SHE SUES HER BROTHER AND UNCLE FOR $25,000.

Alleges That Franklin Howell and Thomas D. Bevan Injured Her to That Extent by Bringing Proceedings to Have Her Declared a Lunatic-Alleges That It Was a Wicked and Malicious Conspiracy. Potter Again Seeking Damages from the Trolley Company.

Another chapter in the Deane-Howell litigation was opened up yesterday by the filing of a $25,000 trespass suit by Mrs. Jennie Deane against her brother, Franklin Howell, and her uncle, Thomas D. Beyan, She alleges that she was damaged to that extent in mind, body and reputation proceedings instituted to have her declared a lunatic. The purpose of the proceedings, she alleges was to relieve Franklin Howell from the necessity of turning over to her the property he controlled for her as confidential agent and to prevent her marriage with her present husband, E. B. Deane. This, she alleges, was a malicious and wicked conspiracy. The declaration in the suit was filed by Attorney H. M. Hannah late yesterday afternoon, in Prothonotary Copeland's office. It reads as fol-The playment Seemie Deane, claims from thesis foreignts, Franklin Howell and Thomas D. Bevan, damages to the amount of $25,000 for the course of action set forth in the following statement: Herore and at the time of the commutting the grievance by the defendants, as hereinafte numerried, and of somal and competent mind and inderstanding, and was so known to be. That the detendant, Franklin Howell, who is or brother, has for many years been acting as her confidential agent and tenstee, and had in his hands a large amount of her property and es-tate, both real and personal, which she, the said daintiff, had inherited from her tatler, Daniel charged, the plaintiff was a resident of Scranton.

That the said Franklin Howell, by bad management and extravagance, had wasted and dis-sipated all or most of his own property and extate, during the years 1808, 1809 and 1900, and was using the property and estate of the plaintiff as his own, and for his own purposes.

That during the year 1900 the plaintiff, believng that her estate was not being properly man nged by the said agent, and also in contem-plation of marriage with her present bushond, E. B. Deane, had withdrawn from the said Frank-in Howell the control and management of her said property, and had called upon him to account and pay over to her the property then is his bands belonging to her.

And he, the said Franklin Howell, being unable or unwilling to pay over and deliver to her the property aforesaid, then and there conceived and devised the wicked, malicious and unlawful iff, declared a lumatic and of unsomed mind, for the purpose thereby of preventing her marriage with her said present husband, E. B. Deane, and, in order that he, the said Franklin Howell, might be able to retain in his own bands the property and estate of the plaintiff during her life, and at her death might inherit the same under the intestate laws of the state, the plaintiff having to disters and no brothers except the detendant And the other defendant, Thomas D. Bevan, the is an uncle of the plaintiff, and the guardian of her estate during her minority, well knowing the premises, and knowing that she, the said plaintiff, was of sound and competent mind and understanding, yet wickedly and maliciously agreed and conspired with the said Franklin Howell in making a charge against the plaintiff

And in presumer of the said wicked and unlawful conspiracy, and for the purpose of preventng the marriage of the plaintiff, as aforesaid and that be, the said Franklin Howell, might retain in his own bands the estate and properly of the plaintiff, they, the said Franklin Howell and Thomas D. Bevan, did wickedly, maliciously and unlawfully compite in making, and by affi-oacits filed in court to that purpose, did make the false, wicked, malicious and scandalous charge against the plaintiff that she was of uncourse against the plantiff that she was of un-sumed mind, and caused legal proceedings to be instituted for the purpose of having her, the said plantiff, adjudicated a lunatic, the said pro-ceedings having been commenced in the court of common pleas of Lackawanna county to No. 758, January term, 1901.

And the said plaintiff saith that she is, and always bath been known to be or sound and empetent mind and understanding and so know malicious and unlawful charge made against her by the said defendants, she has been greatly injured and damaged in her good name and reputation, and has been caused to suffer great physical and mental torture and anguish, and has been caused great loss and expense in the em-ployment of legal counsel and physicians. Wherefore, the said plaintiff has sustained and claims damages to the amount of $25,000. And therefore she brings this suit.

H. M. Hannali Attorney for Plaintiff.

In Common Pleas Court.

George W. Potter, the Dunmore butcher, is again a plaintiff in a damage suit against the Scranton Rallway company. The case was called yesterday before Judge Kelly in court room No. 2. Mr. Potter and his son, Charles, are claiming $500 for the loss of one horse, the injury of another and the demolishing of a wagon, which resulted from a collision occurring on North Washington avenue, Oct. 19.

