LACKAWANNA LAUNDRY

Social Gossip

The army last night retained all the beauty of decorations, floral and artificial, which made it such a memorable scene at Friday's great opening ball, and the hundreds of couples who attended company D's dance enjoyed themselves as much as those who were present on the more unassuming occasion. The ball proved a great success from every point of view and a proud aggregation of soldier boys were the members of the reception committee, who proudly ushered their guests around the handsome company room, which has a big "D" over the door. This apartment is now completely furnished, and if its appearance alone doesn't bring constantly engaged in expatiating upon the merits of their company mess, their company officers and everything connected with their particular company.

Last night's decorations were precisely the same as Friday. The bright light blinding with tri-colored electric lights, the two beautiful American flags, with the gentle ripple running constantly through them, the stately peacocks, with its blazing tail, the baskets of artificial flowers with tiny incandescent electric lights gleaming forth from their gay petals, all were there, uniting to form the handsomest decorations of the kind ever seen in this portion of the state. The palms and ferns were removed and formed the same cozy bowers as on the preceding occasion and made the same friendly trocha around the dance floor, which was declared by the dancers to be in splendid condition.

Bauer's orchestra was enthroned in the balcony at the easterly side of the building, and the music discoursed was far from being the least enjoyable feature of the night. Twenty dances were on the programme, but those present were not satisfied with this generous number and the orchestra was forced to give an encore to each before the floor could be cleared for the short intermission.

The majority of the young men present were in uniform, but there were many also in attendance who were the sober black dress coat of the civilian, and during the evening the combination of colors blended in an effect most pleasing to the eye. The many colored gowns of the members of the fair sex on the floor, the dark blue uniforms of the members of the regiment, relieved the scene and there by a gleam of a gold epaulette on a full dress uniform, or the glitter of a shoulder strap, the white vest of the civilian, all swaying to and fro in the dreamy music of a waltz, made a picture which will long linger with those who watched from the boxes or balcony.

Colonel E. H. Ripple was among the older soldiers present, and the form of Major W. S. Miller was also seen in a box. Colonels F. L. Hitchcock and H. A. Courson, ex-commanders of the regiment, were both present in civilian garb.

On the floor were also seen Major W. W. Anglin, of Governor Stiles' staff, and Lieutenant Colonel F. W. Stillwell, of the Thirtieth, Captain Foot, of D, the hosts of the night, and Captains John Kambeck, of B; George Russ, of A; Milton F. Connel, of K; George Merriman, of F; and Joseph Helriegel, of C.

Supper was served by Hanley in the dining rooms on the third floor. The members of the floor committee in charge last night were: Lieutenant Ezra Ripple, Lieutenants Richard Kelly, Charles S. Ross, Ralph A. Gregory, Corporals John Connell, Edward Finnegan, Winifred Hornbaker, Rex, Van Gorder, Privates Arthur Brown, John Dunn, Fred Gould, William Morgan, Harry Kinsley, George Walter, Frederick W. Young. The supper committee was: Lieutenant Thomas Russell, Jr., Sergeants Joseph F. Cleary, Charles A. Adams, Corporals John Miller, Archibald Phillips, Thomas Bradbury, Privates Turley Breeze, William Muller, Howard Plimley, Samuel Thompson. The music committee consisted of Sergeants Charles Adams, Thomas H. Miles, William Stanton.

The crowd was handled in excellent shape, Friday night's precautions being followed as closely as possible. All carriages drove up to the Adams avenue entrance, and reported at the Adams avenue door, for exit. Patrolmen Thompson and Slato were present as the civil representatives of law and order throughout the night.

Miss Anna Wells, of Washington avenue, entertained the Green Ridge Dancing club at the Green Ridge Wheelmen's club house last night. Miss Wells was assisted in receiving her guests by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wells, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Phillips and Miss Parke. The guests were:

BLACKSMITHS ARE AT WORK

HAVE RETURNED TO THEIR PLACES IN CLIFF WORKS.

With Them Went the Hammer-smiths and Helpers—Boilermakers Did Not Return as Presumed—Moulders at Penn Avenue Shops Were Willing to Return but They Had No Laborers to Help Them—Men Who Took Strikers Places Return to Buffalo.

