a powerful fever that prevented her from sleeping. Dr. Rixey twice lanced the swollen finger, and gave her some relief in that way. Mrs. McKinley bore it bravely, and urged that the program at the

INTEREST IN THE M'CORMICK CASE

The Mother Declares That the Body Brought Home Is Not That of Her Son Willie.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. New York, May 12.—Interest in the McCormick case has by no means subsided in this city, though the body of the boy, who was missing for so long, was discovered and will be buried tomorrow. Hundreds of people went to the McCormick house, at Highbridge, today. The parlors were filled with floral tributes. Some of the handsomest pieces came from total strangers. The spot in Cromwell's creek, where the boy's body was found, was viewed by thousands from the central bridge. The neighbors of the McCormicks absolutely decline to accept the police theory that the boy's death was the result of drowning by accident. They cling to the idea that he had been carried off and murdered. Mrs. McCormick declared tonight that the body brought home was not that of Willie. She insisted that there was a terrible mistake, and would not even go into the room where the coffin was. Mr. McCormick, however, and the other children say they know it was the body of the missing boy. They attributed their mother's refusal to accept it to her overwrought nerves.

THE BURIALS IN PEKIN.

Miss Pierce Recalls Pathetic Scenes Attending the Deaths of Soldiers.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Des Moines, May 12.—"One of the most dramatic scenes during the siege of Pekin," said Miss Mary Conner Pierce, niece of Minister Conger, who was with the soldiers during the siege, "was the burial of the American soldiers killed in defending us from the Chinese. When the first one was killed Minister Conger got permission to have him buried on the ground occupied by the Russian legation, because that was a more sheltered spot, there was no one here and it seemed a better temporary place than our location. The burial occurred at night, because it was unsafe to make any movement during the daytime. The Chinese watched us like hawks, and any movement brought up a renewal of our attacks."

"When the grave was dug, the body wrapped in the American flag and lowered into the grave, and the men were about to fill the grave with dirt, one of the Russian soldiers jumped forward and said: 'No, no; this man fought with me. He is my comrade, and no one here will bury him. I will do this.' So he got into the grave, made a pillow of dirt under the soldier's head and arranged him in a natural position, and with his own hands carefully and tenderly covered the body with dirt and filled the grave. This was the first of the American soldiers that struggle that nationalities utterly forgotten, and we all seemed to be of one kindred struggling together to save each other, with never a thought of what country we came from or of the rank or wealth of any of the men. They were all dead and became sisters and brothers in a common cause."

"Eight American soldiers, one after another, were buried in this way in the dead of night in the Russian legation. No one thought when the first one was buried that seven others would follow him. They were such brave fellows—all the soldiers who were with us, and the death of one, no matter what his nationality, was mourned with equal grief in every legation. I see now that the bodies of these American soldiers have been taken up and are to be sent home."

Miss Pierce's letters describing the siege of Pekin, written home to her brothers in Des Moines published in the Des Moines papers and telegraphed from here all over the country, have been translated and published in nearly every European country. The story she told was one of the most graphic, because it was a simple, straightforward story of what happened, seen through the sympathetic eye of an intelligent woman. She was greatly surprised when she learned of the extent of circulation which her letters had.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Indianapolis, May 12.—William Phelps, of Richmond, Ky., and James Stansbury, of this city, were cleaning the inside of an eight-foot upright boiler at the Central Hotel here yesterday afternoon, when an employe turned on the steam, thinking the cock was tight. It leaked and the scalding steam poured in on the two men. The only exit was up a ladder to the manhole in the top. Both the men jumped for the ladder. Phelps was the first to get up, but he did not get a green escape him. "It was Jim's lot to go first," said he quietly. "He is married." Phelps had been boarding at Stansbury's house. Both men are colored.

He said that contracts were now being negotiated between the bridge company and the various railroad companies whose traffic will be accommodated by the bridge. As soon as these could be executed, the steel work on the structure would be commenced. It is estimated that the bridge can be completed within four years. The bridge is to be only for the transportation of passengers, and the plan involves the erection of an enormous terminal, bounded by Sixth and Seventh avenues, Twenty-fourth and Twenty-eighth streets. The bridge will be the largest in the world. There will be sixteen tracks for railroad trains, and the strength of the structure will be such that they can support all the street cars, trolley tracks, driveways, bicycle paths and footways. The estimated cost of the bridge, with its approaches and the passenger terminal, is $80,000,000.