The son, Charles, who was driving the wagon, says that before he attempted to cross the tracks he stopped, looked and listened and discovered no car approaching. Before he got over a car coming down the steep, hill descending from Grandview avenue, dashed down upon him. One of the horses was thrown under the fender and dragged a considerable distance. It was so badly injured it had to be shot. The other was cut and bruised and $40 was expended in doctoring it. The damage to the wagon necessitated $50 worth of repairs,

The company claims that Potter did not stop, but drove directly in front of the car. The motorman rang the bell, applied the brake, reversed the power sanded the track, and in addition to all these things that motorman, as witnesses, usually tell of having done to avert an accident, this particular motorman, Frank Raymond, gave a whistle, Mr. Raymond whistled for the court and jury, to prove that his whistle is no little two-penny affair, and to say that was convincing is doing his whistle but small compliment. Mr. Raymond knocked a start out of every one in the court room with his whistle.

The company also put on witnesses to show that there is an unobstructed view of the track for three hundred feet from the point where Potter atempted to cross the track and that the approach of an in-bound car would be visible from any point for a distance of 400 feet along the cross-lots route pursued by Potter's team in approaching the track.

The evidence was all in at adjourning time. Ex-Judge E. N. Willard and Hon, C. P. O'Malley, of Willard, Warren & Knapp, represent the company. The plaintiff's attorneys are J. H. Burns, City Solicitor George M. Watson and J. W. Browning.

The elder Potter was seated at the plaintiff's table where, in 1893, he sat for a week trying to make out a $20,000 suit against the company for personal injuries. He was driving around Dunmore corners one day with a team, one of which was a young and spirited horse. Some trolley company employes were repairing guy wires with the aid of a new-fargled flaring red ladder and platform arrangement that was being used for the first time. As Potter approached he called to the men to cease their hammering, but they paid no heed to him. The noise made by the vibrating wires, together with the strange looking apparatus planted in the roadway, frightened Potter's young horse and a runaway resulted. Potter was thrown our with such violence that his left leg was broken in three places below the ankle, his upper jaw was broken off so completely that when he lowered the under jaw the upbone and his temple were crushed in, leaving a permanent deep impression, was left a hole, caused by a sharp pointed stone, that will easily hide the half of a man's thumb. Besides all this he sustained internal injuries resulting in permanent derangements. He failed to secure a verdict, both in the local and appellate courts, and fairly impoverished himself seeking to yesterday morning. Following the instructions of the court, the amount of INDUSTRIAL the penalty recited in the bond was found to be $5,000. The actual damages sustained by the plaintiff by reason of the failure of the defendants to carry out the conditions of the agreement were fixed at $1,524. This, finding is subject to a question of law, reserved by Judge Kelly, as to whether or not the defendants are liable for the full penalty recited in the bond or only the actual damages. The plaintiff moved the court to enter judgment for the full amount of the bond, notwithstanding the verdict. This will throw the matter into argument court,

In the case of J. E. Westgate against J. K. Wideman, Judge Edwards granted the motion of Attorney E. C. Newcomb for binding instructions for the defendant, on the ground that the evidence showed the parties were partners in the transaction out of which the suit grows, and being partners an action of trespass could not be.

By order of court, a verdict for the defendant was entered in the case of the United Security Life Insurance and Trust company against John O'Malley, and in the case of G. A. Shoemaker against Annette Reynolds a verdict was directed for the plaintiff in the sum of $216.40. This was for want of appearanace.

Two Complaining Wives.

Brutality on the part of the husbands who had sworn to love, cherish and protect them, is the grounds alleged for in two cases heard before Judge J. W. Carpenter. They are the cases of Kate Artz against Jacob Artz. and Annie J. Gerrity against M. J. Ger-

Mrs. Artz, her two sons, Robert, aged 17, and Harry, aged 16, and Isadore Shoemaker, a friend, who has known the family for years, gave the testimony that is hope I will make Mrs. Artz free.

It was to the effect that the husband was a drunkard; that he beat and otherwise abused his wife; that he refused to support his family, and that he threatened to kill them if they did not get out of his house. This all happened at Stouchburg, Berks county, where the marriage took place eighteen years ago, and continued from soon after the wedding until a year ago, when Mrs. Artz and her two boys came to Scranton to live. Mrs. Artz swore that her husband beat her voiously, leaving marks of his violence on her body more than fifty times. One of her sons told that his father's neglect at one time reduced him to the necessity of gathering nuts in the woods to appease his hunger. In the Gerrity case the allegations against the offending husband were preferred by Mrs. Gerrity, J. C. Duel and Miss Mame Duel, of Rush, Susquehanna county, and Mr. and Mrs. Burbon P. Smth, of Dalton.

