MRS. M'KINLEY IS IMPROVING

Hope Begins to be Felt That She May After All Rally From the Present Attack.

RECOVERY IS POSSIBLE

The Stimulants and the Complaint From Which She Suffered While in California Have Weakened Her Powers of Resistance, But the Disease Is Now Under Control. Friends Official and Personal Continue to Show Their Sympathy by Cards

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated "cess. Washington, June 9 .- The slight improvement in Mrs. McKinley's health, which manifested itself the latter part of the week, continues and hope begins to be felt that she may after all recover from the present attack. The in-provement, however, is so slight as not to change materially the extreme urnivity of the case.

The usual consultation of the physiences was held this morning and at its close the following bulletin was is-

"11:15 a. m .- Mrs, Mckinley's physiclaims report that she passed a very comfortable night and continues to diprove.

The fact that Mrs. McKinley has more than held her own and that no unfavorable turn has occurred is concidered in every way encouraging, but as this result is due partly to the consant use of powerful medicines the physicians fear the effect of reducing the stimulants and likewise have to cope with the effect on her system the constant administration of the only means of prolonging her life and making ultimate recovery at least a possibility. These stimulants and the complaint from which she suffeced in California, which is now under better control, have so weakened her powers of resistance that apprehension is ever present that a sinking spell may ocour suddenly from which she cann to be rallied. Dr. Rixey regularly makes hree visits each day, one in the morning, when there is a consultation of physicians, another in the affernoon and a third in the evening. He called this afternoon about 3 o'clock and finding Mrs. McKinley comfortable and progressing as well as could be exprogressing as well as could be expected, he and the president went out for a long drive, lasting more than an hour and a half, both going to the sick room at once upon returning. Subsequently the doctor said that no material change had occurred since the morning bulletin. Friends, official and personal, of the presidential family continue to show their sympathy by personal inquiries at the door and by leaving their cards, Even the members of the cabinet, as a rule merely leave their cards in order to avoid disturbing the president. Mrs. Charles Emory Smith, Secretary Long, Lieutenant General and Mrs. Miles. commander Cowles, of the navy. Assistant Secretary of War Sanger and Miss Hitchcock were among those who thus expressed their sympathy during the day

The reports from the sick room up to a late hour tonight were decidedly encouraging. Dr. Rixey appeared much better satisfied with the patient's condition tonight than for some time. Mrs. McKinley sat up for a few minutes today. It was the second time she has been able to do so in some time. Surgeon General Sternberg remained longer than usual this evening. Heretofore he has maintained a sphinx-like silence about Mrs. McKinley's condition, but when he left tonight he said: "Mrs. McKinley is progressing very well now. There are no new developments. Mrs, McKinley will be taken to Canton, whenever she is in condition to bear the journey. Extensive improvements have been made at the McKinley home in Canton, including the building of a porte cochere and the remodeling of portions of the house, and it was planned last autumn that she and the president should go to Canton about July 1 of this summer. In case Mrs. McKinley recovers this plan will be carried out, though it is not exnected she would be strong enough to leave here the first of July, even if improvement should continue steadily Dr. Rixey said tonight he was unprepared to predict whether she would be able to carry out these plans. It is believed that considerable benefit would accrue from removal to her old home, especially as it is cooler and more breezy there than here.

DR. CONATY'S ADDRESS

Teachings of the Roman Church a Safeguard of the Republic. Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press,

Washington, June 9.-Cardinal Marinelli this afternoon laid the cornertsone of the new Church of the Sacred at the corner of Fourteenth and Whitney avenue, in the suburbs of this city. A large crowd was present. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Conaty, the rector of the Catholic university.

A significant portion of his address was the following:

"We are living in an age when men are reckoned not as men made in the image of Christ, but as producers of wealth. Money is the thought that holds sway, and many seem to forget the beautiful doctrine of brotherly love preached by Christ, who died on the ross for the redemption of men. the shock ever comes to our republic, if turmoit and disturbance should threaten our beloved land of liberty, it will be found that the teachings of the Roman Catholic church, and the gospel she has ever preached, will be the great bulwark against anarchy, corruption and treason. While millions of our citizens, like those who are here today, believe in her teachings, there is no fear for the republic."

