Social Gossip

William Kirst and Miss Katie Hillbrand were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Holy Trinity Episcopal church by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Nord. The interior of the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion, and the ceremony was witnessed by a large number of friends and relatives. The bride was attended at the altar by her father, Mr. J. H. Hillbrand, and her bridesmaid, Miss Grace Hillbrand, who is a sister of the groom. Miss Katie Kirst, carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by Mr. R. Schmitt.

The religious services were performed by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Nord, and Jacob Emig. George A. Cure. After an hour's delightful with refreshments and social chat, the company dispersed, the newly wedded couple leading the Scranton delegation back to the city, where they had provided and furnished rooms at 29 Parker street. The following are some of the guests:

THE TRIENNIAL CONCLAVE.

Arrangements That Are Being Made at Louisville for Event.

The triennial convolve of Knights Templar, to be held at Louisville, Ky., in August, promises to be the largest gathering of the kind ever held. Contracts for the accommodation of thousands of visitors have already been entered into, and the attendance will be drawn from every section of the United States. Plenty of room remains, however, for the accommodation of those who have not yet applied, and suitable quarters are assured by the Louisville people to all in houses at the disposal of Knight Templars.

In a recent report submitted to the public safety committee by the hotels and accommodations committee on the number of persons already supplied with quarters, it was shown that contracts have been entered into for thirty-four grand commanderies, out of a total of forty-three in the United States. The remaining nine grand commanderies will undoubtedly be located in due time.

These contracts have been made for four days' attendance on the celebration, insuring ample time for all to see Louisville thoroughly. A total of one hundred subordinate commanderies have already closed contracts for accommodations. The state of Illinois holds the list with nineteen bodies, outside the Grand commandery. Indiana is next with a total of eleven, and Ohio and Missouri each have seven commanderies already enrolled for attendance.

The total number of six knights and their friends represented in the convolve is already closed is nearly 10,000, but this number does not begin to represent the total number of visitors that will be in Louisville during the convolve.

An illustrated booklet containing the itinerary and other information regarding the trip will be issued in this city in a few days, and it will be one of the prettiest souvenirs of the trip.

WE HAVE IT AT LAST.

The Coyne Provides the Much Needed Roof Garden.

The Coyne has established what Scrantonians have long been looking for; what the hearts of the people have pined for; what they will ever be thankful for—a roof garden. The balcony above the Pent avenue side of the hotel has been converted into one of the prettiest, coolest and most attractive resorts that Scranton possesses.

A grass canopy and side curtains obscure the patron from the curious gaze of the multitudes on the avenues below. A perfect retreat—quiet and cozy. Air circulating freely will make it a cool place during the hot sunny days of summer. Palms and flowers give it a tropical appearance that makes a man's heart glad and enables him to feel that he is enjoying aylvan shades of nature's forests.

Tables are carefully arranged where regular meals will be served, also all kinds of light refreshments. A most inviting place can be found in this part of the state than the garden. Band concerts will be given occasionally during the summer, and every effort made for the pleasure and comfort of visitors.

MRS. ROCHE SELECTED.

Chosen for the Position of Department President.

Mrs. Cassie Roche, of this city, was yesterday elected department president of the Ladies of the G. A. R., at the convolve held in Gettysburg. Mrs. Roche's jurisdiction will extend over the state.

She is the daughter of Captain P. DeLacy, of Capouse avenue, and for several years has been prominent in the work of the ladies of the G. A. R. of the state. Her choice for the high office of department president is a fitting recognition of the work in the past.

DON'T MISS TODAY'S BIG HORSE SALE.

Walton has arrived again with two car loads of horses for today's big sale. Among the lot are a grand collection of coal blacks for undertakers' use, in matched pairs and singles; also a number of good roaders, a fine lot of business chunks and draughts. DAVID THOMAS IS DEAD.

Man Who Is Charged with Killing Him Is in County Jail.

David Thomas, the young man who was hit in the head by a pick in the hands of Anthony Thomasaki in the Archbold mine Wednesday, died early yesterday morning at the home of his parents in Pottsville.

Coroner Roberts performed a post-mortem yesterday and found that the pick had crushed through Thomas' skull and caused a blood clot on the brain as big as a hen's egg. An inquest will be held later. Thomasaki is in the county jail.

MOIR OUT; CONNELL IN

When the governor remarked that it was for the best that the hearing had been made unnecessary, Mr. Sturges assured the governor that the committee would have had no cause to meet against Mr. Moir excepting the charge that he had made himself incompetent for the office of recorder by his action in the Hitchcock matter.

A few minutes were passed in a chat on general subjects, and the committee retired. The visit did not occupy more than six or seven minutes.

Committee's Statement.