Eighty-three blacksmiths, hammer-smiths and helpers returned to work at the American Locomotive company's plant on Cliff street, yesterday morning, after having been on strike since May 29. No concessions were granted them.

The boilermakers who, it had been rumored, would return to work, did not do so, however. A large number of the moulders reported at the Allis-Chalmers plant, on Penn avenue, yesterday morning, willing to resume work, but as none of their laborers were on hand it was impossible for them to be assigned any labor.

A committee of the blacksmiths waited upon Superintendent Delaney two weeks ago and announced their willingness to return to work as reported at the time in The Tribune. They agreed to report for duty the following Monday morning, but at a meeting held after the conference, decided to remain out during the latter part of last week. Little was heard of any intention on the part of the blacksmiths to go back to work, but it was the boilermakers who were reported ready to open the shop.

Superintendent Delaney stated yesterday that the committee which waited upon him Friday signified the willingness of the men to report for duty yesterday morning. A special meeting of the union was, however, called for Sunday morning, and at this the boilermakers decided to remain out. Superintendent Delaney added that he has now one hundred and sixteen hands at work in all the departments of the shops. This includes a number of apprentice boys and a few machinists who have returned, he said.

A large number of men employed at the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western shops to take the strikers' places quit work yesterday morning and returned to their homes, a morning train taking a large batch back to Hoboken. In July a meeting will be held at St. Louis, which is expected to have a very potent influence on the situation, which will be held for the purpose of forming a national metal trades council. The presidents and delegates from all of the metal workers' unions will be present. The machinists chose their delegate at the convention in St. Louis.

The striking car builders will meet in regular session Wednesday night at Economy hall.

TO MEET SUPT. CLARKE.

Lackawanna Telegraphers Have Grievances They Want to Discuss with Him.

Another visit of the general grievance committee of the telegraphers of the Lackawanna system was expected at the Scranton office, yesterday, but the continued absence from the city of General Superintendent T. E. Clarke made it necessary to again postpone the committee's coming.

When the committee was here last week, Mr. Moore, private secretary to Superintendent Clarke, asked that the committee be given a hearing on the request for an interview will be laid before him, and that without question it would be granted. Mr. Moore said he would send notice of the time for the conference to the committee's chairman, P. C. Waldron, of Campbell's N. Y. It was thought at that time that Superintendent Clarke would be back in Scranton yesterday, but he could not be, and it could not be stated positively when he would return, so the time for the conference is as yet indefinite.

T. M. Pierson, of St. Louis, first vice-president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers of North America, who was here with the committee last week, and who went away Friday night, returned yesterday, to be on hand if the conference took place. He attended a regular meeting of the Scranton division, No. 87, Order Railroad Telegraphers, at Raub's hall last night. This division is composed of the Delaware and Hudson and Ontario and Western operators. It was given out from the meeting that nothing but routine matters would be considered.

The particular grievance which the Lackawanna men have in hand is the discharge of three of the operators in the Binghamton office. The discharged men want an opportunity of proving themselves guiltless of the charges made against them.

The committee will also endeavor to have Superintendent Clarke enter into an agreement relative to shorter hours, and the regulation of employing and promoting operators.

HE HAD A CLOSE CALL.

James Kirkwood Buried in a Trench in Forest Court in which He Was Working.

James Kirkwood, of Hickory street, a laborer, employed on a small sewer being constructed on Forest court by Gunster & Forsyth, had about as narrow an escape from death yesterday morning as it is possible for a man to have.

The sewer is being connected between Spruce and Linden streets, and the trench had reached a depth of ten feet yesterday morning. Three men, John Langan, James Donahoe and Kirkwood, were at work at the bottom about 9 o'clock, when the easterly side of the trench began to work.

Langan and Donahoe noticed this and hastened to get out, yelling to Kirkwood to do the same thing. The latter started to run to safety, but he was too late and was completely buried by the earth which came falling down. Langan and Donahoe, who were not caught by the fall, looked around for Kirkwood, but could see nothing of him. They yelled for assistance and, hastening back to the place where he was last seen, began to furiously tear away at the earth.