THE TURKS DISPLEASED

They Are Not Satisfied with the Foreign Post Offices in Constantinople.

POSITION OF THE U. S.

One of the Few Powers That Does Not Support a Postoffice of Its Own in the Turkish Metropolis. Turks Anxious That the Foreign Offices Shall Be Closed.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Washington, May 12.—Mr. Lohmann, our minister at Constantinople, up to this time has not communicated with the state department respecting the trouble at the Turkish capital. For the efforts of the post to suppress the foreign postoffices, inquiry here discloses the fact that the United States government is one of a few great powers which does not maintain an absolutely independent postal service between Constantinople and the outside world. The other powers have a system of closed mail pouches which the mails are not permitted to pass through Turkish hands while in transit between the border and the embassies at Constantinople. The British government has a fine postoffice building not far from its embassy and Austria and France also have suitable postal establishments in Constantinople. These were established originally not so much from a lack of confidence in the integrity of the Turks as from the very inferior character of the Turkish postal service some years ago.

It is possible for any foreign citizen resident in Constantinople to receive his mails directly upon application to the postoffice at his embassy. This privilege is not limited to embassy attaches or official mail and this fact long has been a matter of discontent for the Turks, who have long sought to improve their postal service by placing it under the direction of German experts, feel that they have a right to get rid of these foreign offices which they claim facilitates smuggling. The United States government not having a postoffice of its own, always has been using the consular offices of the French, Austrian and British postal establishments in Constantinople.

MASS MEETING OF THE MINERS

Organizer Dlicher Addresses the Attendants and Says That the Threat to March on Harrisburg Is Not an Idle One.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Wilkes-Barre, May 12.—A big mass meeting of miners was held at Plymouth last night. The action of two assemblies of the United Mine Workers in expelling two of their members who went to Harrisburg to oppose the mine bills before the legislature was endorsed. National Organizer Dlicher made a speech in which he condemned the course of the men, whom he claimed were false to the miners' union, which they pledged themselves to support. Mr. Dlicher also said that the threatened march of miners on Harrisburg was no idle threat. If the senate failed to pass the legislation demanded by the miners 40,000 hard coal workers would surely start on a march to the state capital. They would go as law-abiding citizens looking for their rights under the constitution.

PAN STRIKE AVERTED.

All Carpenters at Buffalo Will Work Today. By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Buffalo, May 12.—The both in the manufacturers and liberal arts building at the Pan-American grounds, which has caused so much friction between the labor unions and the exposition officials, and which threatened to involve all the men employed on the grounds in a general strike was removed today and it is now believed that all the carpenters will go to work tomorrow morning. The both objected to be the only one in any of the buildings manufactured in mills where non-union men are employed, and, as this is the only cause of complaint that the union carpenters have, the officials are confident that there will be no more trouble. The attendance at the grounds today was good, notwithstanding that it rained for about two hours during the part of the day when most of the sightseers visit the exposition. Sacred concerts furnished entertainment for the visitors.

AN APPEAL FROM JACKSONVILLE

The Baptists Issued Request to Their Brethren of the Churches—Millitary Still on Duty.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Jacksonville, Fla., May 12.—The Baptists of Jacksonville issued the following appeal to the Baptists of America today: Dear Brethren: Jacksonville, the metropolis and gate of Florida, is in ruins. The great fire of May 3, the greatest that the south has ever seen, has destroyed the most thickly settled portion of the city and destroyed every church and every school building in the city proper. The first Baptist church with its contents was destroyed. The pastor and family saved only the clothes on their backs while library and furniture went up in flames. Scores of our church people are homeless. Many of them are destitute and must be helped. A majority of our members have lost their business. The well-to-do have become poor and are unable to assist.

Our church must be rebuilt and to that end we are forming every church in our weakness and suffering from the depths of despair we call on all Baptists throughout the country to assist us in raising a temple to the Lord that His work may be carried on and His name glorified. Please send your contributions to Dr. W. L. Robinson, pastor, or E. E. Cleveland, chairman board of deacons. There is abundant work for everybody who can do manual labor and difficulty is being experienced in getting the colored men to work. The commissary department and the labor department are working together to change this order of things and the man who will not work tomorrow will find himself out from rations. The military are still in possession of the city and will remain here so long as the committee of the association thinks best. The liquor men have approved the action of the governor in closing the bar rooms and in meeting endorsed it by resolution. No more dead bodies have been found in the ruins and the work of cleaning up the streets is progressing rapidly. The electric light plants are both in operation and the main streets of the city all will be lighted again in the next three or four days.

