GRADUATE NURSES HOLD COMMENCEMENT

The Members of the Class of '01 of Emergency Hospital Leave the Institution to Step Out Into the Wide Field of Their Profession. The Programme That Was Observed in Burke's Hall Which Was Resplendent with Decorations.

Last night was an eventful one in the history of Emergency hospital, for it marked the sending forth of seven members of that new profession-nursing-which in the last few years has become a wonderful factor in the science of medicine.

The exercises took place in Burke's hall, which presented a beautiful picture of color and light and the wild beauty of the woods at this time of the

On the stage were the hospital directors, Hon. S. S. Jones, M. F. Norton, Thomas Hunter, William Walker, Julius Moses; Miss Wright, the hospital superintendent; Hon. J. J. O'Neill and Dr. D. L. Bailey.

The members of the graduating class, Misses Jennie Hunter, Nora Quinn, Bridget Gilmartin, Evelyn Gressin, Elizabeth Thomas, Josephine Frellett and Margaret Davis occupied the row of the stage. They were robed in white, while the members of the class of '02, dressed in blue, were seated on the right.

President Walker, of the hospital board, was chairman. The programme opened with an overture by the Mozart. orchestra. The salutatory was gracefully delivered by Miss Elizabeth Thomas, and Dr. D. L. Bailey followed with a talk filled with valuable hints to the nurses

Miss Catharine Gardner represented the class of '02, whose greetings she conveyed to the graduates, also their well wishes.

Hon. James J. O'Neill very happily addressed the graduates, speaking to them with reference to their progress towards general success.

Speaking of the requisites for suc cass in any walk of life, Mr. O'Neill held that they were energy, intellectual energy, perseverance and pluck. and he emphasized to the nurses the value of their possession and employment in their profesison.

After Mr. O'Neill's address, came the following numbers: Class histors, Miss Margaret Davis; to graduates, Hon. J. J. O'Neill; selection, Mozart on hestra; paper, Mrs. M. L. Bailey: recitation, William Dimmock; address, Hon. S. S. Jones: vocal solo, Mrs. Lucy Hadcock; essay, Miss Kathryn Gardner, valedictory, Miss Nora Quinn; presentation of diplomas by Mr. Walker, president of the board of directors.

Mr. Jones' annecdotes and humorous stories were keenly enjoyed and applauded by his hearers.

The decorations, which won so many encomiums, were planned and placed by Mrs. M. B. Madigan, Mrs. Duane W. Humphrey and Mrs. James P. Loftus, of the woman's auxiliary board.

WATER ORDINANCE TONIGHT It Will Likely Pass Final Reading Without any Hitch.

There will be an adjourned meeting of select council tonight, the chief business of which will be the final considcration of the municipal water plant

This measure had a stormy experience on Monday evening, but there is little doubt that the ordinance will pass

The reasons on which the opposition of Monday night was founded have been met and, as stated before, there will be enough votes tonight to make municipal ownership of water in Carbondale a certainty.

'DORIE" BURDICK'S BLACK PANTHER SKIN

The Celebrated Character from Greenfield Visits Alderman Jones' Office and Tells an Interesting Story of How He Killed a Black Panther-He Was After $25 Bounty, but He and the Alderman and Others Couldn't Agree as to Whether or Not 'Twas a Panther or a "Tom" Cat. .

"Dorle" Burdick, of Greenfield, came to town yesterday, and besides his accustomed volubility, his "Rough Rider's" hat and his ancient suit of overalls, he had with him an equally conspicuous object, the skin of an animal, which was killed near his place on Sunday last.

"Dorie" didn't know the name of the animal, nor did any person near his home, but he believed it was a panther, a black panther at that. What induced him to this belief, he did not explain, but he significantly suggestd that there was a bounty of twentyfive dollars on panthers.

"Doric" first visited the office of Alderman Bunnell. He did this through courtesy to the alderman, who is the oldest magistrate in point of service, he said, in the city, Alderman Bun-nell acknowledged that he was "stumped" and shrunk from even a guess at the nondescript. "Dorie." however, was more ready and "Well, alderman, I don't know what you'd name it, but I'd call it a panther, a dack panther."

"Dorie," after leaving Alderman Bunnell's office, walked down Main street attracting a good deal of attenion as he proudly sauntered along, the skin of the animal trailing the sidewalk. He made for Alderman Jones' office, and after greeting the magistrate, he shouted, as he proudly ex-hibited the skin to the alderman, Name it if you can. Now, I don't know what you'd call it, but I'd call it a panther—a black panther. Just look at the size of 'im. What do you think of it? ch!"

"Why, that's an otter," suggested the alderman with a sly wink to The Tribune representative, who also had his guess at Dorie's trophy.

"No, siree," strung out "Dorie," "No, siree, otters nor minks don't kill lambs for don't make off with three pound ducks, and that's what this critter's een adoin'."

"Why, do you know, Sammie," said "Dorie" familiarly to the alderman as he stroked the back of the animal's hide and pulled its legs to bring it to ts "natural size," as he put it. "Do you know that Walter Burdick, on know Walter-he's the one who did the shootin'-has lost about fifteen dollars worth of lambs and ducks. Yes, ne did; and this is the feller that's got the blame for it. I have a a black panther, mind you. I have a dictionary, a Webster's unabridged, up to date to ISSL, but you don't need to get no other, but the unabridged, for twon't do," said Dorie, in a cautioning way, as Alderman Jones sought the aid of the dictionary.

The dictionary failed to shed much ight on the identity of "Dorie's" trophy, and then some one suggested that it was a good-sized wild cat, or even a "Tom" cat.