The regular ritualistic service of the Catholic church was performed in the laying of the corner-stone, Government Will Not Adopt French Method of Protecting Orchards and Vineyards from Elements.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Washington, June 9,-The extensive eports of United States Consul Covert, at Lyons, France, relative to the success of cannon firing in France as a means of protecting orchards and vineyards from hailstorms and also for the purpose of mitigating or nullifying the effects of frost upon vegetation. have prompted numerous inquiries by horticulturalists in this country as when, if at all, our government would adopt similar methods of protection. Prof. Willis L. Moore, the chief of he weather bureau, acting under the direction of Secretary Wilson, therefore has issued to the press the following statement: "After an examination of all that has been published during the past two years, my conviction is that we have here to deal with a popular delusion as remarkable as is the belief in the effect of the moon on the weather. The uneducated peasantry of Europe seem to be looking for something miraculous, They would rather believe in cannon ding as a means of protection and spend on it an abundance of money, ime and labor than adopt the very simple expedient of mutual insurance against the losses that must inevitably

"The great processes going on in the atmosphere are conducted on too large scale to warrant any man or nation in attempting to control them. The energy expended by nature in the production of a halfstorm, a tornado, or a rainstorm exceeds the combined energy of all the steam engines and explosives in the world. It is useless for mankind to combat nature on this wale.

'After the experience that this country has had during the past ten years with rainmakers, I am loath to believe that the bombardment of hallstorms will ever be practiced or even attempted in the United States, much less encouraged by the intelligent portion of the community. Every effort should be made to counteract the spread of the Italian delusion, which has been imported into this country by Consul

AMENDMENT TO BE ACCEPTED

Gonservative Members of the Guban Constitutional Convention Are Confident.

CHANGE IN SENTIMENT

Strong Pressure from Outside Convinces the Radicals That the Business Should Be Settled at Once, So That the Country May Be Placed on a Sound Basis -- Convention Will Meet in Secret Session Today - Several Days Will Elapse Before a Vote Is Taken

Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press, Havana, June 9.-The conservative members of the constitutional convention are absolutely confident to-night that the Platt amendment will be accepted, several radicals will join with the fifteen delegates who have heretofore voted in favor of acceptance. The last few days seem to have orought about a decided change in the attitude of delegates who had been bliterly arraigning the Washington government for rejecting the convention's Interpretation of the amendment.

The strong pressure from the outside brought to bear upon the convention to finish its business and to place the ountry on a settled basis had an excellent effect upon the radicals, inducing them to accept the inevitable. and some of them now argue that it would be perhaps better to accept the amendment, hoping for some form of independence, than to prolong the military occupation of the island. The convention will meet in secret session to-morrow. It is expected that several days will clapse before a vote is taken.

Five Men Killed and Seven Are Injured in a Railroad Wreck at Vestal.

WILD-CAT RUNS INTO A FREIGHT

The Locomotive Crashes Into Rear of Train No. 61 and Explodes a Car of Dynamite-Remains of Some of Victims Scattered with Pieces of Scrap Iron a Quarter of a Mile Away From the Wreck-Glass Shattered In Nearly Every House InVillages of Vestal and Union.

By Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Ringhamton, June 9 .- Five men were killed and seven injured in last night's wreck at Vestal. The dead are:

JOHN P. KELLY, head brakeman of wild cat R. POLITAMUS, conductor of train No. 61. ELMER POLITAMUS, trainman of train No. 61. JOHN COULTER, greman first engine of the wild

Several others, all but two of them trainmen, were injured. While freight train No. 61 on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad was taking water at Vestal, ten miles west of here, at 9.45 o'clock last night, it was run into from behind by a double-header wildcat freight train. In the second car from the caboose of the stationary train was a large quantity of dynamite, which was exploded by the impact. Several of those who were thought to be fatally hurt last night recovered from the concussion and today figured in the list of slightly hurt. All through the early morning hours the rescuers toiled about and among the burning freight cars at the scene of the explosion, but it was not until late this afternoon that portions of the last dismembered body to be accounted for were discovered a quarter of a mile from where the explosion occurred, while the tracks of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad were completely wrecked and the engines of the wildcat freight, which ran into the rear of train No. 61, which taking water at the time and which carried the fatal car of dynamite, were reduced to scrap iron, pieces of which have been picked up at distance of half a mile away. Aside from the damage to railroad property, much minor damage is reported. Nearly every house in the villages of Vestal and Union, which is across the Susquehanna from the wreck, lost more or less of its window glass, while farmers' houses and barns near the scene were badly shattered, None of the innuites, however, were injured. Lonergan's Statement.

Elmira, N. Y., June 9 .- The bodies of the Elmira railroad men killed in the wreck on the Lackawanna road at Vestal, N. Y., were brought here tonight. John Lonergan, the engineer of the second engine of the wildcat train, says he noticed the train ahead and thought it was moving. The air had to be applied to the brakes from the head engine, but when this was done, Lonergan seeing that it was too late to avoid a collision, jumped from his engine and landed in a pool of water in a ditch at The foot of the embankment. A second later he saw a flash, which was followed by a terrific report, and for a time he lay partly sunned. As soon as he recovered sufficiently, he asisted in the work of rescue until, overcome by weakness he collapsed and was taken to the Binghamton hospital. One of his shoes was torn from his foot and a nail from the shoe was driven into the foot, was deaf for a time, and examination disclosed that one of his ear drums had been broken, BACCALAUREATE SERMON.
