Social Gossip

A dispatch from Englewood, N. J., to the New York Times of yesterday said: "The marriage of Miss Jessie Hill Hart, the eldest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Hart, to Mr. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, of Hartford, Conn., took place in the Presbyterian church this afternoon. The Rev. Dr. S. M. Hamilton, pastor of the church read the service. Dr. Viren, of St. Luke's hospital, New York city, was the best man. Miss Mattie Hart, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. The church was handsomely decorated with ferns. A reception was held in Dwight's House after the marriage. Dr. and Mrs. Wainwright left for a tour of the south. Upon their return they will make their home in Scranton, Penn."

Dr. Wainwright has for some time been occupying the office, which was planned under his direction, in the house owned by Miss Mary T. Munnis, at Jefferson avenue and Linden street.

The closing social of the children's Saturday afternoon dancing class at Seigel's dancing academy was held on Saturday night, between the hours of 7:30 and 10:30. There was a large number of festive little lads and lassies present, and they enjoyed themselves right merrily. A May-pole dance wound up the festivities.

Rev. Joseph Browning and Miss Mary Hilling, of Marsh Hoods, Pa., were married Saturday by Rev. D. P. Jones, pastor of the Tabernacle church, West Scranton, at the home of Mr. Jones.

THE CONSERVATORY CONCERT

Large Crowd Attended It at St. Luke's Parish House.

The Scranton Conservatory of Music, under the direction of Mr. J. Alfred Pennington, gave its third recital of this season's series of closing recitals last evening at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium of St. Luke's parish house.

With five large upright pianos, and a Steinway concert grand piano occupying the place of honor in the foreground, the stage presented an interesting appearance; but the beauty of the recital was enhanced as the students came forward to play their solo numbers, or joined in ensemble pieces at all of the pianos.

While several of the older students participated in the programme the younger ones were largely in the majority, and thus the Conservatory strikingly exemplified its success in teaching children to play the piano. Of these, Anna Hand, Olive Jadin, Karl Ammerman, Beatrice McComb, Fred Kosman, Mary Dooley, Verma Lewis, Florence Nichols, Hattie Ellis and Clara Haas played solo numbers. Special mention should be made of the latter, who, though a child not large enough to reach the pedals, played the Etude in C major by Haydn, a piece of considerable difficulty, in splendid style.

An exhibition of some of the results following the use of the Paelen system of fundamental training was given by Edwin Connel, Marguerite Haag, Ruth O'Connor and Amelia Weichel playing together, at different points, an allegretto in any major key asked for by the audience.

All of the solo numbers were played from memory and, including those who played in the sight reading and ensemble classes, thirty-five students appeared in the programme. Of the advanced students mention should be made of Miss Marjorie Robertson's rendition of the Nocturne in A flat, by Frederic Chopin, and Harry Wilkins playing the difficult Loreley, by Seeling, and Miss Clara Browning played the last movement of the D minor concerto, with Mr. Pennington at a second piano, in a manner worthy of special commendation.

At the close of the evening selections the Overture to the Magic Flute was the climax to the recital.

SOUTH AFRICAN BOERS.

They Will Be a Feature of the Wild West Show.

Real South African Boers, and men from the Canadian Mounted Rifles, and the Southwestern Horse, who fought them during the past year, now ride side by side in Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show.

The Wild West is the only exhibition presenting actual actors and reproductions of the thrilling military scenes in which they have become brilliant pages in the history of the present century, both in the advance of civilization and the improvement of military methods. Genuine in any article is a sure and the best recommendation of its merit. With this fact before their eyes, and a full appreciation of its value, Colonel Cody and Mr. Salisbury organized Buffalo Bill's Wild West and Congress of Rough Riders, and employ only the genuine people, living and acting as they do in their natural avocations and pastimes. These are used to present the entertainment offered the public.

Colonel Cody's convocation of the Congress of Rough Riders of the World includes Cossacks from the army of the czar; Heavy Dragoons from the Imperial Russian Guard; Kaiser Wilhelms; English Lancers; French Light Horse and even Bedouin Arab cavalrymen, loaned by the sultan; with our own gallant regulars, cowboys and Indians, of course, and this year Boers from the Transvaal, the Canadian Mounted Rifles and Strathcona Horse, a crew of coast guard life-savers, and presents a great battle scene in the fight at Tien-Tsin.