Their story was that Gerrity spent his earnings in drinking and gambling, refused to support his wife and frequently beat her, and finally drove her from home.

They were married at Rush in 1888, and fived together eight years. Mrs. Gerrity has since made her living by working out as a domestic. She is at present in the employ of the family of ex-Sheriff Randolph Crippen.

C. H. Soper is attorney for Mrs. Artz, and Frank E. Boyle for Mrs. Gerrity. John Taylor took the stenographic notes of the testimony in both cases.

In the cases of the Comm against J. W. Guernsey et al., and the Commonwealth against Frank Silliman. jr., court directed that the demurrers filed last Saturday by the defendants be set down for hearing at Argumen.

This means that these cases will not ome up for trial at the coming session of Criminal court, as scheduled. Court refused the motion for a bill of particulars in the case of the Commonwealth against Fred Dilcher and recover what he believed was his right,

LATEST ABOUT THE REMOVAL OF THE SHOPS.

City of Binghamton Has Offered Twenty Acres of Land to the Company as a Site for the Shops-Present Status of the Nine Hour Strike. To Ask the Board of Trade to Quarantine the New Men-The D., L. & W. Board for Today-Other Interesting Notes.

Indications point to the removal of Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company's repair shops from this city to Binghamton, whether the present strike among their employes is settled or not. It has been known for some time that the Binghamton board of trade is desirous of securing the shops for that city, and recently a special committee was appointed for the purpose of inviting the company to consider the matter seriously. It is contended that a switch from the main line at Binghamton is needed to accommodate the increased freight traffic at that point, and to obtain this siding an invitation was extended to locate a repair shop there also for the Syracuse and Utica divisions. This invitation came in the form of a suitable building site on which to erect the shop,

The proposition was considered by the company, and held in abeyance until a more thorough investigation could be made. This was done by the ompany's engineers and when the matter was reported on, the proposal was brought to the attention of the board of directors at a recent meeting, and the city of Binghamton was invited to make a definite and explicit proposition.

Yesterday the company was offered a suitable tract of twenty acres of land adjoining the railroad, situated on the north side of the city, and from what could be learned semi-officially in this city, it is more than likely that the offer will be accepted. The city of Binghamton offers to donate the land free, without any strings attached.

General Superintendent T. E. Clarke and Master Car Bullder L. T. Canfield were called to New York yesterday, and their presence at head-quarters at this time is significant, The company's attitude in the strike situation is practically decided upon, and it is a fight to the finish. Another significant fact which has a direct bearing on the removal of the shops is the suspension of work on proposed enlargement of the Scranton round house. The company had intended tearing down the old tound house and building a larger one, but this may now be built in Binghamton. Plans had also been drawn up for enlarging the yard facilities and building a number of new cars, repair and machine shops on the present site, and also to include the land now being vacated by the steel company, but this idea has practically been aban-

The Dickson Locomotive works had also under consideration an addition to their present plant, but the idea of erecting it has been given up for the present.

The Nine Hour Strike.

With the exception of the strikers announcing their intention of requesting the board of health to quarantine the men imported by the Lackawanna Railroad company and stationed in the paint shops, there were no developments in the strike situation yes-H. C. Gallagher, W. F. York and Humphrey B. Campbell constitute the They will call at the board of health's offices some time today to present the request.

The council's decision to take this action was superinduced by the visit yesterday morning of Agent C. H Van Buskirk, of the Municipal Improvement and Contracting company. Regarding his call, Chairman Campbell said:

"Mr. Van Buskirk stated that he had received an order from the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western to clean out the quarters of the im-ported men now harbored in the paint shop. He seemed dubious about undertaking the task and desired to consult first with some representatives of the machinists.

"We assured him that no objection would be raised to such a service, as it was in the interest of the health of the community.

"The men consider this as an additional reason for requesting the board of health to take action, as the 'scabs of Wilkes-Barre are of the same mi-gratory kind as those located here, With the reports of smallpox coming from Wilkes-Barre and among the 'scabs' at Dover, the prospect of sowing the seeds in this city in such fertile ground as the material imported by the Delaware. Lackawanna and Western, is not a very pleasant contemplation.

It was stated at strike headquarters that several more machinists had left yesterday for other cities, where the demands have been granted. Unless the strike is settled by the first of the week, it was said that there would be a great exodus of men.

The machinists reported that they received a number of contributions, but if there are no favorable replies in hand by Sunday, will put their entertainment on the boards to raise funds, At the headquarters of the striking
