

NORTHEASTERN PENNSYLVANIA

MONTROSE.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.
Montrose, July 2.—What is likely to prove a fatal accident occurred today. Just before noon, at Lounsbury's horse stable, which is located on the alley in the rear of the brick block on Church street.

H. Wright, of Forest lake, had just driven into town and went to the stable to put out his horse. On entering, Mr. Wright was horrified to find the aged proprietor of the barn, George Lounsbury, lying on his face, in a pool of blood, and unconscious. He had evidently been kicked on the head by a horse in a nearby stall and knocked senseless. How long he had thus lain cannot be stated accurately, but a blacksmith, whose shop adjoins the stable, says he heard a horse squeal a short time before Mr. Lounsbury was discovered, and it is supposed that the squeal and the kick were simultaneous.

A crowd quickly gathered, and the injured man was conveyed to a little study compartment in the barn, which the poor old man called "home," where, year in and year out, he cat and slept, and lived, after a fashion, and here he was placed upon his side and, and physicians were summoned. Dr. C. D. Mackey quickly arrived and an examination showed that the skull had been fractured, the horse's foot having struck the man on the right side of the forehead and near the temple. After giving temporary treatment to the sufferer, the doctor ordered his removal to larger and more wholesome quarters in his own (the doctor's) barn, where everything possible was done, and at this writing Dr. Mackey is planning for an operation, as the only means of saving the old man's life, and as to the success of this last resort, the doctor expresses grave doubts.

"Old George" Lounsbury came here from somewhere, the exact location does not appear to be known, a number of years ago. For a long time he found employment in one and another of the hotel barns, but four or five years ago he embarked in business for himself, and his enterprises have proven quite profitable. He has a wide acquaintance among the farmers of the surrounding country and they have been his constant patrons. He has no family or relatives, as far as is known, and the many who take a lively interest in the infirm old man, and the regret at his misfortune and probable death is generally regretted.

The death of Mrs. Stephen Dawley occurred suddenly at her home, on Spruce street, yesterday afternoon. She had been ill for several weeks, but her condition was not considered alarming and a physician was not called in until shortly before the end. The funeral will be attended from the house tomorrow at 6 o'clock p. m. Rev. E. K. Thomas will conduct the services. She deceased is survived by her husband, two sons and one daughter.

Learning wisdom by experience, there seems to have been a general agreement of our borough authorities this year to turn the town over to the boys tonight and let the girls work. Last year an effort was made to keep corked the effervescent patriotism of Young America, but it proved a dismal failure. Boys will be boys, and it really appears that they ought to have the right, on the eve of the ever glorious Independence day.

Sorrow was brought to many hearts in this place by the death of Charles Harold Birchard, the only child of Editor Henry T. Birchard and wife, of Susquehanna, which occurred at the home of his parents on Monday afternoon, after a four months' illness of inflammatory rheumatism, complicated with heart trouble and finally resulting in spinal meningitis. Harold was born in Montrose thirteen years ago last month, and the earliest years of his life were spent here, and since the removal of the family to Susquehanna he has frequently been a visitor at the home of relatives and friends in this place. In his short life he had gained much of the world's learning and wisdom, and while a thorough scholar and fun-loving boy, at the same time he possessed mental attainments, refinement, and an individuality, far in advance of what would be expected in one of his years. In disposition he was most lovable and a delightful companion. All these qualities made him a universal favorite. The funeral was attended from the house on Broad street, Susquehanna, on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, and the remains were brought to this place for interment, arriving on the Lackawanna and Montrose at 2:10 this morning. A large number of relatives and friends were at the station, and a long line of carriages were in waiting. The casket, almost hidden with floral offerings from schoolmates, teachers and friends, was borne to the hearse by the following pall-bearers: A. B. Smith, O. A. Gilbert, W. A. Titsworth, H. F. Manzer, Edgar Corfield and B. E. James. At the grave, Rev. Haskell B. Benedict, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, conducted the services, which were beautiful and impressive. Mr. Benedict first read the hymn "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and followed with committal service and prayer. The bereaved parents have the deepest sympathy of their wide circle of friends in this place, among which they will spend several days before returning to their saddened home at Susquehanna.

Leo Whalen, a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western employee, who recently went with an accident at Glen Bend, in which his left ankle was painfully injured, is visiting relatives in Montrose and vicinity.

The Sawtelle Dramatic company at Village hall next week will be a drawing attraction, as the stars are old acquaintances of our people and well liked.

It is perhaps unnecessary to state that there will be no celebration in this town tomorrow—Montrose doesn't celebrate anything any more.

PITSTON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.
Pittston, July 2.—The marriage of Miss Anna E. Lewis, youngest daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Joshua S. Lewis, of West Pittston, to Mr. James Clarkson Law, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Law, of Luzerne avenue, took place last evening at 8:30 o'clock, and was an entirely informal affair, witnessed by only a small company, composed mostly of relatives. The ceremony took place at the home of some time with friends at Meshoppen. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Stephens, daughter Helen and son Simpson, are spending the summer at their cottage at Lake Nicholson.

