Bowling.

A LARGE NUMBER of interested spectators were present at the alleys of the Green Ridge Wheelmen last night and watched three very close games between two teams picked from the club's bowling fraternity. So close were the games that at the finish there was but twenty-one pins difference, and while the one team took two out of the three games, the other won out by a total of 2,276 to 2,255.

The bowling was very fair on both sides, and while no record-breaking scores were rolled, a number of the players put up good stiff average games. Dr. Green was the night's high man with 183, and also took average honors with the very respectable figures of 170 2-3. The scores:

Kennedy	159	138	111	408
Bliss	141	151	173	465
Myers	108	161	165	434
Bowden	151	150	183	484
Green	190	184	128	502
	749	815	771	2255
Weichel	170	158	111	471
Chapman	135	180	170	485
Mason	161	147	160	470
Nicol	116	170	117	403
Moore	181	152	115	448
	771	807	673	2276

The West End Wheelmen's strong bowling team was scheduled to play the Green Ridge Wheelmen on the latter's alleys last night, but notified them yesterday that it would be an impossibility for its members to come up to Scranton, as one of them is a doctor and the other a druggist, and smallpox cases in Luzerne county are keeping them busy.

The Bicycle club's first team will play Green Ridge during the latter part of this week on the alleys of the newcomers in the bowling arena. The strongest possible team will be picked to meet the champions of the Northeastern Pennsylvania league's tournament.

It is safe to say that not a little surprise was occasioned in Philadelphia Saturday night by the great bowling of the Bicycle club against the Century Wheelmen. The latter is one of the crack aggregations of bowlers of the country but were nevertheless downed by a team of whose members only one had ever rolled on the alleys before. The one member was Josiah Duffield for several years captain of the Centuries. Had not Bill Roper fallen down in the last game of the night there is every reason to suppose that the Scranton bowlers would have amassed a one thousand score.

The bowling season is about over now and a retrospect shows this to have been a more eventful year for lovers of the game of ten pins than any preceding period. Two highly successful league tournaments were rolled, in the second six teams participating and at the end, even a higher spirit of enthusiasm prevailing than at the start. Fine new alleys have been opened up by the Green Ridge Wheelmen, on several occasions teams of crack bowlers from the metropolis have visited here, and several social events given by patrons of or members of the bowling teams have been held and proved events of unalloyed enjoyment.

The Turf.

Messrs. Jones & Welch have leased the Oakley, Ohio, trotting track, engaged P. J. Campbell, ten years Detroit's secretary, to act in like capacity there for them, and will hold the Grand Circuit meeting there September 16 to 20. Stakes have been opened for the following classes, entries to which close Saturday, June 1, with Secretary Campbell: 2.30 class trotting, value $5,000; 2.14 class trotting, value $3,000; three-year-old class trotting, $2,000; 2.24 class pacing, $5,000; 2.14 pacing and 2.09 pacing for like amounts. With all Kentucky, lower Ohio and Eastern Missouri to draw from, this meeting should be a grandly successful one in every way. Especially liberal are Messrs. Jones & Welch as to the fast class pacing. Many owners of 2.09 pacers want to race them, and it is now well worth their while as a $3,000 purse means $1,500 first money, $1,200 of which net to the winner's owner.

One of Kinley Mack's legs has "filled up" and he is in such bad shape that walking exercise is all that he is getting, and very little of that. Heretofore it was his feet that bothered him. The attention Peter Wimmer gave his hoofs proved beneficial, and he was going along nicely until a few days ago, when his leg showed signs of trouble, and it grew worse. With Ethelbert and Kinley Mack out of the Brooklyn, much of the interest is lost, as their trials and tilts last year left doubts in many minds which was the better of the two. Their meeting this year would have probably settled all disputes, but it seems that it is not to be, not for the present at least.

The wisdom of some of the base ball writers in the large cities is of a kind which startles the beholder. A brilliant Washington, D. C., scribe comments favorably upon the work of Bill Coughlin, who is playing third for the Senators, and speaks familiarly of him as "the Western boy who is guarding third." Coughlin is a resident of Scranton, and learned the game about this city's amateur base ball fields. He is playing remarkably well in the field, but has only recently struck his batting gait. He is now hitting like a whole legion of demons, and triples and home runs are becoming a regular habit of the ex-Young Men's Christian association player.