They found Kirkwood two feet under the earth, still conscious but beginning to breathe heavily. He had been completely covered by the earth for over a minute. He was hastily dug out and was pronounced dead where he was attended by Dr. O'Malley.

The doctor said last night that his injuries consisted almost entirely of severe bruises, and that there was every reason to believe that he would recover.

E. G. COURSEN

AN UNAVOIDABLE ACCIDENT.

Verdict of Coroner's Jury in the Doyle Case.

An inquest was held in Coroner Roberts' office last evening to inquire into the death of Edward Doyle, the 8-year-old lad who was run down by a passenger engine near the Mt. Pleasant breaker last Saturday evening.

Among the witnesses examined were Mrs. George Russell, who witnessed the accident; John Owens, who was with Doyle at the time; Anthony Keene, also an eye-witness to the accident; D. E. Casey, road foreman of engines, who was on the engine that struck the boy; John Reinsler, conductor of the passenger train, and J. H. McCann, conductor of the freight train, from which the boy had jumped to his death.

The testimony, in substance, was to the effect that the boy had been jumping on the freight train, and evidently heard the passenger coming, and became frightened and ran in front of the engine. No blame was attached to the railroad employes, and the jury rendered the following verdict:

"We, the jury, do say we find that Eddie Doyle came to his death by being struck by a locomotive on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad on Saturday, June 15, and that the same was another of the unavoidable accidents that so often occur."

Signed, Herbert Chaffield, Edward E. Evans, William Chadwan, W. G. Daniels, Benjamin Thomas, Thomas T. Richards.

CHANGES IN THE CONTEST

MISS PEDRICK AND MR. KEMMERER ADVANCE.

The Out-of-Town Contestants Are Doing Good Work—Carbondale, Clark's Summit and Factoryville Represented in Yesterday's Returns—Lewis and Miles Strengthen Their Positions—A Great Opportunity for Some Young Man or Woman in the Central Portion of Scranton.

Standing of Contestants.

If this was the last day, these would win:

1. Meyer Lewis, Scranton	204
2. Henry Schwenker, South Scranton	193
3. William Miles, Hyde Park	130
4. J. Garfield Anderson, Carbondale	119
5. August Brunner, Jr., Carbondale	64
6. Miss Vida Pedrick, Clark's Summit	52
7. Miss Norma Meredith, Hyde Park	49
8. Frank Kemmerer, Factoryville	46

If many of these will be in Table No. 1 on the closing day:

9. Ray Buckingham, Elmhurst	40
10. Miss Wilhelmina Griffin, Providence	36
11. W. H. Harris, Hyde Park	23
12. David O. Emery, Wimmers, Pa.	15
13. Arthur C. Griffin, Montrose	9
14. E. J. Sheridan, Hawley	6
15. Miss Jennie Ward, Glyphant	5
16. Robert Campbell, Green Ridge	3

Yesterday opened the sixth week of The Tribune's Educational Contest and was remarkable for the number of points scored by out-of-town contestants. Garfield Anderson, of Carbondale, brought in fourteen and came very near capturing third place from William Miles, of Hyde Park, but the latter still leads him by eleven points, bringing in sixteen points near the close of the day. Miss Vida Pedrick, of Clark's Summit, and Frank Kemmerer, of Factoryville, advance one place each, and appear in sixth and eighth places respectively. Mr. Lewis made a good return and materially strengthened his position.

This morning The Tribune has divided the table showing the "Standing of Contestants" into two parts, showing the first eight which would receive the special rewards if this was the closing day. The other table gives the standing of the other contestants and shows what a narrow margin of points divides them from the leaders. Of course, the final standing on August 31, eleven weeks hence, will not be as it appears today, but which of the aspiring young people in the central portion of the city, which Mr. Lewis has thus far had practically all to himself. There is not another contestant in the whole list residing in this section of the city.

Call at The Tribune office tomorrow and get a book of subscription blanks. You can then start right in and within a day or two be among the leaders.