"Tom" cat! Oh, pshaw," drawled Dorie in a way that indicated how made the second and fourth Fridays much he deployed the ignorance that the suggestion indicated. "Why 'Tom' cats nor wild cats don't go after no committee, E. H. W. Burke, Prof. | ducks, and then there's the lambs, How Bryden and E. B. Reynolds; board of d'ye 'spose a cat's agoin' to carry off rustees, P. L. Neury, Walter Aggis lambs, full grown ones at that. Now you can name that what you please," aid "Dorie," for the twentieth time THE WRECK AT RICHMONDALE probably, "but I call it a panther-a black panther."

"Say, alderman, you'd oughter see me agoin' after it." "Dorie" broke out anew, after the animal's skin had been examined again and again, and its legs were pulled and twisted until they did Wednesday, as stated in yesterday's seem to come to nearly their natural

""What did he shoot," says I. 'Shot cat, I s'pose,' said McGowan.

'Well, where's the cat'? 'Let's look at it, see what it's like." "You see the thing was over in the sweet flag patch. The sweet flag's party high, and I could hardly see the thing. Well, sir; there it lay just a playin' possum. ## HOW DREAD DISEASES ARE DISSEMINATED.

by the twenty-five thousandth part of an inch. Its power is measured by the cholera scourge, the plague, consumption, and other decimating diseases. The germ lated, when the blood is pure and abundant, disease lies in wait for human life on every side: in earth, air, water and food. Attention has of late been drawn to pets as disease disseminators. Many a boy has taken diptheria from his pet dog; many a girl owes consumption to her digestion and nutrition. It increases the activity of the

In London, England, they are legislating to compel a monthly examination of feathered pets, by the board of health, because the experts on consumption say that "numerous cases of consumption have been shown to originate from the deadly tuberculosis germs which breed with such startling fecundity in these supposedly harmless | chitis, or hemorrhage, weakness and emaciation, "Golden pets." Says a scientific writer, "Actual tests have shown that twenty per cent. of the dairy cows of the United States are tuberculous," and again, "the average grade of milk sold in large cities often contains as high as 80,000,000 bacteria in a cubic inch."

These facts are appalling. The very existence of the human race seems threatened, as indeed it is but for one defence. To quote again from a standard scientific article: "So fast, indeed, are new parasites being produced that were not science constantly elaborating counter-checks our boasted civilization would soon come to the end of its tether."

One of these great scientific counter-checks to germ disease is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The germ generally finds en-trance into the body through the stomach. It enters by the door of the mouth in our food or our drink.

A Great Sufferer. "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia for over two years, and I was a complete physical wreck," writes Mr. Preston E. Fenstermacher, of Egypt, Lehigh Co., Pa. "Had many torturing, gnawing, and aching pains—I think about all that a dyspeptic has or eyer could have. I also suffered much with constipation, I tried many different medicines, which were recommended to cure the trouble, but these only made me worse, and my condition was more sluggish and weak than before. It seemed that I was getting worse all the time. At the same time my stomach was in a weak condition. It was so weak that the least and easiest kind of food to digest would get sour in my stomach, and I had such a weak and debilitated appearance that it seemed as if I had hardly any blood in my whole body. Muscles were soft and flabby, circulation poor and slow. Suffered greatly from cold hands and feet. I wrote to a number of medical firms for medicine and advice, and most of them asked of me a large sum of money to cure me, but this I could not afford. At last I came across an advertisement of Dr. Pierce's. I wrote to him, stating my symptoms and pains. I received by return mail the best and most substantial advice that I ever before read. This advice gave me the greatest confidence in the World's Dispensary Medical Association, even so great that I at once left off all former remedies and tried Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Pleasant Pellets.' I used about eight vials of the 'Pellets' and ten bottles of the 'Discovery,' which brought me nearly back to my former state of health."

Cured in One Month.

Mrs. Ella Schall, of Moosehead, Luzerne Co., Pa., writes: "Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cured me in one month, sound and well. You remember my case was abscess of the breast. We had spent lots of money for doctor bills, and I had almost given up in despair, when I told my husband I was going to write to you. I am very glad I did so; I had used your medicines before with the best results."

Her Doctor was Wrong.

"When I commenced taking your medicines, eighteen months ago, my health was completely broken down," writes Mrs. Cora I., Sunderland, of Chaneyville, Calvert Co., Md. "At times I could not even walk across the room without pains in my chest. The doctor who attended me said I had lung trouble and that I would never be well again. At last I concluded to try Dr. Pierce's medi-cines. I bought a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' took it, and soon commenced to feel a little better, then you directed me to take both the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and the 'Favorite Prescription,' which I did. I am now almost entirely well, and do all my work without any pain whatever, and can run with more ease than I could formerly walk."

PECKVILLE.

Seldom do the people of Peckville lave the opportunity to listen to such a musical treat as was given them Wednesday, June 19, in the Baptist church, under the auspices of the Peckville Choral society. The chorus work was very fine, and speaks well for the director, Miss Daisy B. Hall, of Scrantqu. The audience showed their appreciation of the programme by applauding every number, and the suc ess of the entertainment was eviienced in no upcertain manner.

The solotsts of the evening were of high order. Miss May Myers, of Wilkes-Barre, delighted everyone with the exquisite power and sweetness of her tones. Mr. Lewis, of Nicholson, gave a double number, and for an en-core a selection from "The Geisha." The music lovers of Peckville will long remember these two talented artists. One of the features of the evening was the quintette, composed of Messrs Hollister, Haas, Mitchell, Bartlett and Myers, of Scranton. Without doubt their work was some of the best ever endered by male voices here. Their oices blended beautifully in perfect harmony.