Dolan, released by the Philadelphia National leaguers and signed by Mack for the Athletics, is playing a miserable game for the latter. Base hits are as scarce with him as the proverbial dental equipment of an ordinary pullet and his errors are many and atrocious. It seems strange, too, for when Dolan used to play second base for the fast Richmond team of the Atlantic league he was a sure fielder and hard batsman. He is now playing out of his position, being stationed at short field, where the Athletics have been woefully weak all season. The almost daily changes made in the team's line-up are largely responsible for the ill success which has met the nine's efforts all season. It seems to us that the most profitable arrangement which could be made would consist in bringing Dave Fultz in from the outfield and playing him regularly at second base, his original position. Captain Lajoie is equally at home in any infield position and there is no doubt that he would make as good a shortstop as he has proved an excellent first and second baseman. This would leave hard hitting Ralph Seybold, Geier and Layden in the outfield, which is a sufficiently fast trio to look after everything coming their way.

"Pop" Foster, late of the New York team, is playing a strong outfield game for Washington. He has supplanted Jack O'Brien, the old Scranton player, and is not only fielding his position up to the limit, but is also lining 'em out regularly.

Plank, of Gettysburg college, is the latest student athlete to break into professional base ball ranks. He is pitching well for the Athletics.

While it would be unkind to charge the members of the New York base ball team with "knocking" Pitcher Christy Matthewson, the Factoryville youth who has created such a sensation this year in base ball circles, still it is a most strange coincidence that nearly every game won by the Bucknell graduate has been a victory due to the twirler's work alone. While the team generally gives him good support in the field, still in almost every instance the number of hits and runs they have made has been so miserably small that with any other of their pitchers on the rubber it would have meant sure defeat for the Glants.

Jimmy Dean, of this city, and Catcher O'Neil, of Minooka, are both playing good ball in the New York state league.

Bicycling.

According to a story that comes from Hertford, "Mark Twain," who formerly resided there, was out wheeling one day with a minister, when he suddenly had a fall. The minister slowed up and was going to the assistance of the humorist, when the latter called out: "Don't stop, Joe! Go right ahead. I think I will stay here a bit and swear."

Two hundred and seventy-five started out on the first one-hundred-mile run of the spring of the New York division of the Century Road club on May 12. It had rained the night before and was raining in the morning, yet one man of sixty traveled from Albany to Brooklyn. Another of three score years journeyed from Watervliet, N. Y., and four men went from Meriden, Conn., to make the trip. This is an item that should be pasted in the hats of those who have been speaking of cycling as "a fad that is dying out."

The cyclists who want to appear in good form upon the roads this year will do well to bear in mind that this is to be a year of conservatism in cycling apparel, both in color and design. Loud checks, dazzling stockings, and bright colors are to be eschewed, and the tendency is to be toward dark colors and genteel styles. For men a sack coat of blue black, pants of a very modest check or solid color, dark stockings, with perhaps a suspicion of color in the roll, which by the way, must cover the cuff of the pants, low cut shoes, either of tan or patent leather, a patent leather belt, madras shirt, with attached collar, and dark tie will be the proper thing. The caps may be a check, of the golf style, but not of more than two colors.

For women, shirt waists, Eton jackets and skirts of dark cloth, the latter reaching well down to the ankle, black stockings and low-cut shoes, tan or patent leather, the latter preferred, will be the accepted costume. In the matter of head apparel, there will be no set style. A woman, as a rule, wears such style of hat as she thinks best becomes her, the only limit being its suitability in some measure to the pastime of cycling. The Alpine will be adhered to both for reasons of comfort and adaptability, by most women who can wear it becomingly.

That bicycle contests and the encouraging of amateur racing men of local reputation increases interest in cycling cannot be denied. The American Bicycle company has therefore decided to adopt the following plan, which will, without doubt, benefit amateurs universally and impartially. The country is to be divided into twenty-eight districts, and four handsome gold medals will be offered for records made by competition by amateurs in each district, at one, two, five and ten miles. The conditions are: The rider must be mounted on a wheel made by the American Bicycle company. The race meet must be held under the sanction of the N. C. A. It must be an open race, starting from scratch and with single pacing, or in a handicap when a man must start from scratch. At the end of the season, October 15, 1901, the amateur making and holding the district record, according to the certificates accepted by the N. C. A., will be awarded one of the gold medals.

Yachting.

With the result of the last America's cup race in mind and the sanguine predictions in regard to the prospects of the challenger from critics on both sides of the water, which preceded it, few on either side are likely this year to pin much confidence upon the success of Sir Thomas Lipton's new boat. The defending yacht will probably enter the contest a stronger favorite than ever, and yet it can be truthfully asserted that from what we already know there never was less reason why this should be, if, as we are reliably informed, there is no true distinction between the two boats, either in their dimensions or sail area, the superiority of one over the other must depend upon a combination of small details in construction and rigging. This being the case, supreme confidence in the American boat is purely a matter of unreasoning faith. Heretofore, the Herreshoffs have held the lead through their superior knowledge and experience expressed in more or less distinct variations upon preceding types and differing equally from those displayed in the British boat. Watson and Herreshoff have now hit upon precisely the same idea, and it is yet to be proved that the latter is as superior in matters of detail as he has been in originality. There is, therefore, less reason for confidence in an American victory than there was at a corresponding time prior to the last race.

