ATTRACTIONS TODAY.

ACADEMY—Huntley-Jackson company. Night.

Good Plays Well Presented.

Good plays presented by a company of good players is what the Huntley & Jackson company, appearing this week at the Academy of Music, are giving the patrons of that popular playhouse. Yesterday afternoon "Roanoke" was presented in a very capable manner. Last evening, "For Liberty and Love," a beautiful war drama was the attraction. The piece was handsomely staged, the scenery was magnificent and much beauty was added by the wonderful electrical effects used.

This afternoon, "A Night Off," a very funny comedy, will be played, and tonight the celebrated melodrama, "The Fatal Card," will be presented. The specialties by the vaudeville members will be changed at each performance.

Vera De Noie Stock Company.

"Devil's Island," the play founded on the celebrated Dreyfus case, will be the attraction on Monday night, May 20, at the Academy of Music. There has never been a case which has caused so much interest the world over as that of Captain Dreyfus. The story of his life is thrilling to read, but when it is dramatically told with the scenic and mechanical surroundings like that of the production which will be at the Academy it cannot help but make a picture never to be forgotten.

This company will remain here a week, presenting "Faust," "Three Musketeers," "Carmen," "Monte Cristo," "Chick," "The Tory's Daughter" and "Camille."

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, May 15.—The stock market showed emphatic symptoms of relief late today and recovered vigorously from its early acute depression, rising strongly over last night's level and establishing substantial net gains in the majority of stocks. At one time during the day prices had declined in a fairly sensational manner, the losses from last night's level extending from 3 to 10 points in a large number of important stocks. Northwest had lost 9½; General Electric, 9¾; Cleveland, C. C. & St. Louis, 7¾; Lake Erie and Western, 7; Union Pacific and Missouri Pacific, 6½; Consolidated Gas and Delaware and Hudson, 5½; New York, Chicago and St. Louis second preferred and American Tobacco, 5; Amalgamated Copper, 5¼; Denver and Rio Grande, 4½; Louisville, Manhattan and People's Gas, 3¼, and many other of the standard railroad stocks as much as three points. The level of net gains at the highest is the more remarkable considering the acute weakness early in the day. They reached in Rock Island, 7 points; St. Paul, 5¾; Atchison, 4¾; Burlington, 4½; Baltimore and Ohio, 3¾, while the net gains as a rule were all the way from a fraction up to 3 points. These gains were only slightly yielded at the close, which was firm and active at about the top. This strong recovery seems puzzling in face of the extreme sensitiveness of the early market. The progress of the liquidation which caused the early weakness was in itself an immediate relief to the situation. It gave growing assurance of the solvency of stock exchange houses who were emerging from any dangers that may have beset them by the rapid conversion of their resources into cash assets. It was the fear that this could not be safely done which everyhung the market yesterday. The more of it that was accomplished the less remained to do. The fact began to grow clearer also that speculative accounts in the stock market itself were all that had been affected by last week's slump. There remained some holders with borrowed funds whose loans were not sufficient to protect their holdings by additional security or to take them up outright. The selling out of this class was still in evidence this morning and no effective support was in the market to help them. The selling came at spasmodic intervals and for the greater part of the day no effective buying was evident. When it became evident that the urgent liquidation had spent its force and that there was a large reserve force behind the rally the buying orders grew in volume and in fact were largest at about the top level. Total sales today, 1,463,600 shares.

The market did not fully recover from its early weakness. Business was moderately active. Total sales, $4,880,000. U. S. 3s advanced ¼ per cent. on the last call.
