FOURTH OF JULY WAS QUIET

UNUSUAL RECORD ESTABLISH-ED IN WEST SCRANTON.

Comparatively Few Accidents Re ported and on the Whole the Celebration Was Rather Tame - Shooting Match and Base Ball Games. Funerals of John Dowrick and Bridget Duggan - Lightning Struck a Wagon-Other Matters of Interest.

Things were quite lively around town last night, up to about 10 o'clock, when the discharge of fireworks wound up the events of the day. Several accidents were reported, only one of which was the result of explosives, and the others were of an ordinary nature.

A number of young men kept up a continuous fire of crackers and other explosives between Howell & Harris' eigar store and Fairchild's hotel which finally resulted in the breaking of one of the plate glass windows in the cigar This practically ended the fu-

Observance of the Fourth.

Yesterday was the tamest and quietest Fourth of July in the history of West Scranton. Owing to the extreme heat many people remained around their homes, and those who did venture away either went to Lake Winola, Lake Lodore, Lake Ariel, Lake Carey, Harvey's Lake or Mountain

At the latter place West Scranton people could be found in large numbers, as patrons of Flower of Luckawanna lodge, Ancient Order of Britons. who held their annual outing at that place. A number of private parties went to Lake Winola in carriages to attend the shirt waist dance at Hotel Clifton during the afternoon and even-

Owing to the fact that the base bal team, which played at Lake Lodore. was made up mostly of West Scranton boys, they were accompanied by many of their friends and admirers. Up to Lake Carey a large party of people en-

Lightning in Bellevue.

While a teamster, whose name could not be learned, was delivering goods in a house in Bellevue on Wednesday afternoon, lightning struck the bolt on his wagon, which held the shafts in The horse became frightened and ran away, but was captured soon afterwards. The shafts were separated from the wagon and the lightning bored a large hole in the ground, but the horse was not injured. During the storm a dwelling house was also struck, but the damage was slight.

Funeral of John Dowrick,

A large number of friends and relatives of the late John Dowrick, who died from the effects of heat prostration, attended the funeral services yesterday afternoon at the house on West Lackawanna avenue.

Clamoring for a Sewer.

The residents of Tripp park are clamoring for better sewer facilities than they now enjoy. It seems that when the land company opened up the tract they had a private sewer built, but this has proven inadequate.

A movement is now under way for the construction of a sewer extending from Cemetery street to Lloyd street, Tripp Park, Eureka Lawn, Mount Vernon and Buena Vista tracts.

Councilman McAndrew has the matter in hand and will endeavor to get the matter through councils.

Large Crowds Witness the Events at Philadelphia-Minister Wu Among the Spectators.

by Exclusive Wire from The Associated Press. Philadelphia, July 4.-The annual Fourth of July Schuyikili navy regatia was held today over the National course on the Schuylkill river. The racing, with but few exceptions, was good, but the weather, to a considerable extent interfered with the success of the occasion. During the trial heats in the morning the weather was beautiful and a good crowd of spectators were lined along both banks of the Schuylkill. The finals, however, were rowed during the prevalence of thunderstorms which kept the number of spectators down to a mere handful. A feature of the regatta was the presence on the guest boat of Wu Ting-fang, the Chinese minister, and his secretary. When Mr. Wu was invited to deliver the independence oraion, he expressed a desire to see the boat races. The distinguished Chinaman evinced much interest and took delight in following the fortunes of the contending parsmen. The boat he was on was not very fast and in conequence he saw only half of most of the races. aboard the judges' swift launch, so that he could see a race from start to finish. His desire was granted. He left for his hotel before the last event

The best race of the day was the junior eight-oared event, in which five rews qualified. The race was won by the Malta Boat club of this city, after hard race. A surprise of the day was he disqualification of the Vesper club's eight, which won the world's championship at Paris last year. Their only opponent was a second crew from the ame club. The champions appeared to e "leafing" most of the way and got into their oponents' course and were run into by the second eight. In the junter single trial heat in the morning . P. Mooney, of the Delaware Boat club, Chicago, claimed a foul, but it was not allowed, as he was out of his own course. He did not get a place. The four-cared gig race between Baltimore, Newark, N.
