CANTATA WAS EXCELLENT

PERFORMANCE IN MEARS HALL ATTRACTED LARGE CROWD.

Daniel, or the Captivity and Restoration Pleases One of the Largest Audiences of the Season-Production Was Well Staged and Costumed-Base Ball Game Arranged for Tomorrow Morning-Sumner Avenue and First Baptist Churches. Events of This Evening.

Mears' hall was not large enough to accommodate all the people wno were anxious to attend the cantata of "Daniel, or the Captivity and Res-toration," last evening, and in all probability another performance will be given at a date to be announced later. The performance was one of the best ever given in West Scranton and the Tabernacle United choir deserve much credit for the excellent production.

The chorus work was exceptionally good, and the solo parts were all in capable hands. The cantata begins with a chorus, "By the Rivers of Babylon," which was sung with fine effect. Then followed a succession of choruses, solos, duets, etc. The story of the cantata is laid in Jerusalem. God's chosen people mourn in a strange land. They urge each other to trust and confide in God, which Daniel joins. A herald from the king enters, who commands them to worship the golden image. They refuse, exhort each other to courage. The three princes are cast into the Their wondrous preservation there is watched by the king and a chorus of Assyrians. It is celebrated by a chorus of thanksgiving. Then follows another series of vocal numbers, in which the principal characters take part. The Jews still long to return to their own land. The Per-in a jubilation chorus. The presidents and princes are jealous of the reign of Daniel. They consult on how they may remove him. The king commands everyone to worship him alone for thirty days. Daniel prays to his God as he had always done. The princes hear him and shout for joy. The queen tells the king, who is troubled. Daniel is placed in the lion's den. The king

Sumner Avenue Church.

Since the retirement of Rev. Frank Milman, as supply paster of the Summer Avenue Presbyterian church, and the death of Prof. Plumley, who succeeded him, the flock of the Sumner Avenue Presbyterian church have been without a pastor. If it is not disposed of, there is a possibility of the structure being taken down and rebuilt on the proposed new location. The matter is being held under advisement by the Presbytery, and it is not known just now what will be done in the matter.

New First Baptist Church.

The finishing touches on the new First Baptist church, on South Main avenue, are now being put on by a large force of workmen under the direction of the building committee. It ished in a few weeks, when the build-ing will be dedicated.

Contractor, Fletcher, who began the building, threw up the centract some time ago, and it devolved upon the church people to have the work fin-ished. The structure will be finished as originally planned, and will be one in chorus. #### GREEN RIDGE.

The concert to be given on June 1 under the direction of Mrs. Max Chapman in the Presbyterian church, Green Ridge, will be of unusual interest to all lovers of music. Among the many attractions will be the Pittston composed of beautifully trained voices, which will sing with the Scranton chorus, trained also by Mrs. Chapman. Mrs. Brady will be the soloist, and the beauty and merit of her voice need no comment in this, her home city, where she has so often given pleasure to her friends. The Rippards also will be hailed with delight by those who always welcome them to Scranton and gladly listen to to be given for the benefit of the Green Ridge Library, whose struggles of the highest grade of silkoline in new and elegant throughout the community. Colonel Boles next took up a mason's hammer and passed it to Bishop Potter, declaring in ceremonious tones that the stone was now set straight and true. The bishop struck the stone and, raising his voice, said, "In the name of God, amen. stone is set for the glory of God and the good of His children. Here may it stand as a witness for Him for ages to come."

CLOSE OF CEREMONY.

With this the ceremony was at a lose, and after the male chorus, the assemblage and the band had render-ed, "America," Rev. Dr. Pierce, of the Penn Avenue Baptist church, dismissed the meeting with benediction. The stone is of Indiana limestone, two-foot square, bearing on one exposed face the Young Men's Christian association emblem and on the other the date "1901."

The association emblem is very artistically carved on the stone and as it will be viewed for ages to come. an interpretation of its symbols will not be amiss. The outer circle signifies unity and the triangle stands for the three-sided training aimed at, the training of the spirit, mind and body, Gree initial letters of the words, "Christ the King" surmount an open Bible, on which is inscribed "John xvii: 21," which verse reads, "That they may all be one, as Thou, Father, art in Me and I in Thee: that the world may know I have sent Thee. The new building covers practically all of the 90x200 site of the old Blair homestead, corner of Washington avenue and Mulberry street, its larger dimension facing Mulherry street. As will be seen by the accompanying Illustration, the gymnasium building, on the extreme left, is given a distinct treatment by the architect, but at the same time is made to pleasantly harmonize with the main building.

