Ipecial to the Scranton Pribune

Hallstead, May 16.-Druggist L. E. l'many has broken ground for the crection of a new building between his store and that occupied by C. W. Barkes. When completed the new building will be used for a bleycle

Hon. James T. DuBois returned home from his Washington trip Wednesday evening. The Washington Star of recent date contains the following regaroing Mr. DuBole: "Mr. James T. DuBols, consul general of the United States at St. Gall, Switzerland, a wellknown resident of Washington, releave of absence from his post and was given an enthusiastic reception and presented with a gold-headed cane on the occasion of his arrival in Hallstead, Pa., his birthplace. Mr. DuBois scored a decided victory at St. Gall by his successful fight against the undervaluation of laces and embroideries exported to the United States, and his efforts to secure a fair practice in this respect have effected a very large annual saving to the national revenues. Notwithstanding the bitterness of this conroversy, a letter was addressed to President McKinley in September, 1900, then a report was circulated that Mr. India's desired to retire, by seventeer of the largest manufacturing and importing firms of the United States in this line, petitioning that he might continne to discharge his duties at St. Gall, On Washington's birthday, 1907 a dinner given in Zurich by Mr. Du-Pois to a number of diplomatic and usular officers, the consuls of the United States presented to their host n engressed memorial expressive of beir appreciation of his work as conand general and his devotion to the in-development of the public library, to which be has given a fund for the purchara or scientific periodicals." Editor F W Church, of the County Herald, is enjoying a tour through Florida and Cuba. He expects to remain away several months. Frank W. Surgent, of Elmira, will conduct the paper during his absence. The Hallstead public schools will et of next Tuesday night will open this morn the Lyceum for the non-subscribers, As brough the generosity of subscribers that the concert, the management naturally advisable to give them the first choice of seats. There are still many seats to be obtained, but it will be necessary for the patrons to appear early in order to make a selection. As matters now look, boxes, loges and every-thing will be filled on the night of the great

It is said that during her recent visit to Maine but Mme. Schumann-Heink electrified the audience at the festival with her wonderful dra-matic voice, which has all the sweetness of prano, the rich, sympathelic quality of the entrallo and a wonderful range, Mnic, Schu-aann-Heink has perfect bealth, is a genial intherly woman full of animal spirits and all easys ready to see the fun in everything. He ewels which she most prizes are of the Gracch order, eight of them, and she never tires talking about them. She will tell you in the most fa-cinating way in broken English that in the summer she lives a happy, out-of-door life in her ostate near Dressien, and often goes bare-footed, and with a happy, rollicking laugh she will say that she has named her youngest child George Washington Franz Schumann-Heink, While en rante to Portland for the festival the great singer was missed from the party, and inquirie were being made for her, when D. Ffrangeon-Davies, who was also one of the soloista there, exclaimed: "Here she is back in the car holdes a baby which she has discovered."

"Sis Hopkins."

In "Sis Hopking," which comes to the Ly cenns on Friday, May 24, Manager Stirling has given to the stage a new character, that of a clumist country girl who knows nothing of the watld; she is imposed upon by subeners and all but robbed of her property; who is uncouth, grotesquely dressed in the prevailing costume of the play; a girl, who, with all these handi aps, goes out into the world and makes a lady f herself with all the trills and yet does not ose her common sense.

There is much sweetness and much comedy and much pathos in the play, whoch is now on its second tour under Mr. Stirling's management.

"Richard Carvel."

On Saturday afternoon and night, May 25, the patrons of the Lycenm theater will be enabled to witness Charles Frohman's star, John Drew, in the title role of the romantic drama, "Richard Carvel," in which he was ,until lately, long seen at the Empire theater, New York. The play is a dramatization by Edward E. Ross of the novel of the same name by Winston Churchill. The production comes from the Empire theater, as presented there, with the company and all the scenery complete.