ANTHRACITE COAL TRADE.

The Situation Continues Encouraging, Considering the Season. By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Philadelphia, May 12.—The Ledger in its coal article tomorrow will say: "The anthracite coal trade continues to show the fair demand, considering the season of the year. The companies are using efforts to keep down the output to market requirements, but at the same time find a comparatively better demand than at this time last year. The April output of 1901 by about 2,000,000 tons, and reached a total of 3,885,000 tons. There is a good movement of coal up the lakes, and as the navigation was fully opened last week by the breaking of the ice blockade in St. Clair river, all the lake ports can now be reached, and this stimulates the shipments of coal, and some of them were bare of supplies. The seaboard movement, as usual at this season, is light, and this has made the freight rates favor shippers. Prices are maintained and another ten cents per ton advance will come in June.

TRAGEDY ON A TROLLEY LINE

Sad Ending of a Straw Ride Near College Point, Long Island.

THE FATAL COLLISION

A Wagon Load of Merry-makers Is Struck by a Trolley Car Owing to the Miscalculation of the Driver. Two Are Dead; Five in the Hospital—Four Badly Injured—The Street Car Wrecked—Joseph Picket Hurlled 30 Feet in the Air—An Accident at Fort Lee.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. New York, May 12.—Of twenty-six young people who started from College Point, L. I., last night, on what is locally known as a "starlight" ride, two were carried home dead this morning, five are in a hospital, four were allowed to leave the hospital, after having their wounds dressed, and every one of the remainder was more or less bruised. A collision with a trolley car caused the accident. The dead are: Michael Schreier, 23 years, and Joseph Picket, 20 years, both of College Point. The merry-makers were on their way to a hotel ten miles away, where they were to have a dance. They were all in one wagon, the bottom of which had been filled with straw. It was almost midnight when they reached Distler's hotel, on the edge of Jamaica. When in front of the house the driver of the wagon saw a trolley car approaching. He thought he could cross the tracks in time to avoid a collision, but made a miscalculation. He applied the lash to the horses, to no purpose. Picket and Schreier were the ones occupying the end seats at the rear of the wagon. The car hit the wagon, the rear wheels, back of the hubs. The vehicle was demolished, the rear end being broken to pieces.

Hurled Thirty Feet.

Picket was hurled into the air and fell thirty feet away. As he descended his head struck a fire hydrant. His skull was crushed in. He was carried into Distler's hotel, but died as he was being placed upon a couch in the parlor. Schreier was also thrown into the air. He landed head-first on the macadamized pavement. He was unconscious, and was carried into the hotel. A few minutes later an ambulance from the Jamaica hospital arrived and started with him, as the most seriously injured, for that institution. He died before the hospital was reached. Miss Mattie Deboise sustained a severe contusion of the chest and hips, and was the worst hurt among the injured.

The Car, after breaking the rear end of the wagon, pushed it to one side and then stopped. The car itself was badly wrecked. The front dashboard and the front platform were demolished. The side of the car nearest the wagon was broken. No one on board of the car was injured, although the twenty-five passengers were more or less shaken up.

The motorman was arrested, though claiming to be without blame in the matter. New York, May 12.—An open trolley car, on which were packed about 117 persons, got away from the motorman today, near Fort Lee, N. J., and dashed down Lenox hill. Every person on the car was bruised, three were seriously hurt and one of them is likely to die. Frank Sunstruck, the conductor, it is feared, may lose his life on account of possible internal injuries, and J. E. Robinson and wife, of this city, are the two others who seem seriously hurt. The heavily loaded car had started down an incline a quarter of a mile in length when the motorman lost control. It was going so fast no one dared to jump off. The road is a winding one. At the foot of the hill it curves sharply.

MACHINISTS' STRIKE.

150,000 Men at Washington Threatened to Go Out on May 20. By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Washington, May 12.—A general strike involving directly 150,000 machinists and indirectly 500,000 men in metal working trades, is expected to take place on May 20 unless some arrangement is effected in the meantime. This is the statement made tonight by President James O'Connell, of the International Association of Machinists, who has his headquarters in this city. "The demands of the men, the refusal of which threatens to precipitate the strike," Mr. O'Connell said, "are for a working day of nine hours and an increase of 12 1/2 per cent in wages, or, in other words, ten hours pay for nine hours work."