A monster street parade of the Congress of Rough Riders of the World will take place on the morning of arrival, the brilliant military cavalcade being led by Colonel W. F. Cody in person.

VERY DARING WORK.

Burglars Entered the Office of Washburn, Williams & Co.

Between 1:30 and 2 o'clock yesterday, burglars forced open a window in the office of Washburn Williams & Co., on Meridian street, and an unsuccessful effort was made to open the large safe. The cash drawer in the bookkeeper's desk was opened, but contained nothing. The key to the drawer and a number of keys to the mills and shops were taken, as though with a view to another visit.

The burglars would have had nothing for their trouble had they succeeded in opening the safe, as there is never any money kept there overnight. The attempt was most daring as it occurred in broad daylight and the location of the office is such that any suspicious-acting persons could readily be seen. A watchman will be placed on the premises at night hereafter.

DR. STAFFORD'S LECTURE.

He Will Speak on "Macbeth" at the Lyceum Tonight.

Rev. D. J. Stafford, D. D., will lecture at the Lyceum tonight on "Macbeth," this being the last of the Broadway course for the year.

In personal appearance Dr. Stafford is extremely prepossessing. He is young and handsome, and seems to possess all the qualities that go to make up a wonderful man. He has a marvellously sweet and powerful voice, over which he has absolute control, and is a master of expression. He is a profound thinker and a perfect elocutionist, and is graceful in all his manners. It has been a wonder to his friends that Dr. Stafford in all his sermons and lectures has not lost some of the fiery ardor of his earliest day in the work, but each of his sermons appears to be fresher and more powerful.

TO SEE ABOUT THE CHASER

RECORDER MOIR OFF FOR HARRISBURG TODAY.

Together with City Solicitor Watson He Will Endeavor to Have Certain Amendments to the "Ripper" Included in the "Chaser" Which Is to Be Soon Introduced—Amendment Regarding Contracts Suggested but Senator Vaughan Says It Couldn't Pass—What He Has to Say.

Recorder Moir and City Solicitor Watson leave today for Harrisburg, where they will confer with certain of the members of the senate, notably Senator Muehlbroener, with the view of having some of the changes which they believe should be made in the ripper incorporated in the "chaser" which it is understood will soon be introduced.

Senator Muehlbroener has had a whole lot of amendments to the ripper "up his sleeve" ever since that measure was passed by the legislature, and it is expected that he will introduce a supplementary act including a number of them some time this week. Recorder Moir thinks that the ripper should be introduced, Scranton should have a little to say about what is to go into it—hence his trip.

The principal thing which he and Mr. Watson desire to have changed is the section of the bill relating to contracts. Every lawyer who has given this any study says that it is, to say the least, rather vague and ambiguous. City Solicitor Watson interprets it to mean that the power of awarding contracts is vested in the recorder and the head of the proper department but he admits that he may be mistaken and would like to have the section so changed as to set forth specifically just what person or persons shall award contracts.

Expected Testimony Against Accused Councilmen Not Forthcoming—Witness Absent.

The postponed hearing in the cases of Councilman J. P. McAndrew and ex-Councilman J. F. McCann, charged by the Municipal league with bribery, in connection with the passage of the telephone ordinance, took place Saturday afternoon at Alderman Millar's office.

Ex-Councilmen Simon Thomas and R. H. Williams, on whom the prosecution mainly relied to establish a prima facie case, were examined at length regarding the meetings at the St. Charles, at the time the telephone ordinance was pending, and while they admitted having received money there, supposedly from the old telephone company's representatives, they each denied that either of the defendants had offered or given them any money or as far as they, the witnesses, knew received any themselves.

Richard O'Brien, one of the officers of the old telephone company, was questioned at length as to his knowledge of money being used by the old company to defeat the new company's ordinance, but he denied knowing anything about the matter. He said, however, he said, to do what he could in the interests of the old company, but there was no talk of money between them.

