PITTSTON.

Special to the Scranton Tribune. Pittston, July 5-A half-dozen little urchins called at Jeweler James Lewis' store, on North Main street, this moraing, one of them baying in his possession a gold watch, which he endeavored to sell Mr. Lewis. The latter questioned the lads as to how they came in posression of the timepiece, and was told they had found it in a dry goods box at the rear of North Main street. Under pretext, Mr. Lewis kept the watch and told the boys to call Saturday for their money. In the meantime, in conducting an investigation, he learned the watch belonged to Philip Raeder, a North Main street butcher, Mr. Raeder says that someone entered his market Wednesday night about 9 o'clock and stole the watch. The boys will be held for an investigation upon their appearance tomorrow. The most serious of the few accidents which occurred in this vicinity yester-day was the mishap which befel a party of West Pittston people who had gone for a ride over the Pittston bould vard. Upon their return trip last evening about 6 o'clock, while descending steep hill, the borses became unmanageable and ran away. At the foot of the hill the outfit collided with a tree and the vehicle upset, throwing the occupants out. Of the dozen or more people in the party only one escaped injury, although none of them received serious injuries. All were badly shaken up and bruised more or less, among them being Mrs. J. P. Herrmann and infant child, Mrs. Thomaz Woodside and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Saxe and two sons, Mr. Merritt Saxe and one son. Their injuries consist of cuts. bruises and sprained limbs.

Arch Mayo, of Frothingham street, and Thomas E. Jones, of Benedici street, have purchased the two single houses on the property of James Fitch, Delaware avenue, West Pittston, They will not occupy them until next April. A happy party of German people will leave here next week for a trip to the land of their birth. They expect to be gone two months. Among the party are Marketman Jacob Frederick, wife and family, August Conrad and daughter, Miss Lizzie, Fred Seibel and Edward Schussler.

A young man, who gave his name as James Kelley, of Hyde Park, met with a mishap on Main street, this city, yesterday afternoon that may cost him a cool $25. With three young ladies, he was driving down the street in a surrey rather recklessly, and in front of the Armory block drove plumb into a vehicle owned by John Llewellyn, of Hamtown, damnging it considerably, He refused to reveal his identity, and drove on, but was later overtaken by an officer, to whom he revealed his identity, and was allowed to depart. At the sight of the police officer, one of the female occupants of the carriage fainted, and a physician was called to restore her to consciousness.

At an early hour yesterday morning Mr. and Mrs. James Miller, of Benedict Two games were played, one in the street, Upper Pittston, were awakened terrific cannon report, which prize of $10 being offered in each case. sounded close at hand.