The regatta committee of the Penataquit-Corinthian Yacht club, of Bay Shore, L. I., has just issued the following programme, for the season: July 4, spring regatta; July 27, summer regatta; August 17, open regatta; September 2, autumn regatta. Special races in the thirty-foot class for the Lighthouse cup offered by one of the members will be held July 4, 13 and 27, August 17 and September 2 and 14.

Sports in General.

The second annual shoot of the Scranton Gun club will be held at the Dunmore range tomorrow, commencing at 9 a. m. Clay target shooting all day; live birds in the afternoon. Refreshments will be served on the grounds.

The resolution introduced in the New York city council to license boxing has been turned over to a committee. The committee is to thoroughly investigate the matter and has two weeks in which to report.

It is generally thought that the Patterson resolution, which put a stop to boxing, will be killed and limited round bouts allowed.

The indications are that only thoroughly reliable clubs will be allowed to hold fights and that their permits will be called in at the first sign of crookedness.

Mayor Harrison is in favor of allowing one or two first-class exhibitions each month.

The team of athletes to represent Oxford and Cambridge in the games with Yale and Harvard in New York on September 21, and which is later to go to Canada to meet the men of McGill university and the University of Toronto, have been selected, and are as follows:

100-Yard Dash—A. E. Hind and J. Churchill, Cambridge.

Quarter-Mile Run—L. J. Cornish, Oxford; R. W. Barclay, Cambridge; P. A. Neave, Oxford (reserve).

Half-Mile Run—H. W. Workman, Cambridge; J. B. Cleave, Oxford, or J. Gilman, Cambridge.

One-Mile Run—F. G. Cockshott, Cambridge; W. H. Gregson, Cambridge; J. W. Cawtinal, Cambridge.

Two-Mile Run—H. W. Workman, Cambridge; E. A. Dawson, Oxford; J. C. Macnaughten, Cambridge.

120 Yards (hurdles)—G. B. Garnier, Oxford; G. Mortimer, Oxford; E. Allcock, Cambridge.

Long Jump—L. J. Cornish, Oxford; H. A. Jones, Cambridge, or W. E. B. Henderson, Oxford.

Hammer Throw—E. E. B. May, Oxford; W. E. B. Henderson, Oxford, or R. C. Hartley, Cambridge.

WILD BILL'S DEATH.

It Was Due to the Silly Vanity of His Assassin.

E. C. Little, in Everybody's Magazine.

In the summer of 1876, Hickok was prospecting for gold in the Black Hills. It was about the time of the Custer expedition, but the telegram that summoned Wild Bill to serve with Custer went astray, or he would have died just a month later with the long-haired brigadier, who spoke so well of him. He had no quarrel with any one in the hills, but August 2, 1876, the man who sat across the little round table from him got up, dropped his cards, walked out the back door, in a moment entered another with a six-shooter in his hand, stepped behind Hickok, and shot him to death without a second's warning. So strong was his instinct of caution, so deft the hands that had kept him in frequent battle, that even as his head fell forward on the little gambling-table his hands had drawn both pistols, ivory-handled gifts of the Union Pacific railway, half from their holsters.

The assassin was actuated by the same silly vanity that moved the wicked fool who fired the Ephesian dome. He wished to be known as the man who killed Wild Bill. He was tried by a jury of peers in the United States District Court, found guilty of murder, and hanged by the neck until dead. Nothing in the evidence or in the record of Hickok developed the slightest excuse for the deed. When asked at the trial why he had not given his victim a chance for his life, the murderer replied that he had no call to commit suicide, a very flattering but somewhat delayed and perfunctory compliment to the skill and prowess of the dead scout.

BLOTS

Are not more disfiguring to pure white paper than blotches and pimples are to the clean white skin. Both men and women are at a disadvantage when the face is marred and scarred by an eruptive disease. Perhaps the woman is the more unfortunate because the beauty of a clean skin and clear complexion is her rightful heritage. And while she has the friendly shelter of the veil, it only covers what it cannot entirely conceal. The worst misfortune in the case of a man with a pimply face is that he is generally set down as dissipated. If he seeks a position his "dissipated" face discounts his abilities. If he is a salesman he finds customers disinclined to do business with a man whose commercial reliability must be taken largely on trust, because his face is against him.

The misery and discomfort of such disfiguring eruptive diseases is apparent to everyone. The great question is: Can these diseases be cured? Can this rough skin be made smooth? Is there any escape from the torment of eczema and salt-rheum? Can scrofulous sores be healed?

