SPECIAL REWARDS IN

The Tribune's Educational Contest

THE SCRANTON TRIBUNE in inaugurating its second Educational Contest has surpassed all its previous offers in the rewards that have been chosen. The young man or woman who succeeds in earning one of the scholarships offered this year will receive a greater reward for the labor of a few weeks than it would be possible to secure in any other way. There are eight scholarships and even if unsuccessful in securing one of them, 10 per cent. of all the money secured will be returned. It is only those who get discouraged and lack ambition to continue, however, that fail in a contest of this kind.

The Special Rewards.

Scholarship in Lafayette College,	- - - -	$1,000
Scholarship in Swarthmore College,	- - - -	1,000
Scholarship in Stroudsburg State Normal School,	- -	675
Three Scholarships in Scranton Business College $60 Each,	-	180
Two Scholarships in Scranton Conservatory of Music, $75 Each,		150
		$3,005

Each contestant failing to secure one of these special rewards will be given ten (10) per cent of all the money he or she turns in.

N. B.—The first two scholarships do not include meals, but the contestants securing these will be given ten (10) per cent. of the money he or she turns in to The Tribune, to assist in paying this expense.

Here is an opportunity for some ambitious young people to earn the best college education without a great amount of effort, and it is an opportunity that may never be repeated. The Tribune may find the returns much less than the expense and would then be unable to again make such generous offers. Such a condition will be The Tribune's loss and the contestants' gain.

There are many young men, and young women too, who would be glad of an opportunity to "work their way through college," in fact, the presidents of these institutions are almost deluged with applications for chances of this kind. Here the work for an entire course of four years can all be accomplished in three short months, and an education that would cost in cash $1,000 is assured without further outlay. Parents should urge their boys and girls to enter the contest and work for one of the special rewards. One of the eight is within the reach of everyone who really tries.

Rules of the Contest

The special rewards will be given to the persons securing the largest number of points. Points will be credited to contestants securing new subscribers to The Scranton Tribune as follows:

	POINTS
One Month's Subscription...$.50	1
Three Months' Subscription 1.25	3
Six Months' Subscription... 2.50	6
One Year's Subscription..... 5.00	12

The contestant with the highest number of points will be given a choice from the list of special rewards; the contestant with the second highest number of points will be given a choice of the remaining rewards, and so on through the list.

Each contestant failing to secure a special reward, and also those who select the first two scholarships, will be given ten per cent. of all the money he or she turns in.

All subscriptions must be paid in advance.

Only new subscribers will be counted.

Renewals by persons whose names were on our subscription list prior to May 13, will not be credited. The Tribune will investigate each subscription and if found irregular in any way reserves the right to reject it.

No transfer can be made after credit has once been given.

All subscriptions, and the cash to pay for same, must be handed in at The Tribune office within the week in which they are secured, so that papers may be sent to the subscribers at once.

Subscriptions must be written on blanks, which can be secured at The Tribune office, or will be sent by mail.

The contest will close promptly at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, August 31, 1901.

What Contestants Did Last Year

Charles Rodriguez, of 428 Webster avenue, secured 909 points, equal to 76 subscribers for one year each, and received an order for a four years' scholarship in Wyoming Seminary, valued at $1,000.

Arthur Kemmerer, of Factoryville, secured 537 points, equal to 45 subscribers for one year each, and received an order for a three years' scholarship in Bloomsburg State Normal School, valued at $675.

David V. Birtley, of Providence, secured 440 points, equal to 37 subscribers for one year each, and received a piano, valued at $485.

Miss Mary Yeager, of Moscow, secured 295 points, equal to 25 subscribers for one year each, and received a course in piano instruction at the Scranton Conservatory of Music, value at $75. (Miss Yeager did not enter until it was within about three weeks of closing.)

Eugene Boland, of Dunmore, secured 275 points, equal to 23 subscribers for one year each, and received a scholarship in the Scranton Business College, valued at $60.

Oliver Callahan, of 425 Vine street, secured 230 points, equal to 20 subscribers for one year each, and received a scholarship in the Scranton Business College, valued at $60.

Miss Jennie Meyers, of Lake Ariel, secured 222, equal to 19 subscribers for one year, and received a scholarship in the Scranton Business College. (Miss Meyers entered the contest just one month before it closed.)

David C. Spencer, of Bloomsburg, secured 185 points, equal to 16 subscribers for one year each, and received a Columbia Bicycle, valued at $75.

Miss Grace Simrell, of Carbondale, secured 126 points, equal to 11 subscribers for one year each, and received a gold watch, valued at $30.

Harry Reese, of Hyde Park, secured 118 points, equal to 10 subscribers for one year each, and secured a camera, valued at $40.

Six Others received cash commissions. It will be noticed that the winners were not confined to the central city, but were located in various places, some of which are quite a distance from Scranton. Besides those in Providence, Hyde Park and Dunmore, some of the most successful contestants were in Factoryville, Carbondale, Lake Ariel, Moscow, Peckville, and even in far away Bloomsburg.