W. F. Hallstead was to have been one of the witnesses, but Agent Wilson, who the Municipal league reported he could not find him. The hearing was continued to give the prosecution an opportunity of securing Mr. Hallstead's testimony.

Attorney Joseph O'Brien, representing the defendants, made a vigorous protest against a continuance. "I've spent the whole winter and spring attending these hearings and I don't want to put in the summer, too," Mr. O'Brien said.

Mr. Torrey, who with E. R. Sturges and James Gardner Sanderson, represented the prosecution, replied that it was as much better for him as it was for Mr. O'Brien.

This is the third time for Mr. McCann and the Municipal league, reported he to be arrested on these same charges. The league is confident that it can go before the next grand jury and secure an indictment.

ATTEMPT AT KIDNAPPING.

Bold Intruder Tried to Carry Off Nathan Weiss' Child.

An unknown man made an unsuccessful attempt to kidnap a 4-month-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Weiss from their home, 229 Franklin avenue, on Saturday evening.

While the servant girl, Susie Tuchand, was in the house alone, the intruder attempted to carry off the child, his purpose evidently being to hold it for ransom, but the girl prevented it, and permitted the man to escape before he could be identified.

The servant had placed the two eldest children in bed, and left the baby in a cradle in the dining room. While she was engaged in the kitchen, the baby began crying and the girl went to pick up the infant, found the intruder carrying the baby away.

She grabbed the man around the neck and clung to him until he released the child and ran out of the house. Mr. Weiss is confident that the child would have been held for ransom.

IS DEMANDING MOIR'S SCALP

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE IS SEEKING HIS REMOVAL.

Want to Make It a General Public Movement, and for That Purpose Has Addressed a Letter to the Citizens Calling for Letters Approving Its Action—Governor Stone to Be Asked to Give the Petitioners a Hearing at Some Stated Time. Some of the Testimony.

It is able to do it and if not forestalled, the Municipal league will have Recorder Moir removed.

A petition is to be presented to Governor Stone, asking for the recorder's removal, and the appointment of some "proper and capable person" to succeed him. A letter to the public announcing this intention and requesting expressions approving of the movement has been issued. It reads as follows:

To the Citizens and Taxpayers of Scranton:

The removal of Colonel Hitchcock from the office of director of public safety by Recorder Moir has stirred this city as it has seldom been stirred before.

If we are correctly informed as to the sentiments of law-abiding citizens of all creeds, classes and parties, it is practically unanimous in condemning the recorder's action. No matter what other reason may be assigned, it is undoubtedly the fact that Colonel Hitchcock's removal was solely due to his feebleness and inefficiency in the performance of the duties of his office. No personal objection has been or could have been raised. A life-long resident of Scranton; a hard worker and yet a poor man; a brave officer with a magnetic personality; an unswerving champion; a man of clean personal character and absolutely fearless in the performance of every known duty; no better selection could have been made to fill this office. This being the case, it is surely high time that the people of Scranton should learn whether the possession of such qualities as the above shall disqualify the holder thereof from public office in the city, or whether, on the other hand, the office in whom the appointing power is vested, who relieves from office, on that account, is not himself absolutely unworthy of holding any public position. Believing that the latter to be the case, we have signed a petition, and we have the unanimous support of our citizens citizens therein, the Municipal league will, at the earliest possible date, make application to the Governor for the removal of Recorder Moir, and the appointment of some proper and capable person to succeed him. An application for a hearing has already been forwarded.

It is proper to add that the league had nothing to do with the original selection of Colonel Hitchcock, but, in common with all good citizens, congratulated themselves, the city and the recorder on that selection. Since the latter has persistently refused to resign, we are anxious for his action in this matter, he thereby, apparently, assumes the entire responsibility therefor, and justifies the commonly expressed opinion that he has acted unwisely and unworthily.

We have no time in which to circulate petitions, but brief letters from any who feel that a great wrong has been done, and should be righted promptly, sent to the league's secretary, Fred E. Beers, will be acceptable, but will not be published.

The Municipal League of Scranton, Pa.
June 1, 1901.

WANT A HEARING.