The answer is: "What has been done can be done." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has cured eruptive diseases in men and women, and cured them perfectly and permanently. It has cured pimples, boils, scrofulous sores, erysipelas, eczema, salt-rheum and other distressing and disfiguring eruptive diseases. What "Golden Medical Discovery" has done for others it can do for you. It is an absolutely reliable medicine. It always helps. It almost always cures.

"It gives me great pleasure to express my faith in the virtue of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Ezekiel Floro, of Graytown, Ottawa Co., Ohio. "I suffered everything for two years with a humor on my face, which baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. Was advised to go to the hospital; was doctored there for three months without success. Came home discouraged. Then began to doctor with a "chemist." He also failed to help me. Then I began Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, with no faith whatever in it. Did it only to please my wife; but I am happy to tell you that after taking five bottles I am entirely cured."

"I feel it my duty to inform you of my wonderful cure by the use of your medicine," writes Mrs. E. H. McLain, of Meredosia, Morgan Co., Ills. "In 1881, a place about the size of a silver dime broke out on my scalp and kept spreading until it went all over my head. It pained a great deal and ran, and we tried a great many doctors and all kinds of patent medicines but none did any good. So it went on until 1890, and I was taken sick and lay about ten weeks. I was in a very weak condition, and I was recommended to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took about six bottles, I think. About three bottles of medicine for my weakness, not thinking of it helping me in any other way, but I feel so thankful that I don't know how to express my thanks for the cure of the sore. I have often thought I would write to you but neglected to do so. I think it a miracle, for I had given up all hope of ever being cured. You have all the praise of the wonderful cure. My husband thinks this was all that was necessary to write. If you want proof you can ask all in the neighborhood. I am now in my 68th year and am very strong."

"Three times I have cured myself of erysipelas," writes Mrs. Lolita J. Mitchell, of 1824 Adeline Street, Oakland, Alameda Co., California, "by using your 'Golden Medical Discovery' after I had been under the doctor's care and found no relief."

"It has been five years since I took your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' for a scrofulous affection of the cervical glands of the neck," writes Mr. Zebulon B. Loftin, of Grifton, Pitt Co., N. C., and I am glad to tell you that I have had no return of the disease. I thought I would write and let you know that I have not forgotten you, and never will while I live."

The reason for the thorough cures of eruptive diseases effected by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is this: It entirely cleanses the blood from the impurities which cause the diseases. Until these corrupting impurities are removed there can be no permanent cure. Pimples, boils sores, etc., are only the outward signs of the inward disease. To cure the disease the cause must be cured, and "Golden Medical Discovery" absolutely eliminates from the blood the corrupt and clogging elements which cause disfiguring eruptions. It restores the skin to normal smoothness, and the pure, healthy blood supply produced by its means dyes the cheek with the ruddy hues of health.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be used with the "Discovery" when the bowels are irregular or the liver sluggish. The two medicines are especially adapted to be used together whenever a laxative is required.

The manifest motive for substitution is to enable the dealer to make the little more profit paid on the sale of less meritorious remedies. To accept a substitute medicine as "just as good" as "Golden Medical Discovery" is to repeat the folly of the familiar fable and trade substance for shadow.

TOLD IN A FEW LINES.

The collection taken in the borough schools for the Boxer and flag fund of the Grand Army of the Republic amounted to $27.06. The largest collection from any one room was received from Miss Farrell's room at No. 9 building, where $1.22 was contributed, the room having an enrollment of only thirty-five pupils.

The borough schools will be closed tomorrow, but school will be held as usual Friday.

The members of Independent Hose company will meet at their quarters at 8.30 o'clock tomorrow in fatigue uniform and proceed in a body to the different cemeteries to decorate the graves of their deceased members.

Rev. John Bradshaw and wife, of Nanticoke, are spending a few days with Rev. Charles H. Newing, at the Methodist parsonage.

Below is given a list of the letters uncalled for at the Dunmore postoffice on May 25. Persons calling for them will please say advertised. The list: Nellie Connolly, 1610 Jefferson avenue; Ed Corey, Charles F. Cochran, Annie Dattilieul, 1525 Adams avenue; John Foley, 711 Monroe avenue; John Monroe, Agnes O'Horo, George Simpson (2), Patrick Timmany, Masters street; Vohar Vasill (2).

A large attendance of Odd Fellows is requested at tonight's meeting to hear the report of the delegate to the Grand lodge, recently in session at Gettysburg.

Lancaster, May 29.—Upon Minney, a farmer of Manor township, hanged himself in his barn this morning. Financial difficulties are the cause. He was 58 years of age and had a wife and three children.

Shot Wife and Killed Himself.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press.

Pawtucket, R. I., May 28.—Adam Mattinson, of Lincoln, R. I., murdered his wife today by shooting her. A farm hand who interfered was shot in the arm, and before Mattinson could be caught he killed himself. He was about 45 years of age.
