WEDNESDAY THE

JUNE BRIDES. In Two Churches, Alone, Fourteen

Weddings Were Celebrated-Pretty Ceremonies at St. Peter's Cathedral-St. Patrick's, in West Scranton, Surpassed All Previous Records-Keator-Fellows Wedding at Simpson M. E. Church-Fairly Rained Rice at the Stations.

Yesterday more than held its own as a Wednesday in June, in the matter of weddings. There were seven at St.

Peter's cathedral alone, and some of the other churches had quite as many. The Delaware, Lackawanna and Western station platforms and ladies' waiting room was fairly paved with the rice that was showered upon the departing brides and grooms. Ten couples went on the three afternoon trains to the Pan-American exposition

Keator-Fellows.

One of the most elaborate weddings of the season in West Scranton occurred in the Simpson Methodist Episcopal church at 8,39 o'clock last evening, when John D. Keator, city editor of the Times, and Miss Effle B. Fellows, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Fellows, were united by the pastor,

Rev. H. C. McDermott. The church was filled to overflowing with relatives and friends of the young couple, and the pulpit enclosure was prettily decorated with palms and potted plants. Prof. R. J. Bauer, vio-linist; Llewellyn Jones, organist; Chester Bridgeman, clarionetist, and William H. Stanton, cornetist, played the Lohengrin wedding march, as the bridal party entered the church, and during the ceremony executed a selec-tion soft and low. During the reces-ware, Lackawanna and Western comthey rendered Mendelssohn's pany for the territory between Elmira and Stroudsburg. The ushers, Frederic R. Jones, of Among the guests at the wedding

Dunkirk, N. Y.; Myron B. Keator, of New York; B. H. Lare and M. A. Rafter, of this city, preceded the bridesmaids, Miss Grace S. Myers, of Clark's Summit, and Miss Bertha Fellows, sister of the bride, up the centre aisle of the church. Then came the flower girl, Miss Katheleen Wolf. Following her was the maid of honor, Miss Gertrude

May Fellows, sister of the bride. The bride entered and walked up the aisle, leaning on the arm of her father, and as they reached the pulpit railing they were met by the groom and his best man, Louis H. Senker. The party formed a line directly in front of the ralling and in front of them stood Rev. McDermott, the officiating clergyman.

Each one of the ladies carried a huge bunch of roses. The bride was gowned in white embroidered mouselline de sole, en train, with Bolero jacket of Point de Paris lace. She wore a Tulle veil.

"DARLING'S LITTLE DARLINGS"

The Swellest Arenic Achievement of the Twentieth Century.

An absolutely new and emphatic triumph is being won daily this season by Darling's Congress of Trained Animals, the equal of which does not exist. It magnificently represents the leading races of the Liliputian ant-mal world, which Mr. Darling alone possesses the popularity, means, experience and patience to successfully present and maintain season after season.

To the ladies and children Mr. Darling owes many thanks for their most generous encouragement in the past, enabling him to prosent for so small a price of admission a tented exhibition, the like or equal of which has yet to be discovered. He has succeeded in teaching a great
