EPWORTH OBSERVANCE

ANNIVERSARY EXERCISES IN SIMPSON M. E. CHURCH.

Seniors and Juniors Turn Out in Large Numbers to Attend the Service—D., L. & W. Saw Mill Destroyed—English Resisted Arrest and Turned on the Officer—Williams Used an Umbrella Effectively—Several Other Arrests—News Notes and Personals.

The Simpson chapter of the Epworth league held their anniversary exercises in the auditorium of the church last evening, which was filled with juniors, seniors and friends of the society. Streamers of red and white were hung conspicuously from above the organ over the pulpit, and were adorned with the motto of the society, "Look up, Lift up."

The pulpit was also decorated with flowers, and the emblems of the junior and senior leagues were hung in conspicuous places. The service was enhanced by the orchestra music furnished by the musicians from the Second Presbyterian church. After the devotional exercises, led by Chairman Sutton, William Stanton rendered a cornet solo in an effective manner.

The juniors recited the ten commandments in unison and Miss Margaret Hughes read the annual report of the seniors, showing an enrolled membership of 258. Two young lady visitors from Moscow sang a duet "Tell Me More About Jesus," and Miss Margaret Crawford reported for the juniors, who had an average of 94 in attendance at meetings during the past year.

Rev. McDermott expressed his gratitude at being connected with a church having such an excellent Epworth league chapter and junior organization, and congratulated the officers and members on the success they have attained and the good work they are doing.

He then gave them a twenty-minute talk on "The Philosophy of Habit and Some of Its Moral Consequences," in which he said it is much easier to form correct habits in youth than it is in old age, adding that we are all creatures of habit, though we profess to be guided by other influences. Habit is the great balance wheel in human society, he said, and it has a significance that is infinitely important to all.

If young people only knew their future they would be more careful, for as ye sow, so shall ye reap. Sin is hell, if a young man fashions his life in the wrong way, as he is simply setting the machinery against his conscience, but if he lives along righteous lines his life will be filled with joy and happiness.

The exercises were brought to a close with a solo by William Long, who rendered effectively "I Will Not Forsake Thee," and a selection by the orchestra. Miss Mabel Rennie presided at the pipe organ during the evening. The meeting was followed by a short consecration service.

During the scrap David's dress coat was badly torn by English, who resisted arrest in a very persistent manner. He was fined $25 in police court yesterday morning by magistrate Davies. Bail was also required of him in the sum of $500 for his appearance at court.

Martin Monaghen, who interfered with the officer, was fined $3 by the magistrate.

A Horseless Carriage.

A young man giving the name of Thomas Carroll and residence on Twentieth street, hired a horse and buggy from Liveryman Smith, of Oakford court, Saturday night, and said he wanted to drive to Dunmore. The horse was found on Keyser avenue yesterday by several boys, who turned it over to the police.

Later the carriage was found in Keyser Valley badly wrecked, but Carroll is still missing. Smith appeared at the station house at 9:30 o'clock last night in search of his property. The horse was placed in Wymb's livery for safe keeping.

He Wouldn't Go Home.

John Chewne, of Sherman avenue, started home Saturday night with a half gallon of whiskey under his arm and as much more under his belt. When he reached the corner of Jackson street and Hyde Park avenue he dropped the jug and spilled the contents in the street.

The young man bemoaned his loss bitterly and the flow of tears almost equalled the flow of whiskey. Patrolman Lowry tried to induce him to go home, but he refused. He was then locked up and fined $3 by Police Magistrate Davies yesterday morning.

Saw Mill Burned Down.

A saw mill owned by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company, located on the West Mountain, near the Diamond reservoir, burned down at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and the contents, together with a quantity of lumber, were destroyed.

The fire broke out again at noon and an alarm was sent in from Box 327, but the firemen were unable to reach the scene, owing to the distance. The second fire occurred in a lumber pile, which was destroyed. The damages will amount to several hundred dollars.

Entertained the Prisoners.

George Bowen, of Aswell Court, was arrested Saturday night at the instance of a woman named Mrs. Walters, charged him with assault and battery and with making threats.

He did not seem to mind being arrested, and for several hours during the night entertained the other prisoners in the station house with all the popular songs of the day. He furnished bail at court.

First Baptist Church.

Mrs. L. M. Newell, representing the Women's Home Missionary society, had charge of the morning service. Mrs. Newell is a very pleasing speaker and as she presented the work of the society in the United States there were tears in many eyes.