Before returning home, the committee gave me the following statement, in response to a request for an expression on the events of the day:

The main object of the league was to convince the public and future officials that fitness for office cannot (in Scranton at least) be cause for removal from office.

Against James Moir, personally, the league would have made no complaint. For his many misdoings he has the sincere sympathy of its members. He meant to exercise the law when elected and made several subsequent statements to that effect, but he seems to have lacked the nerve to keep right on or was badly advised when he desired to do so.

The league would have represented no "favorite son" as a candidate. If asked, its representatives might have suggested Colonel Hitchcock as the legal successor to Recorder Moir. The governor would have shown more courtesy and more tact had he awaited the interview, to which he had virtually invited the league representatives, before making the appointment. The failure to do so, taken in connection with a feeling of insecurity that has arisen since Judge Carpenter (who will probably be the machine candidate for judge) failed to resign the jury that gave the remark "I was sure of it" to the public, and the fact that Mr. Walter, who probably will be the common pleader judge, is the candidate for the common pleader judge.

THE BIG MILITARY BALL.

Interest in the Event All Over This Part of the State Is Constantly Growing.

The presence in this city today of Colonel William Cody, more widely known as "Buffalo Bill," may be of considerable importance as far as the securing of the presence of Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles at the Thirtieth regiment's military ball is concerned. Colonel Cody, who has a larger acquaintance among the military celebrities of the nation than any other living man, is a warm, personal friend of General Miles, having scouted for him on the plains of the West through many a hard fought Indian campaign, and it is almost certain that if Cody took it upon himself to make an appeal to General Miles to be present at the army opening the latter would come, no matter what barrier presented itself.

Colonel L. A. Watres and Captain D. R. Atherton have already made arrangements to have a talk with Colonel Cody when he comes to the city with his rough riders this morning, and will endeavor to interest him in the army opening project to the extent of having him write to General Miles. As has been stated in previous issues of this paper, Miles promised the invitation committee that he would attend the ball if such a thing were possible, but Colonel Watres is determined to make assurance doubly sure and will take this method to do it.

Yesterday afternoon, John M. McCarty, press agent for the executive committee, returned from Easton, after having completed an extensive tour among the cities and towns of North-eastern Pennsylvania in the interest of the army opening. In Easton, where Company I of the Thirtieth regiment is located, the interest in the coming ball is nearly as high as it is in Scranton. The company is composed of the society young men of Easton, their officers being the social leaders of that city, and parties, aggregating nearly a hundred people are being organized to attend the ball. In man who wrote the story was romantic.

THE COMMISSION RECEIVED.

Handed to New Recorder by Congressman Connell.

Congressman Connell, accompanied by his private secretary, John R. Williams, arrived from Harrisburg at 5 o'clock last evening. A total of one hundred subordinate commanderies have already closed contracts for accommodations. The state of Illinois holds the list with nineteen bodies, outside the Grand commandery. Indiana is next with a total of eleven, and Ohio and Missouri each have seven commanderies already enrolled for attendance.

The new recorder would say nothing of his future course further than that Mark K. Edgar would succeed H. C. Hutton as recorder's secretary. When questioned as to the truth of a statement in an afternoon paper that ex-chief W. T. Simpson would be his superintendent of police, Recorder Connell said that the young man who wrote the story was romantic.

At last night's meeting of select council the commission and oath of office of the new recorder were presented and read. "It gives me great pleasure to move that he be appointed," said Mr. Connell, with a broad grin that betokened a gratifying contemplation of things. The new recorder will enter upon his duties to-day.

WHAT MOIR SAID.

Ex-Recorder Moir, when seen yesterday afternoon in his office in the municipal building in the brief interval between a conference behind closed doors with John G. McKee and another with City Solicitor Watson, was not inclined to be very talkative.

"My reasons for resigning," said he, "are fully set forth in my letter of resignation. I did it for the sake of the party. I realized that Governor Stone had been asked by certain influential persons to remove me, and to relieve him of any embarrassment, I resigned. I realized also that as long as I held the office there would be continual strife and a generally unsettled condition of affairs, simply because I would never be entirely in harmony with the powers that be. Therefore, I considered it to be the best thing I could do to resign. I showed that I favored this plan when things came to a crisis by my request to Colonel Hitchcock that he resign.

"I know that I will be criticized for not permitting myself to be removed, but I think that such criticism is answered sufficiently by my letter to the governor. I did not resign because I felt that I had done something I should not have done, as some may say, but simply and solely for the best interests of the Republican party."

MAY BE A CANDIDATE.

The recorder would not say directly whether or not he would be a candidate for the nomination for recorder in 1903. He intimated, however, that he might run at that time. "You know," said he, "that I might be taken with small-pox, or pneumonia, or something before that."