COST OF BUILDING.

The main building is to be seven stories high, including the half-basement, and its flat roof is to be fitted up as a summer garden. Its cost when completed is to be in the neighborhood of $225,000. Of this amount $206,000 is already at hand.

The material of construction is stone, brick and iron. The exterior is simple, yet dignified in treatment and suggestive in its predominant features of the uses to which it is to be put. The principal ornamentation is the spacious and artistic entrance on the Mulberry street side and five rows of bay windows extending along the four upper stories.

The interior arrangement of the bulding is most carefully and consistently planned and represents what is claimed to be the closest approach thus far obtained to absolute perfection in the construction of a Young Men's Christian association building.

The isolation of the noisy apartments. such as the gymnasium, bowling alleys and manual training rooms, from the reading room, auditorium and other ike apartments is complete.

In the sub-basement of the main building is to be placed the machinery for furnishing light, heat and power. Beneath the gymnasium will be the baths, which will consist of a Turkish ath, a large swimming numerous shower baths.

BOWLING ALLEYS.

Three bowling alleys will flank the symnasium on the Mulberry street side, their head being in the main building. A bicycle room will be conveniently accessible from the Mulberry street side, and under the centre of the main building in the half base. ment will be the lockers and dressing ooms. On the Washington side at the street level will be three ore rooms, the corner one to be used as a drug store, the center one as a restaurant, and the other as a barber hop. All three are already leased.

The whole of the gymnasium buildng above the baths excepting the top floor will be used for the gymnasium, which will be 51x76 feet, and free from posts. The top floor will have a manual training and other class rooms eached from the main building.

The first floor of the main building will contain an attractive outer loggia of ample dimensions, so arranged as to be convenient to both the auditorium and the association rotunda. The rotunda will be a beautiful feaure of the building and will contain the administration offices. A broad taircase leads to the second floor, where will be the public reading room, game room and members' coat room The auditorium is above the stairs on the Washington avenue side, and its floor is seven feet above the main entrance lobby. It will seat 910.

FLOOR FOR BOYS.

Between the first and second floor in the central part of the main building is to be a Mezzanine floor, which will contain rooms exclusively for the younger boys.

The second floor is to contain an ttractive central hall, large parlors and reading room, a small lecture hall, two studios for rental, the entrance to the visitors' gallery of the gymnasium and balcony of the auditorium. The third floor will accomodate the class rooms, suites of club rooms and a parlor for the exclusive use of young en resident in the building. The three upper floors will contain eighty four admirably planned rooms for single men, eighteen of which are to be connected with private baths. Every room is an outside room. These are to be rented to young men, and the lodgers will be furnished with very reasonable board by the week at the restaurant if they so desire. The roof will be used in summer for

was Joseph H. Scranton. The work flourished till the outbreak of the Civil war, when the association lost so many of its members and supporters by enlistments in the army that it could not be sustained. At the close of the war, the work was again taken up and Hon. Alfred Hand made president. Rooms were opened at 324 Lackawanna avenue, W. D. Mossman was employed as general secretary, the membership grew rapidly, the Home for the Friendless was established, the African Methodist Episcopal church organized and hundreds of other very worthy and enduring things accomplished. From that time on the association has been an agency for great good to the city. To enumerate all its achieve-ments would be to tax the capacity of the whole paper. Suffice it to say that its work made such an impression on the citizens of Scranton that when it lost its handsome new building and practically all its other belongings in the destructive fire of February 3, 1898, the response to the appeal for funds to replace the property was so large that it could be replaced five times over and there would be something left. As an instance of the class of men who have lent their influence to the work of the association the names of those who have served as presidents is all-sufficient. These were: Joseph H. Scranton, Hon. Alfred Hand, Colonel H. M. Boies, E. B. Sturges, Colonel F L. Hitchcock, L. B. Powell, James H. Torrey, G. F. Reynolds, Hon. H. A. Knapp, Hon. William Connell, William Hand, A. W. Dickson.