Miss Vida Pedrick, of Clark's Summit, in the guest of her friend, Miss Leona Billings, of Meshoppen. Mrs. E. D. Bell, of State street, entertained her sister, Mrs. O. D. Roberts, of Foster, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. MacConnell spent Sunday at Lake Nicholson, as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Driggs.

HONESDALE.

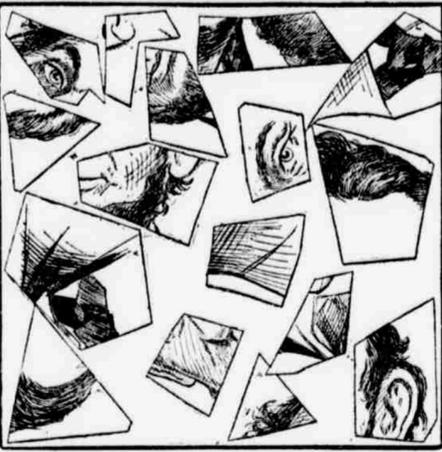

Special to the Scranton Tribune.
Honesdale, July 2.—John McGedding, a Delaware and Hudson track workman, was stricken down by the heat yesterday. He remained unconscious until 1 o'clock today, when he died. He was an aged employe of the Delaware and Hudson, and is survived by a large grown-up family.

The hot, dry weather of the past two weeks has caused serious injury to the Wayne county berry crop.

The hot weather forced the closing of the cutting shop of Krantz, Smith & Co. on Tuesday.

The pupils of Mrs. Jessie Dmetzsch gave a second recital last evening in the music rooms of N. B. Spencer.

PORTRAIT PUZZLE.

Cut out these parts and place them together, forming the portrait of a noted President.

The bride's brother, Jay Lewis, of Luzerne avenue, and the decorations, which were of daisies and laurels, while not on an elaborate scale, were very pretty. The only attendants of the bride and groom as they took their places in the parlor, to strains from Opusheim's orchestra, of Wilkes-Barre, were the flower girls, Marjorie Booth and Marion Lewis, nieces of the bride. They were dressed in white. The bride's gown was an exquisite creation in white silk grenadine and groom are among the most prominent society people of the "Garden Village," although the groom has resided at Capitan, Mexico, for the past three years, being in the employ of his brother-in-law, Dr. H. Watkins. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis's honeymoon will include a trip to the Pan-American exposition and a trip along the Great Lakes. They will reside in Capitan, Mexico, after August.

Edward Grize, of Durvay, a 25-year-old driver boy, was severely burned about the head, abdomen and legs today by an explosion of gas in a mine at that place. He is being treated at the Pittston hospital.

Mrs. Laura Lambert, of Durvay, whose the County Humane society has decided is a person unfit to have charge of her six children, has been compelled to part with her offspring. Five of them were taken to Wilkes-Barre. The sixth child is confined to the Durvay hospital, having had his leg crushed a few days ago by attempting to board an electric car.

Mark Aston, of Durvay, who has conducted a quick lunch cafe on South Main street, this city, for the past five months, has mysteriously disappeared, leaving behind a batch of unpaid bills, and a wife and child in Durvay. Mrs. Aston visited the cafe yesterday, and after gathering in the contents of the cash register, pitifully told of her husband's desertion and his departure for parts unknown.

Rev. and Mrs. D. M. George are spending the week at Gwalla cottage, Lake Winola.

The West Pittston borough council will purchase a machine for the testing of the quality of light furnished by the street lighting company.

That portion of the Susquehanna river known as "the deep," near Carpenter's farm, West Pittston, had its annual victim yesterday afternoon, and the first drowning accident to occur in this vicinity this year is chronicled. The victim was John Borer, aged 15 years, a resident of Luzerne avenue, West Pittston. He had been in bathing with a colored lad of his own age, and got beyond his depth. The accident occurred at 4:30 and the body was found close by an hour later.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, July 3.—Today's stock market was little more than nominal. The volume of business was small, but the general price movement was such that it could have been attached to the fact. The announcement that the board of government had voted in favor of an adjustment of the exchange on Monday next was greeted with cheers and there was an immediate increase of the board. Only those who were compelled to stay to close up contracts remained in the board room.

The stock market reflected clearly enough the disappointment of holders of the dividend, or rather over the price of the dividend. The continuation of the word quarterly in connection with the one per cent. dividend on the common stock of the Erie Railroad, and the rate as well as to decrease it did not reassure the speculators and they sold the stock freely. The Erie stock fell 1/2 cent, the common falling 1/2 cent from the top level. The common fell 1/2 cent from the top level. The common fell 1/2 cent from the top level.

The bond market was dull and irregular. Total sales for value, $1,785,000.

The United States bonds were all unchanged on call.