The pastor, Rev. S. P. Matthews, preached as usual in the evening from the theme, "Songs of David." The choir continues to render music of unusual beauty and sweetness.

Used an Umbrella.

David Jones and Harry Williams, of Bellevue, engaged in a fight Saturday night at the corner of South Main avenue and Hampton street. The former was too much for the latter, who punctured Jones' neck with the point of an umbrella, injuring him severely.

Patrolmen Hart and Evans placed them under arrest and both of them were fined $5 each in police court yesterday morning.

Among the Churches.

An offering for the board of church erection was taken up at the Washburn street Presbyterian church yesterday.

The sacraments of the Lord's supper were administered at the Jackson street Baptist church yesterday morning. The right hand of fellowship was also extended to a number of new members

Events of This Evening.

Inquest at Coroner Roberts' office to inquire into the death of Michael Frich, who died suddenly in the tenement house at the corner of Scranton and Seventh streets.

NORTH SCRANTON NOTES.

Twelfth Anniversary of Epworth League Observed at Providence Methodist Church.

Last night special services were conducted in the Providence Methodist Episcopal church in observance of the twelfth anniversary of the organization of the Epworth league. An interesting programme, consisting of music, readings and addresses appropriate to the occasion, was carried out.

The league colors, red and white, predominated in the decorations and the platform was made attractive by palms, ferns and red and white geraniums in bloom. The word "Forward" in large red letters graced the space in the rear of the pulpit and under it were twelve large white maltese crosses, each representing a year in the history of the league.

The first year, entitled "Beginning," from '89 to '90, was treated by Miss Diana Watkins; '90-'91, "The Epworth Herald," Mrs. Stonier; '91-'92, "Rapid Growth," Warren Reese; '92-'93, "Official Sanction," Miss Benson; '93-'94, "Conventions," Miss Bernice Conger; '94-'95, "Expansion," William Bright; '95-'96, "Missions," Miss Bertha White; '96-'97, "The Juniors," Miss Ruth Benjamin; '97-'98., "Reading Course," Ora Reese; '98-'99, "Fraternity," David Watkins; '99-'00, "Testing Times," Isabelle Robinson; '00-'01, "The New Era." Mrs. Wetherby.

A short address on "A Dozen Ways in Which the League Has Helped the Church" was given by Rev. G. A. Cure, and a historical sketch of the Providence chapter was read by Miss Walker. A pleasing feature of the evening was the signing of the hymn, "Watchman, What of the Night?"

Funeral of Mrs. Isaac S. Jones.

The funeral of Mrs. Isaac S. Jones, of Hill street, took place yesterday afternoon from her home. Services were conducted in the Puritan Congregational church, of which Rev. R. J. Reese is pastor and in which Mrs. Jones was an active worker. The church was crowded to its utmost by relations and friends which attended to pay their late tribute of respect to the deceased. Mrs. Jones was of a beautiful Christian nature, which made her loved by all who knew her. There were a number of floral pieces, showing the esteem in which the deceased was held. Among these were a star and crescent from the Sunday school of the Puritan Congregational church, a large and handsome pillow from the church congregation and a large number of smaller bouquets from different friends. Interment was made in Dunmore cemetery. D. D. Jones had charge of the funeral.

DUNMORE DOINGS.

Anniversary Service of the Epworth League—Remarks by Rev. Newing at the Methodist Church.

Last night at the Methodist church Rev. Newing delivered a special sermon to members of the Epworth League upon the twelfth anniversary of the society, taking for his subject "The Church of To-Morrow."

He took his text from Matthew 5th chapter, 13th and 14th verses: "Ye are the salt of the earth. Ye are the light of the world." He told of the beginning of the society, which was organized in a church at Cleveland, which has since been called Epworth church. He said in part that the church's first duty was to be helpful to mankind.

The church must be conscientiously aggressive, destroying that which is bad and preserving all that is good. The church is to be meek and kind and loving, but must be always at war with wickedness. To-morrow it must occupy the ground that to-day was held by its enemies. The first thing needed to make this result possible is the entire consecration of its members when the Christian people will be in fact the salt and light of the earth.

He referred to the wonderful improvements in the condition of those countries where Christianity has a foothold. No other time or land ever offered such opportunities for the advancement of the young people. The wonderful advancement in the condition of women is due to the influence of Christianity.

He referred to the multiplicity of divorces which he considered one of the great menaces of the country and mentioned the fact that during 520 years of Rome's history, when her power was greatest, a divorce was never heard of. When family ties began to be disregarded her downfall began. In closing he urged every Epworth League member to work for the saving of souls.