The governor will be asked to set a time in the immediate future for a hearing on the petition. Should the request for a hearing be granted, the league will go before the governor prepared to show that the petition should be granted.

The plans are not as yet matured, but it is expected that the story of Colonel Hitchcock's selection and dismissal will be told by the colonel himself. He had no hand in the movement and he knows absolutely nothing of it until he read of it in the newspapers.

What the colonel can be expected to recite before the governor was outlined by him to a Tribune reporter yesterday afternoon.

"When the recorder asked me to take the position of director," Colonel Hitchcock went on to say, "I had an explicit understanding with him that I was not to be interfered with in enforcing the law as I found it. The recorder refused to resign, and told him he wanted me to get rid of me he would have to dismiss me. 'Well, I'll never dismiss you,' was his retort. The next day he again asked me to resign, saying it was necessary I should get down and out of the interests of the party. When I again told him he would have to dismiss me, if he wanted to get rid of me, he reiterated his declaration that he would never dismiss me."

On the morning of Tuesday, the day the fire department bids were to be opened, I demanded to know whether or not I was to continue in office. He then told me I would have to go; that he did not want to dismiss me, but was compelled to, by the powers that be. I demanded to know whom was meant by the 'powers that be' and received some evasive answer. 'Is it Governor Stone?' I asked him. 'Yes,' he replied, 'it's Governor Stone and Senator Quay and those.'

PERSONAL FRIEND.

"Now, it so happens that Governor Stone is a personal friend of mine and a very close friend of some of my intimate friends, and if he was responsible for the shabby manner in which I was treated, I wanted to know it, and the next morning I sought out the recorder to have him say explicitly that Governor Stone was the party responsible for my removal. I didn't quite credit the recorder's statement in that regard because I felt Governor Stone could not afford to do what the recorder alleged against him, and it was not surprising to me that the recorder admitted on my next visit that neither Governor Stone nor Senator Quay had anything to do with my removal. I tried to get him to say who was the responsible party, but all the satisfaction I could get was that it was the local Republican leaders. I did not know then but what this was correct, but since then I have learned enough to convince me that if it was Congressman Connel he was hitting at, he was doing Mr. Connel an injustice. I am satisfied that neither Mr. Connel nor any of his intimate political friends caused or wished my removal. I think I know what constitutes the 'powers that be' referred to by the recorder, and by this time pretty much everyone else knows.

Regarding his future course, Colonel Hitchcock is not wholly decided. He thought of seeking vindication by offering himself as a candidate for recorder, but his friends are talking of running him for common pleas judge, and he is disposed to leave himself in the hands of his friends.

sought out the recorder to have him say explicitly that Governor Stone was the party responsible for my removal. I didn't quite credit the recorder's statement in that regard because I felt Governor Stone could not afford to do what the recorder alleged against him, and it was not surprising to me that the recorder admitted on my next visit that neither Governor Stone nor Senator Quay had anything to do with my removal. I tried to get him to say who was the responsible party, but all the satisfaction I could get was that it was the local Republican leaders. I did not know then but what this was correct, but since then I have learned enough to convince me that if it was Congressman Connel he was hitting at, he was doing Mr. Connel an injustice. I am satisfied that neither Mr. Connel nor any of his intimate political friends caused or wished my removal. I think I know what constitutes the 'powers that be' referred to by the recorder, and by this time pretty much everyone else knows.

Regarding his future course, Colonel Hitchcock is not wholly decided. He thought of seeking vindication by offering himself as a candidate for recorder, but his friends are talking of running him for common pleas judge, and he is disposed to leave himself in the hands of his friends.

Horses That Carried Off the Honors at Philadelphia Exhibit.

Dr. John L. Wentz's "Lord Golden" won the $500 plate and the championship ribbon at the Philadelphia horse show on Saturday. This is the most valuable prize offered by the association for the best horse suitable for a gig, owned and driven by an amateur. The doctor's "Lord Brilliant" was also given the reserve ribbon.

The championship ribbon was awarded for horses in harness not exceeding 15 hands, 1 inch in height. Philadelphia exhibitors did not show anything special except in the heavy-weight hunters' class.
